WEDDING BELLS

TELFORD—HILLCOX

Lilacs and cherry blossoms decorated the United church at Vermilion, Wednesday June 2nd at 3 p.m. when Lois Marjorie daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hillcox, became the bride of William Edward Telford, son of Mrs. J. R. Thompson and the late E. E. Telford.

Rev. E. S. Reikie performed the ceremony and Mrs. West played the wedding music. During the signing of the register, Miss Mildred Mix sang "I'll Walk Beside You".

Given in marriage by her father the bride looked charming in a floor-length gown of white satin, with lily point sleeves, quilted bodice and full skirt with large satin bow at the back. Her long veil was held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and fern. She wore a three-strand pearl necklace, the gift of the groom.

Mrs. Clarence Crocker, sister of the groom, attended the bride as matron of honor and Miss Ruth Hillcox was her sister's bridesmaid. Mrs. Crocker wore a floor length gown of pink sheer and Miss Hillcox was in blue sheer. Both attendants wore matching wreaths of flowers and carried mixed bouquets of tulips, carnations and white lilacs.

The groom was supported by his two brothers-in-law, Mr. Ray Whalen and Mr. Clarence Crocker.

Ushers were Joe Vert and John Lapel.

Mothers of the bride and groom received with the bridal party at a reception held at the home. Mrs. Hillcox chose for her daughter's wedding a pale blue jersey dress with matching accessories and a corsage of pink gladiolas. Mrs. Thompson wore an afternoon dress of grey crepe and her corsage was pink and white carnations.

The bride's table was laid with an ecru lace cloth and centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated and set in tulle. A buffet luncheon was served to about 45 guests. Rev. Reikie proposed the toast to the bride.

Later the happy young couple left for a short honeymoon trip to Edmonton. The bride travelling in a brown gabardine suit and a green shortie coat, with brown accessories and corsage of roses.

COBURN—NELSON

On June 2nd at 6.30 o'clock in the evening, the United church manse was the scene of a pretty wedding when Doris Nelson, second daughter of Mr and Mrs. T. Nelson of [illegible], became the bride of Howard Donald Coburn youngest son of Mr and Mrs. G. Coburn of Vermilion. The Rev. E. S. Reikie officiated.

The bride was charming in a Queen's blue dressmaker suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of American Beauty roses and Lily-of-the-Valley.

Mrs. Wilfred Benner, sister of the bride was matron of honor. She wore a leaf green dressmaker suit with corsage of pale pink carnations and Lily-of-the-Valley.

Mr Allen Coburn, brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Supper was served at George's Lower Deck for a few friends and relatives. The table was prettily centred with a 3-tiered wedding cake.

The young couple will make their home in the Battleview district.

Graduation Exercises Held by High School

INTERESTING PROGRAM

As has been the custom for some years now, the Grade eleven class of the Vermilion high school held a banquet in honor of the graduating class on Friday June 11. Amid a setting of beautifully laid tables, bouquets of lilacs in full bloom, colorful dresses of the girls, an excellent meal prepared by the Anglican W.A., and a short program were thoroughly enjoyed.

After the toast to the King, Jack Bauman of the Grade 11 class proposed a toast to the graduating class. His interesting and witty toast was highlighted by some original and apt verse which was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all the students. Shirley Davidson's reply to this toast was just as entertaining and clever.

The music class, assisted by Miss Marion Roebuck at the piano, sang a group of three musical selections, and was followed by Fred Krause, class valedictorian, who delivered the valedictory.

The guest speaker of the evening was Mrs. E. M. Stewart, whose interesting and inspiring talk to the graduating class was received with eager and absorbed attention, which fact would indicate the timeliness of the message and its appeal to those students. Mrs. Stewart's remarks gave encouragement to a student to look on graduation as the beginning of a life of self-reliance, initiative and independence of mind.

The remainder of the proceedings was given over to the presentation of awards. Awards are given for outstanding achievement in four lines of endeavor: Scholastic achievement, Executive leadership; Participation in social and literary activities; Athletic prowess.

For obtaining a total of 100 points, lapel pins, engraved with the school crest, were given to Mildred Conboy, George Webb.

For a total of 125 points school rings were given to Leona Maxwell, Louise Haddock, Fred Krause, Bob Reid.

For a total of 150 points school sweaters, complete with black letter were given to Fred Krause and Bob Reid.

"Aged on the Wood" or One for Ripley

$50.00 FOR A LID

Walter Swan of the Islay district was noticed in Vermilion this week sporting a brand new ten-gallon stetson. The reason — Walter recently sold his seven year old lid for $50, believe it or not (and your reporter can vouch for this). The result is that Mr. Swan has a new $25 hat and a neat profit of 25 bucks to boot.

The story behind it all is simply that a visitor to Vermilion spotted Walter's cowboy hat and wanted it badly, claimed that its duplicate could not be procured closer than the State of Montana. The owner was fond of the hat claimed that it was just nicely broken in, "aged 'on' the wood" so to speak, besides he hated wearing brand new hats. However the visitor would not be denied and when his ante reached 50 smackers, Walter reluctantly removed the stetson, regarded it affectionately for a moment and exchanged it for the $50.

The visitor did not apparently realize that Alberta has the biggest "cowtown" in Canada or that the stampede was shortly to be held there but Walter did and he despatched an order en route to Calgary for another ten-gallon Stetson. This he is now wearing but he claims that it will be a long time before it feels as good as his old one.

Drowning Fatality at Heinsburg Saturday

Lucien Marcoux of the St. Edward district, near St. Paul, Alberta was drowned in the Saskatchewan river near Heinsburg on Saturday last about 4 p.m. The few details received indicate that the young man was swimming when he was swept downstream by the current and disappeared. Dragging operations are going on but the body has not yet been recovered at last reports.

Two Candidates For School Trustee

There are two candidates for school trustee in subdivision No. 5 of the Vermilion school division. These are George O. Mead of Clandonald and R. Ernest Stanley also of Clandonald, both well known farmers of their respective areas. The vacancy occurred as a result of the resignation of the former member of the board, Charles E. Thompson. Election day has been set for Tuesday June 29th.

Fred Krause Gets Reader's Digest Award

Fred Krause, valedictorian of the graduating class at Vermilion high school, has been given the annual award of the Reader's Digest Association for students who by their successful school work give promise of attaining leadership in the community, it was announced today by Mr W G Hay, principal.

Fred will receive an honorary subscription to the Reader's Digest for one year and an engraved certificate from the Editors, "in recognition of past accomplishment and in anticipation of unusual achievement to come". The Reader's Digest association has presented these awards yearly in the senior high schools throughout United States and Canada to the highest honor student of the graduating class.

Vermilion Deanery W. A. Holds Annual Meeting

The annual meeting of the Anglican W A Deanery was held in Vermilion on Tuesday, June 7th. The sessions opened with a Corporate Communion service at 11 a.m. held in St. Saviour's church, in which 24 members participated. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. T. W. Teape who was assisted by the Rev. V. P. Cole of Mannville.

Following the service the Clergy and visiting delegates were entertained at a luncheon in the Brunswick hotel.

The afternoon meeting was held in the new Legion hall with five branches represented. Mrs. S. P. Tackaberry and Mrs. R. J. Horne of Edmonton were present and both gave inspiring and thought provoking addresses.

The reports from various branches in the Deanery showed that most encouraging progress is being made in all departments. In view of their small memberships the reports of the accomplishments of the Kitscoty, [illegible] and Innisfree branches were particularly worthy of commendation.

Mrs. J. R. Robson of Vermilion was the guest speaker and gave a most interesting and entertaining account of her recent visit to England.

The officers elected by acclamation for the coming year were:

President — Mrs. Gordon Williams, Vermilion.
Vice-President — Mrs. V. P. Cole, Mannville.
Secretary-Treasurer — Miss Grace Bury, Vermilion.

Three-Team Baseball League Is Formed

LID PRIED OFF TONIGHT — Organized by Vermilion Amateur Athletic Association

A three-team baseball league with entries from Buffalo Coulee, Tolland and Vermilion, has been organized by the Vermilion Amateur Athletic association. The first game is being played at the Fair grounds diamond tonight (Thursday) when Buffalo Coulee plays Vermilion for the opener. On Sunday afternoon June 20 Buffalo Coulee plays at Tolland.

Operation of the league is designed to provide an opportunity and incentive for older boys and young men to play baseball and should prove a valuable feeder for the senior team. As matters now stand unless a person can play tournament baseball he has no chance to play or opportunity to practise to improve himself to that calibre. The league is designed to overcome that long standing difficulty.

Edmonton Fliers Guests of Business Men of Vermilion

Fifteen members of the Edmonton Flying club flew to Vermilion Sunday morning and were guests of local business men at breakfast served at the Boston cafe. The visitors were all members of the Edmonton Flying club and were headed by the newly appointed manager, Maurice Fallow, and Allen Laing, flying instructor at the club. Other Edmontonians in the party were Don McLaughlin, Len Millan, of the Dept. of Transport, Walter Kacher, Dennis Dowkett, Mr and Mrs Dave Olsen, Gordon Smith, Tom Norris, Miss Shirley Goldring, Jim Judd, Henry Landsman, Jim Meyers, Pat Campbell Hope.

Following breakfast the Edmonton fliers took their hosts up for flights commencing with a flip by Mayor Morrison in a little two-seater piloted by Flying Instructor Laing. Several of the visiting planes left at noon on their return trips to the city while others spent a very pleasant day in Vermilion. All had returned to Edmonton by evening.

Eight planes made the early morning flight including a [illegible] Cornell, Fleet Canuck, Aeronca and several Tiger Moths.

Some idea of the constant use of the Vermilion flying field can be gained by the fact that [illegible] there were [illegible] planes [illegible] for the [illegible] at the field.

Board of Trade Members Guests of Wildmere A.F.U.

Round Table Conference Discusses Country and Town Relations — Enjoyable Gathering

Ten local business men took advantage of the invitation of the Wildmere A.F.U. and attended the regular meeting of that local at the Wildmere school Wednesday evening last week. The invitation had been extended to the Board of Trade. Purpose of the visit was a round-table discussion on country and town relationship, and a social evening. The idea proved excellent and the evening a very enjoyable one.

The town men sat through the short regular meeting of the A.F.U. conducted by the president of the local Fred Haines and the secretary Ray Osterberg. Following this greetings were extended to the members of the Board of Trade present and reply to the greetings was given by A. M. Watt, vice-president of the Board. Several projects were then broached to the town men.

The first question taken was the feasibility of having a regular short course in Veterinary included in the curriculum of the Vermilion school of agriculture. The farmers present thought that the course would be of great value due to the extreme shortage of veterinary surgeons. In answer to this Mr Hockbert stated that there was now a great deal of pressure being brought to bear on Dr. Ballantyne, chief veterinary for the province, to have a veterinary locate in Vermilion this fall. However the idea of a more extensive veterinary course at the V.S.A. was heartily endorsed and the matter will be discussed with the principal here.

The question was then [illegible] were [illegible] water and [illegible] completion [illegible]. Details of the plans for these facilities could be given [illegible] the desire [illegible] was [illegible]. There were [illegible] and means of financing same might provide some difficulty, something in a really big way might be accomplished if town and country organizations would get together and cooperate in financing this project.

Nine o'clock closing came in for some criticism as it was claimed that Wainwright stores were open until 12 midnight.

Better road markings and signs were discussed particularly on the country roads. The [illegible] graveled at the [illegible] Vermilion was [illegible] will be taken up again. It was thought that slow signs were needed on the Wainwright highway at the Autumn Leaf Co-op store.

A number of other topics came up for round the room discussion.

Appreciation for the very worthwhile evening was expressed on behalf of the visitors by R. C. Hockbert and an enjoyable hour spent over lunch.

Good Progress on Water and Sewer

DIGGING OF LATERALS TO COMMENCE NEXT WEEK — COMPLETION OF $270,000 PROJECT NEAR

Dominion Construction have made very good headway with the laying of the water and sewer mains and digging of the laterals from the mains to the property lines will commence next week. This means that property owners will then be able to go ahead on their own and run the pipes from the property lines to their basements.

The footings or heavy cement buttresses are ready for the water tower and this is now in transit from the east. The disposal plant in the valley is practically completed.

The $270,000 project will be easily completed by the early fall and by the time the system is put into operation a goodly number should be all prepared to use it.

To Test Lime in Vermilion Field

WILL DEEPEN V.C.O. No. 16

Preparations are now well under way to test the lime formation in the heart of the Vermilion oil field. To do this Vermilion Consolidated well No. 16 will be deepened some 200 to 300 feet. This should allow penetration well into the lime. The drilling will be done by C. H. Withers.

Vermilion field produced 41,120 bbls. of crude oil during the first five months of 1948. 25 wells have been continuously active. Sixteen other wells in the field are in need of reconditioning and new pumping equipment.

Actual drilling has commenced on the 19-well program for the Amerada Oil Company. The first well is being drilled to the east of Myrnam, another at Derwent with other locations being spotted from there right up to the west side of Vermilion.

The June meeting of the W.A. of Knox church met at Mrs. Doris McFadyen's home. It was the Missionary meeting of the W.M.S. affiliated society. There was a good attendance, 27 ladies being present. We were glad to have our Pleasant Valley friends there, would like to see you more often. Our Missionary basket, which was started on its trip May 2 is somewhere. When you receive it, please send it right on as we would like it to reach its [illegible] by the end of July. We received a $9 offering, many thanks ladies, such help is urgently needed in many places for our work.

Our school picture show will be on Friday night June 18 at 8 p.m. Come and say if you'd rather have it on a Saturday night. This week we have 7½ reels to show with some in color.

Lila Bowser and Kenneth Gunn arrived home Sunday. Lila says the floods are terrible. Mrs. Roland Roebuck and 40 women of the Red Cross were assisting to feed some evacuees at Creston.

Bill Bothwell, on the staff of the Process Control at Imperial Oil at Regina, spent 3 days at home after attending the Engineers' convention at Banff.

We had a packed church on Sunday to hear the Kitscoty girls' choir and Rev. Driver give a brief report of the Conference. The girls were most generous with their music, rendering eight selections most marvellous to hear. Mr. Batty sang "Bless this House" and Mrs. Batty sang "I Shall Not Pass this Way Again". We are very grateful to Mrs. Batty and the girls.

Bill McLean's two "kids" came to the church inside door expecting to find Bill—they were disappointed and Mr. Anderson "shooed" them on their way.

This coming Sunday Rev. Morrison of Lloydminster will take the service.

A LITTLE COMMON SENSE — PLEASE! . . .

Beer parties still continue in the wee small hours down at the swimming pool. To the actual parties, maybe there is no objection — but to the thoughtless habit of hurling the "dead soldiers" down the bank and into the pool itself there is a strong objection. Many kiddies and grown-ups too have suffered severe cuts on broken bottles in the past.

Please use your head for something else other than a hat rack!

Prize Lists Completed

The largest prize list in the history of the Vermilion Agricultural society was printed by the Standard Job Printing department and was delivered to secretary Hechbert early last week.

The prize list this year for the 2-day fair is comprised of 56 pages and the 4-page cover. Printing of same is quite an undertaking for a combined newspaper and job printing plant where time available for the latter phase of the business is all too limited. However the Standard printers take considerable pride in the prize list which is really quite a book. Design of the cover has been changed and simplicity is the keynote, making it very impressive.

BOOSTERS NEEDED —

Two well known Vermilion men now residing at Wetaskiwin were talking one day about their new town and one of them remarked "This would be a good place if we only had the Vermilion Standard and the Vermilion Board of Trade here."

FARM LIFE IS BEST—

Agriculture, as we enjoy it in the Province, is not merely a vocation or an occupation. It is a way of life, and to thirty per cent of the people in our province, it is the best way of life. This is not only because of the deep-rooted pleasure that comes from working with the soil and with plants and animals given to the man or woman imbued with the true spirit of rural living. It is not only because the quietude of rural life and work give a calmness of spirit and a peace of mind that are destroyed by the noisy rumble of city streets and the frantic rushing hither and yon of industry and commerce. There is more than that to the rural way of life.

In rural living, doing the work of perpetuating the craftsmanship of the great Creator, there is an abiding sense of nearness to the source and fountain of life. There is a close contact with the things that are fundamental in life. And there are the things which have given to our farm people a sturdy upright character, a keen vision to look into the future, and a healthy philosophy of life to match healthy bodies and minds.

There is a satisfaction in rural living that cannot be found in the purely man-made existence in urban centres. There is beauty all around, beauty of color and form and design, perfect because it has been made by the Great Architect of the universe. There is time for thought as the farmer works in the fields, plowing, harrowing, sowing and reaping. Working as an individualist, plowing the lonely furrow, following his cattle on the hillsides and in the valleys, or working in the woodlands, the farmer truly finds, "tongues in trees, books in the running brooks, sermons in stones, and good in everything." Robert Burns, Scotland's great national poet, composed his greatest works in his mind as he followed his team and plowed the fields of his little farm. So our rural people in the quiet loneliness of their daily tasks, find time to think and develop the philosophy of life that he who works as a natural servant of the Creator of all things comes closest to the ideal of a man at peace with himself and the world.

This rural way of life is the backbone of our country and its democracy. From it have sprung our great leaders in the sciences, the professions and in government, men who have in their younger days amidst rural surroundings learned to think for themselves, to have a proper evaluation of what are the first things that must come first, and an appreciation of the fact that man can only receive back from life what he puts into it. These are the things that make men the servants of humanity, which is the true role of our rural people as they live and work in the open spaces of the countryside.

Dedication Of Largest Telescope in World

PALOMAR MOUNTAIN, Calif.—Largest telescope on earth was dedicated recently "to the well-being of mankind."

In ceremonies attended by heads of some of the world's greatest scientific institutions, the 200-inch star-scraper was christened the Hale telescope, honoring Dr. George Ellery Hale, "father" of the giant instrument, who died in 1938.

The telescope, with a range of 1,000,000,000 light years (the distance light will travel in 1,000,000,000 years at a speed of 186,000 miles a second) will probe into secrets of the universe. Dr. Max Mason, chairman of the observatory council, has said it may even solve the mystery of life itself.

A hole in a screen where flies are apt to enter can be readily closed by fastening a patch over it. If there's no patching material at hand holding the thumb over it will do for the time being. But ladies, call at the "15" as soon as you can, and get a patch; there's always the chance that the thumb will be needed for keeping your husband under.

KING FOR A DAY!—Father's Day is the one day of the year Father is allowed to take it easy according to the custom established in 1910. Possibly, all fathers are not fortunate enough in having two pretty daughters and his wife serve him his breakfast in bed, Sunday, June 20th, traditionally set aside as Father's Day in Canada, but in some way, in all Canadian homes . . . FATHER WILL BE KING THAT DAY!

INDUSTRIALIST TO LEAVE BRITAIN TO MAKE NEW START IN CANADA

BIRMINGHAM, Eng. — Next August J. C. Neil Cordon will relinquish his managing directorship of a Midlands manufacturing company and sail for Canada with an automobile and trailer to "start all over again".

"Some folk think I'm crazy", 44-year-old Cordon said, "but I'll bet that in a year or two I'll be a managing director again, with my own plant and a large number of Canadians on my payroll.

"But to begin with I'm willing to do anything from selling ice cream to working at a bench. And I know how to work, too. I've been through the mill once and I'll do it again."

Starting as an employe engineer, Cordon built up a group of Midlands manufacturing companies devoted to tarpaulin, canvas, leather and sports goods (the RT group incorporating Reynolds and Company Limited). He says he is pulling out because "no enterprising trader can make any headway in Britain under the present system."

"When private interprise is bound up with red tape it means death to private enterprise. I'm going to Canada because I believe the Canadian people still respect enterprise as the backbone of national life.

"Under a Labor Government the working people of this country have forgotten the simple truth that high wages without an adequate return in work spell ultimate disaster for employers and employes alike.

"Frankly, I'm tired of employing people who think more of what they can get than what they can give."

Cordon is sailing for Canada in the Aquitania Aug. 17 with his wife and 16-year-old son, Charles, who visited Canada with a school friend last year. His wife has produced a number of illustrated books under the nom de plume of Mary Chell.

"We are all resolved to make a success of our new life in Canada and my boy is prepared to earn a living in the good old-fashioned way — by work, work and more work. In Canada I hope he will develop his muscles as well as his brain.

"We are going to Toronto first. I am taking the car and trailer as a protection against the current housing shortage there."

Award Scholarships For Barley Study

WINNIPEG — Five scholarships are being awarded each year by the recently organized Barley Improvement Institute as a stimulus to research for new varieties of malting barley. The scholarships will be good in any Canadian university which undertakes barley research.

The Institute, which is being financed by the brewing and malting industries of Canada started operations here May 1. It is headed by Prof. T. J. Harrison, a widely known barley authority, who since 1939 has been assistant for Manitoba to the Board of Grain Commissioners for Canada.

Greatest need in the barley industry, says Prof. Harrison, is for varieties with good malting qualities and better agronomic properties. To assist in developing them, the institute proposes to aid plant breeders at approved institutions.

The scholarships are being awarded to encourage university graduates to undertake advanced study in barley research.

Miss Canada Doesn't Like U.S. Fashions

TORONTO — Margaret Marshall, Miss Canada' in 1948 and runner-up in the "Miss America" Beauty Contest at Atlantic City thinks New York City is "a rich cake with too much icing on it."

The Toronto beauty queen is back home on a visit after some months' study of dramatics in New York on the scholarship she won as one of her prizes.

In her spare time Margaret is an usherette at Carnegie Hall. She's saving for the future, pointing out: "It's a long, hard climb in New York and I will need something to fall back on."

United States fashions fail to impress her.

"New York women wear too many fussy ruffles and frills," she said in an interview. "They go in for huge hats loaded down with fruit and flowers, very spiked heels and thick platform soles, brilliant box coats with droopy backs and a load of jewellery . . . when I need anything now I will come back to Canada for it."

Pasteurized Milk is Safe.

Agriculture Department Boost Blue Grass

OTTAWA — The Agriculture Department plugged home-grown blue grass seed as the best for pastures, airfields, playgrounds and cemeteries.

A press release issued said that "as Canada-grown blue grass seed is better adapted than imported seed to Canadian soil and climate, it should be preferred in the interests of Canadian economy."

Two types of blue grass are grown in Canada. One, "Canada Blue Grass" is grown mainly in the Niagara Peninsula. It is best suited to dry, sandy, gravelly or shallow soils.

Canadian-grown Kentucky Blue Grass come mainly from the Red River Valley in Manitoba.

TAX IMPOSED

England imposed a tax known as Danegeld in the 10th century to provide money for buying off the Danish invader.

Living Costs Soar In Many Lands

CHICAGO. — Living costs are soaring high over several countries besides the United States.

Between August, 1939, and December, 1947, living costs in the United States rose 69 per cent., the Municipal Finance Officers Association reported.

During the same period, the Association said, the cost of living jumped 218 per cent. in Iceland, 207 per cent. in Peru, 205 per cent. in Mexico, 178 per cent in Czechoslovakia and 72 per cent. in Newfoundland.

Among countries for which comparable statistics were available, the Association [illegible] these showed the [illegible] of living gains for the period: Canada 48 per cent., Norway and Sweden 56 per cent. and Switzerland 63 per cent.

Canadian living costs jumped the highest last year, 14.9 per cent. The United States showed a 1947 increase of 8.9 per cent. The price index declined 6.6 during 1947 in Czechoslovakia and 2.4 per cent. in Norway.

WONDERFUL STOVE

Electric stoves, which will cook a three-course meal in 10 seconds are to be made in Australia. Domestic units should be on the market within two years at the cost of about £125 and bigger units for restaurants in about 12 months for about £250.

ENDURANCE TEST

STROUD, England. — On an "endurance and initiative test" two army cadets, aged 16 and 19, hiked 2,500 miles around England and Wales in 14½ days for 6s. ($1.24).

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

SOME DON'TS FOR FOODHANDLERS

The promiscuous fingering of foods and containers is usually evident when food-poisoning outbreaks occur, Dr. A. R. B. Richmond, Toronto's Chief Food Inspector, told a gathering of Danforth [illegible] at a recent Health League-sponsored meeting.

He also said that much depends on the personal hygiene habits of food-handlers and outlined a few "don'ts" for restaurant employees.

1. Don't go on duty with a severe head cold, sore throat [illegible] illness.
2. Don't cough or sneeze in your hand; use a clean handkerchief.
3. Don't report for duty if you have any skin infection or sore; consult a doctor.
4. Don't leave the toilet room without thoroughly washing your hands; keep nails trimmed and clean.
5. Don't pick at your nose, face or fingernails.
6. Don't work without hairnets, caps or bands.
7. Don't lick your fingers while working with food.
8.—Don't taste food from serving or cooking spoons or forks.
9.—Don't wipe your hands on uniform or apron; use a clean towel.
10.—Don't work in street clothes while handling food.
11. Don't touch the rim or inside of cups and glasses; handle silver by handles.

(Editor's Note: It is suggested many of Dr. Richmond's "don'ts" could well apply to those who prepare meals in private homes.)

Speaking mechanically, what the world seems to need is a few more self-starters and fewer cranks.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

By TED KIMBALL

LENNY stared into the washroom mirror. Behind him, the stranger also stared. They looked at each other for a long time, too astonished to speak. Then Lenny turned slowly [illegible].

"I never saw anything like it," he said.

The stranger had come into the washroom breathless, worried, glancing apprehensively over his shoulder. Now he had control of himself again. He was suave and smiling and at ease.

"It's amazing," he admitted.

"We could be twins," Lenny said.

The stranger nodded. "My own mother couldn't tell us apart." He reached into his pocket. "I guess we'd better have a cigarette on it."

Lenny accepted a cigarette and supplied the light. They stood smoking and regarding each other in amazement.

"I wouldn't have believed it," Lenny said. "Just like two pins."

"You'd fool my own mother," the stranger repeated. Lenny saw that he was still a little nervous. The fingers holding the cigarette trembled almost imperceptibly.

There didn't seem to be much more to say. Lenny glanced toward the door. The stranger held out his hand.

"Just a minute. I was noticing that suit you have on. I like it."

"Do you?" Lenny was surprised. He had bought the suit for fifteen dollars, second-hand. He wasn't very proud of it.

"I've been trying to get one just that color," the stranger said. "My wife says I should get all my suits that color."

Lenny waited. The stranger was well dressed, in a light suit of some expensive material. Lenny guessed that it would have cost him around a hundred dollars.

"You wouldn't want to trade, would you?" the stranger asked.

Lenny thought it over and couldn't see any reason not to. It wasn't a fair exchange, but he wasn't the one who was getting stung.

"If you want," he said. "I don't care."

The stranger was already peeling off his coat. "Lucky we bumped into each other," he said. "Not often a trade makes both sides happy."

They completed the exchange in silence, finally transferring the contents of their pockets. Lenny buttoned his new coat and looked at himself in the mirror.

"How do you like it?" the stranger asked.

Lenny said, "Fine. Fits like a glove."

"Me, too. Everybody's happy, then. Shake?"

Lenny said, "Sure." They shook hands. He nodded toward the door. "Coming?"

The stranger said, "No. You go ahead. I want to wash up a bit."

"Right." Lenny opened the door and walked out into the hotel lobby.

A small, dark man with shifty eyes set close together in a weasel face was leaning nonchalantly against a pillar. When he saw Lenny he tossed away the butt of a cigar and came forward. He blocked Lenny's path across the lobby.

"Okay, Weaver," he said in a flat, bored voice. "I want my fifty bucks."

Lenny stared at him.

"What fifty bucks?"

"You know what fifty bucks, Weaver. I been tailing you. I saw you go in that washroom. Now I want my dough."

Lenny had expected something like this to happen. He wasn't surprised.

"My name's not Weaver," he said.

The small man laughed without humor.

"Quit kidding," he sneered, "and quit stalling. I want my dough and I mean to get it." He had his right hand in his pocket and there was something in the hand, something bulky.

Lenny shrugged. He reached into his own pocket and brought out a roll of bills. He stripped off five tens and handed them to the small man.

The man took the money. "Next time I don't want to have to come after it," he said.

Lenny nodded. "Okay." He watched the small man leave the hotel, and then he crossed the lobby and stood behind a pillar.

After a while the stranger came out of the washroom, wearing Lenny's fifteen-dollar suit. He looked carefully around the lobby and a wide grin came over his face. He lighted a cigarette and strolled jauntily toward the doors.

Before he reached them, two men wearing derbies and smoking cigars—detectives—fell in beside him and grabbed his arms.

There was a brief struggle. The stranger protested in angry bewilderment.

Lenny didn't wait to hear what he was saying. He could guess that. Instead he turned and left the hotel quickly by a side door.

MOOSE JAW, Sask. — Opposition to amusements of a "vulgar nature" provided at provincial exhibitions and country fairs was registered at the Saskatchewan conference of the United church. Appreciation of work done among boys and girls to stimulate their interest in agricultural and industrial life of the nation was expressed. But "deep regret" was affirmed that amusements at many fairs have come to be the main attraction.

A bylaw will be prepared by the council, submitted to the board, and if it meets with the approval of the latter body a vote in the local improvement area will be taken.

EDMONTON.—A record year for Alberta business was forecast by Hon. J. L. Robinson, industries and labor minister for the province. The cabinet minister released figures showing that except for coal and customs receipts, all Alberta production during the first two months of 1948 was higher than for the same period in 1947.

Fly Two Million Bees To Alberta

EDMONTON. — First large commercial shipment of bees to Alberta by air brought two million of them in 200 packages from Davis, Calif., bound for the Frontier Honey Co., Westlock.

W. C. LeMaistre, provincial apiarist, commented: "The bees were in excellent condition, this venture was so successful that shipment by air probably will become a common thing." Smaller shipments have been made before.

Clyde Gault, manager of the Frontier Honey Co., said he had delayed ordering because of the late spring. Then as spring advanced rapidly, he decided to ship the bees by air to save time.

SHIRLEY AND LINDA — Three-month-old Linda Susan Agar makes her camera debut, and she couldn't have picked a better person to pose with than her famous mother, Shirley Temple Agar. One look at Shirley as a mother, and many of the perennial ingenues in Hollywood who could remember all too clearly when Shirley was the golden-haired darling of the screen felt their arteries hardening and perhaps, for the first time, felt old.

TO EXPORT POWER TO UNITED STATES

VANCOUVER. — Vancouver which last year was forced to buy electric power from the United States, expects to be able to reciprocate in 1949, by selling power to northwestern states.

British Columbia Electric's new Bridge River power development is expected to provide this city with 600,000 hp; and a quantity of this will be exported to the Bonneville Power Administration which supplied Vancouver and part of the lower mainland last year.

Vancouver was short on power last year, and only obtained U.S. electricity through the foresight of officials who had made a deal with Bonneville earlier. The northwestern States were short of power during the winter and it is doubtful if there would have been enough to go around if B.C. had sought a deal any later.

SYDNEY, Australia. — First samples of Australian-made stainless steel table knives were received by the Australian retail trade recently. Australia has previously relied upon imported stainless steel from Sheffield, England.

Test Anti-Mud Slide Discovery At Calgary

CALGARY.—First Canadian application of a system of electro-osmosis to prevent mud slides—a German wartime discovery—was carried out on a steep hill threatening more than a score of Calgary homes.

The experiment, which involved forcing of drainage by using an electric current, started on a 90-foot ride on Sunnyside Hill here.

[illegible] on the north bank of the Bow River, forced 63 persons to flee from their homes recently. A number of dwellings suffered minor damage and a garage was demolished.

Electro-osmosis involves the drawing [illegible] forming a dry barrier across the brow of the hill. Direct current is forced into the ground through a number of electrodes.

Officials in charge of the experiment hope that the semi-dry barrier along the face of the hill will prevent crumbling of the edge. The process was discovered by a German scientist now living in England. It was first used in constructing the German submarine pens at Trondheim, Norway.

The process requires a direct current to the electrodes which are fixed in water pipes set vertically in the ground. The current draws the water in the vicinity through the ground to the pipes much as a magnet draws iron filings. Once in the pipe, the water is pumped out either manually or automatically to a nearby sewer system.

Prof. R. M. Hardy, Dean of Engineering at the University of Alberta, and Prof. J. A. Harle of the same department, say they are pleased with the initial results of the experiment which is under their direction.

However, they say that it will "be some time yet" before success, or failure, of the experiment can be known.

Dean Hardy said the process, if successful, "will be far more economical than conventional drainage methods."

Weed-Killing Chemical To Be Used Extensively

WINNIPEG. — Between 18 and 20 thousand 2,4-D, chemical weed control machines will be in operation to battle the weed menace in the prairie provinces this summer, H. E. Wood, chairman of the Manitoba weeds commission, stated.

The weed-killing chemical will be applied to more than 5,000,000 acres of farm lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta.

So far this year in Manitoba, several thousand trial plots and other 2,4-D experiments have been co-ordinated through the central committee of the commission.

Planning for the attack on weeds was started by committees early in January of this year and many pre-emergence tests, where the chemical is applied before the crop appears, have been made.

286 Scouts, Cubs and Guides Hold Rally for Governor-General's Visit

The visit of Viscount Alexander, governor general of Canada, to Vermilion Tuesday May 25th was the occasion for one of the largest Boy Scout and Girl Guide rallies seen in Alberta for some time according to Harry Holloway, executive provincial commissioner. A total of 286 Guides and Scouts took part.

Mr. Holloway, R. C. Hugh of Camrose, assistant provincial [illegible] and [illegible] acting field commissioner, were among the Scout officials attending the Vermilion rally for Viscount and Lady Alexander. Guide officials included Mrs. H. B. Milner, deputy provincial commissioner and Miss Beth Riddoch, provincial field secretary.

At Tuesday's rally the Scouts, Guides, Cubs and Brownies from Vermilion and district formed a hollow square around the guard of honor including members of the Vermilion Loyal Edmonton Regiment Reserve and the Vermilion Kitscoty air cadets.

In addition to the 80 Scouts and Cubs from Vermilion, others present at the rally included 30 Scouts from Lloydminster under the leadership of David Johnston, O.B.E.; 80 Lloydminster Wolf Cubs led by cubmaster A.P. Harold, 30 Cubs and Scouts from Vegreville under scoutmaster T. M. Bennett, 10 Scouts and 10 Cubs from Mannville led by Rev. Vincent Cole, scoutmaster.

The Girl Guides and Brownies were there too. Although there are no Guides and Brownies in Vermilion, they were well represented at the rally. 18 Brownies from Lloydminster under Mrs. M. Peterson, 12 guides from Vegreville, led by Miss Barbara Ross and 21 guides from Lloydminster under Mrs. B. H. Willard, attended. In addition to the Girl Guide officials there were 4 Rangers or older Guides from Lloydminster led by Mrs. E. Peters.

Viscount Alexander is Canada's Chief Scout and Lady Alexander is honorary president of the Canadian Council of Girl Guides.

On Tuesday afternoon, the Scouts, Cubs, Guides and Brownies rallied in front of the grandstand at the Vermilion fair grounds. On arrival, the governor-general was escorted into the Scout circle, while Lady Alexander was escorted among the Guides and Brownies.

Following the royal salute, the Wolf Cubs present gave the vice-regal party a "grand howl" and the Brownies gave their grand salute.

Following the inspection of Scouts and Guides, three medals of merit were presented to scouters A. P. Harold, Lloydminster cubmaster, L. F. C. Fisher of Edmonton and George Gridley, also of Edmonton, received the merit awards.

Mr. Harold was scoutmaster at Tofield from 1923 until 1935 before becoming cubmaster at Lloydminster. Mr. Fisher has been active in the Scout movement since 1926 and Mr. Gridley since 1932.

On the platform at Vermilion with Viscount Alexander were Premier Manning, honorary president of the Alberta branch of the Boy Scouts Association of Canada, Mr. Hugh and Mr. Holloway.

When their excellencies left the Scout and Guide circles, three rousing cheers were given them by the boys and girls.

"It was gala event, and a rally long to be remembered," said Commissioner Holloway.

LOOKING TO THE FUTURE

Some years ago CJCA offered a scholarship to the winning instrumentalist at the Edmonton District Musical Festival. Three years ago the Festival expanded to include speech arts. CJCA offered another scholarship. 2 years ago the Western Conservatory of Music held its first annual competition and CJCA offered a third scholarship. In this manner CJCA is contributing generously towards promotion of local talent and is encouraging further study and development of Alberta's promising artists. Each year as each winner is declared CJCA promotes the cause further by broadcasting special programs, featuring the artists' winning selections and presenting the scholarships during the course of the program.

This year's winners of CJCA scholarships at the Edmonton District festival were Miss Rosie Tkachuk, pianist, and Donald Peters, speech arts.

It is hoped that before long they will take their places among CJCA's growing list of local artists now broadcasting regularly at the rate of approximately 81 000 per month in local talent fee.

WATER SOFTENER

A new automatic soft water appliance, according to a Financial Post report, holds 500 pounds of salt in brine storage tank, sufficient to permit the softening of 100,000 gallons of 10 grain hardness water which is a year's supply for normal average family (6 months' supply for 20 hardness water, etc.). U. S. maker says all complicated knobs, valves and gadgets are eliminated.

A NEW VIEW OF VERMILION

By Shirley Davidson
Grades 11 and 12 — 2nd Prize Essay

Vermilion has a pretty location. It can be one of Alberta's most attractive towns, the town with a view, the bright spot of the Parklands. Our clumps of trees, the open grassy stretches, the winding little river, all form a perfect natural setting for a lovely city.

Then, why isn't Vermilion the beauty spot it should be? The answer is easy. We, the citizens of Vermilion, have neglected our town. We have let rubbish collect and scraps become scattered. We have allowed our back streets to become junk yards and nuisance grounds.

The garbage cans and slop pails make up one of our biggest problems. Our alleys are unsightly, unhealthful dump yards. To make the situation worse, our main streets and empty lots are cluttered with scraps of paper, boards, cans and general waste.

This is harsh criticism and would be unjustified without constructive recommendations as to how we can improve the situations. Lest you consider me a "griper"; one of those characters who sits back to complain of everything but who never lifts a finger to help a situation, let me outline a plan for making Vermilion the model of the province. The plan requires the co-operation of every citizen. But we can clean up the city this way.

First we should have a clean up day — a Wednesday afternoon when everyone could help. We should divide the whole town into zones, and have so many people assigned to a certain zone. On that day we should give special attention to streets, alleys and empty lots first and then to people's yards.

Second, we should have a personal property, clean up campaign offering a substantial prize to the home owner with the most attractive yard and home.

Third, should come a town bylaw to penalize people who carelessly mess up the town, either streets or public places, or their own property.

And last of all we need a patrol committee, a group of school pupils probably, to patrol areas regularly and report untidiness to the authorities so that the rubbish can be kept tidied up and never be allowed to accumulate or get out of control.

Surely a plan like this is feasible and would make enough improvement in the town to be worth while.

Slovenliness is excusable only in decrepit old age. Youth and filth are incompatible. Only when the ravages of time have so taken toll that the victim is physically unable to care for himself is uncleanliness to be condoned. Then age is to be pitied. Has Vermilion become so aged and feeble that its untidy appearance is excusable?

ALLANDALE

The annual ice cream festival sponsored by the Allandale W.A. was held on Thursday June 10th at the home of Mr. Omness. The weather was ideal and some 45 cars and trucks brought a record crowd from the surrounding country. To say the least, the supper was enjoyable and drew many favorable comments from those visiting.

The W.A. have asked the writer to express their hearty thanks to all who attended the festival and helped to make it so successful. I am sure that the readers will join with me in saying that we are appreciative of the efforts of these ladies in putting on such a fine supper and helping to foster the spirit of friendliness and good will in the district. This supper which by now has become an event looked forward to by many, is one not only where people meet and eat but where old acquaintances are renewed and where the topics and interests of every day life are talked over.

The church would like to thank Mr. Omness for the use of his farm and for his work in arranging for the accommodation of the visitors. Our thanks go also to Mr. McBride for his efforts in helping to supply us with ice cream, to Mr. Armstrong for his efficient handling of the cash and to all others who helped in any way to make this year's Allandale festival one to be gladly remembered through all the days that are to come.

RIVERTON

A shower was held last Friday at the home of Mrs. W. Mathison in honor of our bride-elect of the month, Christina Iturnin. Some 65 ladies gathered to shower her with gifts. A gayly decorated umbrella was hanging over the table where the bride sat to unwrap her gifts. Mrs. H. Elliott made the presentation with Mrs. C. Sinclair, Mrs. O. Peterson and Mrs. J. Elliott as helpers. A lovely lunch was served by a number of ladies. Wishes of much happiness were extended to the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Vivian motored to Edmonton early last week where they spent a few days.

Mrs. E. Clarke and daughter Dyanne from Ocean Falls, B.C., are visiting in the district.

Rev. and Mrs. Kirk spent Saturday night at Spicer's prior to the anniversary services held in Marwayne.

WOODVALE

We have been too busy trying to coax the garden to grow to be able to find news. It's quite a job this year to raise a crop, a garden or some flowers without rainfall. Riding through the country one does not see very many fields with a good healthy growth of plants in it. Farmers are in different stages of pessimism about the outlook. It surely can change in a short time in these parts of the country so let's hope a couple of rainy days soon will bring a welcome relief.

The only Woodvale news we found was a visit of Mr. and Mrs. Swift of Viking with three little daughters to their aunt Mrs. Laura Green on Sunday.

Tolland provided a very successful dance at Clanton school and the Tolland football team got a first prize at Clandonald. They are going to try their luck at Gift Edge this Wednesday. The roads across the Gerald flour coulee are being fixed and the so called the Poboda trail is nicely widened making a big improvement.

In the Union district neighbors and friends attended the very pleasant reception in honor of the newly wedded couple, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Pringle at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Galloway.

A shower was held this Tuesday at the Kokmee school in honor of Mrs. H. Coburn (nee Doris Nelson) where her many friends in the district wished her a very happy marriage.

Canada's export trade is running at the rate of 3.2 billion dollars a year. Between 25 and 30% of these exports are going to Great Britain.

A TRIBUTE TO AGRICULTURE
In the last reckoning all things are bought with food. Our civilization is bought with food; our industrial achievements as a province and a nation; our cultural advantages, our recreation. Food, abundant and adequate, is necessary to support our civilization.
The food produced on Alberta farms is the main source of the annual wealth production of this province.
The total new wealth produced from Alberta's field crops in the past eight years was $1,736,000,000, an annual average of [illegible]
The gross Alberta farm cash income in the past eight years was over two billion dollars, an annual average of $250 millions.
The Alberta Wheat Pool publishes these statistics to show to Alberta people the value of the agricultural industry.

ETHELWYN NEWS

Mr and Mrs Roy Hill and two children of Edmonton motored from the city last week end to visit Mrs. Hill's parents Mr and Mrs. Mulgrew. Mr. Hill returned home Sunday evening leaving the family here for a more extended visit.

Mr. and Mrs Owen Gallacher of Kimberly, B.C., spent several days at the home of the former's sister Mrs. McGillivray. The young couple were married shortly before coming here. On behalf of the district the writer wishes them a long and happily married life.

Several from hereabouts attended the ice cream social at Allandale last Thursday evening. Words just cannot describe this very fine event. We marvel that so small a group of women can provide such a bountiful and sumptuous supper.

The Allandale news appearing in the Standard recently is much enjoyed and here is hoping that it appears often.

Everyone is sorry to hear that Mr. Jim Cooper is ill in the Elk Point hospital. We hope he is home again before this news appears in print.

Mr Levi Stone of Artois, Calif., is the guest of Mr and Mrs. Jack Grant Sr. Mr Stone is one of the early settlers of this district but moved away over 30 years ago. There are not many old friends of those early days left. Mr. Stone has a brother, Mr Carl Stone living at Clandonald.

The grain seems to be growing well despite lack of rain but the small garden seeds are not making much of a showing yet. Beans and corn are doing well but rain is badly needed at time of writing — Conditions might change before this is printed, and we hope so.

Keep that Sub right up to date.

Chatsworth Chatter

(Held over from last week)

The shortage of rain is becoming a drought and already the fields of grain are showing slight deterioration. Germination of seed in field and gardens is being slowed down, though there is plenty of moisture lower down. The intense and prolonged heat with the steady drying winds has completely dried out the top soil and the [illegible] in some fields to hamper visibility. The men are certainly [illegible] when they come off the fields. If we do not have rain the situation will be a [illegible] one. The showers which fell rather unevenly over the district last Tuesday June 1st did no more than lay the dust. Wild oats and stinkweed which had early starts are becoming a problem.

The Ottawa school children have also enjoyed visits with the Dunn Lake and the [illegible] school children. Softball was played with Ottawa on the short end of the scores in each game.

The first service of the season was held at the Ottawa United church Sunday June 6th with 29 in attendance. The next service is to be held on June 20th at 11 a.m. [illegible] vacation [illegible] for the girls and boys [illegible] from July 7th to 14th and the boys [illegible] June 30th to July 7th at Elk [illegible].

Mr Ronald Hayward is back in the community again and is having land cleared of brush and breaking done on his farm west of Joe Forkosh's [illegible]. Mr Hayward's mode of transportation is by energetic little yellow jeep.

Steve Stutt has been helping in [illegible] operations at [illegible] during [illegible] up the work.

We noticed a very brilliant [illegible] to the right of the setting sun on the evening of June 8th but evidently it portended nothing more than hot weather.

Mr M J Tuttell is the possessor of a new Mercury coupe.

The writer of the Chatter was quite pleased to attend a meeting of the Dewberry [illegible] at Mrs. Arnold Nagg's last Thursday. This club is certainly an energetic one and the meeting was most enjoyable. On their agenda for this month was the presentation of a club gift for a recent bride, a [illegible] shower for another bride and last but not least a picnic planned for the children and community at school closing. The ambitious officers are Mrs. Bert Moses, president, Mrs. F Sherwood, secretary and in spite of bad roads etc. there has been only one meeting cancelled in the past six months.

Relief from the drought came with the heavy thunderstorm and drenching [illegible] June 8th [illegible]. Gardens should soon show rapid growth after this.

THOUSANDS MORE FARMERS WILL USE TRACTORS

because The new Canadian-made Massey-Harris "Pony" has opened up a great new market for tractors

One year ago, Massey-Harris introduced a new small tractor . . . the "Pony" . . . with a full complement of mounted tools . . . to be made in its Canadian factory at Woodstock. Previously, all tractors used in Canada, were imported. Thus, Massey-Harris took two important steps which are bound to play a big part in Canadian prosperity during the years ahead.

The "Pony" opens up a great new market for tractors, both in Canada and in the export field. The last Canadian census showed nearly 500,000 farms still without tractors . . . many of which are small farms and market gardens where big tractor outfits are not practical. And there are a great many more thousands of small farms in the United States, in Europe, in Africa, and other countries where Massey-Harris products are sold. Almost every one of them is a prospect for a "Pony".

With the practical, economical "Pony" thousands more farmers will be able to use tractor power to do their work easier, quicker, and more profitably.

The manufacture of the "Pony" Tractor in Canada will provide jobs in the years ahead for Canadian workers . . . not only those employed in the Massey-Harris factory, but also those employed in the industries which supply materials, parts and services.

The great and growing demand for the "Pony", from the day of its first public demonstration, is evidence of its real need and place in Canadian and world agriculture.

Vindication Of Dieppe

WHILE THE INVASION OF DIEPPE, in which the Canadian army played a major part, occurred in August, 1942 it has continued to be a subject of interest in this country and there are many who have never been fully satisfied as to whether the operation was worth the cost of the many lives which were lost in it. Recently, further light was thrown on the matter when the official story "The Canadian Army in the Second World War" was published by the Dominion Department of Defence. Two chapters of "The Canadian Army, 1939-45" written by Col. Charles Stacey, Director of the Historical Section of the General Staff, deal with the Dieppe operation, and give many facts which show, that while the operation in itself was a failure, invaluable information was gained which contributed much to the success of the invasion of Europe on "D" Day.

* * * * *

New Reasons For Failure Not only was useful information gained, but the operation was of further value because in view of their success in repelling it, the Germans believed that they could successfully beat back any invasion of the beaches. Events following "D" Day demonstrated that the Germans had been misled by the attack at Dieppe into believing that the tactics they employed there would ensure their hold upon the continent. While most of the events of the operation have previously been published, some new information has been made public in the story published by the Defence Department which show more clearly why the attack failed. One of these was that it was decided not to provide heavy bomber support. "The elimination of this air bombardment removed from the plan the only element of really heavy support contained in it" the author states.

* * * * *

May Be Proud Of Undertaking Another point of interest not hitherto emphasized was that Major General J. H. Roberts, Commander of the Second Canadian Division, was hampered by "limited and frequently inaccurate information," reaching him at his headquarters aboard a destroyer, concerning events on the shore. One extremely exaggerated report of successes on the main beaches decided him to land his floating reserve which ran into withering fire. That there was some error in planning the attack is suggested in the part of the report which says "It is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the planners underestimated the influence of topography and of the defensive works known to be numerous in the target area." In spite of these things, the value of the operation in planning the "D" Day invasion of 1944 has never been seriously questioned. In referring to that aspect of the event Col. Stacey writes "That much criticized undertaking has made an essential contribution to the success of the most momentous operation of war ever attempted." For that reason, we may feel pride in the part played by the Canadian army in the attack, in spite of the fact that it was a costly failure.

FEED GRAIN EXPORTS BANNED IN B.C.

WINNIPEG.—The wheat board announced that export permits for shipment of oats, barley and mixed feed oats from British Columbia would not be granted until there is an improvement in supplies of feed grains on the west coast.

At the present time there is a heavy demand for feed grains in B.C. caused by flooding of pasture land and also by severed railway connection with prairie shipping points where feed grains are stored.

FAMILY COW KEEPS FARMER'S FINGERS NIMBLE

CAPEVILLE, Tenn.—Twelve-year-old William Ellis says he owes his musical talents to the family cow.

More than a year ago Bill's father suggested that the son milk the cow to keep his fingers nimble for the piano. Bil agreed, although he suspected that his father merely wanted to pass on the chore.

"But," says Bill, "that cow's been keeping my fingers in shape. Now my three sisters want to help with the milking."

'Gully Erosion' Threatens Prairie Farm Lands

Here is the extreme results of "gully erosion" which threatens many thousands of acres of prairie farm lands. This field was bare summer fallow, with a loose topsoil, which resulted from many cultivations last year. These may be largely eliminated by the use of chemical weed control, which is believed to be an important development in the battle against soil erosion.

(Central Press Canadian)

SASKATOON, Sask.—A party of top-flight farm scientists met at Birch Hills, Sask., to consider one of the gravest problems that has yet confronted western agriculture. In an area of good land, where bumper wheat crops have been the rule for the past several years, the land is sick and in danger of a slow, lingering death. Water erosion, the cause of the "sickness", created the problem which the scientists are trying to beat.

Up in the Birch Hills country, and countless other places where the prairie land rolls in great sweeps, broken here and there by sparse poplar and birch groves, the problem is acute. The rolling land, stripped of its protective cover of grass, shrubs and trees, then worked for years on end, becomes susceptible to running water, which courses down bare hillsides, gouging out deep gullies, carrying down the priceless thin covering of topsoil, leaving the rocks and gravel showing.

Nature saw to it that the prairie bush country was protected against water erosion, but when man removed the protective material, he bumped into plenty of trouble. Nowadays, where rolling land has been cleared and cropped, the farmer is almost certain to face the problem in a year of heavy spring runoff, or during a heavy rainstorm in the summer when the land can't soak up the water as quickly as it falls, and it follows its natural tendency to run to a lower level.

The scientists at Birch Hills came to two important conclusions. One was that the land must be managed so that it has a protective covering of stubble or grass at all times during which it is vulnerable to water erosion, and that some radical reduction of cultivation is needed.

But a rich soil produces good crops of weeds as well as useful crops, and farmers have found it necessary in the past to cultivate summerfallow six, seven and even more times during the summer to kill off fresh growths of persistent weeds, which sap the soil moisture, choke out crops.

New Theory

That was the old way, but this year will see a new theory tried in the prairie provinces, and a lot of cultivation eliminated. Great hope of many a farmer who wants to save his good land for generations yet to come lies in the new chemical method of weed control, by means of selective herbicides, such as 2, 4-D. Where susceptible weeds appear on summerfallow, it is possible to destroy them with a series of heavy applications of the "wonder chemical", eliminating the need for frequent disking or cultivating. After a crop has been taken off in the fall, it is thought that the protective stubble can be left, and the next season's weed growth dealt with largely with chemical sprays.

Probably the chemicals won't entirely eliminate the need for cultivation. But a few weeds which are fairly resistant to 2, 4-D can be dealt with otherwise, without too much disturbance of the soil surface and its protective cover.

Prairie farmers are heading into a year of large-scale use of chemical weed control. Many of them last year grew the cleanest crops in history by killing off weeds in the growing crop, since cereals generally are not affected by 2, 4-D, and most of the common broad-leaf weeds are extremely susceptible. This year, many more are looking forward to trying out "chemical summerfallow", a method which may play an important part in driving the spectre of water erosion from the fertile prairie country.

FARMERS RECEIVE 700,000 TAX GUIDE BOOKS

OTTAWA.—Hon. J. J. McCann, revenue minister told the commons 700,000 special income tax guide books have been placed in the hands of Canadian farmers.

Dr. McCann recalled his March announcement that farmers who report taxable income based on cash actually received and cash expenses actually paid out during the calendar year would not be required to fill out the net worth statement on the new 1947 prairie farmers' or farmers' return.

"Those farmers who reported income on an accrual basis for tax purposes will be required to submit a statement of assets and liabilities as heretofore or to complete the appropriate parts of the net worth statement. . . . Where the department cannot obtain sufficient information by any other means, it may require a further statement which in many cases may actually be the net worth statement. This would apply for any year for which sufficient information is not available."

The guide book had two purposes. It gave the farmer a sample book "for the purpose of recording his income and expenses in such a way as to facilitate the accurate completion of his returns." It also answered questions

Three Prairie Provinces Good Oil Prospects

EDMONTON.—In Manitoba, the southwestern corner of the province is thought to be a possible oil producing region. In Saskatchewan, the entire southern half of the province is underlaid by sedimentary rock favorable for oil exploration but in Alberta virtually the entire province is considered by oil men to consist of potential oil land.

The exploration programmes of major Canadian and United States oil companies this year reflect directly the oil potential qualities of the three prairie provinces. There is some exploration planned and underway in Manitoba, more intensive exploration in Saskatchewan but the great majority this year will take place in the Province of Alberta.

Estimates by informed oil men vary greatly on the amount of money that will be spent in Alberta this year. These estimates range from $30,000,000 upwards. Imperial Oil has announced that Henry H. Hewetson, president of his company will spend $20,000,000 in Alberta in 1948.

Former Vermilion Lady Married At Lethbridge

YACKULIC—ATKINSON

Rev. Fr. Gillan O.M.I., officiated at the nuptial mass Thursday morning in St. Patrick's church, Lethbridge, when wedding vows were exchanged between Miss Marjorie Atkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Atkinson of Lethbridge and Anthony Vincent Yackulic, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. Yackulic of Lethbridge, at a double ring ceremony.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was gowned in a white dress which had a nylon net yoke and satin bouffant skirt with lace inserts. Her floor-length veil misted from a beaded coronet and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Patricia Edwards of Wetaskiwin, formerly of Vermilion, was her only attendant wearing a mauve taffeta dress and carrying a bouquet of pale mauve sweet peas. Brother of the groom, C. A. Yackulic of Edmonton, acted as best man.

The wedding music was played by Miss M. Pariset who also accompanied Mrs. M. Petrunia, who sang during the ceremony.

The bridal reception was held at the home of Mrs. D. McLean with the guests received by the bride and groom, the bride's father and mother, the latter gowned in a grey afternoon dress set off with a corsage of pink carnations and by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Yackulic. Mrs. Yackulic dressed in yellow jersey afternoon frock complimented by a corsage of pink sweet peas and white carnations. The reception rooms were decorated with bouquets of spring flowers, tulips and lilacs.

The toast to the bride was given by Rev. Fr. Gillan with the groom responding.

For her honeymoon trip to Calgary and Waterton Lakes National Park, the bride changed to a blue gabardine suit and hat with grey accessories and a corsage of red roses. Upon their return they will reside in Lethbridge.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Miss Patricia Edwards of Wetaskiwin, and Mr. C. A. Yackulic of Edmonton. During the reception congratulation telegrams were received from many out-of-town friends and relatives.—Lethbridge Herald.

The bride lived in the Maughan district for ten years. She attended the Queenie Creek school and St. Joseph's convent at Glandonald prior to moving to Lethbridge.

Final Returns 1948 Red Cross Campaign

TORONTO.—Final campaign returns issued by Canadian Red Cross officials on the Society's 1948 national appeal for funds reveal that $3,637,[illegible] was subscribed by the people of Canada.

The national objective of $3,000,000 was exceeded by $637,446 or 21%. Altogether, this has been a very satisfactory campaign. Public reaction has been most sympathetic and augurs well for the future of Red Cross in Canada," said Dr. Fred W. Routley, National Commissioner.

Reports from Divisions all indicate public reception of the provincial campaigns as excellent. Provincial percentages are: Prince Edward Island 115% of objective; Nova Scotia 125%; New Brunswick 154%; Quebec 101%; Ontario 119%; Manitoba 173%; Saskatchewan 100%; Alberta 121%; British Columbia 162%. Crop growth is very patchy and unless we have a good rain soon, prospects for a crop are rather slim. Some farmers are curtailing further seeding, awaiting rain. There is still a reserve of moisture lower down, but the extreme heat during the month of May, aided by the drying winds left surface moisture at a minimum. The early sown crop and garden had the advantage of surface moisture for germination but these are also showing deterioration. Stinkweed is rapidly ripening and the work of seeding is being followed by summerfallowing.

Some roadwork has been done hereabouts (and how it was needed!) — a few fills or approaches have been built so that traffic may cross the ditches at detours more easily.

[illegible] Fast and Mrs. Witherspoon have been visiting in Edmonton during the past week.

The Pie Social and dance held at the school last Friday was well attended and the sum of $35 was realized in aid of the Jr. Red Cross. Pies were plentiful and varied. Novelty dances such as spot, elimination and slipper dances were enjoyed. We were pleased to have with us a number of visitors from Vermilion among them Mr. and Mrs. Tom Watts, Mr. and Mrs. L. Puckett and family, Miss Eleanor Krause, D. Maier, J. Anderson, H. Kossowan. Visitors from Vegreville included Miss Spak's sister Marion and also friends of Miss Spak from Wainwright.

WILDMERE WINKS

First we want to make a correction on an item in the last Winks — It should have read "Bill Smith bought a 24-run seed drill" not an 8-run as stated. This was a typographical error that was just overlooked.

We were sorry to hear Mrs. H. N. [illegible] was a patient in the hospital and we all wish her a speedy recovery to health and home.

The Wildmere W.I. held the June meeting at the home of Mrs. Whitlock with Mrs. Robert Martin as hostess. All 12 members and one visitor, Mrs. Wm. Clark Jr. were present. After the business a discussion took place on the display at the handicraft at the college on July 9th. Mrs. Wm. Garbutt [illegible] and Mrs. Weissenberger are in charge of the display that day. Mrs. [illegible] gave a very interesting paper on Immigration. Johnny Jump-Up [illegible] won by Mrs. Steele. [illegible] was a Geography match with Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Whitlock staying up the longest. On a motion by Mrs. Steele's donation of children's books are to be made next meeting for our local hospital. A letter of appreciation for a parcel sent overseas was received. Items for another parcel were donated at the meeting and a goodly number of children's bedroom slippers, our month's objective, were handed in. A baby's outfit is our July project. The July meeting is to be held at the home of Mrs. Sutho with Mrs. Robert Smith as the hostess on the 14th. It is set back a week owing to the convention being held on the 9th. After the meeting Mrs. Martin and helpers served a tasty and enjoyable lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fyben of Vermilion received a letter from their daughter Clara, Mrs. Winge and family of Vanport, Oregon, and Mrs. Caron read the letter to the writer over the phone. Mr. and Mrs. Winge found their family hanging onto the wreckage in the water the flood hit so suddenly. Mr. and Mrs. Winge were out of Vanport at the time and when they heard of the flood the police would not let them back — as Mrs. Winge said if there's such a thing as hell on earth they went through it until their family was found. Albert Carlson had gone to a show in Portland but the other three children were in Vanport. They lost everything including several new items such as a refrigerator only two weeks old. One woman told Clara she had lost her 4 children in the flood. We here cannot realize or picture the privation, sorrow and damage caused. B.C. too, has suffered terrible floods, but we are pleased to hear they are receding at time of writing. Mrs. Adam Smith of Vancouver in recent letters tells of [illegible] coming into the city from the flood areas. Our world certainly seems to be topsy turvy this spring somehow. Flooded out in some areas, forest fires raging in others, drought in still other places and wars and bickering going on over in Palestine and Europe.

[illegible] congregation have attended church the last two Sundays. It is very heartening to our student Mr. [illegible] to see folks turn out like that.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Martin and Doreen [illegible] and Adam Smith were guests to a turkey supper at the Gibson home in [illegible] on Sunday evening.

The Auburndale ladies' aid of the United church are holding their annual bazaar and sale of home cooking at Willowby school on Friday, June 18th in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holte of town were callers at the Wellington home Sunday evening.

Swimming Instructor For Vermilion's Young People

PROGRESSIVE PROJECT BY VERMILION AMATEUR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

As a result of a distinctly progressive move by the Vermilion Amateur Athletic Association, Mr. Doucette, a young university student of Edmonton, has been engaged as supervisor and swimming instructor for the pool in the river. Mr. Doucette is an experienced swimming instructor, also in teaching methods of life saving and in life guard work. He will be here for the months of July and August and will receive a salary of $125 per month.

In order to meet the cost of the supervisors' salary and that of effecting other improvements at the pool, all organized bodies of the town will be asked to make donations. The V.A.A.A. have set up a trust fund for the swimming pool account and donations made be made to secretary Jas. J. Peet at the town office.

A fee of $1 is also being asked for each child or person taking the swimming lessons. This is a purely voluntary fee, any child is welcome to take the lessons whether or not he pays the one dollar. It is felt that all parents will gladly pay the dollar per child to have the children learn to swim properly, and to ensure proper supervision and a life guard at the swimming pool for many hours each day. Many parents will probably be willing to give larger donations to help along the project.

Details of the swimming classes will be arranged as soon as possible after the instructor arrives on July 2nd.

EFFECT GREAT IMPROVEMENTS

Through the co-operation and activity of many citizens and young people, great improvements have been made at the pool already, and several others are contemplated. The whole place has been cleaned thoroughly, benches built here and there, bathing houses repaired, parking spaces enlarged and road leading to the pool widened. A diving board and children's slide will be constructed at once.

Ross Beake is chairman of the committee in charge. Bill Pettigrew and Ken Urquhart are in charge of the grounds, Frank Welch, Gordon Ross are to work with the new instructor in arranging classes while Mrs. Adam has been appointed convener of the finance committee.

Beer Bottle Breakers in For It

A determined effort will be made to search out anyone leaving or breaking beer bottles or any kind of glass at the swimming pool, and offenders will be severely prosecuted! The surroundings will be kept neat and clean.

Grounds at Swimming Pool, School, Supervised by Police

Grounds and gardens at the public school and the swimming pool surroundings are now under R.C.M.P. supervision and are inspected frequently during the evenings and at night. This is to prevent damage of any kind which has occurred in the past, and in keeping things neat and orderly.

Annual Conference Women's Institute at V. S. A. on July 9th

MANY PROJECTS AT REGULAR W. I. MEETING

The regular monthly meeting of the Vermilion W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Cruthers on June 9. 11 members were present and the main topic of discussion was the Annual W.I. conference to be held in the school of agriculture July 9th. All members are busy preparing articles for the Handicraft Display. An interesting letter was read regarding girls from Europe who are coming to Canada to take up domestic work in farm and town homes and in hospitals. Should W.I. members come in contact with these girls they are asked to befriend them and help them to become adjusted to Canadian ways. Beautiful articles for a layette were [illegible] in. These are usually sent to Victorian Nurses in remote districts of the province. Another food parcel was sent to England. All food parcels have been acknowledged and the recipients are truly grateful to receive the variety of food each parcel contains. Mrs. Mortimer read a very interesting article on Social Welfare and Thankfulness. Our last meeting of the season will be held in July at the home of Mrs. Tisdall.

Farm Women's Week V.S.A. July 5th to 9th

Farm Women's Week is a popular short course specially designed to serve the demands of women of all ages from the farm homes of Central Alberta. The program is planned to provide lectures and demonstrations on subjects directly related to the interests of all home-makers with ample provision for discussion, recreation and relaxation.

The attendance in former years has varied from 10 to over 100. Many have returned year after year and others have written to express their appreciation of the pleasant and attractive holiday. Several have become interested in having their own sons and daughters enter the school for the regular winter course in Agriculture and Home Economics.

The lovely campus grounds, beautifully landscaped with trees, shrubs and flowers, make it an ideal setting for a summer short course and the school dormitories afford comfortable living quarters.

The program will open with registration on Monday afternoon, July 5th and carry through to the Thursday evening and informal discussions prior to departure Friday afternoon, July 9th. Various members of the regular teaching staff of the V.S.A. will take part in the program as well as special lecturers from the Extension Services of the Department of Agriculture.

We are all sorry to hear that Mrs Alex Arthur of Auburndale is a patient in the hospital. We all wish her a speedy return to home and better health again.

Our deepest sympathy goes out to the bereaved ones since our last writing, namely the Redmond and Hunt families. Mr. Redmond was only in the prime of life and Mr Hunt was 72 years of age, an esteemed old timer in Vermilion.

Then came the shower of gifts, two beautifully decorated baskets were carried in by Melva Hallon and Mary Worsnuk. Many and useful were the gifts opened by Beverly who graciously thanked the guests. Lunch, and a very tasty one, was then served. Mrs. Kennedy wishes to convey her thanks to the ladies who helped in supplying the lunch.

And bells still ring—Mary Worsnuk, a good teacher—and Islay will be on the search list again.

HOW OUR PRAIRIE TOWNS AND VILLAGES CAME INTO BEING

By JANE DALE

PEOPLE living all their lives in the cities and in the older parts of our country must often wonder just how the many little towns which dot the prairies came into being. There is a romance and an inspiration in the individual history of each of the prairie towns and villages and as we listen to the pioneers and the oldtimers tell tales of the first days of these stopping off places along the long prairie trails we come to realise that each small settlement started much the same as the other. I have had occasion to delve into the background and history of the small village of Hamiota, Manitoba, for material for a project which our Women's Institute is sponsoring. With all the material at hand I decided to write up a brief summary of this town's history and thereby answer the question as to how the small prairie villages and towns came into being.

During the latter part of the nineteenth century the government of Canada sought to bring settlers into the prairie provinces by the means of extensive and somewhat misleading advertising. In the British Isles and in the various countries of Europe the Canadian west was depicted as a land of vast opportunity and abounding wealth for those who were willing to settle the land and work. People flocked to this paradise from across the seas and from the eastern provinces of Canada itself. Between 1870 and 1900 the Indian trails across the prairies were dotted with all sorts of vehicles—ox carts, lumber wagons, covered wagons and Red River carts. Winnipeg was the central point and the settlers fanned out from there, going as far as they could by rail then employing whatever sort of transportation they could afford or obtain. Wherever a small group or family stopped to stake out a homestead there a settlement usually started.

A family by the name of Hamilton stopped along the trail some thirty miles from Birtle, where homestead locations had to be registered, to the northwest; thirty miles from Rapid City, the nearest postoffice at that time, to the southeast; and fifty miles from Brandon, the heart of the wheat growing area, also southeast. This family of settlers gave their name to that stopping place but when they began to receive mail it was found that the mail intended for the city of Hamilton, Ontario, was being confused with the mail for the Manitoba Hamilton it was found necessary to change it. The first syllable of the original name and the Indian word, "iota", meaning plenty, were combined, the whole word then meaning "many Hamilton tepees". So Hamiota it was and Hamiota it has remained ever since.

The present village of Hamiota is three and a half miles northwest of the original Hamilton homesteads. The townsite was laid out in 1890 but the town was not incorporated until the year 1906. The year the townsite was laid out the Great Northwest Central Railway from Chater, a small settlement west of Brandon, was laid to Hamiota. The hope of having communication with the outside world was met with enthusiasm by the people who had already gathered in this small place. There was a period of waiting, however, during which pressure was put on the government by petition to get the train running. It was in December, 1891, that the train did finally come snorting and shrieking along the ribbons of steel. That was a milestone in the life of the villagers. Mr George Elliott had had a cellar for his store dug for two years but when the train never came he decided to go no further with the construction. When in August, 1891, a hand car came along the track he thought it was the forerunner of the train so set his men to work again. Once more he was disappointed and the work was held up. When on that cold dull December day the train did come through, Mr Elliott had his place cleared of snow and ice, laid a floor on the foundation which served as a roof and in the basement opened up for business. As one lady remarked when recalling that particular event, "we walked the plank into the basement where 'basement bargains' became the order of the day on a cash and carry basis, cash being represented by the stock exchange of butter and eggs." The first postoffice was in a corner of this store. It was not long before others who had been waiting an opportune time to establish general stores were on the scene.

The first house, owned by Colin McMurachy, came in on wheels from the north, a distance of thirteen miles. This house, still standing and occupied, represents the first stone in the foundation of the village. With the coming of the train tradesmen flocked into the settlement—carpenters, blacksmiths, harness makers, tailor and countless others. Houses of every description went up as did also places of business. A hall was built where divine services which up to this time had been held in the homes of the settlers were held by the few Presbyterians in the village; a small one roomed school was built and presided over by a Mr. Pye who was reputed to have been a scholarly gentleman with poetic tendencies and plans were made for the erection of the first church.

With the coming of the train a new problem arose. How were the train crews and the travellers to be accommodated. The few women settlers, with true western hospitality, opened their doors and meted out accommodation as best they could. On the first night the train came in, it is reported, Mrs. McMurachy gave sleeping room to twenty, the men bringing their own blankets and spreading them on the floor. Another lady, Mrs. McRae, on one of these busy days cooked and served a whole quarter of beef and when this was done fed the remaining hungry men on soda biscuits, butter and tea. Small shacks were erected to be used as sleeping quarters until later in the spring of 1892 a Mr. Jerry Pangman built what was in after years known as the Whitely House. A hotel called the "Kelly House" was built. Thus the inflow of people was taken care of as the first years passed.

People who ventured across the prairies and settled in these small stopping off places and trading posts had to work hard. Their living was of necessity very primitive. There were no lighting systems for the streets, no sidewalks beyond a few planks laid across a low spot or a mud hole; no adequate water supply and very few luxuries. For all this many were the pleasant gatherings they enjoyed during the long winter months. Local talent was in popular demand at every function and surprisingly enough it proved to be very entertaining as any oldtimer will recall. What we call merely a dance in this day and age they called a ball, and very splendid affairs they were. The ladies turned out dressed in their tight waisted, flowing skirted, colorful gowns, while the men appeared in their heavy worsted suits, white shirts and hard collars. Every town relied upon its citizens for all manner of entertainment for many years. One lady recalled that the first ice carnival held in Hamiota was a very pleasant affair. There were no electric lights; not even gaslight; so each man took along a stable lantern, the light of which gave to the whole scene of the carnival a festive appearance and everyone participating had a merry time.

Another special event often recalled by oldtimers of the district and which afforded much pleasure to everyone was the first big celebration in the village. This took place on Dominion Day, 1892, when a special train ran from Brandon for the occasion. There was a great move to improve the appearance of the very young settlement for this great day. The citizens arranged to lay sidewalks, each man buying his own lumber and doing the labor. The walks were for the most part two boards set lengthways about a foot apart. Much later, in fact after the town became incorporated these were replaced by solid plank sidewalks. This work went on steadily all night in order to be ready for the celebration. During the following day the local team won a victory over a visiting team from Rapid City in a game of lacrosse.

Little towns like Hamiota owed their very existence to the homesteads around about. This community proved to be set in the midst of a rich grain growing part of the Prairies. During the depression years the late Cora Hind remarked in one of her reports on the rural grain growing areas that "Hamiota was the garden spot of Manitoba." Even those devastating years of drought and pestilence did little to set back the settlers. Their crops increased and they, in the main, prospered. Before the coming of the train, as mentioned above, the farmers in the settlement had to haul their grain thirty or forty miles to a market.

A great day it was in the lives of the townspeople when the train brought the mail to within a stone's throw of a postoffice; thus step by step the town grew. Grain elevators arose above the frame houses; livery barns were erected to accommodate the horses of the farmers and the traveller; hotel and boarding houses opened their doors as the need arose, a town paper came into being and became the voice of the people and a system of gaslighting was installed which was replaced by electric lighting in the 1920's. A hospital was found necessary to adequately take care of the sick and the one roomed school gave way to a four roomed brick structure which was again enlarged to accommodate children from a wider area. All sorts of offices and places of business sprang up along the main street. This pattern of development is one with all other patterns on the prairies. The only difference is that while in and around Hamiota names such as McConnell, Fraser, Chambers, Park, Whyte, Venables and many others will be remembered as long as the town itself stands, in other towns the names will be different.

No better measure of the towns greatness can be had than by the type of citizen it has sent out into the world as the years pass away. Hamiota, as all other prairie towns has sent a good quota of intelligent, loyal and upright men and women into all parts of the world and has at the same time retained not a few to carry on the work so laboriously started by the pioneers in a community so well favored by nature and God.

MAKING PIE COULD HAVE BEEN EXPENSIVE

HAGERSTOWN, Md.—A few more minutes in the oven and Mrs. Ralph Saladini's pie would have cost $125.

She noted a peculiar smell coming from the oven and found $125 in bills done to a brown, but not charred.

Her husband said he had placed it there for safekeeping and then forgot to tell Mrs. Saladini.

The safety match came into use about the middle of the 19th century. 2782

IS IT A BUS OR A TRUCK?

ELLENDALE, N.D.—A summer vacation for a family of 16 here is being delayed over the question. Is it a bus or a truck?

John Bell thought he had his family's transportation problem solved. He mounted a bus body on a truck chassis. Even at that, the 25-passenger bus was none too roomy for the 14 children and their parents.

Two applications have been made for a truck license. Both have been turned down. Bell admits it looks like a bus but says it is still the family car.

However, a bus permit would cost $32 and the cost of the license would have to be figured over that. A North Dakota law says a bus must be licensed as such and not as a truck.

A rumor around Ellendale had it that the vehicle registration department at Bismarck denied Bell's application for another reason. The department was said to believe that he wanted to enter the commercial bus business.

His answer to that: "When we Bells go for a ride there wouldn't be any space left. I need a bus just to take the family for a joy-ride."

There are four sets of twins in the family. Married in 1921 the Bells have had 16 children but one died shortly after birth and another was killed in a tractor accident four years ago.

Copy Of Weekly Paper Serves As Passport to Canada

WHEATON, Minn.—A copy of the Wheaton Gazette, published by William B. [illegible] was substituted recently for a passport to Canada. Carl Swedberg, a resident here, had means of identification when he traveled to Canada, but he did not have a passport nor did he have his citizenship papers.

Canadian customs officials were about to deny Swedberg's admittance into the country until he showed them a copy of the Gazette which stated that he had served as mayor of Wheaton. Officials accepted the article as being truthful and granted his citizenship rights on the basis that an alien cannot hold public office in the United States.

COURSE OF RIVER HAS BEEN ALTERED BY ENGINEERS

UNDERSTANDING = MODERATION

Understanding comes to us when we see things through the other fellow's eyes . . .

when we listen through the other fellow's ears . . .

when we consider the other fellow's point of view at all times.

It's the key to happy living together. For it leads us to weigh our words and shape our actions for the common good.

Happily a Canadian characteristic, it's this understanding which leads us to choose the path of moderation in all things . . .

moderation in our thinking, moderation in our spending . . .

moderation in our pleasure. For understanding makes us realize that moderation benefits not only our own selves, but our families, our communities and all of Canada.

FRACTURES

General Signs and Symptoms of Fracture

1. Pain at or near the seat of fracture.
2. Loss of power in the limb.
3. Swelling about the seat of fracture.
4. Deformity of the limb. The limb assumes an unnatural position, and is mis-shapen at the seat of fracture.
5. Irregularity of the bone. If the bone is close to the skin the fracture may be felt.

General Rules for Treatment of Fracture

1. Attend to the fracture on the spot. No matter how crowded the thoroughfare, or how short the distance to a more convenient or comfortable place, no attempt must be made to move the patient until the limb has been rendered as immovable as practicable by splints or other means of restraint, unless life is in danger from some other cause.

2. When haemorrhage accompanies a fracture it must be attended to first, and the wound covered by a clean dressing.

3. Steady and support the injured limb so that no further movement on the part of either the patient or the bystanders is prevented.

4. With great care and without using force place the limb in as natural a position as possible. The object of the First-Aider in the treatment of fractures is not necessarily to set the fracture accurately, but to maintain the broken ends in a fixed position so that they shall not cause further injury to the tissues around them.

5. Apply splints, bandages and slings when necessary. The splints must be firm, and long enough to keep the joints immediately above and below the fractured bone at rest. Ample width is very desirable in a splint. A splint may be improvised from a broom handle, piece of wood, paper firmly folded or, in fact, anything that is firm, long and wide enough. When these are not available, the body itself may be used as a splint, and the upper limbs may be fixed in various ways to it. The lower limbs may be fastened to one another. A general method for dealing with any fracture of the upper limbs is carefully to remove the coat if possible; straighten the limb by gentle and steady extension, bend the elbow and lay the limb against the chest with the hand just touching the opposite shoulder. The hand may be fixed in this position by a bandage looped round the wrist and tied around the neck, taking care that there is no constriction at the wrist. The limb is then bound firmly to the chest by a broad bandage or similar method, the coat replaced and buttoned over the fractured limb. This method may also be used for fractures of the shoulder-blade and collar-bone. In the lower limb, if no splinting facilities are available, extend the broken limb and tie the ankles and feet together with a figure-of-8 bandage. If padding is available, put between the legs. Fasten the knees together with a broad bandage. Bandage above and below the injury.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

Don Graham

It's only human to hope for our heart's desires to come true in the future. But too much anticipation can be a hindrance to success and happiness. Carried to extremes, it can [illegible] of frustration.

For one thing, "living in the future" blinds us to the many enjoyable things in life that each day brings. Too easily we overlook the deep and soul satisfactions to be found in a lovely day, a good friend, a tasty meal, a job well done.

Excess anticipation also leads to perpetual daydreaming. And daydreaming is fatal to achievement. Worse, it encourages the possibility of bitter disappointments.

However, I do believe one should always be hopeful — and whenever possible take practical steps to make any reasonable dream or ambition come true.

The most practical way to provide for your own and your family's future is through life insurance. It offers a safeguard against unforeseen emergencies, and helps make your dreams of comfortable retirement and other plans to come true.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Williams Philosophy

By BASCOM N. ROGERS III

THERE were some people in Crawfordsville who said it was because Old Jim Hawkins had put a curse on William that the disaster happened. But it was only the most superstitious who said it. Most everybody knew it was just a coincidence that Old Jim said what he did at the town picnic just before what happened to William. Anyway, it taught Old Jim a lesson.

Everybody in Crawfordsville was at the picnic that day, because it was an annual occasion. The women spread specially packed lunches on long [illegible] tables in the park while the men held horseshoe matches and the children ran races and played games for [illegible]. After lunch, where neighbors got a taste of each others cooking, everybody stretched out and rested up before the main event of the day, the baseball game.

"Aren't you gonna stay for the game, William," asked Thomas, the postmaster.

William and Sue and the children were gathering up their things.

"Like to," said William, dusting the grass off his pants, "but Sue here's not feeling too well and I've got a picture at home I've got to finish painting before tomorrow."

"That's too bad," said Thomas, "but if you are getting money for the painting I guess you better finish it."

William grinned, knowing Thomas was thinking that he didn't make much money, which was true.

"Yeah," said William, "every little bit counts."

"If you don't mind, William," said Harry, his neighbor's son, "I'll ride on out with you. Dad and the family are gonna stay for the game, but I got some stuff to do at home."

"Sure, Harry," said William. "Come on."

As they left and people looked after them, Thomas shook his head and smiled. "That William don't make much, but he sure is a good fellow."

"Hmmmf," muttered Old Jim. "He won't ever amount to much. Got no ambition. Got plenty of brains but what's he ever done with them? Barely makes enough to live painting pictures."

"Maybe," said Thomas. "But they're mighty happy. He's got a philosophy he lives by."

"What's that?" grunted Old Jim.

"Why, William says it's important to never worry about things. Just [illegible] accept things as they come, doing the best you can, and then you'll be happy. He says he reckons he could make a lot of money if he tried real hard, but then he wouldn't be happy. He says they've got enough and no worries. And doggone if they don't seem the happiest people in Crawfordsville!"

"Sure, he's happy," said Old Jim. "Why shouldn't he be? He's got all that wooded ground with [illegible] on it and nothing to worry about. But just let something bad happen and he wouldn't be so dern happy. Just let [illegible] problem face him and that pretty philosophy of his would fall through. Then you'd see him worry. I'd just like to see him face something important."

"Maybe you're right," said Thomas. "But I don't think so."

"Come on, everybody," someone shouted. "Let's get on with the ball game."

The men rose, stretched lazily, complaining that they had eaten too much, and headed for the diamond where a couple of eager players were already warming up.

It was only the middle of the second inning when William's car came tearing down the road and turned into the park. The car jerked to a halt and Harry jumped out and came racing across the park to the diamond. His eyes were wide and he was out of breath when he reached the crowd.

"Harry, whatever is the matter?" asked his mother.

"It's William's house," he said. "When we got there it was burnt to the ground — right down to the ground! There's nothing there but a pile of black ashes. Everything they had in the world burnt up. It's terrible."

A groan passed through the crowd for William was well liked, even if some of them didn't approve of what they considered his lazy ways.

"Whatever caused it?" asked [illegible].

"Don't know," said Harry. "William says he guesses it must of been faulty wiring. Gee it's terrible."

"Nothing we can do now," said Thomas. "But I reckon we can go out and offer our sympathies."

People were already moving toward their cars. A sickening feeling hit them with the news of the disaster and all the pleasure was gone out of the game. There was nothing to do but go out to William's house, what was left of it, and see what they could do.

"Well, Old Jim," said Thomas as they climbed into the car, "Looks like you'll get to see how William faces a real problem. Guess you'll see how good or how bad his philosophy is."

"I certainly hadn't counted on anything like this when I was talking," said Old Jim. "I'm sure sorry. But I still say you'll see William won't be so easy about life now."

They were among the first to get to William's place. Thomas had hoped that the fire might not be as bad as Harry had said, but it was. His heart sank when he saw the smoldering ruins and the charred trees that had stood near the house. William and Sue were nowhere in sight, but the children were sitting in the front yard playing with the cat.

"Where's your Dad?" asked Thomas.

"Oh, he and Mom are over on the back of the property," said little William. "Here they come now."

Thomas and Old Jim walked toward William and Sue, followed by the other people who were arriving. Thomas was a little doubtful about William's attitude now himself. He was afraid Old Jim might be right.

"How nice of you all to come," said Sue. "There's no place to entertain you, but it certainly is comforting to see you."

"It certainly is," said William, smiling. "We've just been over on the site for the new house. We're going to put it on the back of the property. There's a perfect site there. And you know what? We'll have a beautiful moonlight walk without even getting off our property."

"Well, I'll swear!" said Old Jim. "You were right, Thomas. You can't keep a man down who can stand before the ashes of his home and talk about moonlight walks. William, I'm hereby offering my help in building you a new house."

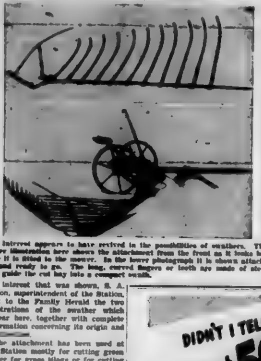
That Interesting Swather

By V. A. POPE

OPPORTUNITIES for doing a farming operation by a different method which may offer a saving in time, energy, or money always produce considerable interest. The swathing attachment on the mower illustrated may appeal to many readers as giving promise of such an opportunity.

Following the appearance of this illustration, which was described as having been photographed at the Dominion Experimental Station, Fredericton, N.B., the Station received a great number of letters enquiring [illegible] the machine. Impressed with the interest that was shown, S. A. Hilton, superintendent of the Station, sent to the Family Herald the two illustrations of the swather which appear here, together with complete information concerning its origin and [illegible].



Interest appears to have revived in the possibilities of swathers. The upper illustration here shows the attachment from the front as it looks before it is fitted to the mower. In the lower photograph it is shown attached and ready to go. The long, curved fingers or teeth are made of steel and guide the cut hay into a compact swath.

The attachment has been used at the Station mostly for cutting green clover for grass silage or for cutting grain which was too badly lodged to cut with a binder, and it has done those jobs satisfactorily. It has not been used much for haying work, but Mr. Hilton suggests that it might save the use of a side delivery rake in good hay-making weather.

Originally made by the Frost and Wood Company some years ago, the swather is no longer made commercially, but is simple enough so that the basic idea can be duplicated quite easily by a good blacksmith.

The swather is rather like a pea harvester, and is essentially a set of long metal fingers, curved up at the ends, which follow along behind the cutter bar of the mower and move the hay, as it is cut, over toward the heel of the cutter bar. This leaves it lying in a row along the line of the cut.

The swather bar is ½ inch round steel fastened to a steel shoe ¼ by 1½ inches. The teeth are strips of 1 inch by 3-16 inch steel and the long bar which runs the length of the cutter bar is 2 inch by ¼ inch steel. The teeth are each fastened to this bar by two bolts, and the length of the bar depends, of course, on the length of the cutter bar on the machine with which it is to be used.

The teeth are fastened to the bar about 7 inches from centre to centre with the longest tooth about 16 inches from the inside shoe at the heel of the cutter bar. The teeth vary in length from 36 inches for the outside teeth to 96 inches for the inside.

The best means of fastening the attachment to the mower will depend on the type of mower used, but it is a simple assembly and the best manner of bolting it on should prove easy to determine.

EXPERIMENT WITH DRY ICE RAIN AT ROSETOWN

ROSETOWN, Sask.—Charlie (Dusty) Dowie broke up a cloud with dry ice, and brought a light shower in the adjoining Harris-Sovereign area.

His work was the culmination of a number of secret experiments earlier this year. He said that conditions were not ideal, the cloud bank being too high, and the ground temperature warm enough in rising to evaporate some of the rain. It was one of the first if not the first such experiment in Saskatchewan.

Uranium Discovered In Saskatchewan

Prospector Reports Largest Radio-Active Area Ever Discovered

PRINCE ALBERT, Sask. — The uranium strike in the Lac la Ronge area, 150 miles northeast of here, is the "largest radio-active area ever discovered" and may have the effect of "moving Great Bear lake 1,000 miles south", according to William Richardson, co-discoverer of the strike.

Mr. Richardson and his partner Len McArthur, both of Toronto, came across their find of the strategic mineral within a week of starting prospecting in the area and report they have discovered 17 radio-active outcroppings along a seven-mile front.

This is the basis for Mr. Richardson's claim that this is the largest strike on record. The Eldorado operations on Great Bear lake cover a total area of only one-quarter square mile, in which there are several rich radio-active veins from two to three inches wide.

Perhaps the most important feature of the new discovery is the fact that it is so accessible to transportation. A newly completed provincial highway leads from Prince Albert to the settlement of Lac la Ronge and from there barges have easy access across Lac la Ronge to the site of the strike on the north end of the lake along the Montreal river 32 miles from the settlement.

Estimate Alberta Gas Supply For Ninety Years

Ninety years' gas reserves on basis of present use exist in the Province of Alberta, the newly published report on gas reserves of the Prairie Provinces indicates. The report was prepared by Dr. George S. Hume, chief of the Dominion Geological Survey and A. Ignatieff of the Dominion Bureau of Mines.

It is expected to serve as the basis for determining whether [illegible] sufficient gas reserves are available to warrant export of gas from the province.

Reserves of Alberta gas are placed at 3,818 billion cu. ft. of which 1,633 billions are classed as proved and 2,185 billion cu. ft. as probable. Present Alberta gas consumption is about 40 billion cu. ft. per annum.

DIDN'T I TELL YOU?
You get 50% MORE Jam or Jelly with CERTO
CERTO

AND RESULTS ARE SURE!

Sounds almost unbelievable — until you know the reasons why. Certo is nothing but "fruit pectin" — the natural substance in fruit which makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell." It's extracted from fruits in which it is most plentiful for better, quicker, easier jam and jelly making.

1. Short boil — That's why, when you use Certo, you don't have to "boil down" your fruit to make it set. A one-to-two-minute full, rolling boil is enough for jams . . . a half-minute-to-a-minute for jellies.

2. Extra yield — The short Certo boil saves all the precious fruit juice which, in long boiling, goes off in steam. You get an extra yield of 50% more jam or jelly.

3. Saves time, work — What a lot of time and work it saves, too! The old long-boil way you'd have to boil and stir many times as long.

4. Fresh fruit flavour — colour — With Certo you use fruit at its peak of flavor and colour and not the under-ripe fruit used in long-boil recipes. The Certo boil is too short to spoil this lovely taste and colour. They stay right in your jam or jelly.

5. No failures — You'll have no failures if you follow exactly the recipes provided with Certo. Different fruits need different handling, so there's a separate tested recipe for each one.

TAKE THE GUESSWORK OUT OF JAM AND JELLY-MAKING
GET CERTO AT YOUR GROCER'S

A Product of General Foods

A pound of jam or jelly made with Certo contains no more sugar than a pound made the old, long-boil way.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

June 21st, 1916

Total yield of all grains in the Vermilion district for 1915 was 2,285,814 bushels according to government returns. Monetary return was just over a million dollars.

G. W. Whitsell of Lake Bluff, Ill., reached Vermilion this week and will remain for 3 weeks. He owns land here upon which he is making extensive improvements in the line of buildings.

Frank Hamilton, a former proprietor of the Vermilion hotel, was shot to death at his ranch near Hewitt's Ferry as the result of an altercation with a neighbor.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

June 23rd, 1932

W. C. Martin of Edmonton opened a tinsmith shop in Vermilion.

The Fallow Bros. Adrian and Maurice purchased the Parkview Service station.

Alex Manyluk was badly burned when a bunk house was destroyed by fire near the east end livery barn. Alex was removing a can of gasoline from the burning building when the gas exploded.

J. J. Maloney addressed a large audience in Vermilion Wednesday evening.

Clandonald News

As it is quite some time since the writer sent in the last news from this corner of the universe some of these items may be a little old. Here's hoping that they may be of interest to those who are not fortunate enough to be living in the district.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM BAD FIRE

About two weeks ago a disastrous blaze was narrowly averted at the Imperial Motors by the prompt action of the volunteer fire brigade with the aid of fire extinguishers and the chemical engine. The fire started in the lighting plant and had made considerable headway when discovered. As there are other buildings within a few feet there is no doubt that if the fire had gotten beyond control a considerable portion of town would have been wiped out.

CLANDONALD SPORTS DAY

The Clandonald sports held Wednesday June 9th was a very successful event from all angles and no doubt the curling rink fund will benefit substantially. Although the weather was rather threatening in the morning the afternoon and evening were perfect and doubtless accounted for the near record crowd. The dance at night was attended by a very large crowd, there being barely standing room at times. A great improvement was noted in the layout of the grounds. The refreshment booth and hard ball diamond have been moved so that the crowd was not so scattered as formerly.

COLLISION

Two cars driven by salesmen collided at the convent corner the morning of sports day. Both cars suffered extensive damage but fortunately neither driver was injured.

CAR UPSETS

Fred Goddard had the misfortune to have his car upset recently causing considerable damage to fenders and top. The Goddards had planned a trip to Jasper and Banff but had to postpone it temporarily. They hope to get away sometime this week. Fred's brother and his wife of Gilt Edge are accompanying them. On the return trip they plan to visit the R[illegible] family at Oyen.

TO LEAVE FOR B.C.

The writer understands that Mr. and Mrs. Earl Geake and family who have lived in Vermilion for the past 9 months plan to leave for B.C. at the end of the school term. Earl returned recently from a trip to that province and has bought a grocery business at Penticton. He saw plenty of the flood conditions while out there.

LOSES YEARLING HEIFER

W. Young had the misfortune to lose a nice yearling heifer last week. It had fallen into an old well and had apparently been there for several days when discovered. About ten men with the aid of tackle managed to rescue it with considerable difficulty but the animal failed to survive the ordeal.

Mrs. Clayton Wilson and infant daughter of Calgary are visitors at the home of the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Chalmers.

GRADUATION DAY

On Tuesday June 15th members of the graduating class and their parents were guests of the Sisters of St. Joseph's convent. A short program presented by the high school pupils was followed by a banquet in the convent. Later in the evening a dance in the hall was attended by a large crowd from the town and surrounding districts. Members of the graduating class are Louis Smith, Marie Benoit, Eileen McCormick, Ann Kowal, Eunice Wasylichen, Margaret Kolodijejczyk and Doris Stockwell.

SCHOOL TRUSTEE ELECTION

Tuesday June 29th is election day for trustee in this division. As both candidates have been residents of the district for upwards of 40 years they are well known to all voters.

The writer is sorry to hear of the illness of Mrs. Gus Garnier who is at present a patient in the Vermilion hospital. A speedy recovery is wished her by her many friends.

a word about

Personal Purchases in the U.S.

- If you are contemplating a trip to the United States, here are two important facts to remember.
- You may not bring back with you any merchandise which is prohibited under the Emergency Exchange Conservation Act. Find out in advance from Canadian Customs officials whether you may bring in any contemplated purchase.
- To conserve all available U.S. dollars for essential purchases, a travel ration of $150 U.S. per person for the 12 months between Nov. 15, 1947 and Nov. 15, 1948 has been established. Be sure to get the necessary forms and details at your bank, well in advance of your trip.

This caution is given to help avoid possible embarrassment at border points.

A Welcome For New Citizens

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT in the three years since the war ended, some 200,000 people from other lands have come to make their homes in Canada. The majority of them have come from Europe and many have endured years of hardship and suffering before coming here. Undoubtedly to all of them, the opportunity to come to Canada meant a chance to make a new life under better and happier conditions than those under which they had been living. Some through contacts with Canadian soldiers during the fighting in Europe, or through other channels, had gained considerable knowledge of this country and were anxious, because of what they had learned, to establish themselves here. Others have come only because they were seeking a new home and had less previous knowledge of conditions in Canada.

* * * * *

Relationship Of Mutual Benefit

In this connection the Canadian Citizenship Committee has suggested that more interest should be taken by the public in making these newcomers feel at home in Canada, and in helping them to become acquainted with our way of life. It has been proposed that each new immigrant should be placed in contact with an older Canadian citizen who would instruct him concerning our electoral laws, social customs and such matters, and assist him to form connections with the religious denomination of his choice, as well as with other organizations in which he might be interested. Such a plan should prove of advantage to the new citizens who have many adjustments to make in coming to a strange country. Likewise, Canadians who might undertake to assist these people would undoubtedly gain much from the experience.

* * * * *

Become Familiar With Our Ways

In the past little interest was taken in quickly assimilating those who immigrated to this country into the Canadian way of life. Many of them remained in national groups in the communities in which they lived and clung to their own language and customs. Their children and grandchildren have become Canadians in every sense of the word and have contributed a great deal to the progress of this country. However, there is no reason why the first generation of citizens of foreign origin should not enjoy their new citizenship to the utmost. In this as in many other things it is possible to improve on the methods used in the past and it would be well if serious consideration were given to the manner in which newcomers from other lands might be helped to learn to enjoy the privileges and fulfil the responsibilities of Canadian [illegible]

Higher Priced Eggs For Britain

An increase of five cents per dozen in the price to be paid for Grade A eggs purchased under the British contract was announced by the Special Products Board. A further two-cent increase will become effective September 1, 1948.

The increase in price during July and August has been made possible by economies effected in the operation of the British egg contract by the Special Products Board over the past year. It will not involve any increase in the contract price of eggs to Britain.

The September increase will bring Special Products Board paying prices for eggs in the regular fall period premium price provided by the British contract.

FARM PRICES INDEX MOUNTS

OTTAWA.—The bureau of statistics reported its index number of industrial farm prices stood at 234.0 April 15 or 2.7 points above the index for the previous month and 36.4 points above that of April, 1947. The index is based on 1935-39 equals 100.

U.S. Wheat Estimate 1,192,425,000 Bushels

CHICAGO.—The United States agriculture department officially estimated this year's winter and spring wheat crop at 1,192,425,000 bushels.

In a release made at the close of trading on the Chicago grain exchange the department raised its May estimate of winter wheat close to 32,000,000 bushels to the new June total of 877,230,000. For the first time this year the department made an estimate of the spring crop giving 315,195,000 as the expected yield.

Conservation Of Soil Major Importance

With Plenty Of Data On Soil Prospects For The Farmer Is Good

JASPER, Alta.—The predicted future of agriculture on both sides of the Canadian Rockies was described to delegates attending the third annual convention of the Canadian Feed Manufacturers' association here.

Dr. R. D. Sinclair, dean of agriculture at the University of Alberta, said soil conservation is of major importance to prairie farmers.

Professor H. M. King of the University of British Columbia's animal husbandry department, said his province's problem is to obtain more intensive production from the limited number of arable acres suitable for farming.

Prospects for today's farmers were described as good by Dr. Sinclair, with plenty of data available for study on soil and climatic conditions.

British Columbia's need for increased production, Professor King said, is being met through intensive fertilization, irrigation and rotation of crops.

Huge Dyking System Foreseen For Fraser Valley

OTTAWA.—High dykes for 140 miles costing $62,500,000 in Fraser Valley are envisioned here as plans are mapped out for Dominion-Provincial flood control measures.

An unofficial estimate says the Federal government may put up $50,000,000 and B.C. $12,500,000.

Proposed dykes would be high and strong enough to contain the Fraser at peak flood levels.

According to one source, the dykes might be wide enough to carry 16-foot roads, similar to barriers in Holland and the lower Rhine along which Canadian soldiers fought in World War II.

Death and Funeral of James B. Hunt

A pioneer Vermilion citizen and business man James Benjamin Hunt who settled here in 1907, passed away on Friday June 18th after a short illness. He was 72 years of age.

The deceased was born in Montreal in 1876, the son of Capt. George Hunt of the British Imperial Army and Mrs. Hunt. The family moved to Ontario where Capt. Hunt founded the town of Huntsville. The father died when James was 6 years of age and from that time the family was the responsibility of the boys.

The late Mr James Hunt came as far west as Winnipeg where he spent a year in the employ of the Ashdown Wholesale Hardware Company. In 1906 he came to Kitscoty in company with his brother Jack and in 1907 the two young men moved to Vermilion where they purchased the town's original hardware. Business from then on was operated by the Hunt Brothers as the Hunt Hardware until it in turn was bought by the present Northern Hardware Company in March of 1911. James Hunt subsequently operated a furniture and undertaking business, later purchased by J. Waring.

Mr Hunt was deeply interested in the work of the church and for many years was an Elder of the Vermilion United church.

Surviving members of the family are his sorrowing widow, two daughters, Jeannette at home and Mrs Audrey Power of Edmonton and one son Kenneth of Baffin Island. One sister Mrs J Hird resides at Treherne Manitoba.

Funeral services were held on Monday June 21st at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and were largely attended. Interment took place at the Vermilion cemetery. The Rev. E. R. Reikie officiated.

Pall bearers were Messrs W. S. Cash, John Dunscombe, Wm. English, H J Payne, W L Robinson, Andrew Kibblewhite.

Beautiful floral tributes and messages of sympathy were received from the following:

Summer Program at The School of Agriculture

SEVERAL EVENTS OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

The summer program at the school of agriculture will open with Farm Women's week which begins on Monday, July 5th. Present indications are that there will be a large attendance of ladies from various districts throughout Central Alberta. It is expected that quite a number of women from farm homes in the Vermilion district will take advantage of this opportunity for a vacation from their regular household duties again this year.

The highlights planned for Farm Women's week include lectures and demonstrations on: Use of the Pressure Cooker; Child Psychology; Sewing for the Home Decorator; Vegetable Storage, and an address by Miss C. Judson, a housing specialist recently employed by the Alberta Department of Agriculture who will speak on the subject "Planning Your Home". Dr. G. Harrison Villett will be the guest speaker at the banquet.

The Alberta Women's Institutes will hold their annual Constituency conference at the school of agriculture on Friday, July 9th. Last year more than 70 ladies attended.

About 150 scholarship winners from a corresponding number of Junior Farm Clubs and Girls' Home Economic clubs will be at the school of agriculture for a one week short course starting July 19th and about 100 older boys and girls from the Vermilion area are expected to register for the short course and camp in connection with the Vermilion Fair, July 19 - 24.

Former V.S.A. students are planning their annual re-union for July 29th, 30th and 31st.

The grounds, trees and flower beds and particularly the field crop demonstration plots present many features of interest to the farming public this year. In order to encourage visitors and to allow them to inspect the demonstrations to best advantage a number of Field Days are being planned for the weeks of July 26th to Aug 2nd. Although visitors are welcome at any time, special arrangements to show them the crop demonstrations and to explain their purpose are being made for the afternoon of Aug. 4th. Local farmers will find the variety tests, effects of fertilizers and forage crops of particular interest. A good attendance is expected.

ROBERT FAIR Re-NOMINATED

Robert Fair, M.P. for Battle River was again unanimously chosen to represent the Social Credit party in the next Federal election. A nominating convention was held at Wainwright on Saturday June 26th and delegates from all parts of the riding expressed their satisfaction of the work Mr. Fair was doing in the interests of the peple of this area.

An executive for the association consisting of J. A. Smith, Kitscoty, President, Earl Gorton, Edgerton, Vice President and Anders Aalborg, Rivercourse, Secretary, was also elected.

At the evening meeting Mr Fair gave the delegates and visitors a short summary of the high lights of the present session. The meeting was also addressed by Wm. Masson, M.L.A. for Wainwright and S. A. Berg, M.L.A. for Alexandra.

Plan Deep Test In Vermilion Field

Completely reorganized and newly financed, South End Petroleums, interested in Alberta oil development since 1929, plans to return to Vermilion field and complete a deep test of the Devonian formation.

William S. Hynes, president of the company, with Robert G. Hennell one of the board and J. Clark, interested in the new financing, all of Vancouver, were in Calgary this week. Arrangements were being negotiated for drilling a well on the west flank of the structure, after securing a block of 4,130 acres in tps. 48 and 49, rgs. 7 and 8 W4th.

The development is inspired by the results obtained in the previous drilling in the field, in which Mr Hynes was interested. One of these locations was in sec. 5-48-8W4. This well had a series of good oil and gas showings. It was drilled first as Peralta Battleview, carried during a difficult financial period to 2,000 when it was suspended owing to lack of further [illegible].

It was believed at that time that the well was 72 feet in the Devonian and the record shows live oil obtained at the top of that formation.

Believing that the showings of this location and other wells were significant and that deeper drilling might prove a new producing zone for this field, the company has been encouraged to return to the scene and make the necessary tests.

Wm. Cherney, Myrnam, Liberal Candidate for Vermilion Const'y

William Cherney of Myrnam, well known livestock buyer and oil agent at that point, was the unanimous choice of the Liberal convention held at Mannville on Tuesday afternoon when he was selected as the Liberal candidate for the constituency of Vermilion in the next provincial election. Only one other nomination, that of Hector Whitson of Mannville, was placed before the meeting and he withdrew making Mr Cherney's selection unanimous. There were 108 accredited delegates at the meeting with attendance reaching 130.

Mr Cherney taught school for some eighteen years before commencing his present vocation. He is a married man with two children in high school at Myrnam.

So far as the Standard is aware, Mr Cherney is the first candidate officially nominated in the Vermilion constituency for the next provincial election.

Board of Trade Recess For Holiday Months

Vermilion High School Students Win Prizes in Creative Writing

This year, for the first time, some of the students of the Vermilion high school, under the guidance and encouragement of Mrs. Cleo Day of the high school staff, sent in entries to the creative writing contest which is sponsored annually by the Provincial Chapter of the I.O.D.E. The Folk Lore Society of the University of Alberta judges the entries, which are in three classes for different age groups. There is a poetry contest, a short story contest and an Alberta Background Essay contest, with 1st 2nd and 3rd prizes offered in each group.

From this school there were several entries in the poetry section. Jack Currah won a second prize diploma and ten dollars for his poem "Spring is Here". Of the two stories and one essay entered from Vermilion, Shirley Davidson's short story, "Change of Identity", won a second prize certificate and ten dollars.

Considering the fact that the contest was province-wide and that competitors entered from many schools, we can justly be proud of these two winners and offer them our heartiest congratulations.

Fair Attractions Outstanding

Judging by reports which have so far reached the Vermilion Fair Board from Lethbridge and Moose Jaw the 1948 fair attractions are on a par with the fine programs provided by George Hamilton of Winnipeg for several years between 1940 and 1947—details of the attractions will be released soon but patrons of the Vermilion Fair on July 22 23 and 24 can feel sure that they will be well entertained.

The Race Committee promises [illegible] "fast stuff" on Friday afternoon and Saturday night and the local Elks lodge will be on deck with their parimutuels so that all can "take a chance" on making an honest dollar. The Elks Derby is expected to be a stellar exhibition of speed and a large number of owners have signified their intention of lining up their fast steppers when the starter rings the bell in front of the enlarged grandstand.

"Lucky Lott's Hell Drivers" will be seen in front of the grandstand during Vermilion's 1948 fair and the Directors are enthusiastic in presenting the program for the current year.

Livestock breeders and others indicate that entries will be exceptionally heavy on July 22 24 and the new children's classes are expected to bring in a fine exhibit. All pupils of the Vermilion, Vegreville, Wainwright, Two Hills and St Paul School divisions are eligible to compete and it may be sure that they will be more than welcome.

Advance tickets are now on sale and all should take advantage of tickets at 5 for $1 offered only by Vermilion Fair in Western Canada.

BARLEY ENTRIES CLOSE JULY 15th

Contestants in either division of the National Barley contest of 1948 sponsored by the brewing and malting industries are advised that entries for either must be made to the provincial chairman in their own province.

This year, as already announced, there are two competitions, one for farmers producing commercial barley for malting, the other for seed growers producing registered or certified seed. Advance inquiries to the Contest Committee indicate that some growers are in doubt as to where entries [illegible] are to be forwarded. The answer is that they both go to the same party.

The procedure is the same as last year. Send all entries to the provincial chairman of the contest, in Alberta to A. M. Wilson, field crop commissioner, Edmonton.

Different entry forms are required for the two competitions.

Entries must be in the hands of the provincial chairman on or before July 15th.

WEDDING BELLS

KROSSA—ANDERSON

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the manse of First Baptist church, New [illegible] B.C. on June 15th, when Beulah Mildred Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Anderson, Vermilion, Alberta, became the bride of James Daniel Krossa, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Krossa of Chilliwack, B.C.

Rev. J. M. Smithson performed the ceremony.

The bride was charming in an afternoon frock of white jersey. She wore a bridal wreath of sweet peas and rose buds. Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Good, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

A dainty lunch was served at the home of Mrs. Good following the ceremony. Those serving were Mrs. Dayton and Mrs. McLaughlin.

The happy young couple motored to Spokane, Washington and other points thereabouts, then on to Vermilion. After their honeymoon they will make their home in Chilliwack, B.C.

CHASE—McBRIDE

The United church manse was the scene of a quiet wedding on Friday afternoon, June 25th when Ella May McBride became the wife of William Milton Chase. The Rev. E. A. Reikie officiated.

The bride was attended by her sister Miss Violet Osbaldeston. Mr. John Toner was best man.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Osbaldeston.

Mr. and Mrs. Chase plan to make their home at Leduc.

Well Attended Open Air Service

The open air service held at Fred Goulds home on Sunday afternoon was attended by over 50. The afternoon was fine and seats were arranged in a semi-circle on the lawn to accommodate those present.

Adjutant Charles Stewart brought his public address system and the message by the Rev. T. W. Teape and the band selections were clearly heard. Mrs. W. Gould chose two of the hymns and joined in the responses and singing. She was very appreciative of the service and expressed a desire that they should come again.

Following the service lunch was served outside. A few close friends and relatives helped to provide cake and sandwiches. Everyone seemed to enjoy the pleasant and profitable time spent.

Receives Novel Gift

At a Happy Hour Group meeting, where many of the ladies of St. Saviour's choir are to be found, Mrs. Marjorie Tillett learned that the choir was badly in need of an offertory bag. As a result she wrote a letter to her old home in England, and a blue brocaded bag with oak handles (blue symbolizes womanhood in church adorning) was presently forthcoming from an ecclesiastical firm in London. This was a token from the ladies of Mrs. Tillett's old church choir who sang at her wedding to Mr. Vic Tillett in 1912, Christ church, Forest Hill, London, England, where she was also baptized and confirmed, and had her two little daughters baptized, to her new church choir at St. Saviour's, Vermilion. It was actually donated by her sisters, Miss Constance Loveridge and Miss Dorothy Hedges, both of Christ church choir, and her mother, Mrs. Loveridge. The latter although not singing in the choir, would not be left out of anything connecting the two churches. —Edmonton Churchman.

VALUE OF ADVERTISING—

One of the outstanding examples of successful advertising is that carried out by the 100 insurance companies operating in Canada over an unbroken period of 27 years. During that time, the growth of the life insurance business has been phenomenal.

The amount of life insurance protection in force has grown by nearly six times. The figures are astronomical. In 1919 the amount of life insurance protection in force was just over $2,000,000,000. At the close of 1947, this had grown to approximately $12,000,000,000.

It has become an accepted axiom that every individual who has any responsibility to others should carry insurance on his life. It is looked upon as almost a duty.

To such an extent has this developed that in 1947 there was approximately $900 of life insurance for every man, woman and child in Canada as against only approximately $250 in 1919.

There can be no doubt that the well thought out advertising carried on by the Canadian Life Insurance Officers Association through the newspapers of Canada has been a large factor in bringing about this condition and attitude of public opinion. It is worthy of note also that this advertising campaign, as far as the weekly press is concerned, appears in a carefully selected group of which The Vermilion Standard is one.

THE WEATHER

Showers last Friday and Saturday brought the total June rainfall to 1.44 inches with many country districts not so favored as the town in this respect. The rain being very spotty. The 1.44 for June compares with 1.74 in June 1947 and 2.41 in 1946.

Crops are lagging a month behind generally and a three-day rain remains an urgent need.

Warmest day for the week was Wednesday with 85, while a low was registered Tuesday night of 38.

—Statistics by courtesy of the Vermilion Radio Beam station, Dept. of Transport.

WOODVALE

Showers, and some of them quite heavy, have fallen on the Woodvale and surrounding districts, but the rainfall was very patchy. The further south the less the precipitation. It surely is heart-breaking to see the heavy low, hanging clouds going over day by day, while the land is so dry, that a lot of the greenfeed is not sown yet. Some of the grain has been in the ground a month and never sprouted.

A few weeks ago a sow at the farm of Tom Preston had 20 piglets; 16 are still alive; 13 are with the mother; 3 others are under the good care of Mrs. Green and are thriving very well on the bottle.

The Canton school children played a game of softball at the Thorncliffe school and won with a score of 33-1. Why the one, boys? Duff McGrath very kindly took them over there and provided them with a tasty lunch. The young ball players are following in the footsteps of the older ones in the district, who have played all winning games so far.

Bill McGrath, one of the Kitscoty Air Cadets earned a trip by plane from Edmonton to the coast. Happy journey Bill, we are sure you'll enjoy it.

Lily Watson and Therese Goutier are two of the local girls graduating from high school, Lilian in Kitscoty and Therese in Prudhomme, Sask. Both go right on to Normal to become teachers. Good luck girls in your chosen profession.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Crocker spent a week in the Hindville district where Mr. Crocker helped Mr. Lamport to build a garage.

The Red Cross had a good meeting on the 23rd at the home of Mrs. M. Watson where a quilt was worked and plans made for a supper booth in case the U.F.A. would hold a picnic. The next meeting is to be on July 28th at the home of Mrs. F. G. Green.

The U.F.A. held a meeting on Monday to decide about a picnic. It will be held on July 14th on Mercer's picnic grounds and there will be a dance at Canton school at night. Be sure to come and enjoy a day of sports and meet your neighbors in Tolland on the 14th.

Claymore Clippings

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Lamb and family left last week for a month's holiday in the Eastern States. They will visit relatives in Wisconsin and may call in to hear the well known radio program the Breakfast Club while in Chicago.

The C.N.R. have had a crew working for the past week building up and gravelling a strip of track here in Claymore section as there was danger of part of the track being flooded during the spring thaw. A ditch may be put in to drain the large slough just east of the station.

Miss Helen Woyewesky who is a nurse-in-training at the University hospital, Edmonton, is spending part of her holidays with her sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. P. Kozhinsky.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank MacCauley of Mannville spent Sunday with the Tom MacCauley family at Claymore.

Lloyd Hamilton of Salmon Arm B.C., is helping O. Wilkes for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McIntyre and family accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. J. McLean of Paradise Valley left by car for the coast early this week. They expect to be away the most of July.

J. B. Van Nest who has been farming near Athabasca, Alta., for the past 2 years, has sold his interests there and is now visiting his daughter and family Mr. and Mrs. A. Harrison. Mr. Van Nest expects to leave soon to visit relatives in eastern Canada and intends to return to Alberta in the late summer.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Van Nest of Rimbey, Alta., called in for a short visit on August Van Nest and family last week end. They had been holidaying at Loon Lake, Sask. and were on their way home via Edmonton.

The Claymore community held a picnic at the school June 27th and it was pleasing to see so many attend and to welcome a few visitors from town. Games of ball were played by the young people and the older ones kept busy with horse shoes. Races for young and old created interest and merriment. Ice cream and lemonade galore was on hand and there was a peanut scramble for the young fry. A bountiful picnic supper was served at 6 p.m. followed by more ice cream. The sports and refreshment committees are to be congratulated on the good management of the event and with the bright cool weather it proved a much enjoyed day.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THE PATTERN

By ANNA E. WILSON

WIMPY stood looking at the great crane swinging along its narrow gauge track with big, husky Ole Peters riding it with a load of freight. Wimpy shivered, then jumped as the voice of the President barked out.

"Where are those stock reports, Wimpole? It does seem as if you could find some work to do around here instead of standing staring at the roof."

The stock reports, in their wire basket, were right now reposing on the President's desk, placed there by Zack, the red-headed office boy. Zack had no fear whatever of the President, who tolerated his lack of respect for any kind of authority with restrained patience; but sometimes it seemed as if the President could hardly see Wimpy's small, undersized figure and mildly frightened face without barking at him. The President was a big man and plump, while Wimpy stood a bare five feet two and weighed little over a hundred pounds.

Wimpy climbed up on his stool and started working at his ledgers. He was chief clerk and should have been head bookkeeper long ago for his work was accurate, but when it came to promotions it was easy to overlook Wimpy in favor of more aggressive men.

"The old man's on the ramp this morning, Wimpy." Zack had heard the President's bark and was sympathetic. "Doctor's just reported that Ole's got to come off the crane. Got a bad heart and even though he carries heart pills in his pocket, Ole's always stripping to the waist and leaving his clothes in dump basket."

Wimpy put down a careful figure. "It's too bad about Ole. He loves that crane an.. hates the job as watchman Mr. Zimmerman's got mapped out for him. How's your mother getting along now, Zack?"

"Mother's not working much anymore. Things are pretty tight right now, but the Old Man's promised me the first opening round here with more pay. Maybe as a clerk. What's that you got there, Wimpy, your lunch?"

Wimpy nodded. "Saturday afternoon, you know. I'm going to eat it in the Park."

Zack whistled cheerfully. "Bet the pigeons get most of it, Wimpy. It's a shame, keeping you here all these years when you should be on the book." He jumped as the President's bark came out at them.

"Wimpole, where's the time sheet?"

Zack grabbed the time sheet and fled. At the President's door, he cocked his head on his fifteen-year-old neck and walked in boldly.

Wimpy wished he could be more like Zack. To be sure the President barked at Zack, too, but he was very apt to give him a stray quarter or a bottle of coke just as he was apt to give, on occasions, a cigar to Ole the big craneman; but Wimpy was so insignificant that in the rewards for merit he was completely over-looked.

Wimpy put his desk tidy and picked up his lunch. He put his hat on carefully and calling good-bye to Zack went out on the street. He boarded a bus timidly, pushing in among the passengers, and got out at the Park. He passed through the Park and entered in at the big iron gates of the Zoo. The gateman smiled as he took his ticket. "He's waiting for you, eating his heart out," he joked mildly, as Wimpy made his way to the cage of Milo, the big African lion.

Wimpy was a little man, shy and timid. Someone had told him once that we are very apt to take on the qualities of the things that we admire and Wimpy had a pathetic admiration for the big lion. He shivered deliciously when he roared, and when Milo lay like an immobile statue just thinking Wimpy came timidly closer to the bars.

Spending each Saturday afternoon with the lion made Wimpy's life tolerable. Watching Milo, he could imagine himself walking right up to the President and asking for the job of chief bookkeeper. He imitated the dignified walk of the great beast, one foot ahead of the other, silent and sure, or he just sat quietly on the iron bench and studied him. Sitting thus, Wimpy's heart swelled and he dreamed happily of doing some fine deed that would bring him into the limelight of the office. He could imagine the President bowing or maybe shaking him by the hand.

But Monday morning found Wimpy back at his desk, as neat and methodical as ever. There wasn't much opportunity for doing daring deeds at Zimmerman's, and if there was, it didn't come in the way of timid little clerks, no matter how willing.

"Wimpole", the President's mood was worse than usual by the sound of his bark, "Go out and tell Ole I [illegible]"

Wimpy went out into the body of the plant and looked towards the great crane just as he heard a startled shout from the foreman. The big crane lurched, came to a dead stop in the middle of the track and Ole could be seen falling over against the side of his basket.

"Holy cow," the foreman's voice was hoarse, "Ole's having a heart attack."

In less than a minute, the whole place was in a hubbub with the President yelling for someone to do something, but it seemed as if there was nothing to be done. Ole's condition was dangerous. The only way to get help to him was along the narrow track, only a few inches wide, high above the main floor. Men looked at the dizzy height, at the track like a thin ribbon, and shook their heads— all but Wimpy.

Nobody noticed the little clerk quietly get the pills from Ole's pocket and start to climb, and Wimpy climbed steadily. His stomach was sick and his head dizzy but he reached the track and started to walk out to Ole. Half way across the track he glanced down and panic seized him. He started slipping sideways while his mind went blank for a split second —and then, suddenly, he was no longer Wimpy, he was Milo, stepping safe and sure, he felt a mild sort of exhilaration. He climbed down into the basket, gave Ole his heart tablet and started the machinery. Eager hands [illegible] to the hospital while Wimpy, for the moment forgotten, climbed back on his high stool and buried his face, white and shaken, in the ledger.

Even the President was early on Tuesday. Wimpy could hear him barking right through the office door, as Zack scurried in with the stock reports. "Who's responsible for the promotions round this office anyway? Why hasn't a man like Wimpole been made head bookkeeper long ago? Zack," he roared, at the boy's retreating back, "Get out there and go to work with Wimpole."

"Gosh, Wimpy," Zack's voice was awed, "Everybody thinks it's wonderful, what you did for Ole."

"Wimpole" said Wimpy with dignity.

CLEAR TITLES TO FARMS SOUGHT BY SOLDIER SETTLERS

OTTAWA. — Clear titles for the 2,679 veterans of the First World War who still owe the government a total of $3,124,000 for lands on which they were established as soldier settlers nearly three decades ago, was demanded before the commons committee on veterans affairs. Of the original 27,000 settlers 16,000 left their farms.

H. C. Baker, president, and Alfred J. Sibley, secretary, of the Soldier Settlers association of Canada received requests for a clear title to these lands.

Recalling drouth, depression, plagues and financial vicissitudes, Mr. Baker said the settlers have been pursued with savage vindictiveness by the settlement board.

"At no time should the board have been empowered to collect from the settler until his food, shelter, fuel and other necessities had been provided for. But it was so empowered and left behind a trail of destruction, broken homes, hearts and untimely death," he said.

ANIMAL LIFE FOUND AT 2,000 FEET DEPTH

VANCOUVER. — Animal life has been found in Great Slave lake at depths as low as 2,000 feet, Dr. D. S. Rawson, of the University of Saskatchewan, told members of the biology section of the Royal Society of Canada. Few commercial fish go below 300 feet, he said. Animals have been found in Lake Michigan at 850 feet depths, and in Lake Superior at 900 feet.

Expect Large Berry Crop Despite Floods

VICTORIA. — Despite floods total tonnage of raspberries and strawberries in British Columbia this year is expected to exceed last year's production, the agriculture department reported.

Greater acreage planted will more than offset flood damage.

Reports indicate a good apple crop and a heavy yield of apricots but cherries may be lighter than normal due to the pollination problem caused by the late cold spring.

REALLY WOKE UP

BRISBANE, Australia.—A glass of water more than revived Mrs. Clare Grove, 25, when she fainted in the witness box during hearing of her maintenance suit. After drinking the water, she woke up and pitched the glass at her husband's attorney.

In 1947 Britain exported almost 1,500,000 bicycles.

CANADA COMBINES NOT NEEDED IN U.S. HARVEST FIELDS

WINNIPEG.—Crop conditions may bar Canadian harvesting combines from the United States this year. Reports received here tell of unfavorable harvesting conditions in several western areas. Wheat harvesting throughout Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico, has been delayed by rain. No additional combines are said needed in northern Oklahoma; while Nebraska and western Kansas also report the outlook discouraging.

FOR ROAD VEHICLES

LONDON. — The world's first gas turbine for road vehicles, which will run on any fuel that burns with a continuous flame, was shown at the British Industries Fair recently. It is seven inches in diameter, five feet long and weighs only 250 pounds.

Pasteurized milk is the only safe milk.

Canadian Coal Production Up

OTTAWA.—Canadian coal production in May of 1,263,000 tons continued gains made this year over last year's production, according to preliminary figures issued by the bureau of statistics.

Output for the first five months this year 7,127,982 tons compared with 5,334,114 in 1947. May output was down from the April figure of 1,603,000 tons but well above that of 350,487 tons for May last year, when production was reduced by strikes in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

May production, with May, 1947, figures in brackets was: Saskatchewan, 81,000 (64,944); Alberta, 588,000 (600,642); British Columbia and Yukon, 160,000 (142,450).

Estimate B.C. Flood Losses At $9,000,000

VANCOUVER. — Preliminary surveys of flood losses along the south bank of the Fraser river place total losses at more than $9,000,000.

The estimate includes crop losses of $4,067,750 and damage of $2,675,000 to homes and buildings. The losses do not include damage to roads, bridges and railway lines, farm damage hidden by flood waters and future crop losses.

There is no estimate yet of industrial and commercial losses.

STONEMASONS FOR CANADA

CERTO

WHAT IS CERTO?
Why does Certo give you so much more jam and jelly? And why do Certo jams and jellies look better . . . taste better?
It's all quite simple. Certo is nothing but "fruit pectin" — the natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell". It's extracted and refined to help you make better jams and jellies more easily and quickly.

[illegible]
With Certo you don't have to boil and boil and boil your fruit to make it set. A one to two-minute full rolling boil is enough for jams . . . a half minute to a minute for jellies.

CERTO DOES THIS
1. Gives you 50% more jam or jelly because you save all the precious fruit juice that wastes away in steam in long boiling.
2. Cuts to a fraction the time spent over the stove.
3. Retains the lovely, natural fresh fruit taste and colour. That's still more important because with Certo you use fruit at its peak of flavor and colour — not the under ripe fruit used in long boil recipes.

EVEN FOR BEGINNERS
However inexperienced you may be, you'll have no failures if you follow exactly the recipes provided with Certo. Different fruits need different handling. There's a separate kitchen-tested recipe for each one.

A Product of General Foods

A pound of jam or jelly made with Certo contains no more sugar than a pound made the old long-boil way.

Chatsworth Chatter

The June meeting of the Chatsworth Country club was held at the home of Mrs. Joe Farkash Jr. on Thursday the 17th, with 15 members and 6 visitors in attendance. A good deal of business was completed at this meeting with plans for packing food parcels for overseas discussed; vote taken on the club entering the "Better Farm House Competition" resulted in 10 for and 5 against, but as time is short the entry may have to be abandoned; discussion re a rest room in town was also undertaken. The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. H. Good's on July 15th and as this is the annual meeting all members are requested to make a special effort to be present. The roll call is to be "My Favorite Recipe"; business is to include the election of officers for the ensuing year and the packing of a food parcel. Mrs Arthur Tovell and Mrs. Albert Tovell are responsible for the social part of the meeting. Following the business part of Thursday's meeting a guessing contest was enjoyed with Mrs Patterson being the winner of the prize, a Pyrex measuring cup. The writer of Chatter held the lucky number on the "nickel draw", the prize on this, a pair of potholders. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs Farkash assisted by Mrs H Good, Mrs. J Foster, Mrs B. Industrial Development Through Water Power, Prairie Irrigation

SLANTING its technical program mainly to two developments of foremost current interest in the region of meeting, the 61-year-old, 10,000-member Engineering Institute of Canada at Banff spotlighted Prairie water and oil.

Here are highlights from addresses recorded by the Financial Post during the four-day technical sessions:

An all-Prairie plan for "water engineering"?

A new Western Water Board, recently agreed upon by the governments of Canada, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Alberta should provide an excellent medium for co-ordination of engineering work relating to the mighty Saskatchewan and also advance inter-regional studies, said Manitoba Mines & Resources Deputy Minister D. M. Stephens.

In planning for any development of those waters "we have reached the stage where planning within individual regions isn't enough."

Manitoba, with no large known sources of coal, oil or natural gas, looks to water power as an energy source and energy reserve, Mr. Stephens said.

"The people of Manitoba place much emphasis on water power in their thinking and planning. With only 18 per cent. of the province agricultural, a large part of the remainder must look to forestry and mining to provide the main economic activities of the future. The forests will provide pulp, paper and cellulose products more readily than lumber and development of these as well as base metal industries needs cheap power.

"Without Island Falls on the Churchill River or some other water power site which could be equivalent in terms of capacity and costs," Mr Stephens said, "the Flin Flon mine which now supports a city of 10,000 people would never have been developed. It takes almost 100,000 hp. to keep Flin Flon going and there are other large known deposits of ore in the immediate vicinity of Flin Flon for the treatment of which still more power is required. Without the water powers on the Winnipeg River there would be no paper industry at Pine Falls in Manitoba."

A "Saskatchewan River Authority" to deal with the use of water from that "most important stream serving the Prairies?"

Such an organization is forecast as a possibility of the future by Maj.-Gen. Howard Kennedy, consulting forestry engineer and chairman of the newly created federal-provincial Eastern Rockies Forest Conservation Board.

The Board was formed to administer that portion of the forest reserves on the eastern slopes, which includes streams feeding the Saskatchewan. It will act mainly as consultant: decide what fire protection measures are adequate, what engineering projects are necessary. It will use existing federal, and provincial services rather than build up new ones.

One of the first major construction projects will be development of a north-south road system to tie into municipal, provincial and parks systems. The Board believes the summer flow of the Saskatchewan in a few decades will depend largely on the measures it will carry out over the next few years. He said present plans provide for "the most comprehensive forest management project yet attempted in Canada, if not in North America."

Does Alberta need more hydro power now?

Calgary Power's Production Superintendent T. D. Stanley gives a definite "yes"; reports the electrical load in that province up an average 18 per cent. in the first four months. "Even with installation of 20,000 kw in the Edmonton steam plant now under way, additional hydro power or other development must go ahead at once."

There is at present developed in the Bow Basin 166,000 hp., with an ultimate development of at least 350,000 hp. possible. "Investigation of other rivers in Alberta isn't far enough advanced to give a detailed picture of possible power available. The Dominion Water & Power Bureau has estimated 1,250,000 hp. but Albertans consider this very conservative and that with combined irrigation and power schemes the total available will be seen much higher."

What industrial development will grow from new Prairie irrigation?

The million acres of expected additional irrigation in Alberta could readily bring about a population increase of 150,000 and major growth in beet sugar and canning, according to A. E. Palmer, Experimental Station superintendent at Lethbridge.

"The establishment of food processing industries is a natural accompaniment of irrigation development under conditions as they exist on the Canadian prairies. With the drought factor eliminated, uniform supplies of raw products are assured without long freight haul.

"Under irrigation a dry climate with long growing seasons becomes a valuable asset to those who make large investments in processing plants," he said. "This explains why the beet sugar and canning industries are growing in Southern Alberta."

Of the million acres of new irrigation projected, perhaps three quarters would be potential sugar beet and canning crop territory. "With no more intensive development than now exists in the Lethbridge area the projected development in Alberta could well support 12 additional sugar factories and 12 canneries."

The growth of these industries depends, of course, on markets as well as on irrigation expansion. The market for canned goods is problematical and may be greatly influenced by development in Canada's northland.

Less Milk Produced In Canada

OTTAWA — Less milk was produced in Canada in April than in the corresponding month a year ago, the bureau of statistics reported.

Milk production in April totalled 1,266,692,000 pounds, a decline of almost eight per cent. from April 1947.

Total supply of butter, creamery, dairy and whey, totalled 41,750,000 pounds, a drop of almost 4,300,000 pounds from the corresponding month a year ago.

ZOO MISTAKEN FOR ANIMAL FOUNDLING HOME

ROCHESTER, N.Y. — Fred J Strassle, Seneca park zoo superintendent, doesn't know whether he is running a foundling home for animals or a zoo.

Within one week unidentified persons left the following assortment of baby animals on the zoo doorstep.

A squirrel, two young robins, five grey foxes and four wild rabbits, the last with a nursing bottle.

WHAT A LITTLE CHAT DID

WASHINGTON — Two years ago Mrs. Maggie McGraft rented a room from Mrs. Bessie White.

Tuesday they had a chat which led to the following discovery, in this order:

1. They both came from Winston-Salem, N.C.
2. They both had the same [illegible] Adams.
3. They were sisters.

The two women hadn't seen each other since 1924.

BRITAIN BUILDING WORLD'S BIGGEST HELICOPTER-BUS

SOUTHAMPTON, England — Britain is building the world's biggest helicopter-bus. It can carry 36 passengers at a time.

When this new form of public transport starts operating, Britain's business men will be able to step aboard from their downtown offices, which to conferences or luncheons in cities 50 and 100 miles away and be back at their desks in a few hours.

Out-of-towners will find it handy for one-day metropolitan shopping trips, while farmers will ride the helicopter-bus to tour neighbouring towns on market day. 2788

Some Drownings Said Unnecessary

Hundreds of Canadians die every summer from drownings. The reason for most drownings is carelessness and, in some instances, is due to the fact that artificial respiration efforts are discontinued too soon.

It is the contention of the Health League of Canada that many deaths from drowning can be prevented this summer—first by the running of no unnecessary risks by vacationists and others who live by the water, and second, by prompt and long-continued use of artificial respiration methods when accidents do occur.

The possibilities of long-continued artificial respiration are not fully realized—and this in the face of the fact that there are well-authenticated reports of artificial respiration being successful after as many as five hours.

Proper Methods Bring Results

Even if the victim has been in the water for as long as 30 minutes, there is a chance life is not extinct—there is a chance proper resuscitation methods will bring back consciousness.

The Health League believes that if the possibilities of long-continued artificial respiration became universally recognized, the public press will not have to carry such reports as "artificial respiration was applied for 15 minutes before death was pronounced."

Artificial respiration must be started as quickly as possible and continued for a long period—six hours or longer. It is not until rigor mortis sets in that life can be assumed to be extinct. One of the most documented cases of late revival is that of a child, brought back to life after five hours active work and hours after the child had been pronounced dead.

It is also important that those using artificial respiration ascertain that air enters the lungs properly while they are working on the patient. There is always a possibility that a spasm of the larynx occurred and that the victim suffocated rather than drowned.

Schaefer Method Popular

The most popular method of artificial respiration is the Schaefer method. In this the body is raised gently by the waist to allow water to drain from the lungs and stomach. It is then placed in a prone position with the head and chest lower than the rest, if possible. The head should be placed on one side of the patient's arms. The rescuer kneels astride the patient and applies pressure rhythmically in the region of the lungs. If possible, the patient should be kept warm with blankets and hot water bottles.

Rescuers should remember these six points:

1—Clear the patient quickly.

2—Start artificial respiration without delay.

3—Use warmth if possible.

4—If the rescuer suspects air is not entering the patient's lungs properly, the services of a physician should be obtained immediately, if possible. There may be a spasm of the larynx.

5—Do not stop artificial respiration until the patient breathes or there are definite signs of the onset of rigor mortis.

6—After the patient is breathing and regains consciousness do not allow him to sit up, stand or walk. Transport him in a lying down position and put him to bed.

CEILING REMOVED OFF WINTER WHEAT

OTTAWA — Trade Minister Howe announced in the commons the removal of the price ceiling on Ontario winter wheat.

With the removal of the ceiling, an eight-cent-a-bushel payment which has been made to producers will be discontinued.

Mr. Howe said he could not say whether it would be necessary to continue export controls on Ontario winter wheat. If the international wheat agreement goes into operation Aug. 1, as planned, Ontario wheat will come under it and controls will be necessary.

To Tag Moose In Cariboo District

WILLIAMS LAKE, B.C. — Tagging of bull moose in the Cariboo is being undertaken by the Game Department in an effort to secure more information about the movements of the animal.

There is considerable controversy over the distances these animals travel, and little is known of the ages to which they grow. Robert Cleveland of Bridge Lake is tagging some for the department, and it is hoped to make arrangements in other areas for similar work.

Franco Oil & Gas Co. Gets Gusher At Lone Rock

According to word direct from the field at Lone Rock, Sask., Franco Oil and Gas Company No. 9 well was perforated in the Sparky sand and flowed for 24 hours under its own gas pressure at the rate of 480 barrels every 24 hours. A choke on the flow line was effected reducing the flow to 230 barrels every 24 hours through a half inch choke. This oil is 19.8 gravity, which is quite the standard gravity in Franco oil holdings in the Lone Rock area. In this area Franco holds over 14,000 acres of which 6,000 is considered proven. The No. 9 well is located on lsd 9 of Sec. 28-47-27 W3rd.

On Sunday Franco completed another well in the same township and range, their 15th well known as Franco Oil and Gas No. 15 in the Lone Rock area. This was completed in lsd 11. The total depth of the well was 1910 feet and 57 feet of Sparky sands was cored through. The drilling and completion was a success from every angle.

There was also completed a sub-lease from Franco of a well known as Franco-Castle No. 7 on lsd 9 of Sec. 16-47-27 W3rd. This was another successful completion.

All of the above is a part of the Franco Oils 10-well program for 1948 in the Lone Rock area.

Two more wells were spudded in, Franco Gas and Oil No. 16 on lsd 16 of Sec. 21-47-27 W3 and No. 14 on lsd 2 Sec. 11-27-17 W3.

Ethelwyn News

Rain at last, and it appears as if we will get still more. It is surprising how well the crops look in our district after the long drought. Gardens are not good, in fact Mrs. Taylor has the only good garden that the writer has seen and it is really grand.

Mrs Galenza has as her guests her two brothers and their wives from Hay Lakes. Mrs H. O'Rourke Sr. of Stavely, Alta., is visiting her son Hughie, Mrs. O'Rourke and family. When Mrs. O'Rourke left Stavely the mud was so deep a tractor was used to get to the station.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. George Howard will be interested to learn they have a wee son, two weeks old. They live at Salt Spring Island, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grant have as their guests the latter's sister and husband who motored here from Toronto.

Many people of the district attended the Catholic Women's picnic at Dewberry last Sunday. This proved a fine day of entertainment and the supper was really grand with every kind of cake and pie included.

Joy Cooper was hostess at a birthday party last Friday. 27 guests were present and the evening was spent dancing. A weiner roast had been planned but the very welcome rain spoiled that. The boiled weiners certainly proved very tasty eaten to the music of rain on the roof. Tom O'Rourke shared the honors with Joy and birthday greetings are extended to these young people.

Other birthday greetings go to Pauline Shrenkowich and Michael Mulgrew.

Pretty Lawn Wedding at Dewberry

[illegible]

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on the lawn at the home of Mrs. Eleanor Durnin, Dewberry, Alberta, on June 19th when her daughter Christian Elizabeth, became the bride of James [illegible], eldest son of Mrs. S. Joy of Dewberry. Rev. Driver of Kitscoty officiated.

The bride, given away by her grandfather Mr. John Ward, was lovely in a floor-length gown of white satin with shoulder-length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was pearls, a gift of the groom.

The bride was attended by her sister Miss Barbara Durnin who wore a floor-length dress of pink net over brocade. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

The best man was Mr. Clarence Ibert.

The bride's mother wore a rose gown with grey coat and a corsage of salmon pink carnations. The groom's mother wore black crepe with floral pattern and her corsage was of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served to fifty relatives and friends. Among the guests present was the bride's sister, Mrs. E. Clarke of Ocean Falls, B.C. and the bride's cousin Miss Naomi Hines of Kamloops, B.C. Rev. Richards and Mrs. Richards of Marwayne and Rev. Driver and Mrs. Driver of Kitscoty.

In the afternoon, congratulations arrived by phone from the groom's sister and brother-in-law Mr. and Mrs. N. Brown of Bright, Ont., and from Miss Florence Beal of Mannville.

In the evening a wedding dance was held in Dewberry hall. This was attended by a very large number of friends of the young couple.

The happy pair will reside on the groom's farm at Dewberry.

DEWBERRY

Despite a two-day postponement the Dewberry sports proved very interesting. The odd shower caused just enough delay so that the final ball game was called due to darkness with the money split between Elk Point and Derwent. The big upset of the day came when the Dewberry team defeated the strong Lloyd team and then lost out to Derwent 1-0. For the first time in years there was no Marwayne team at the Dewberry sports. What has happened to that big district of Marwayne that it hasn't a team of any sort to enter in the ball games? Much credit can be given to Dewberry who support a junior ball team, senior team, men's fastball and a better-than-average ladies' fastball team. Two big crowds attended the barn dances held Wednesday and Friday of last week. Dewberry now has an excellent chance of becoming the biggest sports day centre of this vicinity. It also has a very excellent sportsground.

Stan Porter has returned from Vancouver. He will manage the farm while Mr. and Mrs. Porter are holidaying by car in Ontario.

Two flocks of Canada geese have been noticed flying around the district the middle of June. Surely not winter coming! Who has noticed the absence of the pretty gulls that follow the cultivating machines in the fields? Very few gulls made their appearance this year. It also looks as if there was a record crop of magpies this season. The 5c bounty is not tempting enough for the hunter now. Every year 5c is paid, why not make it 25c and get rid of them entirely in one year, instead of paying 5c in 10 years and not gaining on the magpies at all? We should have a magpie hunt and call it "Operation Magpie". Also a drive should be made on crows at the same time as many duck eggs and smaller birds' eggs and birds have fallen prey to them this season.

At last we have the ground moist again. Crops have suffered badly in places from drought. A lot of late grain never came up while the wet spots germinated well. Hills in places appear as if they had never been seeded. Many people have poor gardens. The small stuff is not even up, and will need continued moisture.

Yep, the town is growing! Another new house is going up on Dewberry's latest boulevard. Houses are also being stuccoed by the local contractor [illegible]. Mr. Isenman is preparing to move his house onto the foundation. We also have a high pressure steam cleaner for cleaning grease off cars, tractors, etc. and the latest in gas stoves, a propane gas stove that only needs refueling twice yearly. Erwin Gartner is having a new house built.

The Dewberry Young People's club motored to the north lakes on Sunday last by car and bus and enjoyed a very fine outing.

Once again our shows are packed. The aid of a much needed restaurant has been taken care of. To Mr. and Mrs. John Maltais who have spent a lot of money to give the public this nice clean cafe, we wish every success in their new venture.

If you will notice in the post office there is a sign which says "no posters". We now are not allowed to hang posters in this place so will have to look elsewhere [illegible] events notices and so on. Maybe the town could put up a nice bulletin board.

WILDMERE WINKS

We were pleased to see on Saturday that Vermilion and for a distance north and south, had a nice rain. The crops are very patchy this year. We in Wildmere were not so fortunate and the drought is getting to the desperate stage. Wheat is heading and only 8 to 10 inches high. If there is no rain this week it will be too late to help the wheat but would do wonders for the coarse grains and feed. Oats that were sown on June 9th are still lying in the ground as bright and nice as the day they were planted.

Our deepest sympathy is extended to the husband and family of Mrs. Joseph Filipkowski of the Thornclifffe district on the loss of a loving wife and mother. A friendly welcome was always given you whenever you visited her home. She always gave of her best to her family and home and as a friend and neighbor there was no better. Her happy and cheery personality will be greatly missed by all who knew her. We trust and hope God will comfort her bereaved family.

Albert Howard has been visiting at his old home and this time he was accompanied by his bride. They were married June 19th at Victoria, B.C. It is Mrs. Howard's first trip to the prairies and they really looked big to her. On their way here they visited Albert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howard in Edmonton. We all wish this young couple many years of health and happiness together.

On Sunday June 20th Mrs. John Wilson had the pleasure of a visit from her sister Mrs. Wes Fluker and husband of Fort Saskatchewan. Her mother Mrs. Finlay, also her brother Johnny Finlay and his wife of Mannville, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Holte and Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Wilson, Tommy and Jenny all of Vermilion visited at the same home.

Our church for the month of July will continue to be held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. We were pleased to have Mrs. Geo. Jabben and sons David and Robert of Vermilion at church last Sunday. Come again folks.

Ere this appears in print exams will be over and children will be starting to enjoy two months of holidays.

Funniest thing heard: one of our good friends of Cummings worrying for fear a man would drop his baby into Vermilion's mud on Saturday!

W.I. Honors Kitscoty Singers

The Kitscoty Women's Institute sponsored a banquet in honor of the four local girls and their music teacher, who were so successful at the recent Provincial Musical festival.

The girls, Patsy Miller, Elaine Batty, Sheila McCurry and Betty Gray, accompanied by their parents, their music teacher Mrs. H. Batty and Mr. Batty, were guests at the banquet held in the home of Mrs. McDonald, the banquet table being tastefully decorated and each guest was the recipient of a beautiful corsage.

Mr. Batty thanked the members of the Institute for their recognition after the singers had returned from the Calgary Festival. Mrs. Witherick, president of the Institute, in her reply, thanked the singers for the prestige they had won for themselves and for the village, wishing them, on behalf of the Institute members and herself every success in the world of music.

Mr. Batty thanked Mrs. Witherick for her kind remarks as also did the parents and the girls.

The guests were then invited to a social evening, held in the hall, a large gathering being in attendance. The chairman Mr. James Smith called upon the band under the leadership of Mr. Christofferson, to open the evening's program with the playing of O'Canada, this was followed by several selections from the band. [illegible] in his remarks paid tribute to the girls and their teacher for the success and fame they had won for themselves and wished for them on behalf of the high school a very successful career. Mrs. Witherick then presented to each girl and Mrs. Batty, a wallet of money, from the citizens of Kitscoty and district as a token of their appreciation and to help them in their future musical career.

Mrs. Batty thanked Mrs. Witherick and the citizens for their kindness, remarking that a great deal of hard work was done by herself and the girls prior to entering for Festival honors however their efforts had been crowned with success.

Sheila, Patsy, Betty and Elaine each thanked the citizens for their kindness and interest in their activities.

Selections of Festival pieces were rendered by the girls and Mrs. Batty sang "The End of a Perfect Day" followed by "The Rosary". The gathering joined in a round of community singing led by Mr. H. Stokes and after a few selections from the band the evening closed with the singing of "God Save the King".

Awards Announced

Word has just been received that the following awards have been won by the Kitscoty singers —

Elaine Batty awarded the Sharples Trophy.

Patsy Miller awarded the Vera I. and Murray Jaques Scholarship of $50.

Food Production In Britain

THE CRITICAL WORLD FOOD SHORTAGE which began during the war has placed increasing demands on agriculture in those food-producing countries in which the growing of crops was not interrupted by the conflict. With the demand for grain and other crops far exceeding the amount which could be produced, there have been no surpluses in any country and in many places rationing has been in effect to ensure an equitable distribution of essential foods which were in short supply. Because of these conditions extraordinary demands have been placed upon farmers, and agriculture which at all times is an important industry has become an increasingly vital factor in world economy. Canada has contributed a great deal toward relieving the international food crisis and much credit has been given to the achievement of Canadian farmers in this important matter.

* * * * *

Great Progress Has Been Made

In Great Britain, where there has always been a heavy demand for Canadian farm products, great progress has been made in agriculture since 1939. At that time agriculture was Britain's largest industry occupying 79 per cent. of the land area of England and Wales and employing either directly or indirectly, over one million people. In spite of this, only one-third of the food consumed there was produced in the country. The outbreak of war, and the cutting down of food shipments from this country by the German submarine menace in the Atlantic, made it necessary for production in Britain to be greatly increased, as well as for food to be strictly rationed. Various methods were used to increase production including the bringing of expert advice to the farmers, increasing the use of machinery, draining land, and improving poor farms. Shortage of labor for farm work was combatted by fixing minimum wages for workers, "freezing" farm workers to their jobs, and organizing the Women's Land Army and seasonal help from many sources.

* * * * *

Have Learned By Experience

The most impressive advances made during that period was in farm mechanization. Two-thirds of the machinery used was made in Britain, and centres were set up from which farmers could rent machines at reasonable rates. As a result of these efforts, Britain produced [illegible] per cent of her own food requirements during the war. When it [illegible] after the war had ended that it would be necessary to continue to produce as much as possible in view of the grave world food situation, experience gained during the war proved valuable in planning a policy [illegible] agriculture to meet the needs of the times. Assured markets and guaranteed prices announced well in advance are basic features of the present policy, as are the guarantee of minimum wages for farm workers and the power for the government to ensure, when necessary, that land be properly farmed. An interesting article on this subject, published recently by the British Ministry of Information, concludes: "The British farmer faces the future with confidence, knowing that the best machines and technical advice are at his service and that his rightful place in the life of the country is firmly established."

Trans-Canada Highway Urged In Commons

OTTAWA — The trans-Canada highway question was revived in the commons during study of reconstruction department estimates.

Western members hammered at it for almost an hour despite Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe's, reconstruction minister, stand that "the federal government has neither the authority nor the machinery to build highways in the provinces."

"I know nothing about the trans-Canada highway," he said at one point. "I will not answer questions about it."

Members who urged action on the long-debated project: Cal Miller (PC — Portage la Prairie), Stanley Knowles (CCF Winnipeg north centre); Howard Green (PC—Vancouver south); Angus MacInnis (CCF—Vancouver east), E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops), Rev. Dan McIvor (L—Fort William), Hugh Castelden (CCF—Yorkton) and Robert Fair (SC—Battle River).

Mr. Miller asked whether the reconstruction department had done any survey work across Manitoba in connection with a trans-Canada highway.

"And is it the ultimate intention of the department to build the trans-Canada highway across Manitoba and western Canada?" he added.

Mr. Howe said the route of the trans-Canada highway was a matter for each province to recommend and the federal government to approve.

Mr. Miller asked later: "Is there among the future unemployment relief projects or programmes of the government any blueprint for the trans-Canada highway?"

"If we see any sign of widespread unemployment," said Mr. Howe, "we will proceed to make a blueprint. But at the present time we have not one and we do not think one is necessary."

Black Fly 'Pest Of The Farmer' Licked By Hard-Working Scientists

Here is the group of four scientists responsible for the experiment which resulted in the control of black fly along the South Saskatchewan river, north of Saskatoon, Sask. Dr. A. P. Arnason, head of the Dominion entomology laboratory at Saskatoon; Dr. A. W. A. Brown, of the Suffield, Alta., experimental station; Dr. R. A. E. Galley, head of a British government laboratory which is something of a clearing house for entomology research material from Commonwealth countries; and Dr. J. G. Rempel, noted authority on insects and insecticides.

By T. R. MELVILLE-NESS
Central Press Canadian

SASKATOON. — For many years the farmers of north-central Saskatchewan, living within 60 miles or so of the South Saskatchewan river have had plenty to worry about come the early part of June. The reason for their concern has been the dreaded black fly, which annually has killed off hundreds of head of valuable stock, mostly cattle, and caused severe losses to farmers.

One bite from a black fly was enough to send an animal crazy with agony, and in a matter of minutes, death would follow. Without warning the flight of the black fly would begin from the hatching places at various rapids along the course of the river, and the small gray insect has often left unbelievable destruction in its wake.

Recently, there was more than just a hope that hard-working farm scientists had the dreaded pest licked. By reason of the fact that the black fly selects a breeding place where water runs rapidly over rocks, Dr. A. P. Arnason of the Dominion entomology laboratory at Saskatoon was almost sure that the larvae could be killed off by water-borne poison running over them.

The problem was to figure out a dose of poison that would not harm the valuable fish resources of the river, and would also leave unharmed the larvae of other insects, mainstay of the diet of the river fish.

Dr. Arnason, working with Dr. A. W. A. Brown, of the national defence department's experimental station at Suffield, Alta., and others making a study of insect pests and their destruction, arranged for a plane equipped with spraying equipment to spray the river at a point well upstream from known breeding places of the black fly. Dr. Brown, with Dr. J. G. Rempel, well known entomologist at the University of Saskatchewan, worked out technical details, and the big Dakota cruised and recrossed the broad South Saskatchewan six times laying down a spray of DDT in oil on each trip.

"Nothing was left to chance when the river was sprayed with insecticide in an attempt to prevent the hatching of the dreaded black fly. Here a member of the R.C.A.F. Contingent which undertook the job of spraying the river calculates the speed of the wind, so that drift of the poison spray could be estimated, and the "swaths" of poison laid down exactly where they were wanted.

Results Are Good

Results were more spectacular than any of the scientists dared hope for. Observers stationed along the river banks reported finding only six live black fly larvae for 100 miles downstream from the point of treatment. The floating film of poison spray, which worked out at one part of DDT in ten million of water, was apparently all that was needed to destroy the larvae of the black fly, leaving other larvae and fish unharmed. Most other larvae, such as those of dragon flies, are found in the mud of the river bed, or in stagnant pools, and were not touched by the poison floating on the surface.

Farmers Happy

Experiments further downstream later indicated that a lower concentration would do the trick, and that a plane would not be needed to do a job of black fly killing in future. "We are of the opinion that it will be necessary only to dump the DDT emulsion into the river from bridges or from boats well upstream from black fly breeding places," stated Dr. Rempel. "Results of the tests are most encouraging and we believe it is possible to get complete control of the black fly before hatching," he added.

Farmers in the area heaved a big sigh of relief, since they had been warned that the black fly infestation would be heavy this year. While most of them will be on the alert, it seems fairly certain that the tiny killer will not be around to worry them, either this year or next. There are still plenty of farm hazards in Saskatchewan, but at least one of them seems to have been eliminated ... one that has cost farmers plenty of money over a period of years.

Many Fail In Business

OTTAWA. — So far, it's been a poor year for business. The bureau of statistics reported 288 commercial failures in the first quarter of 1948, greatest number since 1942. First quarter total compares with 120 in the same period last year, 94 in 1946 and 83 in 1945. However, it was lower than in prewar years. In 1939 the first quarter saw 371 failures.

Liabilities rose sharply during the quarter, totalling $3,406,885 compared with $1,631,807 in the same period of 1947. There was an advance also over the same periods of 1946 and 1945. Liabilities for the first quarter of 1939 were $2,502,120.

During the quarter, there were three failures in the prairie provinces against none a year ago.

Local News of Interest

Mrs. J. R. Greer (nee Marjorie Anderson) and 6-year-old son Johnny of Fort Wayne, Indiana, arrived in Vermilion Wednesday morning and are the guests of Miss Margaret Stephens. It is 22 years since Marjorie left Vermilion with the family when they moved to Detroit. This is her first return trip and she has been visiting her brother Earl and family at Jasper. Earl is the only member of the family residing in Canada. Needless to say Marjorie's numerous old friends are very glad to see her again. She plans to return to Edmonton Friday and to leave for Indiana on Saturday.

Mr. D. Ackerman, newly appointed superintendent of the Vermilion water system, arrived in town on Tuesday evening from Camrose accompanied by his family and they have taken up residence in the former Reid home in the west end.

Mrs. W. A. Lamb was a visitor to her old home town on Wednesday in company with Mrs. Montgomery also of Edmonton. As there was considerable Liberal activity in Mannville and Vermilion we rather suspect this was the attraction. Mrs. Lamb is president of the Alberta Women's Liberal Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clarke and three children spent from Monday to Wednesday in Vermilion. Since leaving Vermilion Joe and Madge have become the proud parents of Norman Wayne, just three weeks old at present. They are now moving to Bassano, Alberta.

Mr. and Mrs. B. "Andy" Anderson leave this week end for Elk Island park where they plan to holiday and golf for ten days.

Mrs. V. Bert (nee Phyllis Wiebe) of Fredericton, N.B., and her little daughter Paula, arrived in Vermilion last week and are visiting the family here. Phyllis was accompanied on the trip west by her mother Mrs. W. R. Wiebe who had been visiting her at Fredericton.

Miss Hazel Crowell who now lives at Leduc, is visiting in town, a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davies. Hazel can still swing a very potent tennis racquet.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Rooks and family visited at the home of the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. Dendixen on Sunday. The occasion was Mr. Dendixen's 79th birthday.

Jack Wiebe who is a member of the engineering staff at the salt plant at Lindbergh, spent last week end in town. Jack is really enthusiastic regarding the fine set-up and huge prospects for development there. Mrs. Wiebe plans to move north when living accommodation is available.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Kupin and family motored to Mrs. Kupin's old home near Maidstone, Sask. on Wednesday. They were accompanied that far by Mr. E. Katz who was on his way to Saskatoon to visit his mother. Mr. Kupin returned to Vermilion Thursday evening but the family will remain at the [illegible] the summer.

Mrs. Bert Mead with her 3 month old baby son arrived in Edmonton on June 23rd from Halifax on the trans-Canada plane. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Richardson and Mrs. George Mead were on hand to meet the plane. They all returned to Vermilion by car. Mrs. Mead's husband, Lieut. Bert Mead of the R.C.N. air arm stationed at Halifax with 6-year-old son Richard started from Halifax to Edmonton via military plane but at Montreal due to lack of space, took the train to Wainwright where they were met by George Mead on Sunday last.

Mrs. Bert Mead and the two children will remain in Vermilion at her parents' home for the next [illegible] months. Bert has three weeks leave which he is spending in Vermilion. He will then go to England together with another officer from Halifax, both of whom have been selected for a special course of training which will require 5 to 6 months to complete. Friends are pleased to see Margaret and Bert back in town again.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Banks, Rex, [illegible] Mr. and Mrs. Urquhart and Elliott motored to Sylvan Beach on Wednesday. Mrs. Banks and Rex will remain at their summer cottage there while the rest of the party plan to return home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ballard Gead of Clandonald wish to announce the engagement of their daughter Wilma Lee to Albert William Easterday, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Easterday, Wauseon, Ohio. The wedding will take place in late July at Chicago, Illinois.

Albert was formerly with the U.S. Army Air Corps in Edmonton. He is now a supervisor at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. Miss Gead is a graduate of Paul's Hairdressing Academy, Minneapolis, Minn.

Bernard Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Baden Anderson, left Monday night for Vancouver where he has been appointed to the Dominion Meteorological branch at the Vancouver airport for training. After taking a course at the coastal city Bernie is going to one of the meteorological stations in the north.

Rainy weather caused the postponement of the Hugh Brown sale of household furnishings last Saturday. The sale will be held this Saturday afternoon when the complete list of household effects as previously advertised will be offered for sale.

Mrs. Thos. Bothwell of Islay left Tuesday morning for Edmonton where she will spend several days as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Maire. She will then go to Vancouver via C.P.R. and on return trip will spend several weeks visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Millward and Donald at Nakusp, B.C. To reach Nakusp Mrs. Bothwell will stop at Revelstoke and travel down the Arrow Lakes by boat.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Roebuck recently returned from an interesting trip by plane to Calgary and the coast where relatives were visited and considerable sight-seeing enjoyed.

Mrs. Pearl A. Baker who has spent the past year teaching the Flowerdale school near Lloydminster, plans to spend the summer vacation with her daughter Mrs. Wilford Mathison and family at Riverton. Her address for the summer will be R.R. 1, Dewberry.

It was Bill Barr and George Hill who made the trip up the Alaska highway as far as Fort St. John last week and met Mr. and Mrs. W. Barr as reported in the Standard. Bill and Geo. had a wonderful trip, visited the Fitchbeck family at Dawson Creek and went fishing with Alf at Lake Moberly.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Barr left on the 26th for Calgary, Banff and Jasper, travelling by car. They plan to visit friends in Calgary and camp for a few days at Banff and Jasper.

Herbert Sutton has gone to K[illegible] where he will spend the summer vacation with his brother [illegible] farm.

DOREY—CHALLMAN

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the United church manse in Vermilion on Monday June 28th when Dorothy Kathleen Challman, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Challman, was united in marriage with Jeffery H. Dorey of Vermilion. The Rev. E. S. [illegible] officiated.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length gown of white satin, the skirt [illegible] triple sheer, her finger-tip veil was held in place by a halo-style head dress. She carried a bouquet of pink and white roses and carnations.

Miss Marion Challman, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and was dressed in a slipper-length gown of pink silk poplin.

The best man was Mr. Clive Dorey of Landonville, a cousin of the groom.

The reception was held at the home of the bride where a buffet luncheon was served to thirty friends and relatives of the bride and groom. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Stanley McCrae.

The young couple left on a short honeymoon trip to Edmonton, Calgary and Banff. On their return they will reside on the Norman Tucker farm.

Salvation Army Home League Sends Clothing To B. C. Flood Areas

The Salvation Army Home League held their meeting Wednesday June 23 at the Salvation Army hall. These meetings are held regularly every Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock under the leadership of the secretary Mrs. Ken Isley. Everyone is welcome at any time to come along and spend an evening to see and hear more of the accomplishments of the busy ladies of the Home League.

This particular meeting was opened by a hymn, prayer and Bible reading by Adj. Charles Stewart. A paper was also read by Adjutant Stewart on titled Radiation Mutation. This particular reading dealt with the possible results of Atomic radiation and proved very interesting to all present.

Generous contributions and donations were made by the League as follows: [illegible] articles of clothing were packed and shipped to B.C. flood relief; $12 donation to Missionary fund; $5 donation to relief fund; $5 donation to Young Peoples' band fund, a package of clothing and soap is now being packed to send overseas.

These parcels bring joy and happiness to many friends and needy families across the water.

The Home League secretary, members and visitors take this opportunity to thank each and everyone who contributed to make it possible for the League to send these parcels to the needy overseas and to the B.C. flood areas.

At the close of the meeting lunch was served by the hostess Mrs. L. Dow, and was much enjoyed by all.

Attending Special Short Courses In Photography

Wally Guy, Vermilion's well known photographer, left last Wednesday, June 16th to attend special short courses at the Winona School of Photography, Winona Lake, Indiana, located 120 miles east of Chicago. Two short courses are to be attended, one in advanced portraiture, and one in advanced commercial study. These courses are under the direct supervision of Mr. Howard Weber of New Carlisle, Ohio, who is nationally known for his work. Wally expects to gain a great deal through the study of the techniques of such famous men.

The school which he will attend is owned and operated by Photographers' Association of America of which Mr. Guy is an active member, for the advancement of professional photographers through lectures by famous photographers who have attained very high standard in the profession.

These courses commence June 28th and end Aug. 6th. During his absence the studio here will be under the supervision of Mrs. Guy and all studio appointments will be her responsibility. Mr. McGale of Lloydminster has kindly consented to come to Vermilion for the studio sittings. In order to give good service it is obvious that appointments must be made well in advance so that Mr. McGale's visits may be arranged to best advantage.

Further announcements will appear from time to time in the display advertisement on the back page of the Standard. Keep in touch through this advertisement.

Rapid Progress Being Made On New School Building

Contractor Floyd Olson of Edmonton is making rapid progress with the construction of the new four-roomed primary school in Vermilion. The contract price for the building was $54,000. The contractor hopes to have the new school finished by Sept. 1st although completion is not called for in the contract until Sept. 30th.

The overall size of the new school is 48 feet by 72 feet, and it is designed as but one unit of an eight-roomed school should the need for more accommodation arise. There are 3 classrooms on the main floor with one on the ground floor. The ground floor also contains a large play room. Heating is by forced draught hot air. The lower floor is but 4 feet below ground level and 6 feet above giving rooms with a 10-foot clearance.

Some of the primary school features include toilets on the main floor, a sick-bay, rest room and the containing of the cloakrooms within the classrooms rather than in the hallways. There is an additional wash basin in each room. The teachers' office is also on the main floor. Plumbing of course is now enabled to be completely modern.

The building is of frame and stucco construction. The entrance is on the south-west corner and will be brick trimmed. The school itself faces the west. It is placed at the west end of the school block to allow the maximum playground space. The building is designed for an addition on the north side. The accommodation provided takes care only of immediate school needs, as all will agree that the time is not opportune to do more building than is actually required.

The local board studied the school accommodation shortage in Vermilion very carefully for the past two years before arriving at the conclusion that the most economical and at the same time the most satisfactory means of alleviating the need for more room, was by starting at the bottom. An addition at the high school which would provide rooms for the intermediate grades where overcrowding is also experienced, would not help out with the overcrowded condition in grades 1 to 6. The increased school population is mainly evident in the lower grades, so the ultimate decision was that one unit of a larger school to house the primary grades, should be built. Consequently the local board recommended to the divisional board that a four room unit be constructed this year to take care of the primary grades. This recommendation met with the unanimous approval of the senior board.

A pleasing feature is the fact that the town of Vermilion purchased the entire debenture issue necessary to meet the cost of the school. These debentures now are in the town's sinking fund. The debentures were issued on the credit of the large school division, not on that of the town of Vermilion.

It appears that about every 20 years Vermilion requires more school room. The first school was erected in 1904; the new high school was overdue in 1928; and a third school is necessary in 1948.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE

School attendance at the end of the term was 280 in grades 1 to 6, of these 58 were from Poplar Heights and Bowtell. Attendance at the intermediate and high school grades 7 to 12 inclusive was 200, of these 15 came in by bus.

The tentative plan for the fall term brings grades 7 and 8 back to the east end school. This means breaking up the highly desirable feature of departmentalization of the intermediate grades. The grades at the high school will be from 9 to 12 inclusive and the commercial class. The assembly hall will again be available as such. For the past two years it has been partitioned and used as two classrooms. There is no overcrowding in the high school grades of 10, 11 and 12. In fact there is ample room for ten more students in each of these grades without inconvenience to teacher or student. Students planning to attend high school this fall will do well to consider the advantages offered by the complete high school course taught in Vermilion as compared to the partial courses available in smaller schools.

GRADES 1 and 2 IN NEW SCHOOL

Grades 1 and 2, 2 rooms of each, will occupy the new school. There will be 50 grade 1 and 39 grade 2 pupils. Grades 3 to 8 inclusive will be housed in the original public school. Tentative enrollment indicates 4[illegible] in grade 3, 32 in 4, 47 in 5, 34 in 6, 29 in 7, 50 in 8. These six grades will be divided into the eight rooms in the main building. It is hoped to be able to discontinue the use of the cottage school.

It appears at present that no increase in the number of teachers employed will be necessary. There will be 8 at the high school and 12 at the primary and public schools.

Social Credit Nominating Convention Saturday, July 17th

The Social Credit nominating convention for the constituency of Vermilion will be held at the Mannville Orange hall at 2 p.m. on Saturday July 17th.

Swimming Lessons Proving Popular

140 SIGN UP — GREAT INTEREST SHOWN

The move of the V.A.A.A. in sponsoring the swimming lesson and pool improvement project, has received overwhelming approval and already 140 swimming club memberships have been taken out.

The swimming lessons will be taught in two week periods, the first session started Monday and will continue until July 19th. The second series of lessons will commence July 19th and run to July 31st. There is still plenty of time to register for the second two weeks. The first 90 to register are in the present classes. The instructor, Mr. Frank Doucette, is teaching from 9:15 to 12:00 noon, and from 2 to 5 p.m. daily with the exception of Wednesdays and Sundays. He is on lifeguard and supervision duty from 5 to 8 p.m. Owing to the very large number of children desiring to take lessons, little of Mr. Doucette's time is left for pool supervision outside of the actual classes.

Donations to the swimming club can be made to the secretary of the swimming pool club, J. J. Fart at the town office. Be a booster and donate at least $1 for a membership. Vermilion is probably the only town in Western Canada providing the boys and girls with the opportunity to learn to swim properly.

$420.00 BEING OFFERED IN BASEBALL, FASTBALL PRIZES

TOURNAMENTS PLANNED FOR WED. AUG. 4th BY VERMILION AMATEUR ATHLETIC ASSOC.

Prize money to the total of $420 is being offered for baseball and fastball tournaments to be held here on Wednesday August 4th. The big baseball day is now being planned by the Vermilion Amateur Athletic Association.

Headlining the attractions is a baseball tournament with $175 first prize money and $75 for second.

There will be two fastball competitions, one for the men and one for the ladies. Each event has prizes of $40 and $25.

A junior baseball tournament, open to all junior players which means under 20 years of age by July 1st carries prizes of $[illegible] [illegible] $15.

CHILDREN'S RACES

A variety of races for children 15 years and under will also be run off.

All entries for the baseball tournaments must be made to Secretary J. J. Fart by 5 p.m. Saturday July 31st. The draw will be made that evening and the teams notified. This will allow plenty of time before the Wednesday. A fee of $5 must accompany the entry but this is refunded when the team takes the field.

Due to the visit of the Governor-General on May 24th the V.A.A.A. cancelled the regular annual May 24th sports. It was felt that the town should not go through the season without a sports event and a day of ball tournaments seemed to be the answer. It is somewhat of an experiment and it remains to be seen just how a sports day late in the summer season will attract.

Mannville Service Board Discusses Soil Erosion

Soil control and prevention of gullies were the highlights of a recent meeting of the Agricultural Service board for Minburn Municipality.

The Board went on record as asking land owners to take precautions in checking soil erosion on their land and to make every possible effort to prevent gullies from starting.

The field inspector [illegible] was instructed to make personal inspections of land subject to gullies when asked to do so. The meeting recommended to the Council that a demonstration of gully control be undertaken on the Wilson farm south of Vermilion.

In view of the pending feed shortage and the large livestock population in this district farmers are urged to put up all possible feed and to conserve supplies in every way.

It was decided not to carry on the Good Farm competition which was started a year ago. Plans will be made to re-organize this competition for next year.

The Board recommended that four weed inspectors be employed to commence duties about July 20th. Special attention is to be given to Toad Flax, Canada and Sow Thistle.

The personnel of the Board consists of Chairman Chas. Stewart, Vermilion; Frank Hyben, Vermilion; Frank Elliott, Minburn; William Olenick, Ranfurly and R. H. Buckingham, District Agriculturist. R. T. Durward of Mannville is secretary.

BUSY BEAVERS FLOOD HAY LAND

A diversion from the regular ranching and farming duties has taken place at the Queenie Creek ranch of Homer Campbell recently. This has taken the form of beaver trapping. The dam was broken [illegible] a week but [illegible] was well repaired and [illegible] again.

[illegible] three small [illegible] appealed to [illegible] game guardian with the result that three of the beavers were trapped and taken up to Wildwood where a farmer wants them on a creek on his farm. There is one pair of beavers more left and Homer has plans for them. He intends to trap them and move them to another [illegible] and they [illegible] do any harm. Homer figures that the busy beavers will be an interesting adjunct to his purebred Hereford cattle.

KITSCOTY GIRLS SING AT THE UNITED CHURCH

A [illegible] song [illegible] was enjoyed Sunday evening by those who attended the [illegible] at First United church when Mrs. H. Batty of Kitscoty lead a group of four girls in a number of sacred musical selections. The quartette was made up of Misses Elaine Batty, Patsy Miller, Sheila McCorry and Betty Gray. Mr. H. Batty assisted in the anthem work. These singers through solo, trio and anthem, presented parts of Handel's "Messiah" and other sacred compositions with such dignified beauty of tone that one felt they well deserved the high credit and praise they received at the recent provincial musical festival held in Calgary. We thank Mrs. Batty and choir for the enjoyment they brought us, and wish them still greater success in the future.

RED CROSS NOTES

A letter was received recently from Mrs. R. Proctor, work convener of the Edmonton Branch, who expressed her thanks for a late shipment of 100 new and 26 used articles in the following words: "Thank you so much for the splendid box. The new articles are beautifully made and will be most useful in filling requisitions for Britain. Some of the sweaters are simply charming, we are all intrigued with the blue one with the little yellow animals.

Thank you too for the splendid assortment of used clothing for our Welfare Department, everything is in excellent condition."

The Vermilion Branch of the C.R.C. Society met in June and among reports received was one regarding the Blood Donor Clinic held in April. The convener reported 100 donors from Vermilion and district at this time. Thanks were extended to all who helped and the executive members present accorded a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. E. C. Miller for her very capable convenership. It was reported too that a box of completed dressings had been prepared for the blood donor work by local members of the Red Cross and members of the Stagette club. Deep appreciation for this work was also received from Mrs. Proctor.

A report was received regarding the work of the Jr. Red Cross in Grades 1 to 6. Health rules had been observed, self denial party held and citizen training given. Approximately $35 had been raised for the Crippled Children's hospital with additional contribution of around $11 for Jr. Red Cross magazine. A considerable amount this year had been donated to the Save the Children Fund.

Letters to the Editor

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

Vermilion, Alberta, July 1, 1948.

Dear Mr. Editor:

July 1st, Dominion Day, 1948.

Today is the birthday of our Dominion. Eighty-one years ago today a proclamation brought the British North America Act into force for the four provinces, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Ontario and Quebec. The Dominion of Canada thus entered on the first stage of its existence. Two years later British Columbia entered Confederation and with the entry in 1873 of Prince Edward Island Canada became in reality a Dominion from sea to sea.

The gallant Fathers of Confederation must have had many moments of doubt as to whether their plan would really succeed. No one today can doubt the wisdom of that step that was taken amidst such tremendous [illegible].

July 1st, 1948 sees Canada with an unchallenged place as an important independent nation of the British Commonwealth not only working for her own peace and prosperity but accepted as a State in her own right within the United Nations organization, pledged to work for the peace and welfare of all mankind. "O Canada, our land, our love, our pride." Bought by the blood of men who dared and died. We have a flag, the Union Jack, the red in which means "be brave," the white "be pure," the blue "be true."

What is wrong with us in these days? On Dominion Day only one flag was flying in our progressive town. The one on the school division office. Is there no pride in the fact that we live in a land of Justice, Democracy and Liberty, and our flag is a symbol of those things?

As [illegible] and Canadian

High Temp. for Season on Tuesday

High for the season 87, was registered at the airport Tuesday July 6th. The low for the week was 41 Saturday night. A heavy shower on the evening of July 1st amounting to .31 of an inch of precipitation was the only rain worthy of mention, although old Jupe Pluvius has tried hard on several other occasions. The moisture situation is critical and that three-day rain would still help although the crop situation is almost past rectifying.

Rowe and Spencer delivered a new Silver Streak Pontiac sedan delivery this week to Harold Mayer.

West Coast Whaling Industry Is Thriving

VICTORIA.—The whaling industry is once again flourishing in British Columbia, and not a scrap of the whale is thrown away in the process.

At a former R.C.A.F. base at Coal Harbor at the head of Quatsino Sound, west coast of Vancouver Island, the Western Whaling Corporation has set up a modern whaling station.

Operations started several weeks ago and already 10 mammals, averaging between 40 and 50 tons each, have been brought in. Many whales are reported in the vicinity and the three company vessels are out for the harvest.

A former hangar has been turned into a reduction plant, and a ramp connecting water and land is being used to drag the catch to the plant.

Key figure is the "flenser", highest paid man in the camp. He is responsible for cutting up the mammals before reduction, and a professional was flown to the station from Norway for the job.

A power-saw cuts bones into sections. These are then placed in large steam-pressure vats for from 12 to 17 hours, later processed, and finally sacked as bone meal.

Canada May Have King And Queen As Part-Time Residents

OTTAWA - Prime Minister Mackenzie King told the commons he believed the country could look forward to the day when the King and Queen "will reside for part of the year in the capital of Canada."

Introducing a resolution committing the federal parliament to continue development of Ottawa as a national capital, Mr. King said he thought Canada would eventually hold first place among the nations of the British Commonwealth.

"This Dominion of Canada today is the most fortunate country in the world and has possibilities of development which no other country has," he said.

After two hours' debate the resolution was approved.

Discussing the future of Ottawa, Mr. King mentioned the capitals of the United States, Britain, France and Italy and said: "I believe as I think all members of this house believe, that Canada has a future greater than that of any of the countries which have been mentioned."

Mr. King's resolution calls for a special "national capital fund" with annual appropriations by parliament to finance projects recommended by [illegible].

It provides that expenditure of money is to be conditional on the "effective co-operation" of Ottawa and other municipalities within the capital district.

He said improvement, including construction of new bridges and removal of the railway freight terminals, will be "extremely costly".

The federal government, the city of Ottawa, and the provinces of Ontario and Quebec have direct interests and responsibilities in development of the capital idea. It would be impossible to bring them together harmoniously unless there was some broad, general plan.

When you're in the right you can afford to keep your temper, and when you're in the wrong you can't afford to lose it.

SELECTED RECIPES

CHICKEN FRICASSEE

3 pounds chicken
1 onion
2 cloves
1 bay leaf
1 teaspoon salt
½ cup chopped salt pork fat or other fat
½ cup flour

Singe, draw and disjoint a 3-pound chicken. Wash and rinse carefully. Put into a saucepan with 1 quart of water, 1 sliced onion with 2 cloves pressed into it, bay leaf and salt. Simmer slowly until tender. Remove chicken, dredge the pieces generously with the flour, salt and pepper and brown in the salt pork fat or other fat in a frying pan. When the pieces of chicken are nicely browned on both sides add the stock in which the chicken has been cooked. If the gravy is not thick enough, add flour thickening to it. Season to taste. Arrange with a border of boiled rice. This is a good way to utilize fowls which need long, slow cooking to make them tender.

CHEESE AND NUT SALAD

1 cup cheese
1 tablespoon melted butter
½ cup sweet cream
½ cup chopped nuts
¼ cup chopped pimento
¼ cup chopped olives

Mash the cheese, moisten with cream and melted butter, season with salt and cayenne, add chopped nuts, pimento and olives, press into a mold and let stand 2 hours. Cut in slices and serve on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing. Combine mild cheese with pimento, shape into small balls and serve on head lettuce with French dressing.

The Health League of [illegible], through its General Director, Dr. Gordon Bates, has issued an appeal to summer vacationists and travellers to carefully investigate the source of supply of the milk they use this summer.

Although they [illegible] should know that unpasteurized milk is a germ carrier and a fine culture medium for virulent [illegible], numerous vacationists and travellers this summer most likely will neglect to make sure their milk supplies are safe. Dr. Bates said: "They will not take the trouble to check whether the milk they [illegible] farms, lunch rooms, restaurants or hotels, and other sources is safe—[illegible] because it has been pasteurized.

Most of these persons are residents of urban centres where pasteurized milk is delivered to their homes every day. For 49 or 50 weeks each year they are protected, knowingly or unknowingly, against milk-borne diseases. Then for their short vacation period they throw all precaution to the winds and order milk not knowing and evidently not caring whether it is pasteurized."

Dr. Bates said he wishes to emphasize that just one drink of contaminated raw milk could cause a person to become ill. He said raw milk can contain germs which cause such crippling or death-dealing diseases as typhoid fever, undulant fever, bovine tuberculosis, septic sore throat and dysentery.

"So why should anyone take a chance on unpasteurized milk," Dr. Bates asked. "If the commercially pasteurized variety is unobtainable people can pasteurize their own milk. The Health League of Canada, 111 Avenue Road, Toronto 5, Ontario, will supply a free booklet outlining home pasteurization methods to anyone interested. Public health departments also can help."

USE PLANES TO SAVE GRAIN FROM FROST

FAIRFIELD, Idaho.—Airplanes went into action to drive frost from the Camas prairie wheat fields recently.

Sweeping at low level over 3,500 acres of budding wheat, seven planes created a wind that drove away the frost.

It is a new technique in attempting to save rich crops from damage by unseasonable cold.

Ranchers throughout the prairie, where a crop worth perhaps $3,000,000 is about six weeks from harvest, are eagerly awaiting results.

The prairie took a $1,000,000 licking from frost last year.

Rancher Lloyd Barton said the planes raised the temperature two to three degrees and the wind they created probably was just as important in preventing frost.

VERY HOT SPOT

When the planet Mercury is in the part of its orbit closest to the sun the temperature on the side facing the sun is about 773 degrees Fahrenheit.

Owes Life To Skill Of Surgeon

CHICAGO.—Mrs. Julia Brittan, 28, whose heart stopped beating on the operating table, owed her life today to the quick skill of a surgeon.

She was undergoing an appendectomy when attendants, clustered around the operating table at American Hospital, motioned that her heart had stopped.

Urgently, the call was sent through the hospital:

"Dr. Thorek, wanted in surgery immediately."

Three precious minutes had ticked by when Dr. Max Thorek, the hospital's chief surgeon, burst into the operating room.

He grabbed a scalpel and made an incision over the patient's heart. Deftly he made two more incisions. One pierced the diaphragm and the other cut through the pericardium which covers the heart.

Then, with his fingers he massaged the heart with the rhythm of a normal beat. A few seconds later the heart responded feebly, taking up the beat itself.

Gradually the beat grew stronger as Thorek applied more pressure.

Then at precisely the right time he injected adrenalin into the heart, sewed up the incisions and without pause performed the appendicitis operation.

PEASANTS MAY HAVE BEEN SEEING THINGS

AUCH, France.—Peasants reported that a sort of landgoing sea serpent was on the loose in a nearby rural area. It is nine feet long, green with black spots and as big around as a tree, they said. The area is famous for its fine brandy.

The tusks of an elephant continue to grow throughout its life.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

TALK IS NOT CHEAP

By ROBERT CRESPENT

UNCLE ABEL, who was really my great-[redacted] on my [redacted] side, might have been seventy-five years old, maybe ninety — no one really knew; but everyone knew he was the talkingest man that ever breathed. My mother said he had lived his life in a mill town somewhere in northern Pennsylvania as a patternmaker in a foundry. But the things he'd tell, like the time his ship was wrecked off the coast of South Africa and he swam nigh unto twenty miles to reach dry land.

We were not a large family: my father, my brother, sister Julie, kid brother Jess and myself, on a fifteen-acre truck farm in the pine woods of southern Jersey. Last January, to my mother's regret, Uncle Abel had come to live with us. He was a skinny man; must've been tall in his young days, but now he was quite curled over. But there was nothing the matter with his voice. He did no work to speak of; said it interfered with what he had to do, which was sitting on the doorstep and whittling on a stick with his ancient jackknife, talking, talking...

"Looka here, Annie," he'd say to my mother, "you ain't hangin' them clothes up right nohow. In the fust place you hang them edgewise to the sun and that ain't common sense 'cause that way the sun don't hardly [redacted]. [redacted], the way I'd hang wash on a line—"

My mother would glare at him, clothes pins in her mouth, her eyes blazing with eloquence stronger even than Uncle Abel's spoken words. But Uncle Abel would whittle on and say: "The way you go about things in this house now, what I'd do —"

But my father tolerated Uncle Abel. As, for instance, at the end of a day's plowing my father would [redacted]-ing, his face lined with dust of the fields. He'd be hungry too, and there we'd wait at the supper table—kid brother Jess, sister Julie and I, listening to Uncle Abel. I knew my mother couldn't stand him and his yarns, but we kids always listened.

Sometimes he'd tell us real exciting stories about how he had fought Indians; or how he had swum up a jungle river with fifty huge crocodiles in hot pursuit. My father would sit down at the table and off went Uncle Abel: "Tell you what, Joshua" — that was my father's name — "you ought to wash outside at the yard pump instead of comin' into the kitchen and washin' at the sink. Messes things up for Annie. Many's the time I'd wash my face with snow up near the North Pole while I was lookin' for gold in Alaska—"

"Please, Uncle Abel—" pleaded my mother. Uncle Abel continued as if my mother had not spoken.

"We will now say grace," said my father calmly.

I wondered why mother couldn't be as patient as father, instead of raging inside her at Uncle Abel, the way she did. We said grace, and my father said "Amen" and we all started to eat the roast beef and mashed potatoes. Uncle Abel didn't stop talking, even though his mouth was chuck full.

Sunday afternoon my mother, more resentful than ever at Uncle Abel's chattering, announced to Jess, Julie and me that we were going to visit the Thompsons, on a farm a half mile south of ours. Uncle Abel invited himself at once. Mother, furious, could not openly tell him to stay home and keep my father company, for father didn't like to visit on Sunday afternoon. It was his time of rest.

Uncle Abel regaled us with yarns as we walked along the country road. My mother suggested we take the short-cut, the path through the woods. The path led us to a log bridge over Bramble's Creek, a green swirling current, not very wide between banks. It was cool here, with pines and spruce crowding each bay.

My kid brother Jess, always adventurous, left the party and remained on the bridge. He let himself over the edge of the logs and dangled down. Uncle Abel, meanwhile, was at his best. "This spot reminds me of the time I was lost in the jungles of the Amazon. Couldn't find my way out, nohow, with night comin' on fast and the jungle chock full with wild beasts and snakes. All I did was just close my eyes and walk. Would you believe it? I came out on a farm hungry as all-get-out but otherwise just as spick and span as you now behold me." There was a scream. Jess had fallen into the green depths of the creek and now he yelled for help as his slight form went [redacted]. My mother's eyes opened in terror and I remembered that Jess and I had not yet learned to swim.

Uncle Abel was saying: "Now that calls to mind once when I was in India, along the Ganges River..."

"For heaven's sake, do something!" said my mother.

Uncle Abel said: "Once, when our steamer struck an iceberg in the North Atlantic I rescued the Captain—" Uncle Abel jumped into the water feet first. His white head ducked under and remained under for a spell. Finally it appeared above the surface and Uncle Abel began moving shoreward, dragging Jess after him. Then Uncle Abel climbed out of the water, pulling Jess along. Jess coughed the water out of his windpipe. Jess said: "Mother, mother, Uncle Abel is drowning!" Uncle Abel choked and sputtered. He had swallowed too much water and now he just keeled over and lay still upon the bank.

"Hurry, run and fetch father," said my mother.

It was quite dark when Uncle Abel opened his eyes in our house with Dr. Haley from Crestville bending over him. Uncle Abel's mouth moved, but the best he could manage was a whisper. "Reminds me of the hurricane off the Florida Keys..."

"Don't try to talk," said Dr. Haley kindly. "I'm afraid you've lost your voice, for how long, I can't say. But you'll be able to whisper and you're lucky at that."

I could see my mother's lips tremble and she looked sorry. I heard my father call her aside and say: "You'll be gentle with him, Annie, when he brags about what a swimmer he is. Jess would have drowned easy, even though the water's only four feet deep at the bridge."

SIDEWALKS COST LESS HALF CENTURY AGO

LONDON, Ont. —City officials wished that more sidewalks had been laid 50 years ago.

Checking old records they found that at the turn of the century Londoners paid two cents a foot per year for 10 years for new sidewalks. Now the annual charge is 22 cents a foot.

HORSE RETURNS HOME AFTER BEING SHIPPED 900 MILES AWAY

FT. ST. JOHN—Home on the range looked better for a bay horse five-year-old, the further he got away from the home corral. The bay was one of eight head of horses hauled 900 miles north of here on the Alcan to Johnsons Crossing, Y.T.

Upon arrival at Johnsons Crossing, the geegees were unloaded from the truck and permitted freedom to browse around. Seized with a longing for home, the bay gelding started south. Exactly 17 days after he was missed from the string at Johnsons Crossing, the bay was whinnying at the home gate, 900 miles distant. He had hoofed it all the way. Official time, 2.2005 m.p.h.

The Canadian government which bought the animal for work as a pack horse on some survey jobs on the Yukon-Alaska boundary will now make up its mind as to whether or not the bay will be lassooed and transported once again to the Yukon.

Farm Population Drops In The U.S.

WASHINGTON. Nearly 1,000,000 persons left cities, towns and villages in the United States last year to settle on farms, but more than 1,300,000 moved away from farms into cities, towns and villages.

The January 1 farm population was estimated by the Department of Agriculture at 27,440,000. That was 110,000 fewer than the estimate for January 1, 1947, when a peak of 27,550,000 was recorded after a two-year rise from 25,190,000 at the outset of 1945.

The 1947 decline in farm population was modified by the fact that births exceeded deaths in that group by nearly 500,000, the largest annual increase from that cause since 1925.

Closed Season On Ducks Urged

OTTAWA — Douglas Ross (PC Toronto St. Paul's) urged in the Commons that Canada and the United States declare a two-year closed season on ducks.

He said that unless drastic action is taken there will be no ducks for hunters to shoot. It was no use for Canada alone to declare a closed season, because the ducks migrated to the United States and would be shot in open season there.

Resources Minister MacKinnon said that his department held a conference with provincial and U.S. wild life officials.

COAL SAMPLES EXPORTED

VICTORIA. Total cost of repairing flood damage, rebuilding the dykes and combatting the river for the past month is now estimated here at a little less than $13,000,000. This does not include crop loss.

Of this amount Ottawa has agreed to contribute $9,500,000 and the Provincial government will cover the remaining $3,500,000.

The figures, however, do not include losses of furniture and personal belongings which are to be met out of the $2,000,000 aid fund administered by the Canadian Red Cross.

German Cutlery Industry May Move To Canada

OTTAWA. — The government is studying an application by the Nova Scotia government to move an entire cutlery industry from Germany to that province.

A hint of the negotiations was given in Halifax by Nova Scotia's Industry Minister Connolly. He said in a speech that the wholesale transfer is being considered and that officials of this department will go to Germany soon to bring technical advisers to the province.

A former naval base at Shelburne, N.S. is the proposed site. About 30 skilled Germans would get the plant started; some 200 Nova Scotians would be employed later.

The 30 technicians are displaced persons whose families would come to Canada under the plan. No machinery could be brought from Germany, so it would have to be provided from other sources.

The Nova Scotia government's application is being considered by trade department and immigration officials, it was learned. Rulings in similar cases have been to allow a small number of experts to settle first, to be followed by other workmen as the industry develops.

Newspaper Provides Best Advertising Media

QUEBEC.—Newspaper advertising continues to provide the best media for moving goods off retailers' shelves in quantity, Edgar G. Burton, president of the Robert Simpson Co., Ltd., said in an address to the Newspaper Advertising Executives of America.

"Magazines, radio and even television, have their part to play, but for consistent results the newspaper ad 'delivers the goods'.

"A specific article is usually offered at a price and the reader is told where to get it. He is persuaded to come and buy it today, or at the latest tomorrow. Retailers generally find that kind of appeal more effective than the sort of advertising which suggests you might buy something, sometime, or someplace."

The development of his own company from a small store, Mr. Burton said, would not have been possible without the close co-operation of many Canadian newspapers.

"And here may I say most of the Canadian press maintains a standard of news and advertising presentation of which we are indeed proud."

To Consider Removal Of Refrigerator Ban

OTTAWA. Finance Minister Douglas Abbott told the House that he would give early consideration to removal of the ban on the importation of kerosene refrigerators.

He was answering John Gibson (Ind.-Comox-Alberni) who declared that many people in his riding were unable to obtain ice and were suffering as a result of being unable to keep fresh foods on hand.

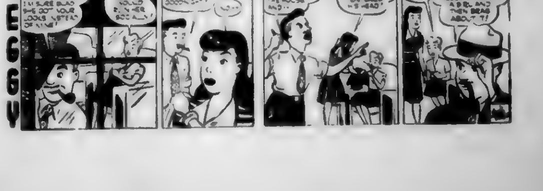
PEGGY —By Chuck Thurston



PEGGY
HERE COMES PEGGY WITH A NEW BOY FRIEND — ISN'T SHE CUTE? I'M SURE GLAD SHE GOT YOUR LOOKS INSTEAD OF MINE!
SO AM I — THAT MUSTACHE AND PIPE WOULD RUIN HER SOCIALLY!
YOU CERTAINLY GOT RID OF HIM IN A HURRY — DIDN'T HE EVEN WAIT TO KISS YOU GOODNIGHT?
NO...
OH I SEE — HE TRIED TO KISS YOU — YOU BROKE AWAY — DASHED INTO THE HOUSE AND...
NO — AS A MATTER OF FACT, I DON'T THINK IT EVER ENTERED HIS HEAD!
WHERE ARE YOU GOING?
I WANT TO TALK TO THAT YOUNG MAN — HE'S JUST THE SORT OF A CAD WHO'D NEGLECT KISSING A GIRL AND THEN BRAG ABOUT IT!

Clandonald Girl Is Married at All Saints Cathedral, Edmonton

CLIMIE—GOOD

Bouquets of pink and white peonies decorated All Saints' Cathedral, Edmonton, Wednesday afternoon for the wedding of Gladys Leone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Good of Clandonald, and Mr. Charles Andrew Climie, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Climie of Mayerthorpe.

Very Rev. A. M. Trendell, Dean of Edmonton, performed the ceremony. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white satin, with trailing white lace overskirt at the back. The fitted bodice was styled with a high neckline and her fingertip veil was gathered to a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white gladioli.

Miss Wilma Good, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a long gown of powder blue, with a pink headdress holding her blue chapel veil in place. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

The groom's brother, Mr. Russel Climie, was best man.

Mr. Vernon Barford at the organ played the music for the wedding.

Later the bride's mother received guests at a reception held in the Windsor Tea Room, wearing a tailored dress of pale mauve floral design complemented by a hat of neutral straw trimmed with mauve. A corsage of Kohome carnations was pinned at her shoulder. She was assisted by Mrs. Climie who wore a jersey frock of floral print on a blue background, blue hat and gloves, and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride's table was centred with a three-tiered wedding cake, which had been made and decorated by the groom's father. Bouquets of white lilies completed the decorations on the table.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Dean Trendell.

For a honeymoon to Banff the bride changed to a gray tailored gabardine suit, with navy blue accessories, and white straw hat with navy trim. A corsage of red roses completed her ensemble.

Later the couple will make their home in Wetaskiwin.

ISLAY

School finished with a picnic on the school grounds. It was a good day — a splendid attendance and all thought they had a fine sociable day and say that they would like it repeated. There was hard ball for the adults and soft ball for juniors, contests of sawing, hammering nails, pillow fights and gopher bowling. These events were well carried out and created a good bit of fun. Oh yes, and horse shoe pitching which the men seemed to enjoy too.

School reports were given out that morning and from all accounts results have been most gratifying.

Results in some music exams have been heard from too. Harold Robertson passed with 1 more in Grade 6 piano in the Toronto Conservatory exams. Also Catherine Robertson passed Gr. 1 piano exam. Congratulations Harold and Catherine, keep up the good work and some day you will be very happy about the whole thing.

Miss Jean McLennan, a bride-elect, met a group of the community ladies last Saturday who presented her with a chenille bedspread. Presentation was made by Mrs. Charles Robertson to which Jean replied very graciously and added that if any wandered near Trail B.C. to go right in and visit her.

Harry Young is holidaying at the coast visiting his father and sister.

Carol and Cherrille Mitchell arrived in Islay June 26th coming up with Clarence (Shorty) Robertson who had been down near Thorsby.

Salvation Army Honors Mrs. A. Smith

The Salvation Army Home League held their regular Wednesday evening meeting June 30th. This particular evening will be long remembered by Mrs. A. Smith who had been Sergeant Major of the Vermilion Citadel for the past ten years. In recognition of this service Mrs. Smith was guest of honor for the evening with Adjutant Stewart, members of the Home League and friends present.

Mrs. Smith opened the meeting in the usual way with hymn, prayer and Bible reading. Following this came the event of the evening with a presentation to Mrs. Smith of a beautiful magazine rack as a small token of affectionate regard of those with whom she has worked in the past ten years. In reply Mrs. Smith thanked all present and stated that the evening would ever remain a very pleasant memory to her.

The evening was completed by games and contests in which Adj. Stewart had quite a time locating Witty Brains. It's part of education anyhow isnt it Adjutant? As a very enjoyable time drew to a close an enjoyable lunch was served by the hostess for the evening, Mrs. Erkford, with the help of a few other members.

Annual Picnic at Sandy Beach

July 1st, Dominion Day, brought happy memories to the younger generation of the Salvation Army as children and parents enjoyed their annual picnic at Sandy Beach. Mr. Gordon Robinson of Islay along with other cars conveyed the party to the lake. The outing was favored by a very pleasant day and everyone enjoyed the bathing, racing and boat rides not forgetting the lunch, ice cream and cool drinks. All had a grand time even to Ken Isley who was so stiff after the race he won that he was thankful that tractors don't need much operating with the feet.

This was another event that will be well remembered by the tired and happy children. Thanks are extended to Mr. Robinson and all who helped to make this day such a happy one.

RIVERTON

The district joined in with North Home on Sunday to celebrate the silver wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. E. Tullson. The gathering took place at North Home school. Seated at the table were Mr. and Mrs. Tullson, their sons Oliver, Arthur and Richard, Mr. Timanson, the groom's uncle, Mrs. Timanson, Mr. and Mrs. H. Timanson, cousins of the groom. The presentation took place before the supper began. Mr. C. Haskell Jr. addressed the couple and presented them with an 8-piece chest of silverware and a beautiful 3-tier wedding cake. The groom responded with kind thanks. Supper proceeded and the evening closed with a sing-song.

A Geographical Congress

GEOGRAPHY HAS BECOME an increasingly interesting and important subject as rapidly changing world conditions have brought about many alterations in our maps and made hitherto unknown places important. In view of this there will be widespread interest in the forthcoming Congress of the International Geographical Union, which is being held in Lisbon, Portugal in September of this year. It is expected that leading geographers from all parts of the world will be there, and Canada will be represented by three official delegates and several observers. No gathering of the Union has been held since 1938, when there was one in Amsterdam, and there will be more than usual interest in this first meeting to be called since the war.

• • • • •

Of Interest To Canada The agenda for the meeting includes many subjects which will be of interest to Canada at this time. Among these will be studies of rural dwellings, changes in land due to irrigation and subdivision and the weakening of soils due to continuous cropping, all of which are related to problems with which the people of this country are familiar. The physical geography section will discuss the subject of arid and semi-arid lands, while those interested in biography will consider such matters as the effect of biological pests on vegetation and methods of cultivation, the propagation of plant species and the inheritance from the past in present-day vegetation.

• • • •

To Discuss Map Making Recent air surveys of the Canadian North, during which many new features of the land there were discovered, will give the Canadian delegates an added interest in discussions which will be held concerning plans for standardizing conventional symbols for topographical maps. Discussions relating to movements of populations, the utilization of arid lands, reforestration and moisture conservation, methods of teaching geography in schools, and the international exchange of information by students of the subject, all likewise touch on matters which concern this country. The proceedings of the forthcoming meetings at Lisbon will be of interest to all who recognize the significance of the problems to be discussed and are aware of the importance of the study of geography in these times.

YAWN SHOWS OXYGEN SUPPLY IS DEPLETED

Your yawn is a true sign of fatigue. Human activity produces waste products in the blood and depletes the oxygen supply. Your yawn is the body's effort to increase the oxygen supply by a deep breath. But only sleep will reduce the waste products in the blood and restore energy.

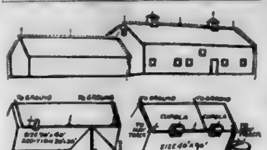
Farm Lightning Protection



Lightning rods, to do their work successfully, should be installed correctly. These diagrams show the method of installation on various shapes of buildings.

WHILE lightning is not responsible for most farm fires, it usually causes more serious fires and greater destruction in rural areas than any other cause of farm fires. Fires from other causes can often be checked at the start, but the lightning fire usually results in a complete loss.

Both copper and iron are suitable for lightning conductors, but since the resistance of iron to the flow of electric current is about ten times that of copper it is plain that to be effective, iron rods would have to be so heavy that they are out of the question. Copper is resistant to exposure to the weather and also to a great extent to corrosion in the soil as long as it is free from ammonia. Due to the presence of ammonia, manure should never be allowed to pile up around a copper lightning rod.

All connections or joints in cables must be carefully made and there should be as few as possible. A copper clamp is dependable when properly hammered down so as to make a joint which meets the regulations of the Lightning Rod Act.

The purpose of lightning rods is to conduct electric charges from lightning to the ground, therefore the ground connections are the most important part of a lightning rod system.

Conductors should be brought down in as short a line as is convenient, taking care to avoid any sharp bends in the rod as this is not considered good practice.

The important thing about grounding the rods is to make sure that every ground rod is always in contact with permanently moist earth. Various means are used for making the hole into which the ground rod is pushed, but, however it is done, the rod should be pushed into the ground not less than 10 feet and even farther where the soil is not moist at that depth.

Place Points On Chimneys

The upright standards or points in a lightning rod system are important. These projections from the main conductor should be located on the highest points of the building, such as chimney, ventilated outlets and the ends of the ridges of the buildings protected. Along a straight ridge of a roof such as a barn, these uprights should not be more than 20 feet apart and they should not be much less than 4 feet high on an ordinary roof and should project 1 ft. to 1½ ft. above the tops of chimneys or ventilators. These uprights should be rigidly braced on a three or four legged iron support which should extend at least half way up to the tip of the conductor, each leg being securely fastened to the roof by means of a copper or galvanized fastening. Weather vanes or the ornamental glass globes often seen on lightning rods are of no value and should not be put on.

To complete a rodding system for a building, it is important to connect all metallic parts of the building, such as metal roofs, ridge caps and eave troughing as well as the hay track, to the main conductors of the system. Standard weight copper cables should be used when making these connections. Silos should also be protected, the conductor from the point on the silo being run to a separate ground, or where convenient it may be connected into the conductor going down a corner of the barn.

Metal covered buildings can be protected without the use of a continuous conductor along the ridge, but ground rods should be installed at two or more corners, the upper ends of these rods being securely connected to the roofing sheets. Points should be installed along the ridge of the roofs of such buildings and on projections, each point being securely connected to the metal roof. In such installations the metal of the roof acts as a conductor between the points. It should be mentioned that the effectiveness of grounds [illegible] very largely on the soil. In a clay soil it is not difficult to get a good ground, but in open soils, such as sand and gravel it is often necessary to use more grounds than in clay soil, also it may be necessary to go to considerably greater depths than is necessary in clay in order to secure grounds of sufficiently low resistance to pass inspection.

SWITZERLAND WOULD BUY WHEAT AND SELL WATCHES

VANCOUVER. — Switzerland is hoping to be able to buy Canadian wheat again soon, Dr. Victor Nef, Swiss minister to Canada, told the Rotary Club at Vancouver.

He said his country used to import 25 per cent. of their wheat requirements from Canada, and export to us in return watches and other manufactured goods.

Swiss watches, Dr. Nef said, must have quality of workmanship since they can not compete in mass production methods. Ninety per cent. of the cost of each watch is in labor.

Canadian Winter Is Worrying Immigrant

MONTREAL.—L. Facciotti brought his wife, four sons and two daughters from Algiers to Canada and is definitely worried about the weather he will find in northern Alberta.

The Facciotti family arrived as immigrants on the Ascania. They will live with Mrs. Facciotti's sister on a farm north of Edmonton.

The sister wrote them that the lakes freeze over in winter and the ice becomes so thick it is possible to drive a horse and sleigh across.

"Is that true?" demanded Facciotti. He said he brought along every stitch of clothing he could find, and if it really gets that cold in Alberta he's going to buy more.

At the same time, he disclosed that import restrictions on fresh fruit and vegetables from the United States will be relaxed by the end of this year.

Esteemed Pioneer Lady Passes

MRS. JOSEPH FILIPKOWSKI

A pioneer Vermilion district resident, Mrs. Joseph Filipkowski, passed away after a long illness on Wednesday, June 23, at the Vermilion Municipal hospital.

Born in Krakow, Poland, Mrs. Filipkowski, then Anna Gulik, came to Chicago, Illinois, as a young girl. While there she was an active participant and soloist in an [illegible] Polish Choral Society, which toured to nearby states taking part in musical festivals.

Imbued with the adventurous pioneering spirit so prevalent amongst her generation, she came west to Vermilion in 1913, was married to Joseph Filipkowski by Rev. Father Gontier at the Holy Name church, and, ever since then, has resided in the Thorncliffe district. Those whose fortune it was to know her through the years, enjoyed her open-hearted hospitality and were always heartened by her sympathetic and cheerful spirit. Mrs. Filipkowski had many interests; one was her garden and orchard, of which she was justly proud.

Left to mourn her loss are her sorrowing husband, Joseph, and her four children, Janet of California, Roman of Ottawa, Ted, and Elizabeth, as well as two grandchildren, Susan and Peter. She also has a sister, Helen Czarnik, in Poland.

High requiem mass was conducted by Rev. Father MacDonell, O.S.B., on Monday, June 28, at the Holy Name church, and interment took place at the Roman Catholic cemetery.

The pall bearers were Messrs. John McLaughlin, Val Budzilko, Andrew Gontier, Hiram Hodgins, Gerald King, and George Capatos.

Clendonald Girl Is Married at Calgary

DAINES—HABSTRITT

On June 26th at 10 a.m. St. Mary's Cathedral, Calgary, was the scene of a pretty wedding when Helen Mae, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Habstritt became the bride of Ronald Harvey Daines, second son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Daines, all of Calgary.

Rev. Father L. Malo performed the ceremony and said the nuptial mass.

Escorted to the altar by her father the bride chose for her marriage a floor-length gown of heavy white brocaded satin, made with a tight-fitting bodice featuring long sleeves with lily points and sweetheart neckline, accented by rhinestone trimming which was repeated at the waistline of the bodice which was scalloped. The skirt was gathered full and ended in a train. Her veil of illusion net was floor-length and embroidered in a wedding bell design and fell in soft folds from a beaded coronet. Her only ornament was a white gold pendant and earrings to match, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and fern.

Miss Kathleen Miniaci was bridesmaid and chose a dress of yellow sheer featuring a tight-fitting bodice, torso length, with high neckline round yoke and full gathered skirt which was floor-length, and a gathered peplum of graduated length. She wore a chapel veil of yellow net with a coronet made of tiny flowers and net. Her only ornament was a white and gold pendant with earrings to match, a gift of the groom. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Diana Daines, small sister of the groom and Joan MacFarland, were flower girls. They wore dresses made exactly alike, featuring a floor-length full gathered skirt and tiny puff sleeves. Each dress was trimmed with flowers made of net. Diana wore turquoise net over satin and Joan had yellow net over satin. Each girl had a halo made of net flowers to match their frocks. Both girls carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Allan Habstritt, youngest brother of the bride was ringbearer. He wore a white sailor suit. Mr. Stephen Saladiky officiated as best man.

Mr. Wm. Ames, uncle of the bride, and Mr. Robert Daines brother of the groom, were ushers.

Mrs. Marvin played the wedding march and accompanied the vocalist, Miss Helen Gregory, who sang "Ave Maria" and "Oh Lord I am not Worthy".

Mrs. Habstritt chose for her daughter's wedding a navy crepe two-piece suit dress and wore a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. Daines, mother of the groom, chose a brown crepe dress and wore a corsage of red roses.

A reception was held in the evening in the Parris Sky Room. The bride's table was centred with a 3-layer wedding cake topped with a tiny white basket of pink sweetheart roses and fern and flanked on either side with tall white candles. The table was decorated with pink streamers. In the absence of Father Malo, who was detained until later Mr. Stephen Saladiky proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom suitably replied.

Among the good wishes and congratulations a telegram was received from Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hollenbeck of Clandonald, Alberta, and read at the dinner.

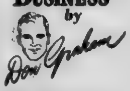
For going away on her honeymoon to Edmonton the bride donned a brown gabardine suit and coat with which she wore green alligator shoes and green accessories. The happy couple will reside at 1716 26 ave. S.E. Calgary.

It will be remembered that the bride resided with her parents at Clandonald for a period of 20 years and was a pupil of St. Joseph convent there.

The groom has lived in Calgary most of his life. He served 4½ years overseas as a dispatch rider with the Canadian army and held the rank of sergeant.

Out of town guest was Miss Kathleen Miniaci, R.N., of [illegible], formerly of Clandonald.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS by Don Graham



In our daily lives all of us must mingle and perhaps work with people whom we do not like. And this presents a problem which everyone should recognize and attempt to solve.

Obviously we cannot "bear these people off the earth". We must somehow adjust ourselves to associating with them.

"It takes all kinds to make a world." And, after all, there are bound to be some people who do not like us. So we should try to develop a spirit of tolerance.

More important, we should try to conceal our dislikes. For when we show our feelings, it merely makes matters worse.

On the other hand, if you make even a little effort to be friendly and courteous towards those who "rub you the wrong way", it will make your relationships with them more pleasant. And eventually it may even lead to genuine friendships.

OIL SPRAYS GRAIN BUT FARMERS HAPPY—Mr. and Mrs. Borden Johnston of [illegible] township, five miles north of [illegible], are in a happy frame of mind as they discuss the possibilities of an oil well which was brought in on their farm recently. Admittedly the biggest well discovered so far in the district in the recent drilling campaign begun by Imperial Oil a year or more ago, Mr. Johnston admits there is talk of a 100-barrel-a-day well. The well was shot at 1930 feet recently [illegible] oil and spraying oil for 150 yards over grain.

Vermilion Exhibition Next Week Expected to be A Gala Event

Vermilion's 42nd annual exhibition will open its gates on Thursday July 22nd and will run for three days filled with excitement and entertainment while, at the same time, district people will have an opportunity of seeing outstanding livestock and the handicraft of old and young. The Vermilion Fair is specializing in the young peoples' work this year and it is expected that a good many of the boys and girls will exhibit school work and handwork.

BOYS' AND GIRLS' CAMP

One hundred and twenty-five boys and girls between the ages of 15 and 19 are scheduled to arrive in Vermilion on Monday afternoon, July 19th to begin their week's short course sponsored by the Vermilion Fair. The young people will live at the school of agriculture and the school staff will conduct the interesting short courses. Principal Bentley assures all those who have enrolled of a splendid week. During the Fair days the boys and girls will be guests of the Fair board at the fair and at the evening grandstand show on Thursday, July 22. The Alberta Wheat Pool will tender a dinner to the youth's during the week.

SPECIAL CLASSES

More than 40 special classes have been arranged in addition to the regular classes which cover all fields of the work of the farm and the home; boys and girls are especially urged to look over the list of special awards in the prize list and to enter their work by Saturday night, July 17th.

CALF CLUB SHOW AND SALE

The Calf clubs of the neighboring district under the direction of F. H. Buckingham, District Agriculturist, will show their calves at the fair on Thursday, July 22nd. After the prize awards have been placed the calves will be sold by auction; buyers from a number of livestock houses have intimated their intention of being present and when the hammer goes down for the first time at 2 o'clock on Thursday it is expected that the price obtained by the auctioneer will gladden the hearts of the youthful exhibitors.

GRANDSTAND ATTRACTIONS

Every possible effort has been made by the Directors to secure high class grandstand attractions and they are pleased to offer patrons of the fair such outstanding acts as the Singing Mariners, five persons whose voices blend superbly and who will please as did the Varsity Eight several years ago. Betty Parrish, 80 feet in the air on a swinging pole will thrill all those privileged to see her in action while the Sensational Bays, with their bicycle ride in midair will keep everyone tense during the entire act. The [illegible] troupe of acrobats are likened to ping pong balls in action. Smith & Allen, with their comedy musical act will appeal particularly to the kids but we fancy that the oldsters too, will crack the occasional smile. The LaBlonde Trio on the flying trapeze are guaranteed to keep you in suspense and Matt Tork with his barrel rolling and balancing will draw round after round of applause. Beautiful costuming and high grade scenery with a grand orchestra will create a fine setting for the 1948 attractions.

HORSE RACING

Race Secretary Jim Robson says that a bunch of speedsters have agreed to be on hand to provide the thrills and spills on the track and there will be racing to please all, both harness and running races. On Friday afternoon there will be two harness races and one for the runners, while again on Saturday night the track will be the scene of some fast stepping when one harness and two running races, including the famous Elks Derby will be staged. The Elks will be on hand with their pari mutuels so that you may win the odd dollar by backing your favorite.

DARE DEVIL CARS

As an added attraction on SATURDAY afternoon only "Lucky" Lott and his daredevil drivers will be the centre of attraction, for 90 minutes, beginning at 2 o'clock they will give a program that will make you hold on to your hat—don't miss a single program at Vermilion Fair this year. ADVANCE TICKETS at 3 for $1 save you money. Better buy them today before it is too late. They are good for gate and grandstand.

Story In Vancouver Newspaper Has Interesting Result

W. J. MACNAB RECALLS B. C. FLOODS OF 1894

How lives and a train were saved in the great Chilliwack flood of 1894 were called to the mind of W. J. Macnab by the recent flood conditions in the coastal province. Mr. Macnab worked for the C.P.R. on coast runs from 1887 to 1905 when he moved to Vermilion. He wrote a very interesting account of his experiences with the great floods of that year, and being on the railway he was conversant with a great many incidents. One of these concerning a boy who saved a train he recounted in a letter to the Vancouver Province. The story briefly told of their long heavy freight train leaving Vancouver for North Bank. Things went along as usual until they had passed Mission Junction 40 miles east of Vancouver. On a down grade approaching a curve and a flooded trestle they saw a small boy running towards them waving a Union Jack. Neither Mr. Macnab who was firing the engine nor the engineer knew [illegible] the boy was celebrating the 24th of May [illegible] that was the date or was trying to stop the train. However the train crew played safe, the brakes were applied and the train was brought to a halt with the engine at the very edge of the washed-out trestle. In the ensuing activity the small boy was lost track of and his name was not known.

The story of this experience was sent to the Vancouver Province this spring and appeared in the issue of June 1st along with other interesting flood happenings of 1894. What was Mr. Macnab's surprise to receive a letter from T. A. Brett, Ladner, B.C. who informed him he was the boy who flagged the train that May 24, 1894. He also gave Mr. Macnab the background of the story and how he happened to be near the flooded-in trestle at that opportune moment . . . and so 54 years later the complete story became known through an article in a newspaper.

Canadian Legion Notes

Vermilion Post No. 11 Canadian Legion, held their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening with 40 members present. Arrangements were completed for operating a booth at the fair July 22-24. It was decided to cancel August meeting. Volunteers for squads to assist in enlarging the home of Mrs. Nancy Beatty were called.

Comrade S. C. Heckbert gave a very interesting and instructive report of the Legion convention held in Santa Barbara, Calif., which he attended as representative of the Canadian Legion in Canada.

Pres. F. Sweetman who has just returned from a visit to his birthplace 50 miles from Bristol, Eng. gave an account of his trip. He found his 81 year old mother in good health. It was his first return to the old country in 29 years. He landed at Liverpool where he found streets narrow and dirty. Visiting London he saw Winston Churchill and Premier Attlee. He witnessed the Trooping of the Colors at Edinburgh with 2000 guardsmen participating. This was an impressive sight.

He travelled extensively in Somerset, Devon and Dorset. Sheffield was being rapidly restored as were stricken parts of other cities. Industries were being established, particularly lighter ones suitable for men who had passed the normal age for retiring. There was a shortage of meat and butter but an abundance of fish. Luxuries such as tobacco and liquor were very expensive.

His summing up of conditions was that the people are much poorer in worldly goods but richer in spirit than before the war. They see the possibility of trouble with Red Russia but are not cast down.

Farmers Complain Of Careless Shooting

Farmers in the vicinity of town are complaining of the almost constant menace of irresponsible rifle shooting, which menace seems to be growing. Bullets whiz into their farmyards, among their stock, and one farmer had the awesome experience of having a bullet strike the implement on which he was making a repair, within a foot of his head. Another man complained that on a Sunday morning he was standing beside his house carrying on a conversation with a visitor, there was a faint crack of a rifle and a bullet buried itself in the ground immediately between the two men, raising a little spurt of dust. On a recent Sunday one man heard a regular fusillade burst forth, went out to investigate and found that two adults in physical stature at least, had apparently selected a target in line with his farmyard and were shooting at it, disregarding the fact that several head of horses and cattle were in the direct line of fire. The two men drove hurriedly away in their car when the farmer appeared. Shooting of ducks on the sloughs has, according to reports, been carried on with high glee. The shooting is not confined to 'teen age boys by any means according to the farmers, as adults seem to be just as careless and as numerous.

WHAT MAKES COMMUNITY SPIRIT—

Men of high character leave a stamp on their country for generations. It often issues in a seemingly unaccountable sense of local pride and community spirit.

Many a Canadian town got off to a good start in pioneer days, because of the influence of a few such citizens. Men who, because their own home life was sound, knew how to care for their neighbors and their town. They were able to judge between right and wrong and were therefore clear-sighted and impartial in the administration of public affairs.

In their own lives, such men put God first, building a church by the sweat of their bodies and out of the produce of their own soil. Then they built good schools and good roads. They were leaders because they cared more for the welfare of their community than they did for their own comfort or profit. As the years went by they pressed to have the village incorporated, they advocated a public library, they supported a local newspaper and they organized a County Fair.

Today we have inherited these advantages. Are we living on what we have received, or can we care for our community like our forefathers, building for the future?

In reality, caring for the community means caring for the people in it. For their sakes, we deal in town, encourage clean local sport, turn out to vote, elect men of integrity and help our police to enforce the law. For their sakes we must be willing to end a family feud, learn to apologize, even forgive the fellow who burnt our barn before.

Real community spirit is created by teamwork among citizens who love their neighbors and their town; who give inspired leadership because they themselves are God-led and therefore have the courage to fight for what is right.

Avoiding Tractor Trouble

Working on the soil is dusty work. Care in maintenance of tractors will avoid breakdowns due to excessive wear in dust-filled bearings.

By J. T. EWING

AMONG additional services planned by implement dealers when trained men are available, is that of farm servicing of tractors. Many farmers would welcome such a service, but until it is available adjustments and minor repairs must be left to their own experience and ingenuity. There is a right way and a wrong way to service any tractor to increase its [illegible] life.

Rain water or soft water should be used in the radiator. Lime deposits (scale) from hard water prevent the cooling water from coming into contact with the cylinder walls, causing excessive heating. Radiator passages will also be coated, preventing the water from being cooled by the fan, and may even prevent proper circulation through the radiator.

If only hard water is available, the cooling system should be flushed periodically with a reliable solvent. Commercial compounds are available for the removal of scale. A rust preventive or a little soluble oil in the water will prolong radiator life and increase efficiency.

Plugged Air Vents

Another cause of overheating is the plugging of the radiator air vents by dirt. A screen will partially protect the radiator, but it may be necessary to blow it out occasionally with an air or water hose. Hose clamps and the fan belt should be kept tight.

Because of dusty working conditions care must be taken to prevent dust from entering the cylinder head through the carburetor. If air entering the cylinders is dust-laden the dirt will cause excessive wear of the pistons, rings, and cylinder walls—as owners of older type tractors will corroborate. Filtering of this air thus is a major need.

In modern tractors the air has to pass through a bath of oil on its way to the carburetor, and the pump must not be allowed to become filled with dirt. The air cleaner should be removed after at least every 300 hours of operation. Besides cleaning, the connections should be examined for leaks.

Since the cap on the crankcase breather pipe is a small air cleaner, it also needs daily attention. Frequent washing in kerosene, followed by a dip in clean oil will keep it in good condition to do its job.

The carburetor needle valve and seat should be examined, and replaced if worn. The float should be checked to see that it holds the fuel at the proper level. The fuel line should also be checked. It may be clogged with dust.

The oil filter cartridge should be replaced as directed, also whenever the cylinder oil has a "sludgy" appearance when changed.

Valve Gap Clearance

Adjustment of valve gap clearance should be high on any list of periodic tractor checks. A thickness gauge, to check the gap clearance between the valve lifters and the ends of the valve stems, and gap clearance of spark plugs and breaker points in the distributor, should be in every tractor operator's tool box.

When checking valve gap clearance make sure that the end of the push rod operating the rocker arm is on the heel of the cam during the check, thus producing the widest possible gap. Since each cylinder has two valves, it is possible to make sure the one to be checked for gap clearance is on the heel of the cam by seeing that the other valve is open. The correct clearance is given in the instruction book.

Too small a gap is worse than one which is too wide. When the gap is too narrow the valves may be held off their seats when the engine is hot. Burning gases will burn valves and valve seats. Too wide a gap results in loss of power, sluggish engine operation and, sometimes, overheating under load. Valve grinding is seldom necessary unless the engine begins to lack compression.

Spark plugs need a monthly check. Electrodes burn thin, widening the spark gap. Too wide a gap causes misfiring on heavy loads. If the gap is too narrow the engine may die at low speeds. The gap should be adjusted by bending the electrode on the shell of the plug, never the one in the centre of the porcelain. Changing indiscriminately from one make of plug to another is not recommended. Tractor manufacturers have tested various plugs and know which ones are best for their particular engines.

Where it is desired to burn distillate or kerosene instead of gasoline, a change should be made in the type of plug employed. Where gasoline is the fuel, a "cold" plug is used, and when the fuel is distillate or kerosene, a "hot" plug is required. The "hot" plug is so made that more of the hot gases from the combustion chamber have access to it than is the case with the "cold" plug. This enables the "hot" plug to do a better job of igniting the slower burning vapors in distillate or kerosene.

Hydrometer For Battery

A hydrometer, preferably with a temperature adjustment scale, is needed for a battery operated ignition system. The electrolyte at full charge should read 1.280, at half charge, 1.225, and at discharge, 1.150. Battery terminal connections should be snug. Corroded or acid-soaked terminals may be cleaned with a solution made by dissolving ⅛ pound of soda in a quart of water.

Impulse Starter Trouble

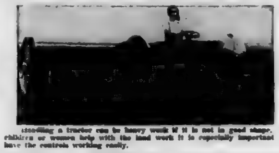
In tractors without battery and starter an impulse starter is generally used in connection with the magneto. It may give trouble because dust has got into it. All brushes on the magneto should work freely, and make good contact with the distributor arm.

The breaker points in the distributor of a battery-operated system are about the only other part likely to need attention during the busy season. The rocker arm carrying the movable point must turn very freely on its pivot or it may stick, causing the spring to break. Clearance between the points are checked with the thickness gauge. If they have become pitted they should be filed with a special file made for the purpose, and then readjusted. Rapid pitting usually is caused by a faulty condenser. A new condenser is the remedy.

A less obvious aid in promoting trouble-free operation of the tractor is care in the handling of fuel and lubricating oil. Dirt can just as easily get into the cylinders or the crankcase in the gasoline or distillate, or in the crankcase oil as in any other way. If they are kept in 45 gallon drums a shed should be provided to house them. Placed on stands about 30 inches above the floor, and fitted with faucets, clean fuel and oil are assured.

On most tractors the steering gears are encased in a bath of oil. In some cases the oil must be checked, and replenished as necessary.

A frequent check should be made of the air pressure of the tires, if the tractor is rubber shod, and the tires inspected. When regular and thorough use of the grease gun, and a periodic check of the transmission oil are added to the things already mentioned, continuous trouble free operation of the farm tractor will be insured.



Handling a tractor can be heavy work if it is not in good shape. If children or women help with the land work it is especially important to have the controls working easily.

Chinese Herbs On The Market

VANCOUVER. — Tiger balm or dried snake for those rheumatic pains and dried seahorse to keep down the blood pressure are on the market again.

K. H. Lee, pre-war owner of a large Chinese drugstore in Shanghai and his partner, Ko Sing, have returned from a buying trip to China to set up shop here.

Herbal and animal remedies used for thousands of years in the Orient are being dispensed. Deerhorn tonic for the blood, a herb called "ma huang", juice-of-a-lion wafers and dried turtles are in stock.

"Chinese medicines are mostly herbs," said Mr. Lee. Many date from the time of Emperior Hsuan Nung, 3,000 years before the birth of Christ."

Most are sold in bulk, and are leaves, bark or dried stems sliced crosswise. Animal preparations are neatly tied in papers.

Mr. Lee attributes China's freedom from the influenza epidemic in 1918 to these medicines, and points with pride to the long lives of his relatives who have been in the business for three generations.

His mother is 81, his uncles 89 and 88, and two of his grandparents lived to be 98 and 94.

TORONTO.—Nine-year-old Eleanor Glidden writes, weaves, swims and plays with the gang—which would not be unusual except that Eleanor was born without arms.

A pupil at Wellesley School for Crippled Children here, the only orthopaedic day school in Canada, she is an excellent student.

Eleanor talks rarely about her handicap but will discuss it in a grown-up way with persons she believes are sincere and not merely curious.

Sometimes people seeing Eleanor for the first time will express sympathy, but she reminds them of her special "guiding light", Kathleen Hart, born without hands and feet who is on her way to the front rank of Canadian artists.

BRITAIN'S FUTURE SAILORS TRAIN ON RETIRED BATTLESHIP—The retired battleship H.M.S. Anson now is relegated to the role of a floating naval school for the training of Britain's future sailors. Young lads form between 50 and 60 per cent of the crew. Some of them shown here during physical training period.

TRUNK VERY SMALL BUT LEAVES LARGE

The jupati palm of South America has what the Encyclopedia Americana describes as the largest leaf in the vegetable kingdom. While the trunk of the jupati is only six or seven feet high, the leaves may grow 50 feet in length, with a leaf stalk often 12 or 15 feet long. Just the thing to fan one's self with on a hot summer day!

Crows Did Not Know About High Power Line

CARLSBAD, N.M. — What the crows didn't know apparently didn't hurt them.

R. E. Tarleton said some crows built their nest on the crossarm of a power line pole. The pole carries a 2300-volt line to the potash mine where he is chief electrician.

After fuses were blown three times, Tarleton found the trouble. The crows had tied their nest together with bits of binding wire, short-circuiting the line. But he didn't find any dead crows.

MEYER GETS NO MAIL

HALIFAX.—Maj. Gen. Kurt Meyer, Nazi S.S. Division commander serving a life term at Dorchester Penitentiary for killing Canadian war prisoners gets no mail and is uncommunicative about his family, an executive said here.

TREE HAS EVERYTHING

Perhaps the world's most remarkable tree is the Moriche Palm of Venezuela. Its fruit is edible, the juice is made into beer, the sap into wine and the pith into bread. It provides thatch for fish-lines, cordage and nets. Its wood is good for building.

To Climb the Stairs or Take an Elevator?

To bring up a family today without the protection of life insurance is as foolish as to neglect to use an elevator in a skyscraper!

Comforts, conveniences and facilities unknown to our forebears are now an essential part of living. To enjoy these and at the same time accumulate large sums of money through laborious step-by-step saving is impossible to most earners. But it is disastrous to take too much for granted and forget about the future.

How, then, can a man of modest means protect his dependants against financial hardship in case of untimely death — or himself against the hazards of declining years?

The answer is by taking an elevator — Life Insurance. It can whisk a family to the level of a protected future by a few strokes of the pen. It provides independence for retiring years without unreasonable sacrifice. It is a modern development in the economic field to enable men and women to live wisely, sanely and safely in the modern way.

Report to the People

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

After being in session since Dec. 6th, with the exception of Xmas recess the House of Commons expects to finish its business the end of the present month. Quite a heavy and varied program of legislation has been passed as well as a number of divorce bills, which are of interest particularly to the Province of Quebec.

Many of the bills dealt with during recent weeks have been in connection with the budget resolutions and lately, measures dealing with labor laws and the new Income Tax act, amendments to the annuities legislation and several other bills dealing with various matters.

Most of the committees which have been sitting throughout the session have now completed their work although a few are still sitting and expected to be for some days yet. The Prices committee which was set up earlier in the session to discover the causes of the recent rise in the cost of living is at present time considering its report to the House and from what we can learn, it is possible that there will be one, or more, minority reports presented if the rules of the House permit this.

The Committee dealt with many items which are in everyday use and up to the present time with very few exceptions, they have not discovered any real exorbitant profits being made over a long period. It is true that in many instances, over a short period of time merchants and others did take advantage of the removal of price control and also the imposition of restriction of the importation of goods into Canada to make exorbitant profits, and were quite open in admitting that they had done this and that it was a general practice among the different members of the trade to take advantage of conditions which existed from time to time to add to their profits.

As we can see things now it would seem that an attempt is being made to bring our Canadian prices up nearer to the level of the United States prices and wages are also following in that direction. C.C.F. members on the Committee have continuously clamored for full-scale price control, but it is strange to say that while they advocated this many people believing in the C.C.F. program did not want to have wage control and it would be foolishness for anybody to think of controlling the price of goods being sold in the stores without having a similar control of wages, as wages count to a large extent in the production of goods.

It is expected that a fairly prolonged debate will take place in the House as soon as the Committee submits its report but up to the present time we cannot see any marked benefit of the committee in controlling prices because the cost of living has soared steadily since the Committee was set up.

At the present time there is a resolution on the Order Paper preceding legislation to ratify the international wheat agreement and it is expected that this resolution will be proceeded with and the legislation brought down after it has been passed. This international agreement provides for the sale of wheat by three wheat growing nations, Canada, United States and Australia, selling wheat to more than 30 other countries at a maximum price of $2 per bushel over the next 5 years and a minimum price of $1.50 for the first year of the contract, this amount to be reduced 10c per bushel per year as the time expires. Up to the present time the United States has not ratified the agreement and newspaper reports state that it is not likely they will ratify it this year. But in the case of Australia, legislation has been passed ratifying the agreement on condition that Canada and the U.S. do likewise.

Legislation is also under way at the present time dealing with Canadian Government annuities which are administered by the Department of Labor. Until very recently these could be purchased at a reasonable price and interest at the rate of 4% was allowed to those who entered into agreement. Cost of administration of this scheme was paid by the Government which was to the advantage of the annuitants. The maximum amount allowed recently was $1200 per annum and many employers of labor were taking advantage of this form of protection for their employees and at the present time quite a protest is being made in the House against the cut in the rate of interest and the increased cost of the annuity.

Some 4 years ago Chief Justice [illegible] in his Royal Inquiry Commission into the question of Government annuities found that about 97% of the recipients held contracts for less than $900 a year and that three-quarters of all annuitants were receiving less than $600 a year. In the main, those who took out annuities were unable to afford even the maximum $1200 a year which the plan permits. For 10 years it was possible to purchase annuities which would return as much as $5,000 a year, yet at the time of the Ilsey report there were only 121 annuitants drawing more than $1200 a year—less than one-half of 1% of the total. The $1200 a year maximum was made effective until last Monday. It is now proposed to increase the amount to $1500 a year and it would seem that this is reasonable if we take into account the greatly increased cost of living, which may yet go still higher.

The Dominion Elections Act has also been overhauled and was passed by the House. However, few fundamental changes were made, but it is expected that at the next session an amendment will be brought in to make the single transferable vote effective instead of the present X provided by the Act. Under this system 119 members were elected to the House in the 1945 election by a minority vote, and your member has given notice that he will bring in the proposed bill at the next session in order that every constituency will elect a member who has at least 50% of the vote polled, plus one vote.

I want to again take this opportunity of thanking the editor of the Standard for allowing me space to bring before the people the most important pieces of legislation discussed during the present session. It is my intention to discuss some item of interest each month until the House meets again, possibly late this fall, and at that time I shall resume reports on important legislation being discussed in the House.

I hope to have an opportunity of meeting many of my constituents at meetings and other gatherings such as picnics, fairs, etc.

• Allendale News •

The weatherman lifted the dry spell recently and brought several showers to this area over a period of days. The amount of rain was insufficient to soak the ground but gave a little relief here and there. I suppose there is no topic of conversation as popular as the weather. It led Mark Twain to say one time, "everyone talks about the weather, but no one does anything about it." Most things affecting man can not only be talked about but something practical can be done to, or for them. In the case of the weather however, which is of such vital importance to the farmer the words of Twain are still true, for the fact is that except for dry ice experiments for rain making nothing can be done.

The monthly meeting of the Allendale W.A. was held on Thursday July 8th at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McBride formerly of this district but now of Vermilion. The next meeting will be held on Aug. 12th at Mrs. Armstrong's.

Mr. and Mrs. Orley [illegible] left on Saturday for a trip to the U.S. They plan to visit Minnesota and Wisconsin.

Miss [illegible] Black has been spending the week at Allendale as the guest of Miss Arlene [illegible].

J. Nelson now has his car on the road after having two extra seats installed.

Instead of the regular service at Allendale on July 18th there will be a Communion service at both North Vermilion and Claydonald held by the Rev. F. S. Hobbs of Vermilion. Our people here are requested to support at least one of these two services.

August 8th Missionary Sunday

August 8th will be Missionary Sunday at Allendale North Vermilion and Claydonald and Aug. 15th at Ottawa and Streatvin. Before these dates envelopes will be distributed for the purpose of a Missionary offering. This money will go to home and foreign missionary work. Even in this province the United church hospital at Lamont need $50,000 for the construction of a new 50-bed wing. You may help in this great work by giving generously to the missionary and maintenance fund.

Jasper Park Lodge Opens for Summer

JASPER PARK LODGE.—The world's largest national park and game sanctuary is now ready to welcome the greatest number of visitors in its history with the opening of Jasper Park Lodge. Harold L. Gummer, the manager of the Lodge, reports heavy bookings at the famous resort.

Work on the Totem Pole Golf course includes the construction of 3 new holes and the installation of a new watering system. Many of the Lodge's cabins have been refurnished.

Excellent fishing this season for speckled and brown trout, rainbow and Dolly Varden is forecast in the waters of the Park as a result of the stocking program of three years ago, especially in the Maligne system. A new program provides for the construction this year of six shelters in the National Park for fishing parties with sleeping accommodation in these huts at remote lakes.

STANCO LIVESTOCK SPRAY IS THE IDEAL REPELLENT

For those who prefer a repellent spray, with a quick knock-down kill of all flies it hits, your Imperial Oil Agent offers the tried-and-proved Stanco Livestock Spray. No spray repels flies more effectively, or knocks them down faster.

THIS YEAR, you can rid your livestock and your stables, hog pens and poultry houses of flies, more completely than ever before. Imperial D D T Concentrate is the answer to your prayer, as far as flies are concerned.

It's economical to use, too. For power spraying or dipping, you mix only 1 part concentrate to 125 parts water (which is equal to about 2½ tablespoonfuls in a gallon). For hand spraying, you double the strength. For walls and ceilings, a gallon of concentrate makes 5 gallons of spray.

As it dries, it leaves a residue of D D T on the animals' hair, or on walls and ceilings, which is sure death to every fly that lights on it. They pick it up on their feet and it kills by paralysis.

Imperial D D T Concentrate is the most up-to-the-minute fly killer on the market. You can depend on it. See your Imperial Oil Agent.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

TOO OLD TO APPRECIATE

By HANK McCALL

SALLY GIBSON had been raised in a gentle home, but her muttering was unfit to hear as she scowled at the white wake of a fast-moving speedboat. She flipped her tiller over hard, ducked under the boom, and swung her catboat into another tack.

Once steadied on her new course, she squeezed salt water out of her hair and brushed the brine off her long brown legs and bathing suit. The racer had doused her with a solid sheet of foam.

"The fool," she growled, "there ought to be a law to keep such clowns off the water. My gosh, here comes another one!"

A black speck sprouting white wings was skipping down the channel seemingly headed straight for her. She kept her eyes on it determined not to get another ducking. In the meantime the boy in the first boat had turned around and was skimming back to give her a second shower. It wasn't every day a good-looking girl was caught alone in the middle of the channel.

Sally, unaware of the approaching attack from her stern, focused on the new menace. The boat whizzed by within five yards. As she turned to shake her fist, her eyes glimpsed the returning sport. It was too late to do anything. The original [illegible] mentor was on her neck. He was aiming to pass at six inches. Then there was a splintering crash.

Sally arched through the air screaming, "Watch out!"

She bobbed up clear of her wrecked hull, swam over to it, and held on while her breath came back. She saw the sleek mahogany inboard nose into the water as it slowed to swing back for a rescue.

A life ring splashed beside her. She heard a voice, "You all right?"

"I don't know. Get me out of the water."

The grinning face of a tanned young man peered down. Her temper snapped.

"Don't you laugh at me. I'm going to put you in jail, you, you—"

Her tears cut her off. She felt a strong grip under her shoulders and then the varnished deck beneath her. For several seconds she lay there sobbing.

"I'm awfully sorry, honest. I didn't mean to—"

Sally regained her self-control. "You better be sorry. Don't stand there gawking, get a line on my boat before it sinks."

"It won't sink. Sit down, I'll get it."

He took in the sail, babbling to himself, "What a courageous creature! What an introduction! If I can only smooth this over, big brother Roger's eyes will pop out."

The line secured he turned to Sally and said, "We'll tow it back to our landing and bail it out. Say, you must want my name. I'm Bill Henson. I'm staying at my brother's cottage. This is his boat, by the way."

"I don't care whose boat it is. You're the man who hit me and you're the man who's going to pay."

"Don't look at me in that tone of voice. I'm just a poor student on a vacation. My brother's the only one in the family with any money. You'll have to talk to him."

"You certainly are a fine one. Your brother didn't hit me, you did. I suppose it was all his fault?"

Bill grunted and held the tow line away from his propeller as he eased around to head up the channel. Then turned to his passenger.

"Don't sit there and sulk. The damage is done, you're not hurt, Roger will fix everything, so we may as well be friends. What's your name, Miss Fireball?"

"Sally Gibson. The damage is done! Look at the rents in my sail. And the hull. I hate to think of all the holes in it. I hope your brother has enough money to buy me another boat. If he doesn't, off to jail you go."

"Money! Roger is made of money. He's been making it for years, never even took time off to get married or go to college. He'll fix everything, don't worry."

"They have asylums for lunatics like you. You'd be at home there."

"Don't be so bitter. I was just trying to have fun. You'd have gotten a big thrill if that wave hadn't knocked me into you."

"Oh, so it was a wave! Not your fault at all. You're going to have a hard time proving that!"

The sun was setting as Bill steered for a private dock. In the background a green lawn spread out to a trim white cottage. A white pebble walk led up to its porch.

"Here we are. That looks like Roger fishing on the dock. He's not going to like this, too old to appreciate a little fun."

A tall lean man of about thirty looked them over closely, frowned at the half-submerged tow. "What kind of trouble are you in now, Bill?"

"Aw, Roger, don't get riled. I just had a little accident. This is Miss Sally Gibson."

Roger made Sally sit down and explain matters. Bill went off to haul up the boat. Sally found it astonishingly easy to make her case with the older brother, whom she found pleasant and understanding. They reached a generous agreement over the repairs and walked down to the beach where Bill was struggling.

Bill announced, "Doesn't look like much damage. It's really getting too dark to tell much. I'll run you home now, Sally, and tomorrow afternoon I'll come back for you. We can settle this business and then go for a real boat ride. How does that sound?"

It was about three o'clock when Bill strolled up to the Gibson home. Mr. Gibson himself answered the door.

"Hello. I'm Bill Henson. Is Sally in?"

"No, son, she went for a speed boat ride. Look, there she goes now."

"In that boat? Why, that's my brother's! Say, who's that guy she's snuggled up to?"

Mr. Gibson took a long puff on his pipe and smiled, "Well, son, I'd say that must be your brother."

New Brunswick Uses Unique Balloting Plan

FREDERICTON.—The system of balloting used in the June 28 New Brunswick general election is believed unique in Canada.

Each party prints ballots containing only the names of its own candidates, or a voter can use a blank piece of paper supplied by the returning officer.

When a voter enters the polling place he is handed one party-printed ballot by each party contesting the seat. He is also given an initialed envelope by the returning officer.

The voter enters the booth, marks the ballot of the party he wishes to support by placing the usual "X" after each of the party's candidates in the riding, and places it in the envelope. He does not seal the envelope.

The returning officer examines the envelope to make sure it is the one furnished by him. Then, in the presence of the voter, he drops it into the ballot box.

If a voter requests it, the returning officer will furnish a blank slip on which the voter may write or letter the names of candidates for whom he wishes to vote.

When the ballots are being counted, any envelopes containing more than one ballot is classed spoiled and all ballots in the envelope are invalid.

If he wishes, however, a voter may strike out any name appearing on the party ballot and write in the name of another candidate.

In this way, a voter may use a party ballot but vote for members of another party or split his vote. Thus, in a riding where there are four candidates, a voter could vote for two on the party ballot, strike out the remaining two and add the names of the two candidates of another party.

If he adds the name of a person not nominated as a candidate or adds more candidates than there are members to be elected in the riding, the ballot is spoiled.

BRITAIN'S NEW ALUMINIUM CAR IS LOW PRICED

LONDON.—Britain's first factory-produced all-aluminum minicar is ready. On Britain's standard gas ration, which gives a 90 mile a month mileage for ordinary cars, this small three-wheeler will give two adults and a child 300 miles of pleasure motoring. Gas consumption is over 100 miles to the gallon. This machine hums along the road at a comfortable thirty and climbs gradients 1 in 4 with ease. Maximum speed is 40. Total weight of the car is under 300 pounds and the overall length is eight feet. Running costs are almost nil, because there's nothing to go wrong. This runabout will certainly be popular in Britain where the gas ration is small. The price will be popular too. It rates $600.

An unwettable form of DDT was invented in 1947 with excellent film-forming properties.

HOME ECONOMICS INSTRUCTOR SAYS 86c A DAY CAN PROVIDE NOURISHING MEALS

DAVIS, Calif.—A housewife with a calory-conscious eye and a firm grip on her pocketbook can produce three nutritious meals a day for 86 cents.

Miss Lura Morse, home economics instructor of the University of California College of Agriculture, says it's so, despite soaring prices.

But, if the housewife thinks only of the pennies saved and ignores the nutritions lost, her 86 cents will provide a diet far short of a person's food needs, Miss Morse maintains.

The girls in her home economics class prepared two sets of meals, each costing 86 cents in all for breakfast, lunch and dinner.

They don't claim the following meals to be delicious, but they insist they're nutritious.

Breakfast would include a soft-boiled egg, two slices of wholesome toast, butter and grapefruit juice.

One lettuce and cheese sandwich on wholewheat bread, pea soup, lettuce salad with mayonnaise, prune whip and milk would be the economical lunch.

Finally, the model meal for dinner would be fried liver, one baked potato, sliced raw carrots, cabbage salad and mayonnaise dressing, applesauce and milk.

Miss Morse lists the likes of potato salad, cupcakes, baked beans, avocado salad and apple pie as tasty—maybe—but low in food value.

She has helped prepare a chart, H.D. 400, "Checking Food Values in the Daily Diet". Thus, with one eye on the grocery store specials and the other on the chart, the housewife can plan her meals to get the most food value for her money, Miss Morse says.

The chart lists other delectables besides fried liver and prune whip, she adds hopefully.

REAL CO-OPERATION IN NEW YORK COURT CASE

NEW YORK.—Max Luman appeared in court to collect $11 from James Hammond for damage to Luman's automobile. When Hammond said he couldn't pay, Magistrate Hyman Bushel suggested the matter be settled by both Luman and Hammond sending $5 to the New York Heart Association. Hammond agreed on condition that the magistrate donate $5 also. The heart association got $15.

CERTO

It's simply wonderful . . . the difference in jam and jelly-making when you use Certo. You get jams and jellies that look better, taste better, are better . . . and much more of them. That's because Certo is "fruit pectin"—the natural substance in fruit that makes jams "jam" and jellies "jell"—extracted and refined ready for your use.

THE CERTO BOIL IS SO SHORT

With Certo you boil only one-to-two minutes for jams—a half-minute-to-a-minute for jellies. NO prolonged, tedious boiling to make sure your jam or jelly will set. Certo makes all fruits set "just right". This extremely Certo short boil means:

1 You get 50% more jam or jelly because practically none of your precious fruit juice is boiled away.

2 The time you spend is cut down to a fraction.

3 The natural colour and taste of the fresh fruit are retained. The Certo boil is too short to dull the one or spoil the other.

If you are only a beginner, don't worry. You'll have no failures if you follow exactly the recipes provided with Certo. Since different fruits need different handling, there's a separate, kitchen tested recipe for each one.

TRAPPER FOUND BEAVER A VERY GOOD PARTNER

THE PAS, Man.—Of interest to residents of Thicket Portage, the centre of Manitoba's revitalized beaver industry, is the report of last summer's study by J. B. Nash, University of Manitoba biologist, who described a strange engineering partnership between a trapper and his beaver.

The trapper was the late Joseph Hermansky, who died suddenly last fall. Mr. Nash describes how Mr. Hermansky built portions of a dam on his trap line on MacLaren's Creek during the day, and the beaver finished his work each night.

So closely did the trapper and the beaver work together that Mr. Hermansky finally built just the heavy cribbing portions of the dam, confident that next morning all the chinking and filling would be done by the beaver. The plan worked and the [illegible].

OLD SCHOOL REMEMBERED BY OTTAWA ARCHITECT

OTTAWA.—The old school tie was strong with Alban Tracey, Ottawa architect who died May 28.

His will disclosed a trust fund of $1,000 to be used to provide a hamper of apples each Hallowe'en and Christmas for children of No. 2 public school at South March, Ont., 16 miles west of here.

Remainder of the fund will be for proficiency prizes at the school.

PUFF IS WEAKER

WAKEFIELD, England.—Mrs. Ellen Walker, 101, blows a miniature bugle to summon her bachelor son, George, 72, from his nearby vegetable garden. She used to use a regulation army bugle but hasn't "enough puff" now.

Read this Letter re: Grandstand Attractions

Prince Albert, Sask., July 9th, 1948.

Mr. S. C. Heckbert,
Secretary-Manager,
Vermilion Fair.

Dear Mr. Heckbert:

I attended the Moose Jaw Exhibition and the Grandstand Attractions were a 'hit' with the patrons of this exhibition. I have received the following telegram from Mr. Parry, Manager of the Lethbridge Fair "Gus Sun Attractions best platform show ever seen at Lethbridge, cannot praise too highly — suggest you give them plenty of publicity".

The Lethbridge Herald in its story of their Fair headlines the following: "Grandstand show scores a hit at Lethbridge, the Calgary Stampede will have to go a long way to beat the grandstand performance here".

Alderman Shackleford, President of the Lethbridge Fair told the Herald, "for colorful, thrilling, crowd - pleasing entertainment, this is one of the best".

The Moose Jaw Times - Herald said, "the Grandstand Show is packed with action".

Yours very truly,
Gordon M. Cook,
Manager Prince Albert Fair.

Why Cars Are High

When the heavy excise tax was put on cars last November, the government made it clear that the objective was to discourage the purchase of new automobiles.

Today, six months later, states The Financial Post, the objective as far as the excise tax is concerned is as far away as ever. There has been a drop in sales but only because import controls have kept United States-made cars out.

This sales buoyancy has surprised even the most optimistic in the industry. When the sales tax was slapped on it was freely predicted that it would be the brush which would slow up demand and let supply catch up.

Today when you buy a car you're paying anywhere from $325 up in sales and excise tax. But demand is as great as ever.

However the industry is [illegible] about the effect of the excise tax pricing even the cheapest car out of the reach of a large section of the buying public.

ISLAY UNITED CHURCH SCENE OF PRETTY WEDDING

WELIN—McLENNAN

Knox United church, Islay, was the scene of a pretty summer wedding on Friday afternoon when the marriage of Beryl Jean, elder daughter of Mr and Mrs N. A. McLennan, of Islay, to Earl Norman Welin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Welin, of Rivercourse, was solemnized at 2:30 o'clock. The church had been tastefully decorated by friends of the bride and proved a charming setting for the ceremony which was performed by Rev. George Irvine, pastor of the church, in the presence of relatives and many friends of the couple.

To the strains of the Wedding March played by Mrs. W. Roebuck, of Islay, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. Her gown of white net over white satin was styled on princess lines with long sleeves and the floor-length veil fell from a halo head dress. The bride's bouquet was of red roses and fern and her only ornaments were a cameo pendant and ear rings, gift of the groom.

Miss Faye McLennan, only sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and wore a gown of blue silk with lace inserts and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations. The groom's man was Mr. Donald Cameron of Rivercourse, and Messrs Bruce and Kenneth McLennan, brothers of the bride, acted as ushers.

During the signing of the register, Miss Marion Roebuck of Islay, sang very appropriately, "Because", accompanied at the organ by her mother.

The bride's mother was gowned in blue crepe with white accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses and carnations, while the groom's mother chose a blue wool suit with which she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Islay Community hall when about fifty guests were present to tender congratulations and best wishes to the popular couple. Rev Mr. Irvine proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom responded in a few well chosen words. Those who assisted with the serving were Mrs. Jack Carey, and Mrs W. Barnett, and the Misses Mary Barnett, Marion Roebuck, Katherine and Marie Carey, of Islay, and Miss Betty Sutherland, of Wolfville, N.S.

The popularity of the couple was testified to by the large number who attended the wedding dance in the Islay hall in the evening following which Mr and Mrs. Welin left for Trail, B.C. where the groom is employed by the Consolidated Mining & Smelting Co. Many of the guests accompanied the bridal party to the train to extend best wishes for the future. For travelling the bride chose a grey wool suit with red and white accessories and a green top coat. The bride who is a native of Islay, has been for the past five years a successful teacher in the districts of Fenham, Rivercourse and Dewberry and was tendered several showers and other social functions previous to her marriage.

The best wishes of a host of friends and relatives follow the happy couple to their new home in British Columbia.

DEWBERRY

So many people are going and coming these days to and from vacations that we just cannot keep track of them. Mr and Mrs Frank Bowman once again made their annual trip to the Calgary Stampede.

Eight girls from the C.G.I.T. group have been to camp at Elk Island park. These were Joan and June Bowman, Bernice Romanchuk, Emma Axley, Bertha Landen, Phyllis Walker and Evelyn Parker.

Despite the dry climate up here we have yet to see a ball tournament finished this year due chiefly to darkness and showers. As a result the Dewberry ball team, playing a snappy brand of ball has shared in quite a lot of prize money. The latest win was a first prize split with Lloydminster at the Streamstown sports.

To Mr and Mrs Ralph Landen and Mr and Mrs H. Williscroft congratulations are extended on the births of sons at the Islay hospital.

Yes, it is vacation time and on Sundays one notices a lot of motor traffic. One afternoon was nearly spoiled by a car coming up a hill on the wrong side as we came over. We had time to notice the car only and its badly dented fenders indicated other collisions. Let us all be more careful and keep to the right when going up steep hills.

While on the subject of traffic we wonder when people are going to learn to park their cars and trucks the right way in Dewberry. On Saturday afternoon our street looks like a checkerboard. When we bought our driver's licence we signed the card that we were familiar with all the traffic regulations. If you don't know them, then find out—accidents are preventable.

Ladies' Softball

Vermilion ladies' softball team plays a doubleheader here on the Fair grounds against the Lloydminster Fliers at 2 p.m. and 5 p.m. Sunday, July 18th. 7c

33 Road Projects On Alberta Program

Provincial road work is being advanced on 33 different projects in various parts of the province, according to information received by the officials of Alberta Motor Association.

Thus, the appropriation of $12,500,000 for highway improvements this year is getting well under way. Several gravelling contracts have been awarded and tenders have been called on a group of new jobs listed for this season.

Surfacing, grading and gravelling are well under way as crews are taking full advantage of fine construction weather. The work extends from near the U.S. border in the south to the Peace River district in the north.

Work also is under way on secondary and district roads for which substantial appropriations also were made at the last session of the legislature.

Meeting recently for their semi-annual sessions, the provincial directors of the A.M.A. pointed to the need of detours being properly designated for the information of the public. Also, it was suggested that at certain sections where a detour was impassable, it was the responsibility of the contractor or provincial authorities to see that required tractor or other equipment was at hand to pull cars through the bad section.

Fight Pictures at Columbia Theatre

The pictures of the heavyweight championship fight between Joe Louis and Jersey Joe Walcott, will be shown at the Columbia theatre July 15, 16 and 17th. [illegible]

Woodvale News

(Intended for last week's Standard.)

The rain and thundershowers missed the Woodvale district last week but quite a bit of rain fell around Tolland. There was at one time quite an unusual display of color during one of the storms, the clouds being all hues of orange instead of the threatening grey and black.

Several families of Woodvale, Hindville and Union districts attended an evangelistic meeting at Greenshields early this month. Chester Rankin left our district to devote himself to this kind of work. He helped with the Greenshields meeting but just where he will preach in Alberta we have not heard at time of writing. He will be very much missed here but we all wish him success and satisfaction in his new career. While her parents and Ruth were away Joan Rankin and her sister Mrs. Ruby Pierman did the chores at home and also looked after Kehnoe store in the daytime.

Mrs. Ross has developed into quite an enthusiastic tractor fan and has been driving their Ford-Ferguson for visits to her son Alec in the Turkey Hill district and her daughter in Thorncliffe. Jim enjoys being a back-seat driver for a change; his only worry is that his wife will want to go visiting in this new fashion all the time and not give him a chance to work the land with it.

Harry Turner has a phone installed and his temporary ring is of all things 5 long. There are so many subscribers now that a double circuit is being made and rings might change in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Green and daughter Jean are living in Edmonton now where they have bought a home. Their son is staying with them and is employed by a trucking firm while Mr. Green is in the civil service now.

Mrs. C. Frieldland has been a patient in the hospital with a light touch of pneumonia. We were glad to hear that she is back home and hope there will be no one else come down with it as there are quite a few cases reported in other districts.

Little Art Brown who has been staying with his grandparents Mr and Mrs. T Hobbs, ever since his twin sisters arrived, has been sick with a high fever. Apparently the doctor was unable to diagnose the illness right away. We wish him a very speedy recovery.

One of the local farmers ordered a John Deere D tractor a short while ago; when he could take delivery last week the price had jumped $200. One look at his crop and he found it wiser to cancel the order.

Mr Kerns of the agricultural school in Vermilion is making some tests for the government to find out if the soils around Vermilion are short on cobalt. Sheep are used for the experiment. Five ewes on the Van Wageningen farm are fed capsules at two weeks intervals. The sheep are weighed at the beginning of the test and 5 other sheep also, who do not get the extra minerals. Gains in weight and health and the weight of lambs will be carefully checked and compared.

The ladies of the Red Cross will be very annoyed with the writer in forgetting to mention that they had a gentleman guest at the last meeting who helped them stitch on the quilt. You have to ask Mr. McGrath who sat beside him if he made a good job of it. We hope so and I'm sure too that they will invite him again and also other gentlemen who are handy with the needle.

School closed in [illegible] with a picnic where ball games were played and races held, the one where Mrs. Wolters tied with Mrs. Steele was enjoyed the most by the spectators. Lunches were pooled for supper and with ice cream to top it off, was very much enjoyed by all. As one young fellow exclaimed 'Was I ever stuffed'.

The youth meetings held by Mr. Hills on Tuesday evenings are enjoyed by young and old. Games are played, sing-song around the piano, a talk by Mr. Hills and sometimes there are guest speakers or singers from Vermilion. Now that school is over maybe some more youngsters from surrounding districts could come over to take in these pleasant get-togethers which are specially planned for them.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs Art Lysons on the birth of a baby daughter Elizabeth Ann on Dominion Day. With so many of the Lysons clan and their good friends on the ball team we have an idea that Elizabeth Ann's arrival that day had something to do with the team losing at the [illegible]

The Trend Of World Trade

WORLD TRADE IS ALWAYS a complex matter and unsettled economic conditions abroad have caused much speculation as to the outcome of the present situation. Great Britain, always an important trading nation has because of the serious dollar shortage there been forced to look more and more to those countries which are within the sterling area for the goods which she must import. Consequently in Canada which is a dollar country there is some anxiety as to whether Britain will continue to buy the greater part of her imported food supplies here or whether [illegible] trade may be diverted to countries within the sterling area. [illegible] concern over this matter since there are many [illegible] that Britain intends to [illegible] her purchases of food in those [illegible] with the dollar shortage is not a consideration.

• • • • •

May Become A Competitor

It is believed that Australia may become one important competitor in supplying the British food market. Recently Sir Henry Turner of the United Kingdom Food Ministry, commenting on discussions which have taken place with the Australian government regarding [illegible] said that Australia could become a vast [illegible] of Europe. The British [illegible] increasing food production [illegible] in a position to send supplies to the United Kingdom. [illegible] supplies for the British market is [illegible] Queensland and it is also planned to sow large areas in [illegible] from which [illegible] can be obtained to make margarine which is [illegible] Britain.

Plan Expansion In Australia

There are also plans for great expansion in the production of meat and eggs in Australia. In East Africa arrangements are being made to raise vast [illegible] and [illegible] where [illegible] are [illegible] At present the world food situation is such that there are markets for all that is produced, and we have recently been warned that Canada will be required to experience shortages of some things as a result of this country's participation in the European Recovery Program. There is no doubt, however, that the future is uncertain and that in all probability there will be many adjustments in the pattern of world trade. It is to be hoped that Canada will not find markets for her farm products depleted as a result of this apparently inevitable adjustment.

Days Of Peace Tough As War, Says Churchill

PERTH, Scotland.—Winston Churchill, accepting the freedom of the city with honors heretofore only given to Royalty, warned that the days of peace were no less difficult than those of war.

"The biggest effort must be made not only in days of struggle and in war but in many ways the more difficult times of peace," Churchill said.

He said the battle for peace requires the full united effort of our whole nation, of all classes and parties in it, in order that we may arise again to the great position we held when all was dark.

Predicts Men May Fly Like Birds

CAMBRIDGE.—People may be able to fly like birds in 20 years, says Roger Babson.

The economist told an 1898 class reunion at Massachusetts Institute of Technology:

"There probably will be discovered some product which insulates against gravity. This would make it possible for an individual to stand on something three feet square and a few inches thick and eliminate his weight so that he could fly personally with or without the aid of a motor."

Night Driving Can Be Very Dangerous

Driving in the dazzling light of an oncoming car is dangerous business; dangerous alike to the dazzler and the dazzled. And it is so unnecessary. To dim the lights of a car is so simple and easy a task that it seems that the danger involved by not doing so would compel a motorist approaching another car at night to take this simple precaution against the possibility of accident to his own car as well as the cars of others. It should not take a law to bring about the dimming of headlights. Common decency demands that a motorist practice this simple rule of night driving etiquette for it is etiquette, and good manners are just as essential on the roads as in the ballroom.

Preserving : EGGS :

Dry Packing: Eggs which are to be kept for a short time only can be preserved by packing them in bran, shorts, oats, sawdust or salt. Great care must be taken to see that the packing material is perfectly dry and free from dust and odors. There is always danger of losing eggs by mould on the inside of the shell. If the packing material carries any odor it will be absorbed by the eggs and render them undesirable for food.

Salt, unless perfectly dry, has a tendency to cake and make it difficult if not impossible, to remove the eggs. The dampness may come from the eggs themselves, hence this method of packing is not generally practiced.

Lime Method: The lime solution is made by slaking three pounds of good quicklime in a small amount of water. Add the milk of the lime thus formed to three gallons of water. Keep the mixture well stirred for a day, then allow the excess of lime to settle and use only the clear liquid.

Some people prefer to add salt to the mixture, using about ½ as much salt as lime. They claim that the eggs keep better and have a better flavor. This solution is extensively used, however, it is generally conceded that the lime solution requires more time and attention in preparation, and the results are no better than when using water-glass.

Water-Glass: Eggs preserved in water-glass will keep several months and can be used for all kinds of cooking, can be scrambled, fried or poached but can not be boiled unless a hole is made in the large end of the egg with a pin or needle to permit the air to escape. The yolk, in water-glass preserved eggs, is liable to break easily and the white becomes watery and does not beat up well.

When preserving in water-glass use a five-gallon crock or jar, being sure it is thoroughly clean and dry. Bring nine quarts of water to boiling point and, when cool, place it in the crock. Add one quart of water-glass (sodium silicate) and stir and mix thoroughly. Put in the eggs.

This quantity will be enough for preserving 14 to 15 dozen eggs, which may be immersed in the solution all at one time or added as they accumulate.

Be sure that the solution is always at least two inches above the eggs at all times. Cover the crock to prevent evaporation.

FIRE CHIEF'S SOLO WAS INTERRUPTED

FLIN FLON, Man.—Nero fiddled while Rome burned. And Flin Flon's fire chief Walter Edmon pulled a Nero here recently, at least until the shriek of the fire siren drowned out the chief's solo at the annual fireman's ball.

And while the fair sex was left to talk of many things, Chief Redman led the charge of the fire brigade, squelched a chimney fire and returned to the party. He finished his solo, and an enjoyable time was had by all.

Population Trend Worries Great Britain

Fear Within Next 20 Years Nation Will Be Composed Mostly Of Very Young And Old

LONDON.—Britain lives in the shadow of an impending population crisis.

That is the opinion of population experts who warn the country is in danger of becoming a land composed mostly of the very young and the very old within the next 20 years. The reasons, they say, are a retreat from parenthood and a draining of middle-aged groups through migration.

Those are the main findings of a report just issued by Political and Economic Planning, an independent, non-party fact-finding organization. It has been probing population trends since 1938.

To counter these population prospects for Britain, the report suggested adoption of a "population policy" by the government. This should strive to increase the average family to 2½ children and create conditions where people will want, as well as be able, to have "four or five" children.

The report predicted that Britain's population of 45,000,000 will be down 1,830,000 in 1970. At the same time that of western, central and northern Europe will be down by 9,000,000, that of southern and eastern Europe up by 27,000,000 and that of Russia up by 77,000,000.

The report also suggested that in the next 30 years population growth would halt in Canada, Australia, the United States and among white South Africans. But it expects to continue "for several generations" in South America.

The report said that migration of the young and vigorous to the Dominions can only make Britain's age structure still more disadvantageous. This could be prevented only if the Dominions accept "an appropriate percentage of those who are a burden on the community." But prospects of other countries admitting a cross-section of Britain's population "are probably slight."

The report also found that the present increased birthrate in Britain may well be a temporary consequence of the war. It expected numbers soon would cease to increase and the population of elderly people "will grow from year to year."

THIS SAILOR REALLY STARTED SOMETHING

SAN FRANCISCO.—Fred Rutart, 60, retired seaman, put on his yogi suit and went out on a fire escape.

A woman on the street screamed.

A bartender came out of a corner saloon and bellowed "He's going to jump."

Neighbors screamed "Fire!"

Someone called the police, who learned that:

Rutart's yogi suit is long underwear.

It's all yogi. While I was a seaman on the Great Lakes I saw a sign in Chicago 'Indo psychology taught here.' I learned yogi: inhale six, stop for 16 heartbeats, exhale eight.

"If it wasn't for yogi I wouldn't be here," Rutart told the cops.

That explanation seemed to satisfy everyone.

Compensations

I have never seen the moonlight dancing upon the ocean wide;
But I have seen the moonbeams dancing on pools across the countryside.

I have never seen a day a-dawning from the top of a mountain high;
But I have seen a prairie sunrise make glad a summer sky.

I have never heard a nightingale, or seen a peacock's fine array;
But I have seen an oriole flashing and heard a robin's roundelay.

Not for me has been the pleasure of wearing orchids rich and rare;
But I have had children's fingers twine daisies in my hair.

It has not been my lot to travel

But God has given me eyes to see all the beauties around my home.

When one looks about the country side, it is hard to believe that the month is July, with crops so backward and gardens patchy. Though hopes are still high for rain, a good 3-day soaker—the showers which have fallen over the district have been of slight benefit. There are reports of [illegible] and lateness [illegible] coming up since the rain of Friday and Saturday 25th and 6th. Other days on which are some showers were 29th, 1st, 2nd, 4th and 5th. In most cases very light, except for Thursday's storm, when some parts suffered hail damage. The entire western half of the district was swept by a heavy rain, accompanied by hail.

Jim Panter is doing some breaking for Harry Good. Others busy at clearing and breaking are Leo Klashinsky and C. Kostman in this immediate vicinity. Many bonfires showing along the horizon indicate activities of a similar nature farther away.

Last week practically all the menfolk were out on the telephone line on repair work.

On Friday 25th, a party was held at Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Hutchinson's in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Krosen (nee Beulah Anderson) when friends gathered to present the young couple with congratulations and all good wishes for a very happy future. A pleasant evening was spent in visiting and a delicious lunch was served at the close of the evening.

Joe Farkash Jr. is the possessor of a new Case tractor.

On July 1st workmen were busy at Mr. Joe Farkash Sr. putting the color coat on the house.

At Mrs. Matt Farkash's the boys are moving the old house from its present site, upon which they plan to begin laying the concrete foundation for the new house.

School closing was celebrated on the 30th with a number of the mothers in the district joining Miss Spak and the children in a weiner roast during that afternoon. Miss Spak left by bus that evening for her home in Vegreville.

There was a fairly good representation of folks from hereabouts at the Mannville sports on the 1st. The rain during the late afternoon, however, caused the cancellation of the final ball game.

The A.F.U. meeting held on Friday evening July 2nd was poorly attended, hence it has been decided to call another meeting for Friday, 9th. A number of important resolutions came up for discussion, these to be presented at the convention at Wainwright on

BY DOMINION DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE — JULY 22, 23, 24

Exhibition visitors will see the smartest-looking most informative agricultural exhibit yet displayed by the Dominion Department of Agriculture at Vermilion Fair which opens July 22nd.

Designed for Western Canada Class B fair circuit, the exhibit is built around three large, colorful panels, each with a story to tell.

The panels stress the increased returns available to farmers through feeding coarse grains to hogs; the necessity of proper soil moisture conservation practices; and, the opportunity for additional income to be gained through taking care in the handling and marketing of eggs.

Ready for shipment, the exhibit weighs 500 pounds and packs away into five cases. But it only takes an hour for two men to set it up on display.

July 21st. Also under discussion was the coarse grains marketing question.

Donnie and Bernie Klashinsky, who have been attending school at Clandonald are now home for the holidays.

Mrs. Leo Klashinsky and Sandra plan to leave on Tuesday the 6th for Vancouver where they are to spend some time visiting Mrs. Klashinsky's parents Mr. and Mrs. Shupe and her brother, Ray and family. Donnie is to be chief cook and bottle-washer while his mother is away.

Modern Harvesters' Excursion to Help Canadian Farmers

A New Era in Harvesting Started by Massey-Harris Combines

Trainloads of Massey-Harris combines, rolling [illegible] are a common sight nowadays. They have replaced the [illegible] excursions which brought thousands of harvest hands to the prairies.

Modern mechanical harvesters like the Massey-Harris self-propelled [illegible] many advantages to grain growers. With them, crops can be harvested with the minimum of manual labor, a great money-saving feature when in times like these experienced farm help is in short supply and wage rates are high.

Massey-Harris self-propelled combines speed up harvesting—one man can cut and thresh 50 acres and upwards in a day. Operating costs are low too with a self-propelled—one motor supplies power to propel and operate the machine. There is no expense for twine or stooking. And the combine has done away with the work, worry and expense of threshing time.

The demand for combines indicates the trend towards modern mechanical harvesting. From factories with capacity increased greatly, more and more Massey-Harris combines are being built to help Canadian farmers harvest their crops easier, quicker and at less cost.

The Lunch Box

The lunch carried from home requires thought in planning so that it will be satisfying, nutritious and appetizing. The container used plays a large part in keeping the lunch in good condition.

The lunch box should be dust-proof, well ventilated and easily washed. Metal boxes have these advantages, and when collapsible they are easy to carry home. Some are arranged in compartments and are equipped with thermos bottles.

Baskets are not easily cleaned and unless the food is well wrapped, it dries out quickly.

Fibre boxes are cheap, but they are absorbent and therefore hard to keep clean.

Wax paper, paper napkins, paper plates and containers, paper or collapsible metal cups, thermos bottles and sealtight jars all add to preparing lunches.

The container should be lined with a paper napkin and each article wrapped separately in waxed paper, and placed in the order in which the food will be eaten. Articles should be packed compactly so that the food cannot be shaken about.

The lunch box menu should be planned to include a substantial food, a juicy fruit or vegetable, a simple dessert and a beverage.

Sandwiches, which are usually included, should be made from day-old bread, which may be Graham, whole wheat, rye, rolls or white bread.

In cutting the bread, arrange the slices so that they will fit together.

Cream the butter or butter substitute until soft enough to spread easily. The butter tends to prevent a soft filling from making the bread soggy.

Veal Birds

1½ pounds veal steak
½ cup flour
2 tablespoons fat
1½ cups boiling water

Wipe veal and trim off fat, cut into 6 pieces of uniform size, spread each piece with stuffing, roll and fasten with tooth-picks. Roll the birds in part of the flour and brown in melted fat. Remove and add the rest of the flour and boiling water — make a smooth gravy. Place birds in a casserole, pour the gravy over them and bake 1 hour at (350 deg. F.). Fill with stuffing.

WEDDING BELLS

EVANS—LURA

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Alchim of Edmonton was the scene of a recent wedding of interest to Vermilion and district people when Lorraine Elinore Lura became the bride of Gerald C. Evans. The Rev. Bainbridge of McDougall United church officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lura formerly of the Maughan district and now of Edmonton. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Evans of Edmonton.

The bride was becomingly dressed in a white gown and carried a bouquet of deep red American Beauty roses. The bridesmaid was Miss Grace Herder of Edmonton who was dressed in a gown of pale blue and her bouquet was of pink roses. Miss May Lura, dressed in blue, was the flower girl.

Mr. William Lura, brother of the bride, acted as best man.

The young couple are now honeymooning at Jasper and Banff. On their return they will make their home in Edmonton.

Bride-Elect Feted

Miss Janet MacKenzie, bride-elect of early August spent the forepart of last week shopping in town a guest with her mother Mrs. A. G. Brase.

Arriving home Tuesday night after a long full day, Janet was very much surprised to find their house filled with friends. In spite of the fact that the party was almost impromptu [illegible] managed to attend. The hostess and joint hostess Mrs. L. Mc[illegible] and Mrs. F. Chessick assisted by [illegible] and Helen Brase served lunch. To initiate the bride into farm life a gift-filled wheelbarrow, led by [illegible] was wheeled in and found to hold some very lovely and useful gifts. Janet (though her pupils would have echoed her with no lesson ready) thanked everyone in a few nicely chosen words and takes with her the good wishes of all present for great happiness in the years ahead.

HEAVY LOSS IN TRUCK CRASH

One large transport trailer truck belonging to Fiqel is a complete loss, while a small cementing truck, the property of the Imwell company is badly damaged as the result of a collision on the highway 2 miles east of Burnside. The Fiqel transport careened off into the ditch where it turned over and burned. The driver managed to jump to safety before the huge vehicle hit the ditch. The cement truck weighing a good many tons, suffered considerable damage to front wheels and front end. The accident happened Saturday night. No one was injured.

AIR CADETS TO FLY TO PATRICIA BAY

SPECIAL AWARD FOR FINE SHOWING ON MAY 29th

Will Take Off from Vermilion Airfield

The members of Vermilion Air Cadet Squadron No. 97 and members of the Kitscoty Air Cadet sub-unit, will have the thrill of a lifetime on Sunday Aug. 1st when they will emplane at Vermilion airport in two Dakotas to be taken to Patricia Bay air cadet camp. One of the big Dakota planes is supplied by NWAC Edmonton and the other by 121 Com. Flight Station Vancouver.

The order governing this move makes interesting reading, as the boys earned the trip by air themselves. The order reads as follows:

"The AOC-NWAC has directed that the personnel of 97 Squadron be flown to and from their summer camp, in recognition of the very creditable showing of this Squadron during the recent visit of His Excellency the Governor-General."

The foregoing is a fine compliment to the Kitscoty and Vermilion Air Cadets, together with their officers F/Lt Walker, Ridington and Batty. It was the wish of Air Vice-Marshall [illegible] that some tangible return be made to them, and he ordered that the above be issued.

Congratulations are also due to the men who helped instruct the cadets, and to the foresighted [illegible] of Vermilion whose efforts have produced an airfield large enough to accommodate this type of aircraft.

Farm Women Enjoy Week at the V.S.A.

Some 60 ladies from farm homes over a wide area of central Alberta attended Farm Women's week at the Vermilion school of agriculture July 5th to 9th. Districts with the most representatives among the registered guests were Kitscoty and Westlock, but McLaughlin, Chauvin, Rimstone, Sedgewick, Clandonald, Vermilion and several other points had two or more representatives in attendance.

Features of the program in addition to the lectures and demonstrations by members of Home Economics teaching staff and specialists from the Women's Extension Service of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, included inspection of the school grounds, gardens and field crops demonstration plots, a series of talks on community organization by Mr. L. Pinder and a demonstration on flower arrangements, community singing led by Mr. D. C. Folk and a banquet at which Dr. C. [illegible] was the guest speaker. Entertainment for the last evening of their visit at the school was arranged by a committee of the ladies including Mrs. Annie M. Garnett, Mrs. R. C. Smith, Mrs. M. Sutherland and Mrs. H. Teasdale.

Following the banquet, Mrs. D. C. Smith of Westlock took occasion to express on behalf of the ladies who attended, their keen appreciation of the educational program and hospitable entertainment provided by the staff during the week. The enthusiasm of all who had attended this year, she said, indicated that they would look forward to returning next year and bring many of their friends with them.

SEVEN NEW TEACHERS NEEDED

FOR VERMILION STAFF

When the deadline for teacher resignations, July 20th rolled around it was found that seven new teachers were required for the town staff for the term beginning Sept. 1st.

The resignations included that of W. G. Hay, principal of the high school who has been appointed school superintendent, Mrs. Cloe Loy of the high school staff who goes to a teaching position at the coast. Miss Helen Giesbrecht has resigned from the intermediate staff and four of the elementary staff are leaving including Miss Evelyn Green who goes to the Edmonton city teaching staff, Misses Leslie Robson and Pat McCallum have been appointed to the High River town staff and Miss Florence Johnson leaves to be married.

The elementary school vacancies have already been filled with appointments to the two high school and one intermediate position expected this week.

All of which adds greatly to the general appearance of the business section of the town.

W. R. Cornish Social Credit Candidate

UNANIMOUS CHOICE OF THE CONVENTION

W. R. Cornish, sitting M.L.A. for the Vermilion constituency, was the unanimous choice of the Social Credit convention held at Mannville last Saturday afternoon. Nomination of Mr. Cornish was the only one placed before the delegates.

Mr. Cornish has been interested in Social Credit since the early days of the movement. He won the nomination in 1944 when the seat was vacated by the late Hon. W. A. Fallow, and went on to carry the constituency on the first count. He polled 2[illegible] votes, the C.C.F. candidate 949 and Labor Progressive 909.

New Street Lighting System Effective

Vermilion's new system of street lights is now in operation and is proving very effective. The tall slim steel standards are quite decorative and relieve the former rather cluttered appearance caused by the old system of closely spaced wooden poles. All the latter have now been removed by Canadian Utilities.

The new system of street lighting will be greatly enhanced with proper window lighting of the business houses, not many premises have effective window lights and the difference is really startling with the [illegible] evidence.

Vermilion Principal Appointed School Superintendent

W. G. Hay, M.A., for the past two years principal of the Vermilion high school, has been appointed an Alberta school superintendent and will commence his new duties with the coming September term. Announcement of the appointment was made by the minister of education on Friday last week. The school board received notification from both Mr. Hay and the Department at that time also. Allocation of the school division which Mr. Hay will superintend has not been decided.

Mr. Hay came to Vermilion as science teacher on the high school staff in 1939. In 1942 he joined the R.C.A.F. Following his discharge from the services in 1946 he returned to Vermilion as acting-principal of the high school. Following Mr. Dussault's resignation one year ago Mr. Hay was appointed principal. The school loses an outstanding principal and teacher and the town an excellent citizen and community worker and the same can be truly said of Mrs. Hay, but Gordon is being showered with congratulations upon this very commendable promotion [illegible] superintendents.

Vermilion W.I. Wins Dist. Award

The July meeting of the Vermilion Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Linsdell. Eleven members and one visitor were present. Plans were made to send a parcel of clothing to the flood victims of B.C., also a donation of $10. Later in the evening the Wool committee met at the home of Mrs. Green and arranged for the wool display.

The annual conference of which Vermilion W.I. is a member took place on Friday July 9th. About 70 members and visitors attended. A grand display of handicraft was on view, crocheting, embroidery, knitting, [illegible] craft, burnt wood work and hand painting. We only wish more Vermilion ladies could have seen it! We are very proud of winning the silver cup this year for our display of all-para articles. These consisted of baby sets, ski outfits, toys and novelties, socks of all kinds, pram cover and sweaters all made by W.I. members during the past year. A few of these articles will be on sale at a later date. Our next meeting will be in October at Mrs. W. Bell's. In the meantime a good parcel will go overseas each month.

ISLAY

Mr and Mrs. Bill Hancock are having a new house built.

Mr and Mrs Charlie Robertson are having quite an extension built on to their house under supervision of John Shaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Ott have been renewing acquaintances in and around Islay.

Saskatoons are very plentiful this season. New potatoes are a fine sample too.

WEDDING BELLS

LANG—LEWIS

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the United church manse Vermilion July 1st, when Bertha Beverly Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lewis, was united in marriage with Melvin Lang, son of Mr and Mrs. John Lang, of Banff, previously of Islay. The Rev. F. S. Reikie officiated. Miss Gladys Lang was the bridesmaid and Mr Eugene Lewis was the groomsman.

The bride's gown was a white jersey with lace yoke embroidered with gold flowers. She wore a blue calot with short veil and carried red roses.

The bridesmaid was gowned in a pale blue net dress with a calot and veil to match. She also carried red roses.

The immediate family attended the wedding, the groom's mother coming from Banff.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where a wedding supper was served. The newly weds sponsored a dance at night in the hall after which they spent a short honeymoon at points west. Mr and Mrs. Lang will reside in Islay where Melvin is employed on the C.N.R.

CLANDONALD

We have to voice the same complaint as Dewberry did last week, so many people are going and coming to and from vacation trips these days we can hardly keep track of them either. However, we will mention a few of those we happen to have met.

Mr and Mrs Kirkpatrick, their two children and Mrs. Kirkpatrick's mother Mrs. M Convey motored up from Regina recently and spent some time visiting here making their headquarter at Tony Convey's. Kirk, as he is better known as, spent only a day or so here returning later for Mrs. Kirkpatrick and the children. Mrs. Convey is staying a while longer and when she returns will accompany them to Montreal where Kirk has a position as P.T. instructor at one of the universities in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Harpham and son Harry of Clover Bar district spent about ten days here visiting at Cliff Stockwell's and with other friends.

Mr and Mrs Arthur Cameron are up from Calgary renewing acquaintances here and staying with Mrs. Cameron's sister Mrs. S Filgate. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Forsyth also spent two weeks here with Mrs. Filgate. Mrs. Harry Drake is spending several days with her mother at Hay Lakes.

Also noticed around town were the Stonehouse twins, Bob and Bill.

HAY RESERVES NEEDED ...

Agricultural authorities are advising farmers to put up as much fodder as possible. Last winter was long, with heavy snow, and feed reserves have been exhausted. Furthermore there is a serious shortage of hay in the Fraser Valley of B.C. due to this spring's floods, and anywhere from 20,000 to 25,000 tons may have to be imported by the farmers there.

WEATHER ...

Hot dry weather has prevailed for the past week. Warmest day was Monday with 88 while the cool spots were Saturday and Sunday evenings when 46 was registered.

BASEBALL

In the three team league Tolland defeated Buffalo Coulee 5-2 while Vermilion won from Tolland 9-8.

Vermilion plays at Tolland on Sunday. Tolland at Buffalo Coulee Thursday.

The Vermilion Bostons lost a doubleheader on the local diamond on Sunday to the Lloydminster Fliers. Scores were 15-2 and 11-6.

English Plane Spends Night at Local 'Port

An English Auster plane landed at the Vermilion airport on the night of July 17th. The plane remained overnight, was refueled and proceeded on to Edmonton the next morning. The machine was from the joint air school at Rivers, Man., and was piloted by Capt Sutherland. He plans a return trip to Vermilion in 2 or 3 weeks' time.

Letters to the Editor

(This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed by correspondents.)

Vermilion, Alberta,
July 19th, 1948.

Dear Mr. Editor,

I would like to challenge a statement made by your Allandale correspondent in the July 15th issue of the Standard. He is writing about the dry weather, and finishes his remarks with this statement (I quote) "for the fact is, that except for dry ice experiments to rain, nothing can be done."

He is quite wrong — in St. John's Gospel chap. 16 verse 23, we find these words, spoken by Jesus to His disciples—"Whatsoever ye shall ask the Father in My Name He will give it you." With sincere and humble belief, in the fulfillment of this promise, we can pray God for His blessed gift of rain, and our prayers will be answered —when our prayers are answered let us not forget to say "Thank you"

Yours sincerely,
Grace A. Dary

FARMING IS THE BASIC INDUSTRY OF A NATION

The following is part of an article written by Harold M. Morris, M.A., a member of the Vocational Guidance section of the Province of Quebec Psychological Association, who ran a series of occupational descriptions in The Montreal Star in the hope that high school girls and boys may be able to survey vocations in the world of work:

IN CANADA, farming has always been a basic industry. Over one-third of its total population derives its livelihood from the soil or live on a farm. There are over 1,300,000 farmers or farm workers living on over 700,000 farms. Farming today, whether measured by income, production or number of persons employed remains one of the most important, if not the most important, industries in Canada and the world.

The duties of the farmer vary a great deal depending upon the type of farming carried on, the size of the farm, the location, the weather and many other variable factors. A typical general farmer has some livestock on a farm of from eighty to one hundred and sixty acres, and raises a variety of crops. He plants, cultivates, ploughs and harvests several crops each year, varying his selection of crops as he thinks it will be most profitable for him from year to year. A general farmer also includes truck crops (vegetables), some fruit and nut trees and patches of berries among the things he raises. In addition his combination of crops may include anything that can be raised on a farm. To provide meat, milk and eggs for the family table, he usually keeps a few pigs, a cow or two, and a flock of hens. The general farmer often obtains most of the family's food from his own farm.

Duties in Detail

A few of the more specific duties which a farmer must do include: plough either with horse or tractor; decide on amount and kind of fertilizer to use; seed or plant crops; hoe roots and vegetables, cultivate; cut, rake, load and stack hay; control insect and plant diseases, cut and thresh grain, milk cows, rear calves, feed and care for livestock and take care of the huge variety of things to be done on a farm. In addition, the farmer must be a business man since farming is a business today, and he must keep records of his expenses and income, manage his finances and plan in advance on the market for his product.

Farming is a hard job which requires brains as well as brawn. There is no such thing as stated hours of work. Farming is a twenty-four hour, seven day a week job. Since the farmer is dealing with a variable product which is dependent upon such things as seasons, weather and the whims of Mother Nature, he must be ready at any time of day or night to work in the fields or assist in the dairy.

Although many farms are now equipped with modern devices, there are still many rural communities [illegible] conveniences of running water, electricity, modern bathrooms and heating systems. Modern machinery has eliminated much of the heavier work on a farm, although not all farms have this machinery available. Even with this machinery however there are still many jobs which require long hours of arduous labor. The work is varied from season to season and from day to day. Most work is out of doors, but many chores, particularly on a dairy farm, also require several hours of work indoors.

Qualifications Of A Farmer

Since farming requires physical soundness strength and endurance, good health is a prime pre-requisite. A farmer must also have a certain love for nature and the out-of-doors. This love must be a practical one, and not an artistic or poetic love. It must arise from an understanding of nature. The same holds true for the love of animals, it must be practical and not esthetic.

It is no longer true that just anyone can operate a farm. A farmer must have average or above average mental ability. He must be able to grasp the practical problems of farm management. He must be able to read and study new and changed methods of farming. Intelligence is needed to farm successfully. Good judgment and practical business sense is also a must if he is to make practical plans for producing and marketing. He must be able to figure out where his profits lie and where his losses are incurred.

A person should not consider farming unless he is systematic, thorough and conscientious, for that very often spells the difference between a profit and a loss. A systematic person is needed, for throughout the year careful planning of time and labor is necessary, and accounts must be kept regularly. Thoroughness and conscientiousness is needed, for it is not sufficient to plant a garden; it must be cared for regularly, understood, and handled with skillful workmanship.

Government officials have pointed out from experience with the Veteran's Land Act that the attitude of the farmer's wife to farming is a most important factor.

Farming provides the opportunity for a healthful outdoor life, away from the smoke and grime of the city, with plenty of fresh air. It is conducive to physical and moral health. The work is seldom monotonous as there is always a great variety of jobs to be done. It is interesting work especially if one likes to work with the soil and with animals. The personal and household expenses of the farmer are minimum inasmuch as most of the food and shelter is provided for. As a rule farmers live well when compared with city dwellers of the same income. Farming also offers a definite security of employment, there is no danger of losing one's job or of being laid off for old age. Farmers have always lived the most independent of lives, and are provided with the opportunity for stimulating experiences. Success is more certain in this occupation for the qualified industrious worker than in many other types of work.

On the other hand though the farmer is exposed to all kinds of weather, very long hours of work and more days a week than most other types of work. A certain amount of capital is needed before one can embark on this career, and there is a minimum of social life, often he must work alone and like it. Income is much more irregular than in other occupations, due to fluctuating climate, over production and sale of products. There is also the constant risk of crop failure, drought animal diseases and changes in market prices. Those who will want to take a yearly vacation will find farming very unsympathetic as vacations are practically impossible and come very seldom.

What The Future May Hold

It is difficult to say how the farmer will fare in the future. Until just recently there has been a shortage of farms and farmers, and many experts have stated that there cannot be too many people training to become farmers. Lately there has been a "back to the farm" movement and it is becoming increasingly difficult to obtain a productive farm. However, throughout the ages farming has offered opportunity, security and satisfaction to countless thousands. It is the consensus of opinion that it offers the same opportunity to qualified members of the present day generation.

Health
LEAGUE of CANADA
presents
TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

SAYS EDUCATION FOR RESTAURANT HELP NECESSARY

Regulation plus education is essential if high standards of sanitation are to be the rule in all public eating places, it is stated by H. Cecil Rhodes in an article "Regulation plus Education equals Sanitation" in the current issue of Health, official magazine of the Health League of Canada.

The author, who is Director of the Health League's Division of Community Health Services, [illegible] regulations are useful only if they are taken seriously by those concerned. Regulation alone had proved inadequate because of a widespread tendency on the part of restaurant operators to ignore, or not insist upon staff observances of some of the requirements, and because there generally were not enough inspectors available to do the necessary checking.

Mr. Rhodes expresses the opinion that "voluntary application of good work practices, brought about [illegible] knowing why such practices are good and desirable will assure more satisfactory observance of the regulations." These regulations were made necessary because, from the public health point of view, restaurant sanitation is a serious matter.

It is stated that the value of practical health education programs for restaurant employees is rapidly receiving acceptance in Canada. The author describes a plan available to any community or group in the Dominion, developed by the Health League when it decided to tackle the restaurant [illegible] problem through educational processes.

Training its sights on careless foodhandling practices, the League decided to direct its efforts toward [illegible] more obvious and easily corrected faults such as:

Careless handling of food with unclean hands, unsanitary dishwashing methods, exposure of food to dust, [illegible] rodents, unhygienic serving practices such as fingers on drinking edge of cups and glasses and thumb in soups, sub-standard personal hygiene, inadequate or inefficient cleaning methods, and unsanitary preparation and storage of food.

PROTECTIVE WELL CRIBBING

DIGGING a well should not be undertaken without adequate protection for the man doing the digging at the bottom of the well. Such protection can be provided by means of circular wooden cribbing, made smooth on the outside so that it will slide down into the excavation as digging proceeds, protecting the man doing the work. We are publishing this article for E. S. C., BC.

This cribbing is made by nailing narrow boards of tough lumber to the outside of circular rings made out of lumber. The wooden rings are made of short pieces of inch lumber sawn on a band saw to the curve of the diameter of the crib desired, then two thicknesses of these rings are nailed together so as to make a solid ring or hoop as shown in the accompanying illustration. These built-up hoops are spaced at intervals of 3 or 4 feet. Lumber 10 or 12 feet long is usually employed for the sides of each single crib. When the well is completed this cribbing will serve for several years until the well is thoroughly tested. When it has proved itself it should be lined with more permanent material.

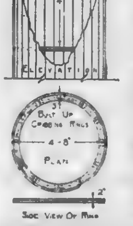
It is usually satisfactory to use wood for cribbing, though it is advisable to avoid cedar or pine as these woods may taint the water for at least some little time.

If quick sand or other material is reached which runs into the excavation as fast as it is removed, special measures will be necessary to complete the well so as to secure a satisfactory supply of water. If the soil material is of a gravelly nature it is often satisfactory — after the well has been excavated to as great a depth as possible—to drive a well-point into the bottom of the well and connect the pump directly to it. Sometimes two well-points are driven in the same well bottom and connected together by piping to a single suction pipe to the pump. This provides double the capacity of one point and usually makes for a more satisfactory water supply.

Conditions under which underground water is located are varied and it would indeed take a large book to cover all the exigencies that have to be met. However under average conditions it is likely that by using cribbing to prevent caving a satisfactory supply of water may be secured by digging a well and cribbing it as illustrated.

Sometimes when water is reached in quicksand it is hard to make a filter to hold back the sand and let the water come through. A good filter can be made by using two cylinders of heavy sheet metal, one inside the other which are sunk as deeply as possible in the bottom of the well. The cylinders should be about 6 feet long and should be allowed to project above the well bottom a farther than the level to which the sand is likely to rise. The outer cylinder should be about 2 feet in diameter without a bottom. The inner cylinder would then be made 12 or 24 inches in diameter with a tight bottom. The lower half of the walls of both cylinders must be perforated with quarter-inch drill holes to permit water to enter, and, where the quicksand is very fine, it is advisable to cover the perforated portion of the outer cylinder with fine brass gauze soldered securely at the edges.

When the cylinders are ready the outer cylinder is forced down into the well bottom by loading it, being careful to keep it in a vertical position. The sand is then scooped out from inside the outer cylinder to the greatest possible depth and the inner cylinder quickly placed centrally in the outer, after which the space between the two is quickly filled with a well graded mixture of sand and gravel. If a pump is installed and kept going, so as to keep the water level in the well down, it is a help in installing the cylinders.



Well cribbing is easily built up on rings laminated from small pieces of wood cut to shape on a band saw. Narrow boards are used on sides.

Sixteen Rules For Safe Driving

1 Always be alert. Let nothing distract your attention from your job of driving.

2 Approach pedestrians with caution. Be ready to make a quick safe stop.

3 Always remain a sufficient distance behind the car in front of you to be able to stop safely.

4 Slow-moving vehicles must keep to the extreme right of the highway. They are an accident hazard, causing foolish motorists to make dangerous passes.

5 When an officer signals for you to stop, drive to the extreme right of the highway and give notice of your intention to the vehicle which is behind you.

6. Always slow down before rounding a curve.

Take Your Corner

7. Instead of coasting around a curve keep your car in gear and [illegible] the gas cautiously.

8 Never jam your brakes. Best braking power is obtained by applying and releasing the brakes intermittently with a pumping motion.

9 Permit clutch to remain engaged [illegible] slow down.

10 To insure safety use the same gear in descending a steep grade as [illegible] would have to use to ascend it.

11 If your car starts to skid keep [illegible] gear and turn the front wheels in the direction of the skid.

Time To Ease Up

12 Never over-drive your headlamps at night. A good rule is to [illegible] two-thirds as fast [illegible] as [illegible] day. [illegible]

13 Keep your windshield clean. A dirty windshield is especially hazardous at sundown and at night.

14 Be on the alert at night for identification lights of trucks and buses. These indicate the presence of a large slow moving vehicle.

15 Never operate a car more than four hours with less than 30 minutes relaxation, or more than eight hours with less than two hours rest.

16 Keep your car under control when passing children who are walking or playing along the highway.

Islay Shocked by the Passing of Fred Steinhauer

For the second time in three weeks Islay has been shocked with the sudden passing of one of our young farmers, the second being Frederick Steinhauer.

Fred was almost entirely an Islay boy, coming here when he was nine years old from Suffield, Alberta. He was born at Suffield on January 1st, 1918. It was in 1927 that the Steinhauer family came to the Kenilworth district where Fred spent his school days. Growing to manhood he farmed with his mother and the family. In December 1946 he married Miss Yvonne Mitchell.

He had been really ill only two days when he passed on to the great adventure as the quotation says, "Death is moving into a new house, setting out on a great adventure into undisclosed realms of God."

Fred leaves to mourn his loss his wife, his mother, two brothers and four sisters, Olga (Mrs. G. Scott of Gleichen; Erna (Mrs. Wm. McNeely at The Pas); Gertrude (Mrs. R. Bell at Calgary) and Miss Marie at Calgary. Theodore is in the R.C.A.F. at Goose Bay, Labrador and Edward is at Gleichen.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from the following:

"LOCAL BEAT"

By C. H. Gough.

I met a man the other day and he said to me, "you know, the trouble with most of us is that we do not think enough." As we talked together it became quite clear that what he meant, was that we are apt to think too much in terms of ourselves, and neglect those matters that pertain to the general welfare. It does not mean that what benefits me as an individual in political and social life, is likewise going to help the majority in a community or country. But there is good reason to hope that what benefits the greatest number of people will no doubt be as good for me and for you.

This man talked like a philosopher, yet, he had not gone further than Grade 8 in school. His knowledge came not from books, but from life—experience, observation, and the weekly newspaper. He knew that "self-preservation is the first law of humanity" but he also knew that selfishness and greed encroaching upon the interests of others had caused the world's blood to flow and to "make countless millions mourn". He knew we say things we do not mean, and do things quite unconsciously that rebel against the best that is in us, but yet we neglect to voice our thoughts on the best qualities that we see in others.

The attitude of this man was not one of condemnation of the human race, but rather a mere statement of fact. The reason for this sickness being that we do not think enough along the right channels; and back up our thinking with action.

I found myself in agreement with most things he said except that he was confusing selfishness with self-interest. This latter quality we cannot get along without: it is the wind that fans the flame of personality and it enables us to grow in body, mind and soul; if kept within its proper sphere it helps us shine in our God-given majesty. If, however, self-interest goes outside these bounds and usurps the rights of others, then it becomes selfishness. This ugly vampire sits like judgment on the throne, and stalks each generation, so that hungry mouths are not fed, the naked are not clothed and the lonely and desolate are spurned and ignored. Above the noise of race and clan the Galilean teacher of nearly 2000 years ago bids us think of that great lesson which we have never quite learnt, but which we have never quite forgotten, "that there may be a kingdom where the least shall be heard and considered side by side with the greatest."

Will Renew Demands For Driving Courses

Next move in the efforts to induce the provincial department of education to include driving training courses in the high school curriculum is being headed by officers of the Alberta Motor Association.

Last week, the department announced that it had rejected the suggestion that car driving instruction be included in the schedule of studies. It does not consider that training of this sort belongs within the scope of the high school training program.

Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education, has told the Edmonton public school board that if it considers this type of training advisable it should be undertaken on an extra-curricular basis.

Officials of the A.M.A. have expressed their strong support for driver training in the schools and allowing of regular credits to students who take such courses. They point to the growing practice in the U.S. where it has been demonstrated in numerous communities that such school courses have resulted in a marked reduction in motor accidents.

Also it is pointed out that dual control cars for such training purposes have been made available by car dealers through arrangements with the American Automobile Association.

The number of mules and horses on farms in the United States has decreased by about two-thirds since World War I, releasing some 55 million acres to produce human food. Production from these released acres has accounted for about half of the increased output in farm products for human consumption during this period.

After the show on Saturday evening attend the dance at the Elks hall. An enjoyable hour or two for only 25c.

Men's Suits Cost More, Shirts to be Scarcer

A combination of import restrictions on U.S. textiles and continually rising prices in cotton and worsted goods from the United Kingdom are blamed by "General Merchant of Canada" for still higher price prospects in men's suits and in shirts, pyjamas, shorts and all types of cotton clothing. It is quite probable too, says the publication, that cotton items will continue to get scarcer.

Canadian importers say the wool market is sky-rocketing again after a break in March, and, in the case of suitings, new wage agreements to be negotiated this summer will be an additional factor pushing prices higher later this year, the business paper reports.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

Orchids From Kip

By R. E. KENT

MELAINE fingered the purse. Twenty dollars wasn't much money, but it would help tide them over. And hadn't it been delivered right into her hands when she needed it so badly? There it was in the window box, hidden beneath the ivy, when she went to water the pink geranium that she gave such loving care. Kip had bought her the geranium the day they were married, a few weeks ago. He'd brought her to this little apartment, so happy that he'd been able to find a place for them. And she liked it until she looked from the window.

"But it's so close to the street," she'd said.

Kip laughed and said, "You aren't living in the country any more, Melaine. This is the city." Then he put on his hat and left her for a while. When he returned he had the pink geranium. "It isn't much, honey," he smiled. "But just as soon as we get a little ahead, I'll buy you an orchid. Maybe in a few weeks."

But there'd be no orchid now. Not for a long, long time. There would be doctor and hospital bills. Kip's appendix was the fault. He wouldn't be able to work for some time after he came home. There'd be no salary for a while. And this twenty-dollar bill, and the small change would go a long ways.

Melaine dumped the contents of the purse into her lap now. A fountain pen, an expensive handkerchief subtly perfumed, a plastic compact, some trinkets and a small box that rattled. She peered into the box and snapped it shut again. Only a broken string of beads. The purse itself was expensive leather. Yes, she could mail it back to the woman. Here was a card of Mrs. Blanche Marble, and the address. Melaine could mail the purse and general contents and keep the money. That'd be fair enough. The woman would want her to have a reward. She put the things back into the purse and snapped it shut. Where was some wrapping paper? Hadn't some one found Kip's billfold, just before they were married, and mailed it back to him? And kept the money? Melaine blushed. She remembered how annoyed she'd been. "That's just like stealing," she had said.

She took the card out and examined it again. Maybe if she took the purse ... she glanced at the clock. There wasn't time to take a bus way over there. She had to dress and eat her lunch and be at the hospital at two. She'd promised Kip.

Finally she went into the hall and found Mrs. Marble listed in the phone book.

"My purse!" Mrs. Marble sounded almost hysterical. "You found it? How wonderful! I'll come right over for it."

Melaine went back and changed her clothes while she waited. If that twenty dollars was so important to Mrs. Marble there wouldn't be much of a reward. Maybe the small change. About seventy cents. Oh, well, even that would buy oranges for Kip. But the twenty dollars would have provided something more substantial. If only she could get a job, but who would look after Kip when he came home?

It was when she was combing her hair that the frightening thought struck Melaine. Mrs. Marble's purse must have been stolen. Some one stole it and took most of the money, then tossed the purse into the window box. Or even if she lost it, the person who found it took most of the money.

No wonder Mrs. Marble was so excited about finding it. No wonder ... then Melaine stopped, paralyzed. Mrs. Marble would think she took the money! There was no way she could prove that she didn't. Circumstances certainly were against her. She remembered reading books about the police questioning people. They'd ask her and ask her until she would become confused and finally say she took the money. And then who'd take care of Kip? If only she hadn't ever found the horrid purse!

A knock at the door brought her back to action. It was Mrs. Marble, a tall, cold-looking woman. "My purse ..." she gasped.

Melaine took it from the table and handed it to the woman without a word. She couldn't have talked, her throat [illegible]. But her big eyes were intent on the woman as she sat down and poured the contents from the purse. There was the little coin purse. One twenty-dollar bill ... how much more did the woman expect? Melaine was holding her breath. But the woman ignored the coin purse.

Melaine gasped. "There's twenty dollars ..."

The woman smiled and started pouring the broken string of beads into the palm of her hand.

"There was only twenty dollars," Melaine found words for.

But Mrs. Marble was counting the small beads. Then she looked up at Melaine and smiled. "I was nearly crazy when I lost my purse this morning. I was down this way visiting the charity hospital. My purse must have slid from under my arm and I didn't notice until I arrived at the hospital ... I was walking for exercise," she smiled.

Melaine tried to smile, but she kept thinking about the money. The woman was holding her off ... playing with her. Why wouldn't she hurry and get it over with?

"I thought everything was lost. In fact, I didn't know there were such honest people as you, my dear. Finding the purse and calling me ..."

"I didn't find it," Melaine said. "Honest I didn't. Some one else did, and put it in my window box."

"Then there are two honest people," Mrs. Marble said.

"But the money ..."

Mrs. Marble held up the box of beads. "I intended to go to the jeweler from the hospital and have these beads restrung. They are a gift from my husband ... he'd never forgive me if I lost them."

"I'm glad ..." Melaine said.

"They're genuine pearls, too," Mrs. Marble said. "I can't imagine why they weren't taken."

Melaine smiled. "Maybe because nobody knew they were genuine. I didn't. In fact, I was more tempted to take the money."

Mrs. Marble studied her a moment. "You need the money, my dear?"

Melaine felt her chin quiver. This was the first friendly person she'd met since Kip took sick, besides the doctor and nurses. It was lonely being a stranger in the city. "It's for Kip," she started. The sympathetic eyes invited her to tell more and finally Melaine poured the whole story into Mrs. Marble's ears. "If it wasn't for the geranium that was supposed to turn into an orchid some day," she finished, "I'd never have found your purse."

"I can never thank you enough," Mrs. Marble said, "but I'd like to try." She held out her hand and said, "Goodby."

She hurried away, leaving Melaine squeezing the twenty-dollar bill.

"Twenty dollars!" She finished dressing hurriedly. It would be such fun telling Kip. And they'd laugh about the beads. And she'd tell him how valuable his geranium turned out to be.

When she opened the door she found a florist's box on the porch. Nervous fingers opened it, and misty eyes read the card tucked in with the huge orchid. "Love from Kip." It wasn't Kip's writing, but Melaine pinned it to her coat. It was from Kip ... sort of, after all.

Canada, Brazil Relations Good

RIO DE JANEIRO.—"Commerce between Brazil and Canada will be easier and easier because their economies complement each other," the new Canadian Ambassador, James Scott Macdonald, told the press recently.

Ambassador McDonald is replacing Ambassador Jean Desy who left Brazil for Italy.

"Canada intends to buy directly Brazilian goods in large quantities. We are mainly interested in getting Brazilian coffee, cotton, fruits and other foodstuffs. We can supply Brazil aluminum, lead, amianthus (a variety of asbestos), machinery and industrial equipment," the Ambassador said.

He added that a good example of efficient trade with Brazil was recently given in a direct exchange of Canadian apples for Brazilian oranges.

He said Brazil is still a customer for Canadian newsprint. He asserted that despite new competitors which appeared after the war, Brazil's imports of Canadian paper did not decrease.

Ambassador McDonald emphasized that he will seek chiefly to develop commercial relations between Canada and Brazil. A second target in his mission will be to strengthen cultural intercourse between the countries.

He affirmed that interest in Brazil is now high in Canada.

Ambassador McDonald found at the Canadian Embassy here one of his old friends, Benjamin Rogers, charge d'affaires whom he met 10 years ago when Rogers was a junior officer in the Canadian Department of Foreign Affairs. 2790

AUSTRALIAN COUPLE ON 26,000-MILE HONEYMOON IN AMPHIBIOUS JEEP

NEW YORK.—An Australian major and his bride are bobbing in the Atlantic in a 17-foot, Army surplus amphibious jeep. They are on a 26,000 mile honeymoon trip around the world. Their first stop, The Azores, is 2,300 miles away.

Major Benjamin Carlin, 36, of Perth, Australia, and his bride of a few weeks, the former Elinore Arone, 25, of Boston, set sail at 6.19 p.m. in a craft tentatively named "Carlin's Platypus".

They hoped to reach Horta, The Azores, this month and return to New York via San Francisco in six months. Carlin's plans called for rounding the globe at four and one-half miles an hour over 12,000 miles of water and 30 miles an hour over 14,000 miles of land.

Friends said the couple left secretly to avoid publicity. They said Carlin who spent two years planning the trip, bought the 5,000-pound jeep for $901 and reconverted it to allow for an additional 550 gallons of gasoline. It also has a small sail.

The honeymooners took along canned foods, chocolate bars, and concentrated foods. Carlin were an aviation jumper. His wife took along dungarees, sweaters and shorts, but no dresses.

Just before leaving Mrs. Carlin mailed a letter to her mother, telling her about the honeymoon trip. She had not mentioned it to her mother before.

Points along the route include Casablanca, Cairo, Baghdad, Delhi, Saigon, Zamboanga, Bikini, Wake, Midway and Honolulu.

Carlin announced he would keep in touch with amateur radio operators along the Atlantic coast.

Old Planet Split Up Causing Meteorites

CHICAGO.—Meteorites are all shattered fragments of an ancient planet that once revolved around the sun, Dr. C. A. Bauer, of the University of Michigan, told the astronomy section of the American Association for the Advancement of Science. This planet's orbit was between those of Mars and Jupiter, where the asteroids, or minor planets, are to be found today.

What tore this ancient planet apart and scattered its pieces throughout a wide zone of planetary space is not even guessed at as yet. But although the fragments of that long-perished planet may not be as old as formerly assumed, they are by no means things of yesterday; for Dr. Bauer assigned to them an antiquity of "several hundred million years".

This theory of the ancient planet is made plausible by Dr. Bauer's studies indicating that meteorites may have been "artificially aged" by cosmic-ray bombardment in outer space, very much as whisky is sometimes hurried through the aging process by ultraviolet irradiation. Thus they are not always as old as they seem.

Biggest Sign in World Shines At N.Y.

NEW YORK.—New Yorkers who don't warm up to the brightest lights of the Great White Way—were stopped in their tracks by a brighter one recently.

More than 75,000 persons dropped their usual indifference to jam the city's cavern of light for the unveiling of Times' Squares' newest electric sign.

At 9 p.m., a city official threw a switch and gaping Gothamites saw:

Two miles of neon tubing and thousands of bulbs shining at once.

A 120-foot wide mechanical waterfall—with real water.

A panel flashing news bulletins and cues to amusements.

And two nude five-storey statues of a man and a woman.

The sign, built by a clothing firm, is block long. Its owners claim it is the biggest in the world.

NEW APPLE FOUND

HOBART, Australia.—A new apple, blood-red in color and called the Russell Red was discovered at Groveston, Tasmania, Australia, recently.

SECOND LEANING TOWER

HAMMOND, Ind.—Hammond is a rival of Pisa, Italy. The city has a leaning clock tower. It slipped out of line during a heavy windstorm.

Newspaper Decries Anti-Canadian Vacation Move

NEW YORK.—The World-Telegram said recently that to urge Americans to forego vacations in Canada because of the Dominion's restrictions in expenditure of United States dollars "is manifestly a short-sighted policy."

In an editorial, it said that such a policy "can only damage our own prosperity — and our best customer and neighbor."

The newspaper said Canada's dollar shortage was caused because she bought more from the United States than she sold in this country.

Some United States hotel keepers were urging Americans to spend their vacation dollars at home, instead of in the Dominion.

"But Canada's greatest source of dollars is her tourist business," the editorial added. "About 20,000,000 Americans visit Canada each year. The dollars they leave there have a quick turnaround. They come back home fast, as payment for American goods.

"If Americans should cut down on their trips to Canada, the Canadians would be forced to reduce their purchases in this country for the simple and sound reason that they didn't have the money."

BRAINS AND BEAUTY FOR MISS CANADA

TORONTO — Grey cells and not mere pulchritude alone will call the ticket when Miss Canada of 1948 is chosen in Hamilton in August.

She'll have "to exemplify the qualities of Canadian womanhood," with 50 per cent. of the marks devoted to talent, S. R. Radcliffe Weaver, Hamilton, executive director of the Miss Canada beauty pageant, said recently at a press conference.

More than 30 young women from all across Canada are expected to enter the Hamilton Lions Club-sponsored event. Margaret Marshall, of Toronto, Miss Canada of 1947, will crown her successor.

As encouragement, the pageant offers a $10,000 total prize list in scholarships which could be used in any recognized university or school in Canada or the United States.

The grand prize is a $3,000 scholarship, with $2,000 and $1,000 going to the next two winners.

Poison Ivy

Its poison ivy season — and for those who have had a dose of this poisoning, its an unhappy one, but precautions and preventatives can do wonders. According to one expert there is nothing quite so effective as the good old brown laundry soap. Before going out where you may come in contact with this venomous plant, wash the exposed parts of the body with a lather of brown soap, allowing it to dry on the skin. After returning home the exposed parts should be scrubbed with warm water and a soft brush and then rinsed in warm water. Children, who run hither and yon in the summer, should be given this treatment, also warned to watch when they sit or lie on the grass, for poison ivy often grows in the grass, although the trunks of old trees, walls and rocks are its favorite haunts. Should you, or a member of the family, get a dose of poison ivy, you can ease the itching and discomfort by washing the affected parts with hot water and laundry soap, rinsing well and then applying a paste of baking soda, covered with a thin cloth which should be kept moist. The paste should be removed in from eight to ten hours.

The word "clabber" comes from the Irish "claba", meaning thick mud.

Find Ancient Coins Near Sunken Ship

SALDANHA BAY, South Africa.—The wreck of the Meresteyn, a treasure-filled Dutch East-Indiaman which foundered and sank in 60 feet of water off Saldanha Bay in the early 17th century, was recalled by Cape seamen when a number of Spanish coins were washed up on a deserted island in the bay.

Old coins have not been found on the shore for some years, but experienced men who know this treacherous coast well think that this Winter will be profitable in treasure trove.

The latest find was made by an officer who visited the deserted island in his ship's launch. Ten minutes of digging in debris around the jagged reefs yielded him four Spanish silver coins struck in 1632, during the reign of Philip IV, the size of British five-shilling pieces.

Dockhands and beachcombers come across these ancient coins fairly often, but leave them severely alone. "We cannot buy wine with them", they say. "Besides, we are frightened to touch them because of the ghost to whom the money really belongs."

For years before the thermometer was invented, physicians measured body heat with their hands.

WILDMERE WINKS

The Wildmere W.I. was well represented at the district conference held at the V.S.A. on July 5th when 9 of its 12 members attended. Two of the absent ones were unable to attend and the third is out at Chilliwack picking berries. Also writer attended and it was a very enjoyable and interesting day hearing the reports of sister W.I.s. We hope all will heed Mrs. Bennett's talk and do all they can for the illness she mentioned. The handicraft displays were grand, Vermilion won the prize with its all wool table. We consider they deserved it. Kitscoty had lovely work too but far too much with its 4 tables full. Ramsay and the new branch at Lloydminster had a nice display. The thrift table was also lauded. Next year all W.I.s compete with all the same articles. All other fancy or plain things can be shown but will not be judged. The thrift table will be judged for practical use, cost and time it took to make the article. Mrs. Roy Dibben was our delegate to the conference. All in all we did enjoy the outing. The school staff certainly made everybody welcome.

Sylvia and Margaret Steele of Beaverdale visited their grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Mullins north of town for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith and Billie visited at Mannville Sunday July 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas Mathers. Mrs. Mathers' father, Mr. Percy, and Mr. Adam Smith Sr. were old school pals in the Old country. As Mr. Percy is going back they wanted to see him before he left. Mrs. John Wilson accompanied them to visit some of her people in Mannville.

Wildmere W.I. held the July meeting at the home of Mrs. Bathe. Mrs. Robt. Smith was hostess. 11 members and one visitor were present. A good number of children's books were turned in to be sent to the local hospital. Our project "Baby Clothes" was handed in. Food for another parcel to be sent overseas was also handed in. Roll call answered by, "What improvements we had made since last year". It was decided to have Mrs. Wm. T. Garnett and Mrs. Robt. Martin give lessons on the making of buttonholes and use of patterns at our August meeting to be held at Mrs. Wm. Steele's. Mrs. Roy Dibben gave [illegible] interesting report of the conference. Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs. R. Martin. Owing to our funds being low it was decided our tea money be raised to 20c for the remainder of the year. At the conclusion of the meeting Mrs. Smith served a tasty lunch. Next meeting Aug. 4th at home of Mrs. Steele.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smith of Bon Accord spent last week visiting Norman's parents Mr. and Mrs. Adam Smith of Wildmere, returning home Sunday.

Adam Smith with his truck took Mr. Gordon Green's combine and trailer to the U.S.A. to help harvest their wheat crop. Muddy roads were encountered south of Regina and extension of time of permit had to be secured. We wish them luck in their venture.

A large crowd attended the Tolland picnic on Friday where old friends met and chatted. Some good ball games were played and the children enjoyed the races. It was a perfect day.

The writer and hubby were very disappointed at not being able to attend the Old Timers' dance in town the same evening but you can't be two places at once.

Sunday July 25th a joint church service will be held at Auburndale at 4 o'clock. Afterwards a basket supper will be enjoyed. We hope all who can will attend.

Berna Seuffert and Jenny Underdown of town have been holidaying at the Martin, Wallington and Cruthers homes this past week.

There will be no Winks next week as the writer will have the pleasure of a visit from her aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Sam Graham from Erbs Bay, Ont. It is their first visit to the West so the writer will be too busy to write news items.

Ethelwyn News

Due to the fact that the writer of this column has been very busy some of the news items may be a bit old.

It was pleasing to see Mrs. Boyce, Mr. Gallagher and Caterina MacGillivray at the old timers' picnic. All three are looking very well.

Another good dance was held in St. Pat's hall July 2nd. The Mulgrew boys supplied the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Grant Jr. spent several days at the Calgary Stampede and reported a larger crowd there than ever before. Joyce Cooper helped Mrs. Grant Sr. look after the little girls while their parents were away. Now Mr. and Mrs. Grant Sr. are on their way to Vancouver leaving Thursday last week and travelling by car.

The wedding dance of Mr and Mrs. Wilfred Roberge was well attended and everyone had a grand time. The very best wishes of everyone in the district is extended to this young couple for a long happily married life. Mr. and Mrs. Roberge Sr. are to be thanked for a grand evening of dancing.

Picking and canning of Saskatoons and raspberries are taking up everyone's time these days.

Gasoline Prices Are Reduced as Imperial Refinery Opens

Prices of gasoline, kerosine, distillate and fuel oils are being reduced immediately by Imperial Oil in the area served by the new Edmonton refinery, the company announces. The reduction coincides with the opening of the refinery, which establishes Edmonton as a base of supply. Previously, prices in the area now served by the Edmonton refinery were based on Calgary plus freight cost.

At Vermilion, gasoline, kerosine and distillate are being reduced 1.5 cents per gallon and fuel oils 1.5 cents per gallon also.

The reductions apply at all points in the province north of Ponoka and range from one-tenth of a cent per gallon to 3.2 cents per gallon on all the above products. Reductions are smallest at Ponoka and parallel points, where freight costs from Calgary and Edmonton are nearly the same, and are greatest where the largest saving is made in freight expense.

While all products required in the area served by the Edmonton refinery are not yet being manufactured there and consequently some are still being brought from Calgary, similar reductions will apply to all types of motor gasoline, kerosine, distillate and fuel oils.

It is anticipated the throughput at the Edmonton refinery will be increased and as this is accomplished it will supply a wider area including adjacent sections of Saskatchewan. This would result in lower prices in these areas also.

Canada's Coal Reserves

WHILE CANADA IS FORTUNATE in having rich reserves of coal, much of it located in the West that, like some of our other natural resources, has not yet been fully developed. There is always considerable public interest, however, in the possibilities of making more extensive use of Canadian coal. At present, Canada's yearly coal consumption amounts to some 47,000,000 tons. Of this 17,000,000 tons are produced here while the remaining 30,000,000 are imported from the United States. There is little doubt but that the full requirement could be produced here, although there are many factors which enter into the consideration of this possibility. At present Canada's great industrial areas are mainly centred in Ontario and Quebec, which are situated nearer to the coal fields of the Eastern United States than to those in Alberta.

• • • • •

West Could Be Developed The long distance which coal would have to be brought to these industries, from the West, is no doubt one disadvantage which would have to be given consideration in any plan for making greater use of Canadian coal. It has, however often been suggested that the West might be more highly developed industrially eliminating the need for transporting so much coal across the country. It has also been suggested that, if some means could be found of cutting down the cost of transportation, expansion of Canadian coal production might be used as a foundation for a great steel industry, utilizing the rich ore deposits in Labrador, and North Western Ontario. It is estimated that Canada's coal reserves probably amount to 100,000,000 tons and Alberta is now thought to have 15 per cent. of the world's known coal deposits.

• • • • •

Great Promise For The Future Interest in this subject was heightened recently when Sir Albert Braithwaite, a prominent British industrialist visited Canada. Three hundred engineers, employed by the interests he represents, surveyed the Alberta coal fields, and Sir Albert expressed great enthusiasm for the possibilities reported as a result of this survey. Because of the present economic situation, British capital cannot be taken out of the country to be used here, otherwise the visiting industrialist would have been willing to undertake strip mining, a technique which has been found to be very successful in Great Britain and the United States, in the Alberta coal fields. To develop Canadian coal mining to its full capacity would involve many considerations. Large capital expenditure would be necessary, as well as subsidies and guarantees of markets, which would necessitate government participation in the project. At present there appears to be little prospect of any great expansion in coal production here, but there undoubtedly are great possibilities for the future of this industry, in Alberta as well as in the coal fields of Saskatchewan and in the Maritime Provinces.

Increase Seen In European Grain

WASHINGTON. Present indications are that Europe outside of Russia, will produce 14,000,000 more long tons of bread grains (wheat and rye) this year than last.

The Department of Agriculture's office of foreign relations estimated this year's production at 54,000,000 long tons. This compares with the extremely short 1947 crop of 40,000,000 tons and the pre-war average of 62,000,000 tons.

[illegible] Russia, the report said present prospects are for another good crop there. Russia harvested 42,000,000 tons of bread grains in 1946 and increased production in 1947 to 46,[illegible].

Some countries may be able to abandon bread rationing and others to increase their rations, the report said. To permit this, however, European production must be supplemented by imports.

Measure Fatigue Of Car Drivers

EVANSTON, Ill.—Psychologists at Northwestern University are running a series of tests to measure driver fatigue.

Using students as subjects the psychology department will determine how long a man can stay behind the wheel of a car without getting tired.

The results of the experiment will help build a better car of the future, it is believed.

Dr. Robert H. Seashore said that even in the car of today, "some subjects in preliminary tests, were found ready to relax behind the wheel."

IT HAD ONE FAULT

A young author sent a manuscript to an editor with a letter in which he stated: "The characters in this story are purely fictional and bear no resemblance to any person living or dead."

A few days later he received his manuscript with the penciled notation: "That's what's wrong with it."

[illegible], a Norseman was probably the first European to reach the American continent [illegible].

FISH CO-OPERATED WITH LUCKY SPORTS WRITER

SEBAGO LAKE, Me. — There's nothing to fishing when the fish cooperate, says Ernie Tucker of Beverly, Mass.

Tucker, an outdoor sports writer, related that while fishing here recently, a three-pound landlock salmon he was playing was pushed into his landing net by a 10-pounder which then leaped into his boat.

FED WITH SALT WATER

The saltiness of the Great Salt Lake in Utah is caused by accumulation of mineral salts washed into it by rivers. The water evaporates but the salt remains.

Largest glass container plant in the world is located at Alton, Ill.

Adequate Nutrition Held Best Defence Against Tuberculosis

MONTREAL. The best way to prevent tuberculosis is through adequate nutrition," Dr. Leo Lemieux, superintendent of the tuberculosis division of the Montreal Health Department said in a radio address.

We can state," he added, "with sufficient proof that nutrition prevents tuberculosis by keeping at its maximum the resistance of the organism."

There was evidence, he said, that even in a land of plenty like Canada diet was far from satisfactory in many families. "To eat plenty is not enough, we need particularly a great variety of foods necessary to the physiological functions of the organism. If we neglect these principles the body resistance will go down or will disappear and allow tuberculosis infection to find place in the organism."

[illegible] country gardens or the orchards should as much as possible be eaten in fresh condition or half cooked during summer and fall. Raw fruits and vegetables provide the vitamins necessary to maintenance of good resistance. The preserving process of light cooking lowers the vitamin content but does not destroy them entirely. On the contrary lengthy cooking as in making jam destroys them all.

In proof of the effect of nutrition on tuberculosis, he cited the case of Denmark in the First Great War. "In 1916, due to high prices offered on foreign markets, the home consumption of Danish milk produce dropped considerably. In 1917 tuberculosis mortality there rose 25 per cent. above previous years. At the end of 1917 the blockade put an end to these exportations, and in 1919 tuberculosis mortality fell to its prewar level."

Since foods have to be preserved for consumption during the unproductive section of the year, he urged that preservation should be done on the most scientific basis so as to destroy as little as possible of certain easily destroyed element necessary for good nutrition.

More Secrecy Urged For Super Weapon

CANBERRA. Vital progress has been made in Australia along lines of research that could produce a super weapon.

The weapon is understood to be a guided missile capable of carrying an atom bomb an immense distance.

The British government is urging more stringent secrecy requirements for scientists connected with the rocket range project in central Australia.

The sun's surface area is 12,000 times that of the earth.

REFUSED LICENSE FOR NEW HOTEL, SO MOVES OLD ONE AT COST OF $5,000 — Retaining liquor license "the hard way", is A. L. Normandin, owner of this hotel at Baleril, Que. Provincial liquor board refused him license for new hotel he planned to build and ruled if he sold present building, license would have to go with it. So Normandin decided to move hotel one mile to new highway at cost of $5,000.

Chances Of Living Longer Better

The chances are fully two out of three that a young man now starting his working life in the U.S.A. at the age of 18 will live to his retirement age of 65. The chances for his father and his boss surviving to their retirement at age 65 are good, too. A 45-year-old man today has 70 in 100 chances of reaching age 65 and the chances for a 55-year-old man are 78 in 100.

These chances for reaching the retirement age of 65 calculated by statisticians of a well-known life insurance company, reflect the marked decline in mortality in the United States since the turn of the century.

In 1900 the young man of 18 had only 51 chances in 100 of [illegible] to age 65.

A woman's chances of surviving to old age are even better than a man's. More than three-fourths of the women now under 65 will live to attain that age. The woman of 45 today has better than 80 in 100 chances of living to 65 years, and the woman of 25 today has 86 in 100 chances of celebrating her 65th birthday.

"Currently," the life insurance company's statisticians state, "white men who reach age 65 can expect to live an additional 12½ years, on the average. For white females there remain an average of 14½ years."

PLAN TO COMBAT RODENTS HAMPERED BY FOOD SHORTAGE

The proposal to send an "American expeditionary force" of cats to Europe poses more problems than meet the eye. The Old World could certainly use more cats. It has the "Help Wanted" sign out for a million of them to help combat the rats and mice which are devouring sorely-needed food.

But the big catch is that a feline "AEF" would impose a fresh drain on Europe's available food supplies. Contrary to widespread belief, cats don't kill rodents for their daily rations. And there is no way to order cats after rats or mice when they are not in the mood.

Cats go after rodents purely for the sport of it. The approach has a lot in common with that of the big-game hunter. The cats proceed in their own individualistic way and in their own good time. It is quite untrue that hungry cats are good mousers. The best are the well-fed cats, but well fed on a far more appealing diet than rodents would provide.

Cats have seen active military service. During World War I the British conscripted half a million. A small detachment was detailed to submarine testing service, and the remainder saw duty in frontline [illegible].

Their sensitive noses detected poison gas long before the human nose was aware of it. They also helped to keep down the rats and mice in the soldiers' living quarters, and doubtless provided much-needed entertainment in leisure moments.

Provided the food problem can be overcome, a force of sturdy American cats could do much toward building up the depleted cat population of Europe.

Canadians Urged To Take Polio Precaution

August And September Generally The Peak Months For This Disease

OTTAWA.—With the incidence of poliomyelitis already ahead of last year and the peak season for the dread disease approaching, the Department of National Health and Welfare in Ottawa is appealing to Canadians across the country to observe proper precautions.

Officials explained that experience has shown that polio runs in cycles of from four to six years, and moves eastward across Canada from the Pacific to the Atlantic. Last year there was a severe outbreak in British Columbia, accordingly, it is expected that if the usual pattern holds, the middle western provinces will see a greater incidence in the coming months than other parts of Canada, and the Province of Quebec is likely to remain relatively free of the disease for this year at least.

It was in 1946 that polio reached epidemic proportions in Quebec, with 1,612 cases reported. Last year the number for the province dropped to less than 150. The total for all Canada last year was 2,297.

Statistics for past years show that polio cases begin to spread in June and July and reach their highest numbers in August and September which are generally the peak months. Also, most cases occur in the five to 14 year age group.

Many Precautions

While there is still a great deal to be learned about polio and research work is going on continuously, experience has taught that there are a number of precautions that can be taken to help in avoiding the disease.

Among the approved suggestions to which National Health and Welfare officials drew attention today were the following:

Avoid contact with known cases of polio.

Remember that the active child is most susceptible if allowed to play to the point of fatigue.

Avoid physical fatigue and exhaustion.

Do not swim in polluted water.

Avoid chilling by staying too long [illegible].

Keep hands clean by washing before meals and after going to the toilet.

Keep garbage and waste covered, so as not to attract flies.

Protect food from exposure to flies and insects.

Wash fresh fruits and raw vegetables before eating.

Stay away from persons with nose and throat infections, and avoid operations for removal of tonsils and adenoids during a polio epidemic season.

Remember that stomach flu, summer complaint, dysentery or any infection of the bowels, may predispose to a polio infection.

Be on the alert for symptoms. Any infection during a polio epidemic season should be viewed suspiciously until proven not polio.

Call your doctor or local health authorities if suspicious symptoms do occur or when in doubt.

The World of Wheat

By H. G. L. STRANGE
Director, Research Department, Searle Grain Company Ltd.

A SAD CROP CONDITION

I have just concluded a tour looking into prairie crops. In the majority of districts within the reach of [illegible] can be seen crops which have not germinated at all, land that was not seeded owing to floods, crops heading out only a few inches high [illegible] only just beginning to head out [illegible].

In general the [illegible] Alberta, the eastern part of Saskatchewan and the whole of Manitoba produce a normal crop but the whole [illegible] eastern Alberta, western and central Saskatchewan, with the exception of few odd districts [illegible] because of poor germination, floods and drought. This large area contains approximately half of the wheat acreage of the [illegible].

This crop then may be the smallest since 1920 with the exception of the crops of 1936 and 1937 which were extremely small.

The saddest feature is that tens of thousands of farmers, many of whom suffered from poor crops last year [illegible] harvest but little this year [illegible] situation. Surely the Government should come to the aid of these distressed farmers in a most generous fashion.

FARMERS' INCOME

Preliminary estimates show that the net income of Canadian farmers [illegible] totalled $1,[illegible] the highest [illegible] were started in 1938 and [illegible] of 1947 [illegible] for 1944 of $1,240,025,000 the previous record high. Not only did the net farm income rise to an unprecedented level in 1947, but there was an all time record for farm cash income and [illegible] in the value of home consumed farm produce. [illegible] change in the value of year-end live stock and grain [illegible] held on farms was lower in 1947 than [illegible] did not affect gains in cash income and income in kind with the result that gross income for 1947 [illegible] a record of $2,[illegible],000.

Robt. Fair, M.P. Champions The Yellowhead Route

INTERESTING DEBATE IN THE HOUSE

Hansard, the official record of the activities of the Canadian House of Commons, reports an interesting debate which took place on June 24th in which Mr. Robert Fair, of Vermilion, M.P. for Battle River, championed the cause of a trans-Canada highway and the Yellowhead route. Mr Fair's remarks were as follows:

"Mr. Chairman, I have been waiting for the past 20 minutes to get the floor in order to add my little piece on the question of a trans-Canada highway but I have been unable to get the eye of the chairman because I am so far away from him.

I should like to comment briefly on the reply given to the hon. member for Portage la Prairie by the Minister of Reconstruction and Supply. The minister stated that it was the responsibility of the different provinces to plan and construct a trans-Canada highway. In my opinion the federal government should take the initiative. We shall have no continuous highway if we leave it to the individual provinces, for the reason that there are a number of people who feel that the routes which they advocate should be constructed.

In my opinion the government should adopt the suggestion made by [illegible] organization set up recently at Saskatoon last November 29. I believe [illegible] which recommended a trans-Canada highway commission to coordinate the efforts of the different provinces in co-operation with the dominion, because that would be the proper solution of the project.

The Yellowhead route for the trans-Canada highway has been advocated by many people in the prairie provinces. At my home town of Vermilion on October 17 last a meeting was held attended by 127 delegates representing the district between Edmonton and North Battleford inclusive and I understand that a report of a meeting was forwarded to the dominion government, as have been briefs on former occasions dealing with the trans-Canada highway Yellowhead route. In these briefs it was pointed out that the Yellowhead route is shorter, and presents fewer engineering difficulties than the others that have been proposed. There is much less snow on it in the winter and therefore it is passable for more months of the year than the other suggested routes. I understand that route was picked out by the engineers of the Canadian Pacific Railway many years ago but for some reason it was later abandoned.

A survey by engineers would show I believe that the proper route to take would be from Winnipeg to Saskatoon, Lloydminster, Vermilion, Vegreville and Edmonton then on to Vancouver with another branch to be built to Prince Rupert.

I have said on this vote [illegible] what I intended to say on the estimates of the Department of Public Works. In case I am not here when they come up I see the Minister of Public Works [illegible] and I hope he will take note of my remarks. Many things can be said in favour of the Yellowhead route and I believe the time has long gone by when it should have been built.

Like many other members from the west I have motored across Canada at different times, but I have not taken a chance of motoring all the way through the dominion. I [illegible] follow [illegible] roads. I think it is a disgrace to this dominion that there is not an all-weather highway from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

The reply of Mr. Howe, Minister of Reconstruction and Supply [illegible] estimates and questions were [illegible] This has nothing to do with the trans-Canada highway. I know nothing about the trans-Canada highway [illegible] will not answer questions about it and after that you can go on with your questions."

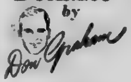
EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by Don Graham



Many men use too much nervous energy in their jobs. As a result, their work suffers both in quality and quantity. And they feel completely exhausted at the end of the day.

The most important remedy for this trouble is to avoid undue rush and strain. Smooth efficiency should be the objective in all jobs.

If you work with your hands, don't be a banger, slammer and yanker. Use only the energy each operation requires. If your job is non-manual, try to remain relaxed as you work.

Emotional stresses, too, create nervous tension. Try to sidestep arguments, needless worry and resentment.

Remember — "an ounce of brain is worth a pound of strain." So relax! Concentrate on improving your skill and working methods. You'll do more and better work!

No one can relax completely if he is worried about his family's financial future. That is why millions of Canadians own life insurance. It is the most dependable way to provide for the family's needs under any and all circumstances.

Preserving Fruits And Vegetables

For Wintertime Use

Every homemaker realizes the convenience of well-stocked shelves of home-canned foods. It aids in giving a variety to every day meals and "saves the day" when the unexpected guests arrive. Preserving can be simple if a routine is followed and seeing that all equipment is in good condition. Whether you are using the cold pack, the hot pack, open kettle method, or pressure cooker, rules should be followed closely. If you have a pressure cooker be sure that you have a manufacturer's book of instructions.

PROCESSES

Cold Pack Method

By this method the food is packed into sterilized jars while raw and cold, covered with hot liquid and partially sealed, then sterilized.

Hot Pack Method

By this method the food is subjected to a short precooking and packed hot—thus requiring shorter time for heat penetration and in some cases allowing more vegetable to be packed in the jar. With vegetables such as corn or greens the centre of the filled jar reaches sterilization temperature from thirty to fifty minutes sooner than when packed cold.

Open Kettle Method

While this method of cooking fruit with sugar in an open kettle is a common one it is not recommended for canning fruits and should never be used for vegetables. Jams and marmalades are done in the open kettle.

In canning fruits by the open kettle method wash them carefully and cook in sugar syrup until tender. Pack while boiling hot into clean hot sterilized jars, partially seal and process for five minutes. Then seal.

Uniformity of size and maturity makes a more attractive product. It is well to spend the extra time.

All Fruit and Vegetables should be thoroughly washed until all soil is removed. Lift them from the water instead of draining it off. A small brush is useful for cleaning Vegetables.

Such fruits as peaches, pears and apples should be dropped in a brine of 1 teaspoon of salt to 1 quart cold water as soon as peeled to prevent discoloration.

Pre-Cooking Or Blanching

This process consists of heating in steam or boiling water before packing. The purpose is:

1. To remove particles of sand or dust.
2. To loosen skins.
3. To shrink greens, thus allowing closer pack.
4. To preserve color.
5. To allow products to be packed hot.

A wire basket, large strainer or a square of cheese cloth may be used. Peaches, tomatoes, beets, carrots should be dipped in cold water after blanching but never let them stand in it more than a few seconds.

This may be done while the Fruits or Vegetables are being prepared. Wash in soapy water, rinse, half fill each jar with water and stand on the rack in the boiler. Surround with cold water, bring to boiling point, boil fifteen minutes. Keep them boiling hot until ready to fill. Never touch the inside of a sterilized jar with an unsterile object.

When packing work as quickly as possible. Corn, beans and spinach should be packed fairly loosely to allow perfect penetration of heat to the centre of the jar and thus insure even sterilization. Pack the jar full then fill with boiling liquid. After filling dip the blade of a knife in boiling water and run it down and around the inside of the jar to remove air bubbles. Adjust rubbers which have been dipped in boiling water and tops. Then partially seal. With wire clamp jars adjust the top clamp but do not spring down the lower one. With screw top jars screw tight—then unscrew half turn. On vacuum jars adjust metal clamps.

CANNING

Canning Peaches

Scald and skin the peaches. Cut in half and remove the stones. Cut in slices if desired. Pack in hot sterilized jars and if possible put the curved parts of the peach to the outside of the jar. This makes an attractive pack.

Peaches peel easily, when fully ripe. If there is any difficulty in peeling the peaches, dip them into boiling water or steam them.

Canning Fruit Salad

Prepare peaches and pears in the usual way for canning. Cut into small pieces, suitable for serving in salads. To give your fruit salad a distinctive flavour, add some cantaloupe.

Select large cantaloupes because of their excellent quality and cut into small dices. Mix these three fruits in equal parts. Follow the directions for canning peaches.

Canned Crabapples

(Open Kettle Method)

Crabapples may be canned by the usual Cold-Pack method but the Open Kettle method is advised.

This method gives a product similar to the crabapple preserves made by your grandmother. They set in their own jelly and result in a most attractive dish. Don't make the mistake of breaking off the stems. Our grandmothers always preserved them with their tails on.

Make a thin syrup, using the proportion of one cup of sugar to two cups of water. Wash the crabapples and add to the syrup, allowing 1 pint of syrup to 1 quart of fruit. Cook slowly in an open kettle until the crabapples start to soften.

Pour the cooked crabapples and juice into hot sterilized jars. Seal and cool. Store in a dry, cool place.

Canning Prunes Or Plums

Wash the prunes and remove the stones, if desired. More fruit can be packed in each jar if the stones are removed, but many people prefer the flavour of prunes canned with the stones.

Canning Pears

Peel the pears, cut in halves and remove the cores. Cut in quarters if desired. Put in a pan of water (to prevent discoloration) until ready to pack into the jars. Pack in hot sterilized jars.

Jelly Making

Good Jelly will keep its shape when turned from the glass but will not be tough. Good color and flavour are important also. Correct proportions and proper boiling times cannot be over-emphasized.

Wash and prepare the fruit for cooking. Put in a large preserving kettle and add water to nearly cover the fruit. Cover and cook slowly until the fruit is soft. Stir occasionally and use a potato-masher to crush the fruit.

Dip jelly-bag into boiling water and wring out quite dry. Put the fruit in this bag and hang to drain for several hours or overnight. Do not squeeze the bag.

Put sugar to heat in a pan in the oven, using approximately ¾ cup sugar to each cup of fruit. Stir frequently.

Boil the fruit juice for 10 to 12 minutes. Measure and add one cup heated sugar to one cup of juice. Boil together until two drops form side by side on the edge of the spoon.

Pour into hot sterilized glasses. Let stand until set. If jelly fails to set at the end of several hours, set in a sunny window or place in the warming oven.

Overnight Canned Strawberries

To each quart of hulled clean berries, add 1 cup of sugar. Bring slowly to boiling point, let stand overnight in the kettle. In the morning reheat mixture to boiling point and pour into clean hot jars while still hot. Process exactly 5 minutes for both pints and quarts.

PICKLES AND RELISHES

Cherry Olives

1 cup cold water
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup cider vinegar
2 tablespoons brown sugar
½ oz. stick cinnamon
(if not available, omit)
2 tablespoons whole cloves

Tie spices in cheese cloth, put all in saucepan and boil 5 minutes. Cool, remove spice, pour solution over cherries which have been packed in jars and seal.

Silverskin Onions

Use small white silverskin onions, peel and soak overnight in brine made from 2 quarts water, 1 cup salt and juice of 1 lemon. Drain, rinse and pack into sterilized jars. Boil about 2 quarts white vinegar, juice of ½ lemon and 1 teaspoon sugar. Pour boiling hot over onions in jars, put on tops and seal. If desired, one or two red pickling peppers may be added to each jar.

Storing Hint

Before storing wipe jars dry. Be sure there are no leaks. If a leak is found, remove the cover, put on a new rubber, seal and sterilize ¼ time allowed for the particular product. Store in a cool, dry, dark place or wrap each jar in paper. The cartons in which new jars are packed make a very satisfactory storage place for filled jars.

Bread And Butter Pickles

5 medium-size cucumbers
3 medium-size onions
¼ cup salt
1 cup vinegar
1 teaspoon celery seed
1 cup water
⅔ cup sugar
1 teaspoon mustard seed
¼ teaspoon tumeric

Wash and slice cucumbers without peeling. Peel and slice onions and combine with cucumbers, adding salt and water. Let stand for 2 hours and drain well.

Heat vinegar, celery seed and mustard seed, sugar and tumeric to the boiling point. Then add the cucumbers and onions. Heat these through thoroughly, but do not overcook or your pickle will not be crisp.

Pack in hot sterilized jars and seal.

Mixed Sweet Pickles

6 lbs. small cucumbers
(sliced or whole)
1 large cauliflower
1 lb. yellow beans
1 gallon boiling water
3 lbs. silverskin onions
2 red peppers
2 green peppers
1 cup salt

Cut cauliflower in small pieces. Slice peppers thinly. Peel onions. Put all vegetables in a large crock, cover with the brine made from the salt and boiling water and allow to stand for 2 days. Drain vegetables and wash well. Then drain thoroughly. Pack in sealers and pour over them the following dressing:

1 quart vinegar
½ cup whole mixed pickling spice, tied in cheesecloth bag
1 teaspoon mustard seed
3 pounds sugar
1 pint water

Combine the above ingredients and boil 5 minutes. Cool. Pour over pickles in jars and seal.

Rhubarb Relish

(With Onions)

4 cups rhubarb
2 pounds brown sugar
4 cups onions
1½ cups vinegar
⅔ cup water
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon celery salt
1½ teaspoons whole spices

Method: Wipe the rhubarb and cut into short lengths. Sprinkle the sugar over this and let stand for several hours or overnight. Stir it occasionally to make sure the sugar dissolves. Now add the onions which have been diced, the vinegar, water, salt, pepper, celery salt along with the whole spices which have been tied in a small bag. Bring the mixture slowly to a boil and cook for about one hour. Stir occasionally to prevent scorching. Pour into hot, sterilized jars and seal tightly immediately.

Syrup For Fruits

Thin syrup 1 cup sugar to 2 cups water.

Medium syrup 1 cup sugar to 1 cup water.

Heavy syrup 1 cup sugar to [illegible] cup water.

Stir together and boil 5 minutes. For pint jars of large fruit allow about 1 cup of syrup. For pint jars of small fruit about ½ cup.

Raspberry Jam

1 lb. raspberries
¾ lb. sugar
Juice of ½ lemon

Let berries and sugar stand about 3 to 4 hours. Place over heat, bring to boil. Boil very rapidly about 20 minutes, add lemon juice and boil until it jellies, about 5 to 10 minutes longer.

Orange-Peach Marmalade

12 medium-size peaches
Pulp of 2 medium-size oranges
Peel from 1½ oranges
½ cup chopped red cherries
Sugar

Wash, peel and [illegible] oranges and grind peaches, orange pulp and orange peel. Measure into a large preserving kettle and add ¾ as much sugar as fruit. (If fresh cherries are used add them at this time too but if the cherries are canned add half way through the cooking period.) Bring to boiling point slowly and boil rapidly until thickened — approximately 25-30 minutes. Stir occasionally to prevent burning. Pour into sterilized jars and seal. Makes 9 glasses.

Gooseberry Jam

1 quart gooseberries
3 cups sugar
½ cup orange juice
Grated rind of 1 large orange

Wash gooseberries and remove stem and blossom ends. Add orange juice and cook until berries are soft. Add the sugar and bring to a full rolling boil and boil until thick and clear, about 20 to 25 minutes. Pour into clean sterilized jars and seal.

8-Minute Strawberry Jam

4 cups sliced strawberries
4 cups sugar
½ lemon thinly sliced

Combine sliced berries, sugar and sliced lemon, place over low heat until sugar is dissolved. Increase heat and bring to full rolling boil. Boil hard for exactly 8 minutes. Allow to stand for 1 minute, remove any scum, pour into sterilized jars.

Do not double this recipe.

WEDDING BELLS

FISK—GOW

St. Joseph's Cathedral, Edmonton, was the scene of a pretty wedding when Rev. Monsignor Carleton united in marriage Miss Gertrude Gow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Logan Gow of Borradaile, Alta., and Mr. James Fisk, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Fisk of Vermilion.

The bride was lovely in a beige gabardine suit with white accessories and wore a corsage of roses and carnations. The bridesmaid was Miss Thelma Westman who was dressed in a lilac suit and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. Clarence Frazier was best man.

Following the ceremony the bridal couple and immediate relatives proceeded to the Royal George grill where luncheon was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fisk spent several days in Edmonton before returning to Vermilion where they will make their home.

Friends of the bride paid her tribute on several different occasions by showers and other social functions.

KLASHINSKY—MONAGHAN

A pretty and quiet wedding was solemnized by Rev. Calmeise at Holy Rosary church in Edmonton, on July 10th when Helena Marguerite, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Monaghan of Lloydminster, was united in marriage to Mr. George Bernard, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Klashinsky of Vermilion.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white jersey frock with long lace sleeves, [illegible] picture hat trimmed with orange blossoms and chapel veil. Roses and fern were her flowers. Her only jewelry was a string of pearls, gift from the groom.

Miss Rita Monaghan was her sister's attendant, wearing a blue jersey frock with long blue silk gloves and hat to match. Her flowers were pink carnations and fern.

Following the ceremony, a sumptuous wedding breakfast was laid in the banquet room of the Royal George hotel, which included a huge wedding cake, for a number of relatives and friends.

The couple left on a motor trip to Lawson City by way of Jasper. For going away the bride wore a brown gabardine suit with beige accessories and beige top coat.

On their return they will reside in Edmonton.

ISLAY GIRL FETED

Prior to her marriage on July 9th, Miss Jean McLennan of Islay was guest of honor at a shower on July 6th at the home of Mrs. W. A. Darnett when friends and neighbors of the community presented her with a cedar chest and a sum of money.

After the presentation, lunch was served by the hostess assisted by her daughter Mary and Mrs. Howard Walton.

Jean is leaving our midst to make her home in Trail, B.C. and the best wishes of her many friends go with her.

BOWTELL

Ball Tournaments Wednesday, Aug. 4th

[illegible]

Details have now been completed for the holding of the four big baseball tournaments at the Vermilion agricultural grounds on Wednesday next, Aug. 4th. Entries have already been received for all of the events and real competition is assured. This means great entertainment from the spectators point of view. Ball diamonds have been spotted all over the fair grounds and continuous action will be the order of the day.

The headline attraction is the senior baseball tournament, limited to 8 teams in order that the final can be completed before the daylight fades. Attracting large quotas of fans will be the two football tourneys, ladies and gents, open to the world, while the junior base-ball, open to 20 years and under should provide plenty of sparkling play.

The last big holiday of the season this sports day planned by the Vermilion Amateur Athletic association, will provide the opportunity to see the best baseball and football teams of this section of Alberta in action.

Scouts Leave for Special Course at Sylvan Lake

The Vermilion Boy Scout Troop Leader, Miles Dixon along with four Patrol leaders, Norman Cooper, Tom [illegible], Allan Pilkie and Ken Caron left Wednesday July 8th for a week at the Scout camp at Sylvan Lake, Alberta. There they will attend a Silver Arrowhead course where they will learn many of the fine arts of true scouting from fully qualified instructors.

Mr. W. P. Pilkie and Mr. George Caron kindly volunteered to look after the boys' transportation to and from Sylvan Lake. Their generosity is greatly appreciated.

Many Ex-Students to Attend Vermilion Alumni Re-union

THURSDAY TO SATURDAY, 29 TO 31 JULY — W. G. MALAHER, A. M. WILSON TO BE PRESENT

The annual re-union of Alumni at the Vermilion school of agriculture is being held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week.

Former students expected to return for a visit in the largest numbers are members of the 1947-48 graduation class who will be anxious to see the school campus in the summer with its lawns, trees, gardens and field crop demonstrations. However many representatives of earlier years, particularly the 1940-41 class, will also be in attendance.

Of chief interest to many will be the opportunity to renew acquaintances and be brought up-to-date on the progress of various classmates. Several of the new buildings and installations added to the campus will be seen for the first time by those who have not visited the school in recent years. For others, the principal attraction will be the sports and social program with the banquet and dance in the distinctive V.S.A. style. However, the all-pervading and common bond throughout will be the enthusiasm of former students for the school, and their many pleasant associations with it.

Special guests at the Alumni banquet on Friday evening will be include W. G. Malaher and A. M. Wilson, both of whom were members of the teaching staff for several years before the war. Mr. Malaher who is presently employed by the Canadian Wheat Board at Winnipeg will be the guest speaker and Mr. Wilson, Provincial Field Crops Commissioner, will bring greetings from the Alberta Department of Agriculture.

Details of the re-union program are being planned by the Alumni Association of which P. Van Waeningen is president and Laurie Blades is secretary. The guests will be welcomed to the V.S.A. campus by Mr. N. N. Bentley, principal of the school.

VERMILION SCOUTS PROUD AND HAPPY

RECEIVE $125.00 CHEQUE FOR OUTSTANDING SERVICES

First Vermilion Troop of Boy Scouts are a proud and happy bunch of boys this week. The reason is that they received a cheque for $125 from the Vermilion Fair board for outstanding services rendered during the fair last week. It appears that the Fair board is faced each year with the difficult task of securing ticket takers for each of the sideshows and rides at the fair during the three days of the fair. Several dozen people are needed and they are hard to find.

This year it seemed more difficult than ever. Learning of the situation the Scouts volunteered and the entire job was turned over to them. Troop Leader Miles Dixon took charge of the organizational work, arranged the shifts and the ticket taking was carried out without a hitch. Great credit is due Miles and his Scouts for the efficient and conscientious manner in which they carried on. A few of the Cub pack also did relief shifts. Many of the boys put in some long hours, 12 hours to a shift in several instances when help was short but all came through smiling in traditional Scout fashion.

The money will be used to purchase camping equipment for a big camp to be held next summer. Scoutmaster Gordon Ross displayed the sizable cheque in the Standard office Tuesday and fairly exuded pride in the boys for their accomplishment.

Exam. Results

Thousands of Alberta high school students will receive the results of their departmental examinations on Aug. 5 and 6, Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education announced Wednesday. Mr. Casey said the papers are being tabulated at the present time and the results should be available soon. He said the grade 9 results will [illegible]

GIVE AIR CADETS A BIG SEND-OFF

ENPLANE AT 11:30 A.M., SUNDAY, AUGUST 1st

Vermilion and Kitscoty air cadets take off Sunday morning in two big Dakota aircraft for the summer camp at Patricia Bay, Vancouver Island. The trip by air right from their home town is a special reward for the outstanding display given by the air cadets on the occasion of the visit of the Governor-General. It is probably the first time in the history of the air cadets in rural Canada that they have been flown right from their own home town to their annual camp, especially a trip such as this one—over the Rockies.

All parents, friends, and the citizenry of Vermilion generally, are invited to assemble at the Vermilion airport at 11 o'clock a.m. on Sunday August 1st and give the boys a real send-off.

The schedule calls for en-plaining at 11:30, the take-off at 12 noon. The planes will be on the field sometime before that.

Andy Anderson is seeing to it that the airport is in excellent condition for the landings and take-offs of the big planes. The runways will be maintained by the town's motor grader and will be just about as perfect as grass runways can be.

Hi-Lights of the Vermilion Fair

Vermilion Fair closed on Saturday night after a most successful run despite torrential rains during most of Saturday. Fair patrons express themselves as particularly pleased with the 1948 Fair which ran smoothly and which entertained the largest crowds in history.

CALF CLUB SHOW & SALE

Outstanding in the minds of this agricultural community were the Calf Club show and Sale which attracted a large crowd and which centred interest during much of the first day. Buyers were in attendance from most livestock firms in the province and Peter Warrilow of Minburn topped the sale with a price of 58c per pound for over a thousand pounds of choice beef on the hoof. A complete report is contained elsewhere in the Standard.

LIVESTOCK CLASSES

Boys and girls livestock classes were better filled than for many years past and these classes also drew a large attendance at the rings. The light horse show for which Vermilion fair is fast becoming well known throughout the west was intensely interesting to several thousand people who jammed the rings in such fashion that it was difficult for all to see the exhibition of riding, jumping etc. Horses were present from points as far distant as Saskatoon, Prince Albert, Deer Creek and Edmonton. The judge in these classes was [illegible] of Pincher Creek in southern Alberta, a well known rancher and horseman who gave several exhibitions of expert riding.

Cattle and horse classes were well filled and there were many expressions of gratification that Vermilion [illegible]

LIVESTOCK PARADE

The livestock parade held [illegible] in front of the grandstand on Friday evening drew round after round of applause [illegible] their opinion that Vermilion's livestock parade could compare most favorably with that of any exhibition anywhere.

GRANDSTAND ATTRACTIONS

The grandstand attractions were excellent and everyone who had the opportunity of seeing them expressed themselves as entirely satisfied and on numerous occasions strangers declared that the grandstand show was much superior to that given at Edmonton on the A class circuit. The Lucky Lott Hell Drivers, while unable to give more than a fraction of their show owing to the wet condition of the track and turf, did their level best to entertain thousands of people who had braved the rain in an endeavor to see the cars in action.

Matt Tuck with his barrel rolling thrilled packed grandstands on every performance, while the two high acts caused the public to gasp for breath during their sensational escapades high in the air. In this connection it is too bad the rigging for these acts was not placed farther out in the field so as to enable those occupying the top six or eight rows in the grandstand to see it. [illegible] applauded and brought back for repeats.

Record Average Prices At Calf Club Sale

P. WARRILOW HAS CHAMPION CALF

What are believed to be record prices for calf club sales in Alberta if not in Western Canada were obtained at the Vermilion Calf Club show and sale held at the Vermilion fair.

The average price of 29[illegible] cents per pound was received for the 38 calves offered for sale.

Phillip Warrilow, of the Minburn club won the championship for his Aberdeen Angus steer. The calf sold at the sale following the show for 58 cents per pound. The buyer was the T. Eaton Co. Ltd. of Edmonton.

Reserve championship went to Bruce MacDonald of the Mannville club. This was a red Shorthorn and also was bought by Eaton's. The price was 42½ cents per pound.

Auto Crasher Rejoins His Troupe

ACCIDENT VIEWED BY THOUSANDS SATURDAY

Clayton Mitchell, member of the Lucky Lott "Hell Drivers", who was injured in Saturday night's show at the fair, left the Vermilion hospital Wednesday to rejoin his troupe. Mitchell suffered no serious effects from the accident which was viewed by thousands of people in the grandstand.

Mitchell's act was to have a car run over his body, protected only by a light ramp which was staked down at one end. Owing to the very wet soft ground caused by the heavy rain of the afternoon the stake pulled out when struck by the front wheel of the car, the ramp was dislodged and the back wheel struck the unprotected body of the unfortunate Mitchell. He was rolled over by the wheel two or three times which then passed right over his hips. Dr. Kline was fortunately in the stands and after he had given Mr. Mitchell a quick examination removed him to the hospital in the Vermilion Red Cross ambulance. X-rayed and given every attention. Bruised and sore he remained at hospital until Wednesday when he was well enough to join his fellow hell drivers.

THE INSIDIOUS ENEMY — Experienced observers remember that Canada's most dangerous enemy after the last war was the forces that worked to divide her people by stirring up all the latent prejudices that exist in any nation made up of numerous races and creeds. The tensions built up during six years of hard and anxious war work supply a fertile field for purveyors of hatred and suspicion. It seems more dramatic and therefore easier to stress our differences rather than our similarities and common purposes.

An outstanding address was made to a religious organization in Ottawa last week asking that "The spirit of unity, regardless of race or creed, which was fashioned by Canadians on the battlefields of World War 2, be preserved now for the growth and welfare of Canada."

HOME OF LAKES, WHEAT

Manitoba, known as "the home of the world's finest wheat," has numerous lakes. Out of the province's total area of 251,700 square miles, 27,-655 square miles are under water.

CANADIAN OLYMPIC CONTINGENT — Canadian girls who compete in the Olympics in England, shown before leaving Montreal on a special train are: Pat Jones, New Westminster, Elaine Silburn, Vancouver, J. McName, Vancouver, V. King, Winnipeg, Irene Strong, Vancouver, J. [illegible] Court, Montreal, Donna Gilmour, Vancouver, Diana Foster, Vancouver and Doreen Dredge, Kel[illegible].

Wild Ducks And Geese Increase In Canada

WASHINGTON — Northern nesting grounds are [illegible] wild ducks and geese this year than last, the United States Fish and Wildlife Service said.

"Compared to the favorable years of the past, the breeding grounds are still seriously under-populated," Albert Day, director of the service, said.

Day's summary of reports from waterfowl breeding areas in Canada:

Manitoba—Varies from no change to very slight improvement. Early floods caused nesting losses in the large marshes and the river delta areas.

Saskatchewan — Noticeable but small improvement over 1947 especially in the southern short-grass plains. Some losses may be expected in the rapidly drying [illegible] west and west of Regina.

Alberta—A definite increase. Prospects for "a fair production" seem good but drought conditions may reduce the gains in eastern Alberta.

[illegible] — Improved production expected in the Lake Claire marshes and the Cooking Lake area. Breeding populations appear about the same as last year with the possibility of a moderate increase.

British Columbia — Production volume still in doubt due to severe [illegible] district apparently has a reduced duck population.

DESERVED VICTORY

A Long Branch man put a burglar to flight by hurling an alarm clock and a piggy bank at him. He deserved the victory, to which he devoted both time and money.

In 1947 a blood bank for valuable horses, cows and dogs was opened.

CANADIAN CHAMPION — [illegible] smiles is Irene Strong of Vancouver, Canadian champion [illegible] on her way to the Olympics.

Predicts Death Rate Increase

[illegible] — An increase in the death rate during the next 25 years is predicted by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company here.

By 1975 we shall have at least one and maybe four more deaths per 1,000 population each year than the 10 per 1,000 that we have now.

But the average American will be living several years longer than he does now, the statisticians figure. It is this increased life span, they explain, that will increase the death rate.

An increase in the average length of life means that there will be a larger proportion of older people in the population. This in turn will lead to a larger number of deaths per 1,000 population.

If the present death rate of about 10 per 1,000 [illegible] the statisticians [illegible] it would ultimately result in an average lifetime of 100 years. In the present state of our knowledge to expect that the average person will live that long would be to indulge in wishful thinking.

Actually, the average length of life in the United States is now close to 67 years. In a stationary population the death rate corresponding to this figure would be about 15 per 1,000, a figure [illegible] that currently being experienced.

The [illegible] the much more favorable death rate [illegible] the high percentage of people at the childhood and early adult ages, the [illegible] of life when mortality is [illegible].

MARRIAGE SYSTEM

In the belief that the custom tends to perpetuate both the strength and wisdom of the tribe, the [illegible] South America [illegible] a marriage system under which all girls are married to old [illegible] and all boys to old widows.

Alaskan Talented In Teeth Making

HAINES, Alaska — Stephen Sheldon Sr., general store and hotel proprietor, isn't buffaloed by lack of a dentist. In fact the lack spurs him to achievement.

Sheldon's talents range from oil painting to sleight-of-hand and juggling stunts left over from vaudeville and circus days. Among other things he carves curios out of native Alaska ivory.

So when he had a touch of 'flu and swollen upper gums and was unable to wear his plate he sat down and carved an upper row of teeth out of an old piece of ivory naturally.

But this is only the beginning.

"My next set," he said, "will be more of a novelty. I am going to put in mouth organ reeds so I can blow a tune while cooling my tea."

Health LEAGUE of CANADA presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

COOKING SAFEGUARDS HEALTH OF HUMANITY

The human race long has protected itself from food-borne diseases by cooking, even the primitive methods [illegible] in this respect.

Today most foods usually are cooked well enough to kill any harmful or disease-producing germs that are or may get in them, while food handling [illegible] still a long way from perfection are [illegible] improving.

There is one food in this country, however, which is [illegible] uncooked state probably has [illegible] disease, crippling and death than all other foods combined. That food is milk, the world's best [illegible] of diet.

And despite the fact that it is universally known that cooking kills harmful germs, most of the world's milk drinkers today probably drink uncooked [illegible] milk.

In Canada the situation is slowly changing for the better. One province, Ontario, has a milk pasteurization law which is 90 per cent. effective as far as sale of milk for human consumption is concerned. Many municipalities in the other provinces have enacted pasteurization by-laws and the list is growing steadily.

However, much milk consumed in Canada today is unpasteurized and the Health League of Canada, the Dominion's leading voluntary health education association, is currently campaigning to drive home to summer vacationists and summer resort operators throughout the nation that pasteurized milk is safe milk, that unpasteurized milk can be dangerous.

Science has proven that unpasteurized or raw milk can carry germs which cause such diseases as bovine tuberculosis, typhoid, paratyphoid, septic sore throat and undulant fever. Pasteurization kills such disease-potent bacteria, it makes milk safe for human consumption and does NO harm to its nutritive value.

Wheat as a food for man was cultivated as far back as 1200 B.C.

Clandonald News

It was certainly a pleasure to have Rev. Foulks with us once more when he conducted services at Clandonald and Landonville on Sunday July 11. Mrs. Foulks and their three children. He was accompanied on the trip by They returned to the [illegible] on Monday after having made a few calls around here and in the Irwinville district.

Miss G. Craig is spending days here visiting friends in the district.

We are glad to report that Mr. J. Cooper is home from Elk Point hospital where he spent about six weeks. He says he is feeling much better but not very strong yet.

Wilbur Currie and family left on Saturday for a holiday trip to points which will include Edmonton, Jasper and Banff.

George Convey is now established in his new location 1½ miles south of town on the former Ted Williams' farm.

New Curling Rink Started

Work has started under the direction of Tom Souder on the new curling rink and it looks as if it may be ready in plenty of time for the winter season.

Coffee Shop Nearly Ready

Tasebuk's coffee shop is nearly ready for business, the delay being caused by difficulty in securing equipment. The interior decorating was done by Oscar Johnson and is a very fine job.

Cemetery Improved

Last week a number of residents of the district spent a day and a half putting the municipal cemetery in order. The result was certainly well worth the effort and it is hoped that this will [illegible]

Graham Turner to Move to Tulliby

We are sorry to hear that the Turner family are leaving the district shortly. Graham will be operating the U.G.G. elevator at Tulliby and is selling his house [illegible] to the Company. They have been residents of the town for the last 9 years and will be greatly missed as both Graham and Mrs. Turner have always been active in all worthwhile community activities. It is not definitely known who will take his place here as the Company now own two elevators at this point.

Large Attendance at Wedding Dance

On Wednesday evening July 14th a huge crowd gathered at the Columbus hall, guests of the Bobrage family, the event being the wedding dance put on in honor of their son Wilfred. A very fine time was had by all and we join with their many friends in wishing Wilf and [illegible] a long and happily married life.

The scribe wishes go also to Mr. and Mrs. Angus MacMillan who were married recently at St. Andrews. The bride, Gladys Free, is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Free and is well known in the district, having spent the greater part of her life in these parts.

Those who read the account of the Climie-Gund wedding in the Edmonton paper were interested and surprised to learn that the wedding cake was made and decorated by the bride's father. Now we learn that it is all a mistake and Ballard says that anyone who ate any cake that he made would do so at their own risk.

Car Accidents

There seems to have been quite an epidemic of car accidents this [illegible] Elmer Grattan and two other occupants had a narrow escape from serious injury when the tie rod came off the coupe car which he was driving causing it to upset and catch fire. [illegible] MacClellan's car was badly wrecked when it hit the ditch near Clare White's farm west of town. Neither of the two who were in the car at the time of the accident were injured, both escaping with nothing worse than a bad shaking up.

Destroy Those Weeds

Anyone in the M.D. who has perennial weeds had better get them destroyed as we learn that Chief Weed Inspector Bill Ulmen is taking flying lessons now and is liable to drop in on you at any time.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Tom Foy on the birth of a daughter Monday July 19th. Tom is living in Edmonton now and is employed by the Pool Construction.

Quite a number of young people attended the Young People's Pla[illegible] week in Vermilion at the Y.P.A.

A.F.U. Dist. 7 Held Successful Convention

AT WAINWRIGHT JULY 21st

On July 21st Dist. No. 7 of the A.F.U. held their annual convention in the IOOF hall at Wainwright with 75 delegates and visitors present.

The meeting got away to a good start by the electing of committees before adjourning for lunch. The chairmen elected to conduct the convention were George Tindall Jr. of Fabyan, E. P. Taylor of Hope Valley and Chas. Springford of Blackfoot. Secretaries were Mrs. N. Willerton of Fabyan and Mrs. Redman of Hardisty. Resolutions committee—Dan Sharon, Innisfree, Mr. Burton, Edgerton, P. Richardson, Autumn Leaf, Rollie Arthur, Vermilion, P. Gursky, Beauvallon. Registration committee was Mrs. F. Tindall and Seth Oldham of Fabyan; Ushering committee — F. Fielding of Fabyan and Mr. Mosenz, Edgerton.

Mayor J. Robinson of Wainwright said a few words of welcome to the delegates, stating that what affected the farmers affected the townspeople eventually as well.

Mr. E. P. Taylor of Hope Valley, president A.F.U. Dist. No. 7, then gave a short address. He spoke of the freight rates brief that the A.F.U. had compiled for the freight rate hearings. He stressed the need for co-operation between the farmers and people known as the working class.

Mr. G. Tindall Jr., director of the provincial board, then gave a report of his year's activities. He said that it had been a poor winter for travelling but in spite of this he had attended some 30 meetings, set up a few new locals, and revived some of the old ones. He also spoke of the open convention to be held in Calgary to amalgamate the A.F.U. with the U.F.A. In his remarks he said that it was important that each local send their full quota of delegates and that the delegates should pick out good sound leaders to head the new organization.

Mr. Robles, district agriculturist at Wainwright, addressed the meeting for a few minutes on soil conservation, strip farming etc. His remarks were well received.

Carl J. Stimpfle, president of the Alberta Farmers' Union, who was the guest speaker for the day, was then introduced and delivered a fine address. He spoke of his trip to Ottawa, and of the meeting in Regina of the leaders of the farm organizations. He said that the first of August was the cut-off date in the Wheat Board year. It seemed that the farmers were not getting the Coarse Grain Board because two of the provinces had not passed enabling legislation that is necessary to put this board into effect.

The officers elected for the coming year are: Dist. Pres.—E. P. Taylor of Hope Valley; Vice-Pres.—M. Synuiera, Myrnam. The sub-directors for this year of the 8 sub-districts reading from 1 to 8—Peter Gursky, Myrnam; John Anderson, Dewberry; Dan Sharon, Innisfree; George Tlumey, Islay; Seth Oldham, Fabyan; Romeo Belanger, Edgerton; Mrs. M. Pedman, Hardisty; Fred Olsen, Provost. The district secretary-treasurer is to be appointed at the meeting of the district board.

545 Entries In Barley Contests

Drought damage to Saskatchewan and eastern Alberta crops may reduce the number of entries in this year's $25,000 National Barley contest sponsored by the brewing and malting industries. In parts of the barley growing areas in the two provinces barley stands are reported from fair to poor although conditions are much better in Manitoba.

This year there are two contests, one designated as a commercial or Farmers' contest and the second for seed growers. At July 5th the number of reported entries for the three provinces in both was 545, Manitoba leading with 270. By provinces the entries reported were Manitoba 270, Saskatchewan 161; Alberta 114.

Other entries no doubt were received in the week preceding July 15 the deadline for putting them in. The total will not be known until provincial committees send in their final reports.

Canadian Seed Growers At Vancouver

Interesting personalities snapped at Vancouver recently were, left to right, A. B. Masson, Winnipeg, Dr. L. H. Newman, former Dominion Cerealist, and John Welsh, Winnipeg, (only wee Susan Welsh knew the picture was being taken!); R. Platt, Nipawin, Sask., G. M. Stewart, Vancouver; J. D. McFarlane, Aylsham, Sask.; two interesting father-and-son groups, all delegates to the meeting. R. D. Kirkham, Vancouver and Rupert [illegible] coats, Sask.; and at extreme right, John Wiener, Miami Man., and W. T. G. Wiener, general secretary of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, Ottawa.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

And Then It Was Night

By ANNIE KENDALL WILSON

IN AN alley shadowed by tall buildings the new moon got a chance to show its face early, and Bruce Herman threw up his head and thought about home. He touched the letter from Margie in his pocket. Gay, laughing Margie had brought herself close with that letter.

On a night like this the whole crowd would be down at the corner drug store. Margie's yellow hair would lie like sunlight on her neck and she would be gesturing and talking in that way which always stirred him up. Why didn't they all get good jobs to begin with? Her eyes peered up at him from under dark lashes as she took time out to sip her chocolate soda. "Don't any of you read the want ads in the city paper? There's nothing in this town," she turned up her nose scornfully, and then she would sigh—"If I could leave Mother — but then I'll never have a chance."

Sometimes Bruce was sorry for her, but other times he wasn't quite sure she meant it. But it was what she said about want ads that sent him to the manager of a big department store in the city, and got him this job in men's wear.

The letter in his pocket made a warm spot. He was waiting to get to his room to read it. "The one most likely to succeed," he could hear her saying a little huskily that last night when the whole crowd came down to see him off.

nor sun either from the small winnor sun either from the small windows of his close room. It seemed as if he were suffocating at times and he would have to go back to Mom and the big cool house in the little town, but he couldn't do that—quit his first job.

Bruce hadn't met many people, there were Nancy and Susan, who worked hard like he did. They thought up things at night to try out at the store, but these ideas usually vanished under the manager's practical eye.

They ate lunch together and talked about the store. Bruce wanted to put men's wear near the ladies' department. Women did most of the buying anyway, he told the manager, and it was too much trouble for them to rush from one floor to another. The manager had given him a shrewd look and frowned. "You may have something there, son."

And there was Martin who was in the shoe department and liked flashy clothes and sporty cars, but Bruce didn't like Martin's crowd and stayed away from them at night to study salesmanship.

Bruce climbed the hot stairs slowly. Even the silver of moon was more homelike than this sticky place. He opened the door and turned on the fan. In a few moments he could breathe better. His shirt was sticking to his back so he eased off his coat and hung it over a chair. He threw his tie on the dresser and rummaged for a towel. He would read the letter after his bath that would cool him off.

His fingers were unsteady as he opened the letter which brought home so near. He closed his hand on the letter and shut his eyes. He could hear Margie laughing in the clean kitchen as she used to when his mother gave them apple pie. He could smell pies and see Mom watching Marge warily as she nibbled and talked.

Bruce smiled and stretched himself luxuriously on the bed to read the news from home. The letter carried him along with its usual fiery enthusiasm, and at the end his eyes opened wide and he was standing upright in one motion.

Her last words stood out like a light. "I'm coming to the city Thursday, and expect you to begin showing me the town about nine—"

His heart pounded against his ribs like a runner's. Thursday, tonight! Little things which had been troubling him all summer like her hating small towns and wanting him to make more money, were gone now, and he remembered scent of the fragrant bath salts she always used instead of perfume was strong in his nostrils.

Bruce laughed aloud and went to dress. Soon he was running downstairs checking his pocketbook to see if there were enough money and saying the address over to himself.

This evening was different from being with Martin's crowd, showing Margie everything gave him a heady feeling of power. She had on a blue dress and gold sandals and his flowers were in her hair.

They went from one place to another. "Let's go somewhere else," she kept saying over and over, and—"Oh, Bruce, how can you enjoy all this while I'm buried at home?"

"Time to go home now," Bruce said when he was almost asleep on his feet. She was quiet in the taxi as if something were on her mind, and soon they were back at a coffee stand near her hotel. The magic evening was over, Bruce thought, sighing, and his money gone.

"Uncle Bose is putting in a big store back at home," Margie looked over the rim of her cup at him in the old way.

"Well?" he prompted, and put his hand over hers on the counter.

"And," she finished in a rush, "He wants you to run it for him."

Bruce twisted uneasily and moved his hand. "I thought you hated small towns?"

"I do, but we could come here occasionally like tonight," she gestured wildly and gave him one of her brightest smiles.

Bruce opened his mouth and shut it in surprise. He felt like one of the headless dummies in the store. "What's the matter?" Margie asked sharply. "I thought you were wild to come home crazy about me—and now you act funny."

"I am, honey, it's just—" [illegible] pled his hair. "Oh, I don't know—hard to leave the store, I guess." Margie sat still, watching him. Bruce pushed his cup aside.

"I'm tired and there's tomorrow. Let's think about it awhile." What was wrong that he was so miserable?

"I've already thought about it and I'm going home tomorrow," she said flatly. Her eyes were a scorching blue flame. "Either you come with me, or you—don't."

"But I can't decide so quickly." He rubbed his forehead wearily.

She slammed her cup down and stood up. "Make up your mind."

The words hammered in his head and made it ache, or was it because he was so tired? Then suddenly he saw Margie and his home town as separate and he knew with a sharp pang that only one was beloved.

The emptiness inside filled his whole body, but he shook his head stubbornly. No need to tell her he wasn't going back because he loved home less. It was because he was afraid of not loving it enough if he stayed there with her.

Years To Wait For Victory Medals

OTTAWA.—Veterans of World War II will have to wait several years before receiving their victory medals, W. C. Ronson, master of the mint disclosed. However, he said the mint was working as fast as possible to supply the 3,000,000 copies of the medal ordered by the government.

"Canning" Aircraft With Object To Keep Motors For Years

CALGARY. — R.C.A.F. crews here are "canning" aircraft at the rate of 30 a month and during the last 18 months, have "cocooned" over 500 powerful warbuilt machines, by wrapping them in deterioration-proof and moistureproof plastic.

Object of the process is to prevent waste. After World War I, hundreds of warbuilt craft were sold to private individuals for less than one quarter their cost because Canadian and U.S. Governments had no use for them and could not afford to keep them around and allow them to deteriorate.

By "canning" the engines, it is hoped that a motor can be kept for many years, then brought out from its covering in as good condition as when stored.

The process, developed by the U.S. Navy to take care of stored ships, is a simple operation. A motor is thoroughly overhauled, then run up with a special grade of preservative oil through lubrication lines. A layer of wood fibre packing is laid over portions of the engine and a fine resin base spray, which looks like a spider's web, is sprayed over the whole engine forming a close, lace-like pattern.

Next is applied a film of the same resinous material, colored yellow, to cut off outside air. This is followed by a coat of red colored material, and when dried, the final silver coat is applied. To absorb any remaining moisture, commercial absorbents are introduced into a slit in the covering to soak up the humidity.

Western Oil Fields Boost Production

OTTAWA. — The boost given to Canadian crude oil production by new western fields is pointed up strikingly by current Bureau of Statistics figures.

Canada produced 2,764,958 barrels (of 35 gallons) in the first four months of this year, an increase of 630,904 barrels from the same period last year. New production from Alberta's Leduc field alone amounts nearly to this figure in the four months, 616,207 barrels against only 700 which the young field had given to the end of April, 1947.

Saskatchewan's Lloydminster also jumped by 121,512 barrels to 136,676.

Alberta's Turner Valley produced 1,503,853 barrels of crude in the first four months, a decrease of 136,[illegible] from the same period last year, and 163,307 barrels of natural gasoline, an increase of 20,118.

April figures for the three largest Canadian fields, with April, 1947, in brackets: Turner Valley—Crude [illegible],672 (425,496), natural gasoline, 42,073 (32,031). Leduc, 179,627 (700). Lloydminster, 37,230 (11,046).

An Encouraging Situation

IN THE PAST IT HAS BEEN FOUND that the rate of employment is closely related to the general prosperity of the country. During the depression of the 1930's, unemployment was widespread and wage levels were extremely low. Both employment rates and wage levels rose to record heights during the war, but there was some concern at that time as to whether these might fall again when service personnel returned to civilian employment, and the great war plants were no longer operating. Events have shown, however, that there was no immediate cause for anxiety, since almost all industries have experienced labor shortages, and wage rates have increased in almost every type of employment.

* * * * *

Employment Rate Has Increased Recent figures, issued by the Dominion government, show that the employment index now stands above that of any wartime year although during the war farms and factories were operating at their maximum capacities, and there were nearly 1,000,000 men and women in the armed forces. Recently an employment index was made, using figures obtained from Canada's nine leading industries, and this index shows that, using figures for 1941 as a base of 100, the rate of employment is now 124.3. This is 3.7 points higher than the figure for 1947 and 14.5 points above the level for 1946. The average weekly earnings in these industries have also risen considerably, having advanced to $39.37 as compared to $35.60 last year and $32.52 in 1946.

* * * * *

Living Costs Also Higher Further figures compiled on present employment conditions show that the total wages paid to Canadian workers now stand at an index of 188.8, as compared to 100 in 1941. During the past two years there has been an increase of 51.2 points in these figures. On March 1 of this year, it was estimated that 2,026,962 workers in Canada's nine leading industries were receiving a total of $80,257,364 each week. There is, however, a less encouraging aspect of the situation, in the figures dealing with unplaced applicants for employment, which show that on March 18, those seeking employment numbered 134,000 which was 9,000 more than at the same time in 1947. By April 15 this figure had been reduced by 4,000, and it was expected at that time that there would be a shortage of labor before the end of the summer, due in part at least, to the rising demand for farm help during the summer months. Although the rise in wage and employment levels is encouraging, the fact that living costs have advanced more rapidly than wages during the past year cannot be overlooked. However, records of the Labor Department have shown that industrial wages have risen 74 per cent since 1939, which is slightly more than the increase in the cost of living during that period.

Boy Loses Arm Feeding Bear

PEORIA, Ill. — A 300-pound black Himalayan bear chewed off the arm of John Dickerson, 12, who climbed a fence to feed the animal. A nearby concessionaire, A. D. Slade, grabbed a cane and stuck it in the bear's mouth, forcing it to release the boy. Chewed off above the elbow, the remainder of the arm had to be amputated at the shoulder.

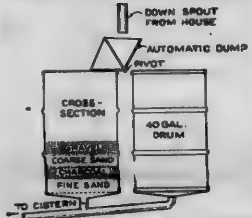
Filters For Rain Water



This double-chamber filter from two oil drums uses an ingenious automatic-dumping bucket to distribute the flow between the two chambers, sending clean water to the cistern.

ONE of the objectionable things about having a cistern for rain water is that not only does it get the rain water but also a considerable amount of dirt, grit, sticks and other material washed into it from the roof. This can be avoided by using a system like that shown here. This drawing illustrates a rain water filter consisting of two oil drums, both partly filled with filter material of sand, charcoal and pebbles, as shown.

To operate a double barrel filter of this type, an automatically tipping bucket is used to divide the water from the down spout evenly between the two filter units, so they can take care of a rapid flow. The discharge from the bottom of the oil drums is caught in two flat funnels and directed into the cistern filler pipe. This type of filter does very nicely for summer weather, but will freeze in winter time and become inoperative.

Another method of providing filtration for cistern water is to build a double brick wall across the cistern, so as to divide it into two parts. These two brick walls should be placed 4 or 5 inches apart, this space being filled with sand, which is the filtering medium. Mortar is used only in the horizontal joints of these walls, the bricks being butted against each other in the vertical joints.

This provides plenty of space for water to flow from one side of the cistern to the other. The down spout is led into one side of the [illegible] the suction pipe from the pump draws the water from the [illegible] of the wall. In this way all the water used has passed through this filtering sand.

Rare Breed Of Cattle Reported

TRENTON, N.J.—One of the rarest breeds of cattle, the Canadian, can be found on a Basking Ridge Dairy Farm in Somerset county, the New Jersey Department of Agriculture reported.

Owned by John Astor, the farm houses the first herd of Canadians in this state and third in the country.

Hundreds of pure-bred animals are imported annually from Canada, but the true "Cana-dien" in name and origin is smaller than the average black and white Holstein or fawn-colored Guernsey shipped to New Jersey from Canada, the department said.

The Canadian breed is a hardy animal, development of cattle imported from France early in Canada's history. It has many of the characteristics of the Jersey but does not produce as much milk.

Advantages that have proved its worth in some of the more rugged areas of Quebec province are that it can live and flourish on scant pasture and can withstand conditions too tough for most breeds. It is a combination herd, acceptable both as a dairy and beef producer. It is seldom seen in Canada outside Quebec.

CONTINUE PRICE CEILINGS ON TINNED VEGETABLES

OTTAWA. — The Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced that ceiling prices would be continued on canned tomatoes, tomato juice, peas, corn, green and wax beans, peaches, pears and plums.

The maximum prices allowed canners are those fixed last November 27 by the schedule to Order A-2480 as amended by A-2461. These maximum prices will also apply to those imported canned goods, except that canned peaches, pears and plums imported prior to July 19 will remain subject to mark-up control only.

It is expected that with the removal of the sales tax on these items ceiling prices will be somewhat lower for the consumer.

REMAIN A BACHELOR RECIPE FOR LONG LIFE

VANCOUVER. — Alvares Rudolph Habbsburg has a recipe for long life.

It is: Eat plenty of pie and take long walks; fall in love, if necessary, but remain a bachelor.

He should know. It was his birthday and he claims he is 114 years old.

Mr. Habbsburg says he was born July 6, 1834, in Halifax. The church which contained his birth records was destroyed by fire many years ago. He now lives in a rest home.

Find Saskatchewan Uranium Better

REGINA — New uranium samples covered with yellow oxide and assaying five times better than those originally discovered in the Lac la Ronge radioactive field have made high grade "squeals" on the Geiger counter, the Resources Department announces.

Two new high grade showings have been found in the shearing along the fault, and "nothing can be found on record in the world" showing radioactive outcrops of equivalent size over such an extensive area, the announcement said.

Further reports also indicate that the outcrops examined by Government geologists would aggregate several millions of square feet in extent. It is announced that several planes have already entered the radioactive area at La Ronge, with prospectors arriving to stake territory adjacent to the discovery reservation. It is said possible at present to locate mineral claims within a mile of some of the larger occurrences.

HONEYMOON INTERRUPTED

FORT WORTH, Tex. — The man missed $41 from his purse, saw a shadowy figure on the roof next door and called police. A 17-year-old youth was jailed. Parents of the embarrassed youth got him out with an explanation: he was not a burglar, he was on the roof playing hide-and-seek with his bride.

BRITISH WORKER HAS NEW SWIM METHOD; "WALKS" ON RIVER THAMES

LONDON — Joe Simms, 51-year-old railroad worker, "walked" across the Thames here from Chelsea embankment to Battersea Park, about 230 yards, in 17 minutes.

Simms, who weighs 185 pounds, claims to have perfected a new method of progress through water after 18 years research. As he "walked" across the Thames his arms were folded across his chest and only his head showed above the water.

A spectator who followed in a boat said, "The whole time he was in the water he appeared to be perfectly erect." Simms said after his "walk" across the river: "That is something the Yanks can not do."

"My movement is made with a slow cycle action," he said in discussing his technique.

Greater Prosperity in Town and Country
Modern Massey-Harris Machines Increase Output per Man and give the Farmers Greater Buying Power
On Saturday nights all across Canada, the shopping centres of towns and smaller cities are crowded with farm automobiles and farm people. Side by side, with the town dwellers, farm people buy all kinds of consumer goods, from breakfast goods to broadloom rugs, from canned goods to cosmetics, from raisins to refrigerators.
Time was when farm buying was more limited, when farmhouse furnishings were more meagre. The change is due directly to the increase in the buying power of farm families.
The reduction in operating costs and increased output per man effected by modern farm machinery gives farm families today more income from their operations in supplying agricultural products for home and export markets and more money for both the necessities and luxuries of life. Greater prosperity for all.
Massey-Harris, builders of farm implements for over one hundred years, has contributed in no small measure to this progress through the development of modern labor-saving farm machinery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Thompson and family spent Sunday at the writer's home and a very enjoyable day was spent. It is nice that old friends can visit around in the summer time. Last Sunday the Gillies' family were supper guests also, the occasion being Mr. Gillies' birthday.

We hope that Mrs. Payne is enjoying her visit to Edmonton.

The writer received a letter from Mrs. Bothwell. She is certainly having a lovely time at the coast and is enjoying every minute of it.

North Vermilion Field Round-Up

By C. Gough

A few Sundays ago Mr. Ed Magistad took the student minister over the entire route, beginning at Allandale going to North Vermilion and Clandonald and returning to Allandale. This is the first time that one car has made the total trip and we would like to thank Mr. Magistad for this fine gesture of Christian co-operation.

We would like to pay tribute to the good service of Mr. E. Douglas, the teacher at Queenie Creek, who has greatly assisted in the worship services this summer. He has been organist at Rusylvia and pianist at Clandonald.

Believing that it is better late than never, this column would like to extend congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Feenstra, who were recently married, and to wish them both a long and prosperous wedded life.

At the recent Baptismal services held at North Vermilion and Clandonald, three children were baptized. The parents were: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Fry; Mr. and Mrs. Henry McKinnon and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Feenstra. Both services were fairly well attended.

Mrs. Adamson, teacher at Vermilion, has been spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William [illegible].

Glenn Baldock has been attending the boys' camp at the V.S.A.

Mrs. H. Pratt recently spent a week at Dodds visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. Henry Strange who has been working at Magistad's has now moved to town. Miss Caroline Strang was recently at Dunsmore for a week.

Mrs. Fry, mother of Mrs. George Dubman, has been visiting the Ferrells, Dubmans and Fry's.

Bob McIntyre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McIntyre of the Campbell Lake road area, arrived home from Edmonton last week where he has been for the past few months.

We would like to extend congratulations and best wishes to Master Allen Good of North Vermilion who recently celebrated his 6th birthday and wish him the best of luck when he begins school this fall.

If prizes were given for good gardens I think Mr. J. Pochenpaugh of North Vermilion would come in for first prize. Mr. Pochenpaugh, not as young as he used to be, deserves much credit for his keenness and industry as a gardener and for his system of [illegible]. "More weeds on some platters than in his garden." Other excellent gardens that I have seen are those of Bill McIntyre and Milton Farrell.

Recent visitors at Clare White's, Clandonald, were Mr. and Mrs. H. [illegible] and two children and Mr. and Mrs. A. Earl, all from Victoria, B.C.

Chatsworth Chatter

Though most points had rain on Saturday the 24th varying from light showers to a downpour, our district was not so fortunate and the immediate need is for a good soaker. Light misty rain was all that fell here but further south a heavy downpour made very slippery roads but was most welcome. Also on Tuesday heavy showers fell over the western part of the district.

Mr and Mrs Arthur Tovell, three girls and Mr J. Tovell left by car on Thursday July 15 on a visit to Westlock and Neapock.

The July meeting of the Chatsworth club was held at Mrs. H. Good's on the 15th with 14 in attendance including three visitors Mrs. L. Pockett of town, Mrs. A. Sturt and June Thompson. As this was our annual meeting the election of officers for the coming year took place. The new secretary treasurer is Mrs. Jim Panter and president is Mrs. E. Thompson. The draw for the food parcel was made, resulting in the name of Mrs. Parr, of Edinburgh, a friend of Mrs. Burns, to be the recipient. Donations to the parcel were numerous and varied, including tea, macaroni, dried fruits, cake and biscuit mix, canned soup, canned milk, etc. Arrangements for a sale of home cooking to be held at McLaughlin's store in town on Saturday afternoon at 3 p.m. were left in the hands of a committee consisting of Mrs. J. Thompson, Mrs. J. Panter, Mrs. J. Farkash Jr. and Mrs. H. Good. The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. Arnold Maggs on Aug. 19.

Mr and Mrs Arnold Maggs were visitors to Edmonton from Tuesday 13th to Thursday 15th.

Dennis Klashinsky, son of Mr and Mrs Barney Klashinsky Jr of Vancouver, B.C. is spending the holidays with his grandparents Mr and Mrs B. Klashinsky.

As a number of folks hereabouts were away, the service conducted by Rev. Reikie was not very largely attended. The next service is to be held by Mr. Gough on Sunday Aug. 1 at 11 a.m.

Mr and Mrs Bob Cameron have been enjoying a visit from the latter's parents Mr and Mrs Sawyer of Lacombe. While they were here a fishing party including Mr and Mrs Sawyer, Mr and Mrs Bob Cameron and Mr and Mrs J. Panter and boys took a trip to a northern lake last week.

Mrs Leo Klashinsky and sister returned last week from the Pacific coast where they were visiting Mrs Klashinsky's folks. The threat of a railway strike cut their visit shorter than was planned.

Mrs L. Pockett, Frances, Margaret and Wynn and Marie Williams, all of town spent a few days recently visiting at Jim Thompson's.

Miss Pat Clark has been spending a few days at Mr and Mrs. E. Thompson's.

Jack Thompson attended the short course at the Y.P.A. last week and reports a very interesting and enjoyable program.

Mrs Clark, (the former Mrs Reddy of Violet Grove, Alberta was renewing acquaintances at the fair. Friends here wish her much happiness.

Irma and Vermilion Split Prize Money at Ball Tournament

LLOYDMINSTER FLIERS WIN LADIES' FASTBALL — WAINWRIGHT ARMY MEN'S FASTBALL; HEINSBURG TAKES THE JUNIOR BASEBALL

Irma and Vermilion won their way to the finals of the senior tournament at the big baseball day held here on Wednesday. At the end of the 4th inning with Irma leading 8 to 6, Umpire Monty Haskins quite rightfully called the game due to darkness. This meant that the first and second prize money was split between the finalists, $125 each. Vermilion ran in 5 runs in the first inning only to see Irma run in 6 in the second. Eight teams competed in all. In the semi-finals Irma eliminated Holden, Vermilion won from Thorsby. In the opening round Irma won from Lloyd, Holden from Wainwright, Thorsby from Mannville, Vermilion from Yankee.

JUNIOR BASEBALL

Heinsburg Juniors won the boys' baseball, 20 years and under. Mannville was second with Vermilion and Wainwright eliminated in first round.

LADIES' FASTBALL

Lloydminster Fliers proved the class of the ladies' fastball field winning a thrilling final game from the Mannville Bluebirds 8 runs to 7. Lloyd had previously defeated Streamstown and then Dewberry, while Mannville put Vermilion out of the competition.

MEN'S FASTBALL

The Wainwright Army team slugged their way to first money in the men's fastball, Thorsby taking 2nd. Other teams to compete were Auburndale, Clovelly, Vegreville and Tofield.

OPERATE BOOTHS

The Vermilion Amateur Athletic association, sponsor of the sports day, operated the booths on the grounds and excellent service was given, the booths in turn being well patronized.

The usual huge sports day crowd jammed the spacious Elks hall for the dance in the evening.

Reg Mitchell and all the members and ladies of the V.A.A.A. can feel well satisfied that the day was a success. It was well attended and all the tournaments were run off smoothly. Holding the sports late in the summer was an unknown venture as far as Vermilion was concerned and in a measure compensated the sports-minded for cancellation of the regular May 24th celebration.

CHILDREN'S RACES

A short program of sprints for boys and girls 15 years and under was run off with the following results:

GIRLS

6 and 7 yrs.—Barbara Mead; Jeannette Wilson.

8 and 9 yrs.—Donna Cooper; Margaret Wilson.

10 and 11 yrs.—Alice Simonson; Alice Seagart.

12 and 13 yrs.—Esther Simonson; Betty Bentley.

15 and Under—Betty Bentley; Thorhild Lofthaugh.

BOYS

8 and 9 yrs. Ronnie Kupin, Bryan Ford.

10 and 11 yrs.—Jim Part; Stuart Barr.

12 and 13 yrs.—Fred Burton; Dick Beresford.

15 and Under—Al Toner; Fred Burton.

½-Mile Bike Race, 15 and under—Hugh Shepherd; Jack Barr; Stuart Barr.

Clandonald Man Named to Research Position

Mr. James A. MacKinnon, Minister of Mines and Resources, has announced that Dr. John Convey, a former student and lecturer at the University of Alberta, has been named director of research in the Physical Metallurgy laboratories of the Dominion Bureau of Mines. Dr. Convey was born in Durham, England, but came to Canada at an early age, the family settling at Clandonald. He graduated from the University of Alberta with the degrees of B.Sc. and M.Sc. in mathematics. He lectured at the U. of A. during 1937-38.

During World War 2 Dr. Convey was with the Canadian Navy with the rank of Lieut. Commander. He later served with the Royal Navy and did research work in metallurgy. In 1912 he was awarded the Sorby prize for original work in metals research.

The family home is still at Clandonald.

COMPANY EXPANDS EXPLORATION WORK

Amerada Petroleum Corporation, American independent which started a large exploration program in Alberta several months ago, has expanded operations. European Lady Experiences Vermilion Kindness

TOWN PROVES TO BE WRONG DESTINATION

Happy to think that she had reached the end of a journey from Italy which had lasted 21 days, Mrs. Rosina Amon left the train here Sunday night and eagerly looked for her daughter and her son-in-law. They were not to be seen. The train departed and Mrs. Amon was left in the station in a [illegible] unable to speak English, [illegible] in the [illegible] of night. Noticing her look of bewilderment, C.N. operator Jack Ridington began to question her. Neither understood the language of the other, but she produced passports and papers which indicated that she should have been on her way north to Fort Vermilion, where her daughter and son-in-law, Mr and Mrs. Lore, lived. The mistake had been made when taking the train at Edmonton.

Jack decided that the best medicine for the weary and worried traveller, was to meet some of the kindly disposed Vermilion ladies and he left her in charge of Mrs. Chesnick. Although unable to speak with the lady Mrs. Chesnick the next day had neighbors in who could speak Polish, Dutch, French and German, and soon the traveller was conversing freely in her own tongue.

She had lost everything in the war and had ended up in a displaced persons camp in Italy. Her daughter in Fort Vermilion had finally located her and had provided funds for the mother to come to her home in Fort Vermilion. All this lady's belongings were packed in one small bag. She had taken the boat at an Italian port 21 days prior to reaching Vermilion.

In the meanwhile Mr. Ridington had telegraphed Fort Vermilion and found that the telegrapher there was the sought for son-in-law. Later in the morning the daughter herself phoned Mr. Ridington from Edmonton saying that she had flown from the northern Alberta town to meet her mother in the city.

So Mrs Amon, no longer travel stained and weary, no longer wondering if life was worth the trouble but filled with a liking for the people and wonderment at the kindliness encountered in Vermilion was put on the Canadian National passenger and carried directly to her waiting daughter at the Edmonton depot.

Opening Guns in Election Campaign

MEETING ADDRESSED BY HON. D. B. McMILLAN, W. R. CORNISH AND ROBERT FAIR, M.P.

Opening guns in the Alberta election campaign as far as Vermilion was concerned, were fired here Wednesday evening when a small but interested audience was addressed by the Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of public works, W. R. Cornish, Social Credit candidate for the constituency and Robert Fair, M.P. H. R. Parker was chairman of the meeting. Some of the points developed by the speakers will appear in our next issue, the proximity of the meeting to publication not allowing time for writing and editing a report this week. The meeting was held in the Legion hall.

A collection was taken at the close of the meeting to defray expenses and the entire proceeds turned over to the Canadian Legion, the amount over and above the hall rental as a donation towards the building of the new hall.

Super Baseball Attraction on Sat., Aug. 14

A super baseball attraction has been arranged for Saturday Aug. 14th at 6:30 p.m. when the Oakland Beavers, a touring colored team, will play the Vermilion Seniors at the Fair grounds diamond. Don't miss this!

Interesting Figures Given For Municipal Hospitals Operation

VERMILION FIGURES LOWEST

The Standard has been privileged to peruse a copy of the Alberta Municipal Hospitals annual report which supplies complete statistical and financial data for all municipal hospitals.

By comparison the Vermilion Municipal hospital is efficiently and economically operated. Salaries paid are not the highest nor yet the lowest in the province. Matrons' salaries vary from $1500 to $2072 with that at Vermilion $1850. Operating costs on the basis of patient days shows that the actual administration here costs 27c per patient day. This is equalled or bettered by only three other hospitals, Elk Point being the low with 23c. Professional care is the lowest at Vermilion with $1.26 per patient day. Cost of operating the kitchen and dining room is also the lowest here 61c per day and this runs up to a high of $2.38 at Magrath. Upkeep of general house and property is 62c per patient day, Marwood with 42c is the lowest in this bracket with a high figure of $1.79 at Oyen. General maintenance costs Vermilion 16c with the lowest being 17c and the highest 80c.

Total cost of caring for each patient each day is $3.44 at Vermilion hospital, the lowest in the province, only three others are below the $4 per day mark. When interest, depreciation and bad debts are taken into consideration Vermilion is still the lowest with $3.44 and only [illegible] other hospitals were able to keep the operating costs per patient day below $4.

The number of patient days for the Vermilion municipal hospital for 1947 was [illegible]. Ten other municipal hospitals had more patient days than Vermilion. The report covers 18 municipal hospitals in Alberta which operated for the full year of 1947.

Working conditions and salaries of all hospital employees are materially better as compared with 1939. Average wages of graduate nurses have increased from $60 at that time to $[illegible] in 1948, that of ward aids from $[illegible] to $75, maids from $[illegible] to $[illegible] and janitors from $[illegible] to $[illegible]. Working hours have decreased for nurses [illegible] hours per week to [illegible] with other hospital personnel now working 48 hours instead of 56 hours. All figures quoted are average.

Air Cadets Away to Patricia Bay

GIVEN ROYAL SENDOFF BY [illegible] PEOPLE

A crowd estimated at 400 people gathered at the airport Sunday morning to see the Vermilion and Kitscoty air cadets emplane in the two big Dakota aircraft. 20 boys from the Kitscoty flight and 18 from Vermilion boarded the planes accompanied by 3 civilian instructors from Kitscoty, Messrs. H. Inman, Brown and McGindrie. Two other instructors from Kitscoty have already motored to the coast and will be at the Patricia Bay air cadet camp. These are M. Christofferson and Jas. A. Smith.

INSPECT PLANES

The commanders of the two planes allowed all who so desired, to make an inspection trip through the aircraft, and this courteous act was much appreciated.

The air field was in excellent shape and despite the size of the Dakotas, they landed and took off in less than half the length of the [illegible] way. The pilots were high in their praise of the landing field. It is rather interesting to note that Flight Lieut. J. Inman who was the pilot of the governor-general's plane on the occasion of his visit was in charge of one of the aircraft while Flt. Lt. Mocenne piloted the other.

The first plane on which the Kitscoty boys were passengers made a through trip, reaching Pat Bay on schedule at 4 p.m. The second aircraft was to stop at Calgary and reached its destination at 6 p.m.

Mr. Berg had represented the constituency since 1935 when Social Credit swept to power in Alberta.

Pretty Church Wedding At Clandonald

ROBERGE—LAWRENCE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Columba's church in Clandonald, Alta., on July 14th when Una Lawrence, adopted daughter of Mrs. Anne Lawrence, became the bride of Wilfred Roberge, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Roberge. Rev. A. MacDonell officiated at the ceremony.

The bride, given away by her brother was charming in a floor-length gown of heavy white satin, styled with long lily point sleeves, sweetheart neckline and peplum. Her full-length veil was softly gathered to a beaded coronet. She wore long lace gloves and carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was a three-strand pearl necklace, a gift of the groom.

The bride was attended by three bridesmaids: Miss Rose Bruchkowsky, a friend of many years, in a gown of yellow marquisette with matching chapel veil and elbow length gloves, and Misses Mary and Anne McDonell of Red Deer, cousins of the bride. Mary was gowned in pink net over taffeta with matching chapel veil and elbow length gloves while Anne wore a gown of lavender brocade with matching chapel veil and elbow-length gloves. Each carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Little Louise Lawrence, niece of the bride, looked lovely in a floor length [illegible] taffeta with chapel veil [illegible] She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

Best men were Roland and Vivianne(?) Hamelin of Mortinville, cousins of the [illegible] Lawrence, brother of the bride.

Lelia Scott is Bride of Norman Hager

A mid-afternoon ceremony was solemnized in St. Stephen's College chapel, Edmonton on Saturday July 31st when Miss Lelia Eileen Scott, daughter of Dr and Mrs. William Hudson Scott of Edmonton, became the bride of Mr Norman Phillips Hager, son of Mrs. S. L. Hager and the late Mr Hager of Vancouver.

Pink and white gladioli and potted ferns decorated the chapel for the ceremony, performed by Rev. G. Harrison Villett, assisted by Rev. Dr Stanley Scott of Calgary.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a powder blue Swiss eyelet dress, styled with scalloped neckline. Her hat was of white gladioli florets and she carried a semi-cascade bouquet of the same flowers.

Miss Margaret Ann Scott was her sister's attendant. She wore a pale yellow Swiss dress with matching hat and carried a colonial bouquet of Sweetheart carnations tied with pink ribbon.

Mr Morton Mackid, of Calgary, was best man and ushering the guests were Mr Andrew Watson and Mr Carl Nylen.

Mrs John Hamilton played the wedding music and while the register was being signed Miss Muriel Mills sang "Where'er You Walk."

For a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mrs. Scott was in a dress of rosewood beige with hat of matching shade and corsage of roses and gladioli and violets.

Mrs. Hager, who also received chose a black afternoon dress with matching hat and a gardenia corsage.

The three-tiered wedding cake on the bride's table was set off with tulle and sweetheart roses. Pastel sweet peas and snapdragons decorated the rooms.

Mrs T. W. Walker and Mrs [illegible] Scott poured tea. Cutting the ices were Mrs. Scott Hamilton and Miss Alice Keith.

Mr and Mrs Hager left later for a wedding trip to Seattle, Port Townsend and Vancouver Island, after which they will make their home in Vancouver.

For travelling the bride changed to a wool suit of pale yellow with matching hat. She wore green reptile shoes and carried a bag to match and her corsage was a gardenia.

Out-of-town guests at the ceremony included Mr and Mrs. W. H. McCallor of Vancouver, Miss Alice Keith and Mr and Mrs A. M. Watt, of Vermilion, Mr and Mrs. Norman Scott of Rathbead, and Dr Charles Scott of Peterborough, Ont.

British Lawmakers Dislike Beaver Meat

THE PAS, Man.—It boils down more or less to a matter of taste.

But you could hardly blame Eddie Hong, Chinese chef at this far north Manitoba town, for becoming piqued at the attitude of certain British M.P.'s. Eddie is the man who first whipped up a tantalizing dish called Beavertail Soup.

The dish appeared unexpectedly on the House of Commons menu and the lawmakers don't go for it. A British legislator wanted to know why foods like beaver meat are tried out on members of parliament. He figured it may have been all right for Canadian fur traders, but he wanted to know why the government tried to make M.P.'s eat it.

Says Eddie of his specialty: "Very good".

Of course, he's prejudiced—he invented it. But then, it was a howling success at last year's trappers' festival here when it was first introduced.

It's considered a big delicacy in the north. Trappers say it's tasty, nourishing and has a flavor similar to pork and goose, mixed. The meat is rich and dark.

Here's the recipe: One beaver tail, salt, lemon juice and cinnamon. Hold the beaver tail in the flame until the skin blisters. Remove the tail from the flames, and cover it with well-salted water. Cook below boiling point for one hour. Strain the broth and flavor to taste with lemon juice and cinnamon.

It may be thickened with potatoes or any of the usual thickening.

Mmm, good!

Britain Fears Potato Bugs From Continent

Many thousands of acres of potato-growing farm land on the South and East coast of England are now the scene of another "invasion" battle, as they were in the wartime days. This time however, the invader is the Colorado potato beetle, common in Canada, which is the worst threat to Britain's potato crops in ten years. Spraying and searching for the pest is being intensified in areas where the beetle has been found recently, and a small army of farmers, officials, watchers and searchers are engaged in an all-out effort to beat the Continental threat to the crops.

Upper left: Searching potato fields for the Colorado beetle on a farm near Rochester, Kent. The area is the scene of an intensive spraying operation.

Above: A duster-sprayer at work in a potato field on a farm near Rochester. There are four of these sprayers at work in this area, and they are using 20 tons of DDT per week.

Inset: This is the enemy against whom the fight is being waged. Samples of the Colorado beetle are taken in containers by the mobile "army" which is covering a large area of Kent as a precaution against the pest.

Lower left: A government official, in charge of anti-beetle operations in a large area of Kent surveys potato-growing land on which he and his assistants are about to act against the beetle.

Summer Insects Hold Greater Terrors Than Blizzards For Men In Yukon

WHITEHORSE, Yukon Territory.—Summer insects hold greater terrors than winter blizzards for the men who roam the trails of the Yukon.

A man on the tramp in the Yukon during the summer months carries plenty of matches and netting with him. He "Copes" his skin with special preparations. If he stops for a meal or a rest, he builds a circle of "smudge" fires and sits in the middle.

There is many a tale of men frozen to death in the Yukon snows, but for sheer horror they cannot rival the stories told here of prospectors lost in the hills and unable to protect themselves from the swarms of mosquitoes and black flies. One search party last summer found a missing man sitting on a tree stump, crying softly.

Clouds of black flies, an insect usually no bigger than the head of a pin, have been reported reaching from ground level to a height of 20,000 feet, resembling the "funnel" of a tornado.

Besides interfering with everyday life in the north, these insects present a problem for military authorities, who since 1942 have been studying the operating efficiency of military forces in the sub-Arctic regions. So far, these experiments have had to do mostly with cold, but now the Canadian defense research board is turning its attention to bugs.

Eight field parties are spending the summer in the north this year, under the auspices of the defense research board. In addition, laboratory investigations will be carried out at Fort Churchill, Manitoba.

It is hoped to compile complete information on many types of mosquitoes, black flies and deer flies, and to investigate control methods. The parties will fan out across the north, from the river delta, Southampton Island, Goose Bay, Ungava Bay and Frobisher Bay. The parties are being taken in by air, and will continue their experiments until the end of the Arctic summer, late in August.

Their job will be to collect insects, observe breeding and biting habits, note the effect of weather and vegetation and compile 24-hour timetables of insect activities. Various repellants and control methods will be investigated and a new pest-proof suit will be tried out.

Last year, a check at Fort Churchill identified 10 biting types and various non-biting types of mosquitoes, 12 species of black flies and nine or 10 deer fly types. It was stated that the pests appear in round the clock shifts.

Most fertile breeding grounds are said to be in the barren lands, where spraying methods are described as ineffective because new hordes of insects [illegible].

One project envisages spraying snow with insecticide, designed to kill insects when the thaw comes.

The research teams also will conduct experiments to see whether it is possible to create artificial immunity to insect poisons in humans. Members of parties, many of them students or faculty members of Canadian universities, will be inured with various preparations and will expose themselves to insect bites.

Grooms Mistaken For High Officials

LONDON. — It appears that lower brackets of visiting Olympic teams should not dress out of their class. It causes embarrassment.

When the grooms of a visiting equestrian team—officials didn't say which one—turned up at a camp near London they were dressed so smartly that British officials mistook them for high officials of the team.

The grooms were suitably entertained until it was discovered that the real officers were in Aldershot.

FIND EFFECTIVE TREATMENT FOR UNDULANT FEVER

Investigations carried out over a 10-year period in the laboratories and clinics of the University of Minnesota Hospitals indicate that combined treatment with streptomycin and sulfadiazine is more effective [illegible] brucellosis (undulant fever) than any other known therapy.

Writing in a recent issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, four physicians report the cases of more than 50 patients with active brucellosis whom they studied and observed, and whose treatment they directed. The doctors are Wesley W. Spink, M.D., Wendell H. Hall M.D., James M. Shaffer, M.D. and Abraham I. Braude, M.D. from the Division of Internal Medicine, University of Minnesota Hospitals and Medical School, Minneapolis.

Exceeded in importance by only three other communicable diseases—tuberculosis, syphilis and gonorrhea—undulant fever has baffled medical men for many years. The Brucella organism is transmitted to humans by contact with diseased hogs, goats or cows, or by drinking unpasteurized milk. The forms which the disease takes are extremely variable and even after apparent recovery the Brucella organism may remain in the patient's tissues. Relapse and recurrence of symptoms have therefore [illegible].

The four doctors report that in both acute and chronic brucellosis cases a sulfadiazine-streptomycin combination brought the most satisfactory results. Also patients whose symptoms pointed to brucellosis as the most probable diagnosis responded well to the combined therapy although the presence of Brucella organisms in their tissue or body fluids had not been proved. The treatment also was effective in cases with serious complications of brucellosis.

It had been attempted previously to treat the disease with sulfonamide or with streptomycin, separately but without success. Only simultaneous treatment with both showed satisfactory results.

Old Time Dance Lessons Are Planned

LEGION NOTES

The fact of the Legion in Vermilion having a hall is a definite recognition that it was erected for a purpose. Our purpose promulgated from the house tops so that all might hear, was that it should be a temple of service. Our dictionary informs us that a temple is an edifice erected to serve a purpose. That purpose can be a diety or mankind, and in our case it is mankind especially mankind that comprises the community of Vermilion and district. To add to and serve the social life of Vermilion is one of our aims, because we of the Legion believe in our way of life, and our Legion has proven [illegible]. Amongst eligibility in becoming members of the members of this Branch, Post No. 11, are a few with musical ability and they have banded themselves together under Comrade E. H. Wagner and his wife, and formed a dance orchestra, which we hope will be able to hold its own with any of the visiting orchestras. Q.E.D.

It is proposed for this coming fall and winter to run a series of weekly or fortnightly dances specializing in Old Time dances. Should any young person read this, please do not say 'how dull'. Because if you read on you might learn just a little. We do not mean the rough and ready style of dancing where a gym suit would be a more suitable dress than a dance frock, but a dance where definite steps have to be taken such as the French Minuet with its graceful posture and delightful rhythm. Has anyone seen a ballroom full of well dressed couples dancing this most graceful of dances and not been impressed by its grace?

I can hear some lady saying now, 'but they do not dance this properly and besides I forget'. We know however that deep down in this lady's heart and possibly do so deep there lies an earnest wish to try and dance again. Believing that the basis of being a good dancer is knowing the dance knowing the steps, and that once the steps are known, confidence comes and with confidence comes grace and rhythm and then absolute enjoyment which is the result of being able to take part in a dance rather than watch from the sidelines.

With this end in view the Legion are going to try and establish in Vermilion a Gay Nineties club where one evening a week or every other week everyone that attends must dance and competent instructors both male and female, will be on hand to show how. Courteously and efficiently the pupil will be instructed and there will be no onlookers as everybody will be there with the same idea. This should be borne in mind that if you can do the so called old fashioned dances definitely you will have no trouble doing the new ones. The crowds that assemble, not only in the Vermilion dance halls, but in all the dance halls, are pushed, bunted and kicked, the ladies dresses are soiled and disarrayed and sometimes look as they have been in a brawl rather than a dance. This we believe is because dancing has ceased to be an art, with the consequent loss of both dignity and decorum, and that is one thing the Gay Nineties club with Wagner's Legionnaires are going to endeavor to bring back to Vermilion.

In the near future posters will be around advertising an 'Old Time Dance' and this affair is in the nature of a trial balloon as we too are schooled in politics, and we are especially requesting the attendance of any lady or gentleman who is proficient in the art of dancing to get in touch with Mr. and Mrs. Wagner or Vic Tillett and talk the matter over. If you are unable to do this at least come to this opening of the Gay Nineties club come and watch, come and take part or better still come and give us your advice and if you possess the ability come and help us.

We believe that if a series of old time dances were run in Vermilion throughout the fall and winter months they would be enjoyed to the utmost and if conducted as they will be with a rigid adherence to dignity and decorum, would be a definite contribution to the cultural life of the community. The cultivation of leisure moments is something that is worth while and going through this life just once none of us can afford to have time on our hands when by a little effort life offers us so much.

The Legion

"LOCAL BEAT"

The man knowing that the envelope handed him was for a missionary offering, said: "What have the churches been doing with all the money they have collected for foreign missions during the last 25 years? sending it to countries like Japan I suppose, and then get it back with big interest in the form of bullets as in World War 2." I don't know what the reader would answer to such a question, but personally I have no doubts as to whether one single copper raised for foreign missions in the past decades has rebounded upon the "cheerful giver". A fact which we so often overlook is that to every dollar spent to carry the Gospel to distant lands ten million is spent for other purposes particularly in preparation for war.

When the U.S. territory of Pearl Harbor was attacked by Japanese war planes American ships were not carrying New Testaments to Japan but material used in the manufacture of guns and ammunition. We may be safe in saying that some of this came back in a disguised yet hot fashion.

The English-speaking people of the world have the key to destruction in the atom bomb, they also have the key to peace and good-will in the teachings of the Man of Galilee. No country can hold a monopoly on this better key and it is to the fulfilment of the charge of the Master where He said, 'Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature,' that missions exist and make its appeal to every one of us.

We have the best scheme on earth for the establishment of peace and universal brotherhood. Before however it can be effective we must meet two conditions. First apply this Christianity ourselves, and secondly pass it on to others. There are millions of people who have not yet heard the good news of the Gospel of the Master. They live under the 'road crowd' of fear and superstition; they lack hospitalization and medical education; these are they of which Christ said: "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me."

If half the money and energy spent to kill people were spent to forward the Gospel challenge I do not think there would be any need to distribute envelopes.

125,000 Road Maps Issued by A. M. A.

Providing valuable information for motor tourists more than 125,000 sectional or strip maps have been distributed this year by branches of the Alberta Motor Association.

These maps are welcomed by tourists as they contain invaluable data concerning road conditions, mileages, hotels, garages and service stations, holiday resorts and other material.

The maps are available at all the official appointments of the A.M.A. in all sections of the province.

Garages and service stations particularly report a heavy demand for the maps which have been compiled on the basis of the latest available information concerning roads as supplied by the provincial department of public works.

Inquiries at A.M.A. offices for all types of information required by tourists already has been heavy. Apparently the holiday motor movement is in full swing and it will be fully maintained for the next month or so.

Every possible courtesy is being extended at the motor club offices and visitors are enabled to hear all about Alberta's numerous scenic attractions.

Daily information concerning road conditions also is being supplied, making the service one of the most popular of any provided for the thousands of visitors now crossing the borders into Alberta.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

FAMILY FEATHERS

By [illegible]

IT WAS one of those "it seemed like a good idea at the time" sort of things—that wasn't. Of all the women who shouldn't try to be too helpful, a young minister's wife headed the list. Marilee Baxter thought she knew that when she and Roger were married. Now she was sure she knew.

A suggestion box! That had been her brilliant idea for finding out just what the congregation might offer as a means for improving the services. She had added, "If a young, handsome, and intelligent young minister isn't enough, I'd like to know what more could be suggested."

Suggestions poured in — some amusing; a dozen or more hopelessly antiquated; and a few criticisms, constructive and otherwise.

Today when Roger brought the week's accumulation home he dumped them on the desk, then stacked them in a neat pile. He opened the one on top. "Let's have more of the good old-time religion," he read and added, "I can guess who wrote that one."

Marilee chose a bright blue envelope. "Get some new and peppier hymns." She threw the note into the air. "Hooray for that one!" she whooped.

"But listen to this." The serious note in Roger's voice restored her dignity. "Quit being the peacock in the family. Buy your wife some new togs and let her do a little strutting." His voice hesitated on the last word, the mean, hateful word.

"Why the—the—" Marilee couldn't think of a term strong enough to express her righteous indignation.

"He's right," Roger contended.

"He? He, nothing. It's some catty old woman. Some one who is miffed because she hasn't made you fall for her, I'll bet."

"What kind of reasoning is that? Marilee. And is it complimentary?" he teased. "A catty old woman falling for me. Why not a charming young lady, may I ask?"

He was trying to hide his feelings. Trying to pretend it didn't hurt.

"Anyway," he declared, "the person who wrote that is right. You haven't had a decent outfit since we've been married."

"Now who is being complimentary? I've looked like a fright, have I, Roger Baxter?"

Instantly he took her into his arms. He ran his long fingers through her short blonde curls. "You know I don't mean that, darling. But you haven't had a . . ."

"I've had all I needed," she interrupted.

"You should have had a lovely spring outfit this year. A purple dress and a big yellow hat."

"And bright red shoes, I suppose, you zany."

"Something bright and swank. Instead, I had a new suit, and hat, and shoes."

"You represented this district at the conference, didn't you? Roger I don't care a fig for that old note. We know why I haven't rigged myself out in all the latest finery. First there was the baby. I didn't need anything for months before, and I couldn't have thought about fine clothes for months after he left us. Then there was your accident."

"Accident," he scoffed. "A broken little finger."

Marilee added, "And shock and numerous bruises on various and sundry parts of your anatomy. And in case you don't remember, for the past few years clothes have been high and material poor. It was the patriotic thing to do without new finery. Besides," hopefully, "don't you think it a little bit loyal for me to want you to look your best?"

"Be the peacock of the family?"

She struggled out of his arms. "Roger Baxter, if it wasn't for making that old busybody so darned self-righteous, I'd go right down town and buy myself an outfit that would knock your eye out. I may do it anyway."

"Good for you, honey. But, clothes or no clothes, you're the loveliest gal in the world. You do just as you please regardless of anyone's suggestions." He gave her a quick little kiss. "I'm going out and hoe a bit in the garden."

Hoe in the garden. That was the cure-all for any of Roger's troubles.

Peacock, indeed! Roger was anything but that, yet all the time she was saving, trying to help him, she was making him appear selfish and vain. What a helper she was.

She picked up the hateful note. Maybe she could recognize the handwriting. The note was typed. Nothing to—but yes, there was something. Two capital letters only, but they were decidedly out of line. Roger's typing. The injured little finger never pressed the shift key quite hard enough.

"A swank new outfit! You, you . . ."

Should Have Waited Before Buying Car

EDMONTON.—Fred Sawchuk has two new automobiles, and he got one of them for only $1.

Sawchuk, who operates an Edmonton welding shop, bought a new car for a holiday trip to the United States. Then the next week he won another at the Edmonton Exhibition.

His estimate of the speedometer reading after six days operation at the fair was the closest of 9,460.

Only One Emotion Is Easy On Heart

CHICAGO. — Pity your enemies rather than become angry with them, and you will live longer says an eminent heart specialist.

Dr. N. C. Gilbert, professor of medicine at Northwestern University, told volunteer workers in the Chicago Heart Association's 1948 campaign to pity persons refusing to contribute but not to get angry with them.

Heart trouble "may be incited by any emotion except pity," he said. Anger is the worst enemy of the heart. It causes more anginal pains and attacks than any of the other disturbances resulting from emotion."

BOAT NECESSARY FOR HARBOR COMMISSION

WINNIPEG. Winnipeg has a harbor, a harbor commission . . . but no boat.

This was the situation reported to a city finance committee meeting which hastily recommended the sum of $2,240 for purchase of a boat to replace the one sunk last year.

Said Ald. Ernest Hallonquist: "There's hardly any point in having a harbor commission if we haven't got a boat."

Queen Anne of England (1665-1714) originated the sweepstake idea for horse racing. 2788

Farmers Can Obtain Year-Round Labor

OTTAWA.—Attention farmers: If you want a year-round hired man you can get him now — and quick. The labor department says so.

In fact it said farm labor immigration from the displaced persons camps of Europe has hit a rate that allows the farmer to have his man two or three weeks after he asks the National Employment Service to find him.

The influx however, is geared to the actual number of known openings. For that reason, the department asked farmers to register immediately their needs for year-round help.

It wants to know just how large the "high demand" for such men is. Then the intake can be adjusted upward accordingly.

In a number of recent cases, district farmers could have used twice as many Europeans as those who arrived at the local NES office.

So far 2,185 single farm workers have arrived in Canada from the DP camps. Of these, 15 went to Prince Edward Island, 18 to Nova Scotia, six to New Brunswick, 241 to Quebec, 1,162 to Ontario, 324 to Manitoba, 62 to Saskatchewan, 345 to Alberta, and 12 to British Columbia.

The department emphasized, however, that this situation was separate from the demand for seasonal workers.

Science May Spoil Midway Freak Shows

SASKATOON.—Take a good look at the nearest bearded lady — she may be the last of her kind.

That's the opinion, anyway, of the men in charge of the midway freak show which accompanied an exhibition here.

Their complaint is that science is cutting down the number of physical originals in the human race and it may be the supply will be exhausted completely in a few years.

POULTRY INDUSTRY BIG BUSINESS IN CANADA

In 1947 the value of all poultry meats and eggs sold off Canadian farms or farm consumed was valued at $238,859,000. This figure includes poultry meat of all kinds and eggs produced by urban and rural dwellers not strictly classed as farmers for Census purposes, and also the eggs for hatching. The comparable figure [illegible].

Domestic consumption of eggs and poultry meats increased in 1947 over the preceding year. The per capita consumption of eggs in 1947 was 24.04 dozen compared with 23.27 dozen in 1946. Over two pounds more chicken per person was eaten on the average in 1947 when the figure was 21.17 pounds. Per capita consumption of turkey, goose and duck was slightly higher.

NEW DISCOVERY BY SCIENTISTS IN TEXAS

NEW YORK.—Ears are useful for more purposes than hearing, supporting eye-glasses, or as pencil racks, two Texas scientists reported.

Some day the doctor won't have to push that troublesome glass thermometer under your tongue to take your temperature.

Because, according to the Texans, the ear can be used to determine body temperature. Their new technique may enable nurses and physicians to keep a constant watch on a patient's temperature while he sleeps.

To Feel Right — Eat Right

Tuna Fishing Has Become Big Industry

VANCOUVER.—Marine "gold" is just waiting to be mined out beyond the flow of the Juan De Fuca Straits—and British Columbia fishermen are after it.

The gold is a scaly fintail—known to the grocery store buyer as tuna fish and to the men who ply the Pacific's warm blue waters as the "chicken of the sea".

A new industry here, born of the war years, tuna fishing this year is expected to bring a catch upwards of 400 tons. At more than $800 a ton there's a sound justification for naming the catch "marine gold".

Fish packers here were modest about the early catch already in their warehouses. "Perhaps a few tons," one said. At Victoria the first haul of 5,584 pounds was landed recently.

To the fish expert the "chicken" found off B.C.'s coast belongs to the albacore family, ranging in weight from 11 to 15 pounds.

B.C. tuna fishers, new to the game, are using long lines hook-baited with "feathers". Down South, along the United States' coast, where the tuna game is not new, nets are used.

Villagers See Ball Games On Home Made Television Set

CEDAR SPRINGS, Ont. — Cedar Spring fans have been watching big league baseball — without leaving their own village — thanks to the genius of Fred Pardo, whose home-made television equipment brings the telecasts from across Lake Erie at Cleveland.

Since he was a small boy, Fred has been a radio enthusiast. He built his first radio receiving set from scrap which included old broom wire and discarded batteries.

Fred has not yet perfected the sound track on his set, but the "silent" reception of baseball games in Cleveland has been a sensation in this part of the country.

The Superintendent of Insurance of the Province of Alberta, wishes to announce and stress that The Home Insurance Company of New York, maintaining a branch office in the Canada Life Building in the City of Calgary, Province of Alberta, is in no way connected with, affected by, or concerned with the liquidation of Home Assurance Company of Canada.

The Home Insurance Company of New York is duly licensed to carry on the business of insurance within the Province of Alberta, the said Company is in good standing and their annual reports indicate a sound and strong financial position.

Letters to the Editor

This paper does not hold itself responsible for opinions expressed

Vermilion, July 27, 1948.

Dear Mr. Editor:

A letter appearing in the July 22nd issue of your paper by a Vermilion correspondent, attempts to challenge a statement made by me in a previous issue of the Standard with regard to weather conditions. This writer made the glaring error of taking a sentence out of its context and thus misconstruing its meaning. I would like for her to read again my item and then she will probably realize her letter has no bearing at all on what I was saying. It has missed its mark by a mile for I was writing solely on the "works of man" whereas she is talking about "prayers to God". There is a marked difference between faith and works, although as James says "faith without works is dead". However in regard to producing rain, man can pray and have faith; but he cannot catch hold of rain clouds and empty them on the earth. In this respect I quote even more emphatically than ever the statement challenged by your correspondent: "for the fact is that except for dry ice experiments nothing can be done to produce rain.

Yours truly,
Allandale Correspondent.

Vermilion, Alberta, July 29, 1948.
Editor, Vermilion Standard.
Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Vermilion Agricultural Society I wish to extend to the public generally our thanks for the very fine co-operation which was given during the Vermilion fair which closed last week.

Due to heavy rains during most of Saturday telephoned requests for information regarding programs came from far and near and obviously we were unable to give any very satisfactory information. Immediately the weather showed any sign of improvement district residents poured into the grounds and what had looked like a dismal failure during the day was turned into at least partial success by the patronage of the many friends of the fair.

The grandstand program given, climaxing the Lucky Lott [illegible] was as much as was possible under the circumstances and it is a source of very great satisfaction to the officers and directors that the public accepted the offering with a gracious spirit of co-operation.

The Vermilion Fair board has for years endeavored to stage a good show and to provide all possible facilities at reasonable cost to everyone through the use of advance tickets which [illegible] made available at such reasonable cost. The Vermilion fair is the [illegible] one of 14 on the Western Canada [illegible] Class circuit which distributes advance admissions at nominal cost [illegible] the faith of the Board in this form of low cost entertainment has been altogether justified due in large measure to the fine co-operation of the people.

The friendliness which exists in the minds of our people for Vermilion fair will doubtless spur the directors to endeavor to make our Fair bigger and better than ever in 1949 and to continue to provide outstanding agricultural and entertainment features within the price reach of everyone.

Vermilion fair is not operated for profit, nor is it run by a few selected members of the community for personal satisfaction, all officers and directors are elected in the most democratic manner at the annual meeting in the fall of each year. Every farmer and business man in the entire district is cordially invited to attend the annual meeting and to bring along their ladies so that we may join together to make Vermilion fair the best in the West from an agricultural as well as from an entertainment standpoint.

[illegible] very truly,
[illegible] Hackbert [illegible]

Former Vermilion Man, George Warrack, Passes Away

George Warrack, who lived in the Vermilion district from 1926 to 1944 passed away at the Ponoka hospital on July 9th. He had been ill since June 10th and a patient at the hospital from June 29th.

Mr. Warrack was born at Glasgow Scotland in 1866. When a young man in his 20's he came to Canada. He worked in various places in this country for a number of years and then served for 4 years in South Africa during the South African war. Returning from the war he homesteaded in the Lethbridge district where he lived until 1926. In that year he came to Vermilion and commenced farming south-east of town.

Upon retiring from active farming in 1944 Mr. Warrack went to Red Deer and made his home with the Wilhelm Bros. He took ill on June 10th and was taken to the hospital on June 29 where he passed away July 9th. Interment was at the Ponoka cemetery.

Left to mourn his loss are brothers and sisters in the Old Country, and Mary and Martin Wilhelm, John and Annie Wilhelm and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. Schneider and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. Wold and family, A. Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. F. Wilhelm Sr., Mr. and Mrs. M. Gerstmar.

WOODVALE

The writer, in common with most ladies in the district, has been extremely busy with picking berries, weeding the garden and canning, so these news items will be short, some old, some new. The menfolk are all pretty well haying in every available field —the heavy rain on the 24th relieved the prospects for feed considerably.

The main road past Kohnes store to the Tolland store has been gravelled and is a nice improvement.

Mrs. F. McQuid, Mrs. E. Teasdale, Mrs. Teasdale of Paradise Valley and her sister Mrs. Firbank of England all attended Farm Women's week at the V.S.A. in Vermilion and enjoyed the event very much.

Elmer Wolters, Dickie Steele and Bud Heidebrecht went to the boys' camp at the fair and report a good time too. Bud brought his friend Jim Adams back with him to spend a week at the farm.

The Gautier children all did very well at the Vermilion fair, winning many prizes in the Boys and Girl classes and in competition with the grown ups.

Joe Duczek and nephew Bobby [illegible]den spent a week with Adam at the Green farm. Joe is still his old cheerful self despite his indifferent health after a serious accident and sickness in the past years. He has not lost any of his hankering and ability to [illegible] cards either. We hope to see him again in the future.

The ladies of the Red Cross held a very successful meeting at the home of Mrs. E. [illegible] Green with 11 to work on the quilt. It was done in no time and everyone then enjoyed lunch, a talk and a visit to Mrs. Green's garden bright with flowers. Mrs. Wm. Darr of Vermilion was a guest at the meeting. The next one will be at the home of Mrs. Gordon Portsmith on Aug. 11th. The secretary reported that $26 was made at the supper booth at the Tolland picnic and it was decided to donate $10 and the quilt to the B.C. flood relief of the Red Cross.

Mrs. O. Weisenberger, after a [illegible] cure in the hospital is staying with the Proctor family in the [illegible] district.

[illegible] are sorry to see Mr. and Mrs. [illegible] Ford leave our community to make their home [illegible]. [illegible] them a happy and prosperous [illegible] their new [illegible] there. A [illegible] was held at the Ford place [illegible] evening when a presentation [illegible] lovely magazine table was made. A pleasant evening [illegible] enjoyed by all.

Progress In Literature

THERE HAVE BEEN MANY INDICATIONS during the past few years of the growing importance of Canada as a nation in farming, manufacturing, trade and other fields of endeavor. this country, in spite of its relatively small population, has advanced to a foremost position in international affairs. Credit is due to those who have worked to bring prestige to Canada in industry and science, but there are also many who have brought honor to the country in the fields of art and literature. In this connection it was recently announced that Canada now has a list of its own 100 best books, which has been compiled at the request of the Arts and Letters Section of the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization.

* * * * *

Were Selected By Committee

The list of the 100 best books, written in English, was selected by a committee of eight judges, all outstanding Canadian scholars and critics. It was chosen for the information of people in other countries interested in Canadian literature, and includes books on a wide range of subjects, in varied styles of writing, representing the work of contemporary authors as well as those of earlier periods. Among the earlier writers whose work has been selected are the poets Bliss Carman, Duncan Campbell Scott and Archibald Lampman, the naturalists Grey Owl and Ernest Thompson Seton, the novelists Sir Gilbert Parker and Maza de la Roche, the humorist Stephen Leacock, and the historical novelist Susanna Moodie.

* * * * *

High Literary Standard Shown

Contemporary writers whose works were considered to be among the 100 best in Canadian literature included Kenneth C. Cragg, W. O. Mitchell, Audrey Brown, Hugh MacLennan, Kenneth Haig, Ross Munroe and many others. It would be most unlikely that there would be general agreement as to the choice of books placed on the list, since of necessity many fine books were omitted because of the limited number which could be chosen. There is no doubt, however, but that we have reason to be proud of the books which were selected to be recommended to people of other countries who are interested in the work of Canadian writers. Literary achievement is one measure of the rate of a nation's development and of its maturity. The preparation of the list of 100 books for the Arts and Letters Section of UNESCO has served to bring to the attention of the public the high quality which has been attained here in this important field.

Atom Poisons Are Deadly When Taken Into Body

CHICAGO.—Atomic poisons, which Dr. Stafford Warren says may hang around dangerously for many years have been explained.

Dr. Warren, one of the top medical scientists of the Manhattan District and the atomic bomb, showed delegates at the American Medical Association convention pictures of how these poisons work. All of them are radioactive atoms and nearly a dozen are deadly poisons if they get inside the body.

He said that after an atomic bomb war the poisons would fall into water supplies and areas where food is growing. They would be a risk to life he said, unless doctors learn what to do.

These atomic things are slow poisons. They would take Dr. Warren said probably 15 years of scientific experiments to learn just how much of them people can be allowed to breathe in or eat without risk.

"Do you and your neighbor see each other quite often?"

"No. He sent me a can of oil to use on my lawn-mower when I started to cut the grass at six in the morning."

"And what did you do?"

"Sent it back and told him to use it on his wife when she started singing at eleven at night."

A Negro was pleading his own case to save the price of a lawyer. He called the chief witness to the stand and said: "Joshua, where was I when we stole those chickens?"

"Oi, there," shouted the policeman, "where's your rear-light?"

"I want to see where I'm going to, not where I've been," said the cyclist, disappearing into the darkness.

The umpire at the Saturday afternoon match didn't know much about cricket, but he wouldn't stand any nonsense. The first ball hit the batsman's pads.

"Out!" roared the umpire.

"Out, what for?"

"All the afternoon," replied the umpire.

"No, my boss tells me when and my wife where."

Johnny hurried to get the evening paper. Tomorrow was picnic day and he wanted to read the weather forecast.

"Well, dear, what do they predict?" his mother asked.

"They haven't decided yet," the youngster replied gloomily.

"Haven't decided?"

"No. It says 'Unsettled.'"

Mrs. Smith was vigorously powdering her face before going out.

"Modesty, my dear," was the reply.

"Modesty?"

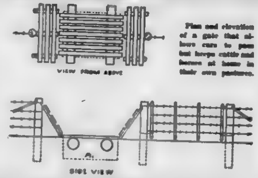
GRATE GATE FOR AUTOS



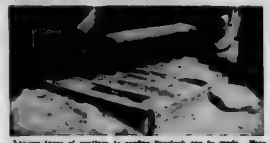
Plan and elevation of a gate that allows cars to pass but keeps cattle and horses at home in their own pastures.

FOR those who drive automobiles a very handy thing is some type of gate which does not require that the driver get out of the car and will still hold livestock satisfactorily. In this respect the automatic type of gate will provide an answer, but a still better one is the ordinary "cattle guard", also known as the "crate gate", "grate gate" and "Texas gate".

Probably this gate is the best arrangement for providing some sort of barrier which will allow the passage of motor cars without making it necessary to open a gate, and which will still confine livestock. This gate consists of a shallow pit about 3 ft. deep, 6 ft. wide, 4 ft. across.

Two fairly heavy logs are laid across the pit, as shown in drawing, the logs being placed about where the car wheels will travel. Then 4-inch pipes, iron pipes, or old steam-boiler flues are laid crosswise on the logs, spaced 4 inches apart to form an open grating. Short pieces of plank fencing are then put on a slope on each side of the truck, these panels resting against the end posts of the fence, which is run to either side of the crate gate.

According to experience in the West, where these gates are in use in many places, all kinds of livestock are successfully confined. The only time in which they fail is in winter when snow fills the pit. Cattle will attempt to cross under these conditions. Usually a standard gate is placed on one side of the crate gate to permit cattle to be taken through the fence if necessary. Such a gate should be a big convenience to anyone having to pass through fenced pastures frequently with cars, trucks or [illegible].



Various types of gratings to confine livestock can be made. Here is one shown in actual use which consists merely of planks placed on edge and spiked together to form an open, shallow grating. To be 100 per cent. sure of stopping livestock the openings in the grating should be a little narrower and quite a little deeper.

Arctic Sailors Naturally Have To Eat Heartily

MONTREAL. — Baked beans with ham and eggs make up the favorite breakfast of the men who brave the ice floes aboard the Regina Polaris, which has left Montreal on its annual trip to the Arctic. The ship, which has taken the place of the Nascopie in supplying residents of the north with their yearly food supplies sailed out of port well stocked with provisions that are to sustain the crew throughout the 3½ months' voyage.

Clarence Rommer, chief cook and a former chef aboard a number of liners, told The Star that baked beans are especially preferred by the French sailors, who are 50 per cent. of the crew of twelve.

"We eat a lot of salt pork and beef, also," said Mr. Rommer, who had never been to Canada before. The English culinary expert listed the main items on the dinner menu at sea as "soup, a joint, swedes (turnips) and dessert" the latter being usually fruit or pie. Occasionally he tries fancy recipes, he said, though he attempts none of the 7-course banquets of passenger ships where "every entree has a French name and something is always labelled something else."

The route which the ship is following goes first to Churchill and then makes six trips farther north, the most extreme point reached being Dorset in Baffinland. Supplies of meat are obtained in these regions for the return trip home.

The men get tired of never seeing women, according to Mr. Rommer. Evenings are spent with cards and books, and variations in the scenery of "icebergs water and whales" occur in the brief stopovers along the way. And mealtimes become more than a matter of stocking up on vitamins in a life where other social diversions are few.

RICE MAY COST MORE

OTTAWA. A 65-foot motor vessel in which the helmsman doesn't even look where he's going is travelling up the Great Lakes. The boat National Research Council's "Radel" will put wartime radar to use in peacetime marine navigation.

The vessel is equipped with the most advanced types of radar. Steered "blind" from below decks, it can safely navigate narrow channels and come within 75 feet of buoys or wharves obscured by darkness or fog.

Ottawa Report Shows Butter Stocks Lower

OTTAWA.—The Bureau of Statistics has turned out a gloomy report on the butter situation.

It showed that total supply of butter—creamery, dairy and whey—in Canada now is approximately 48,000,000 pounds, down 10,000,000 pounds from the supply position a year ago.

The figures include stocks up to the beginning of June plus production during that month, which amounted to slightly more than 44,500,000 pounds, 1,000,000 pounds ahead of June, 1947.

However, while butter production was up during June, the domestic disappearance of butter was the highest for any month this year, totalling nearly 32,000,000 pounds against 30,000,000 in May and 30,000,000 as well in June, 1947.

Although production improved during May and June, the bureau said it still was insufficient to "balance up" the deficit caused by heavy withdrawals from storage during the low production months of last winter, when butter became scarce.

In pounds per capita the domestic disappearance during June this year was 2.48 pounds against 2.23 pounds in May and 2.39 pounds in June last year. Rationing restrictions were lifted June 7 last year.

Employees Of Restaurant Had Long Cold Wait

CLIFTON, N.J.—Twenty-three persons, "stored" in a refrigerator while a bandit looted a restaurant, thawed while the owner counted his losses.

A lone gunman locked eight employees in a big refrigerator while he waited for someone to open the safe.

As tradespeople appeared, delivering to the restaurant, they joined the employees—one by one in the refrigerator.

Finally, Milton Turner, the owner, appeared and the gunman forced him to open the safe. Turner then joined the others in the refrigerator.

The bandit was rather considerate, though, said his victims, who were in a "serious state of shock" when police liberated them five hours later.

He tossed them all the coats he could find, and several bottles of whisky to help keep warm.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by

Don Graham

As a rule, the most interesting and successful people are those who have inquiring minds. They are always ready to learn more – from all sources, including other people.

Questions are keys to information that cannot be discovered in any other way. And you will get worthwhile information from people in all walks of life – if you are not too proud to ask for it.

Moreover, I find that people invariably "open up" readily in response to a query about their work, hobbies or some other subjects about which I have reason to suspect that they know a lot.

I try to summarize what I have learned. This, I find, helps me to remember the facts more clearly.

Use your powers of observation. You will find it a surprisingly big help in building for future success and enjoyment of life!

Wildmere Local A.F.U.

The Wildmere Local A.F.U. held its regular meeting on July 16th. There was little correspondence on hand so current business was soon handled. It was decided to try to arrange a lantern slide show to be held at the August meeting on the 11th.

L. Alexander and G. Harrison were appointed to contact the Autumn Leaf A.F.U. to obtain particulars of the proposed community project. This local to lend its support in any way possible if satisfactory arrangements can be made.

The delegates appointed to attend the district convention at Wainwright held July 21st were Fred Haines and Wm. Garnett.

Meeting then adjourned.

ISLAY

Islay was visited by a fire again in the early hours of Thursday July 29th when a fire of unknown origin broke out in the blacksmith shop used by Jack Bristow. It all happened between trains. When Mr McEachern went to the first train there was no evidence of fire, when he returned with the mail after the second train there just was no blacksmith shop. The wind aroused Mrs. Ruby Inman and as she was about to close their kitchen door she saw the fire and gave the alarm. Quite a few of the townsfolk did not know about it till next day.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Easton of New Westminster along with daughter Patsy and her husband and baby from [illegible] are visiting in and around Islay.

Quite a number were out to hear Mr. Anders Aalborg, the Social Credit candidate for Alexandra. His speech was interesting and quite instructive, free from the old time digs and slurs.

Just as school closed in June a shower was held for Miss Mary Wererak, a departing teacher and bride-to-be of August. It was well attended, specially by the mothers of the children in the primary room. Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Leone Kearns and Mrs. Chas. Robertson acted as hostesses for the tea. A very prettily decorated bassinette on wheels carried the gifts which were many and varied. Miss Mona Ward assisted Mary in opening the gifts. Mrs. Kennedy made the presentation and Mary replied suitably and briefly.

Mrs. Sweet and children are spending some time visiting her father at Wawota, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil McEachern spent a few days visiting relatives at Aberdeen, Sask.

At last the road through the slough south of town which has been the despair of everyone, has been repaired. The road has been raised and widened so now there is clear travelling — no detour.

WATER TOWER IS FILLED, TESTED

SYSTEM TO BE IN OPERATION BY SEPTEMBER 1st?

The town elevated tank was filled with water Monday evening, was tested, found to be perfectly put together, and the 50,000 gallons of water was then run through the town's sewer and away. All that remains to be done to the tank is the insulation to be put on as protection against the frost. The name Vermilion will also be painted in large black letters on the aluminum background.

This elevated tank incorporates every modern feature known in tank construction. According to the construction foreman Jack Colville this is the most modern tower and tank west of the Great Lakes at the moment.

The main water and sewer lines are now completed and there is nothing in the way of having the system in operation by Sept. 1st.

TWO EXTENSIONS

Only two extensions are being made to the original plan. One serves the new school block on Main street from Laurier avenue east. This area is already fully built up. The other is in the west end, west of the high school on First Street North. This goes past vacant property in the new subdivision and is the only area served where lots are available for building, with the exception of an odd lot here and there in the settled parts of town.

NEW INDUSTRY FOR VERMILION

PRAIRIE ROSE MANUFACTURING CO. BUYS LOTS — WILL BUILD PLANT HERE

Another new industry will shortly be in operation in Vermilion as the Prairie Rose Manufacturing Company of Edmonton have purchased two lots from the town. The property is immediately west of the Crown Lumber Co. The Prairie Rose Co. will build a plant on the property for the production of soft drinks. The structure will be 40 by 60 feet and will house a new and complete outfit of the latest design for the manufacture of their products. Trucks will carry their output to all points in this section of the province.

Construction Starts on Cold Storage Locker Plant

$30,000.00 PROJECT — HAREUTHER & SONS PROPRIETORS.

Construction on the new cold storage locker plant and butcher shop being erected in Vermilion by P. Hareuther and Sons, started this week and the contractor Floyd Olson of Edmonton is confident that the building will be ready for occupancy by the middle of September.

The building, located on Main street right next to Macleod's Ltd., will have 25-foot frontage and will be 60 feet long with full basement. Owners and proprietors of the new business Mr. Hareuther and Sons are already well known to the public and general satisfaction is expressed that the town is at last to have a cold storage locker service.

Mr. Hareuther states that the plant will commence with 250 lockers and he expects that the business will be underway by Sept. 15th.

Applications for lockers are already being accepted and anyone interested in renting one may do so by contacting Mr. Paul Hareuther.

The building is of brick and tile construction and the whole project will entail the expenditure of a minimum of $30,000. The new business will provide a valued service to the farmer and townsman alike and will be a decided asset to Vermilion.

Irwinville Church Is Scene of Pretty Wedding

MacLEAN—GARDINER

Holy Trinity church, Irwinville, was beautifully decorated with summer flowers for a very pretty wedding at three o'clock July 29th, when Molly Marjorie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Gardiner of Hazeldine, became the bride of Mr. James Kenneth MacLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. MacLean of Beverley, Sask.

Rev. T. W. Teape performed the ceremony.

Entering the church on the arm of her father the bride was lovely in a gown of white rayon marquisette brocaded with lover's knots. With it she wore long lace mittens and her floor-length silk net veil was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and lily-of-the-valley tied with white streamers.

Miss Betty Lou Gardiner was her sister's bridesmaid and was gowned in pink sheer crepe. To complement her frock she chose a matching [illegible] ribbon headdress, long lace mittens and a strand of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of pink and white carnations and fern.

Mr. Kevin MacLean, brother of the groom, was best man and Mr. Donald Irwin was usher.

Mrs. Robert McKerihan, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music including Mendelssohn's Wedding March. During the signing of the register Mr. E. J. Allen sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mrs. Irwin.

[illegible]

The bride's table was centred by a [illegible] tulle and flanked by bouquets of pink and white carnations and tall white tapers in crystal holders.

The honeymoon will be spent [illegible] and points [illegible]. On their return they will make their home at Hazeldine. For travelling the bride [illegible] with brown accessories and a top coat of [illegible]

Review Social Credit Record Past 13 Years

CLAIM MANY FIRSTS IN ADVANCED LEGISLATION

Hon. D. B. McMillan, Robt. Fair, M.P. and W. R. Cornish, M.L.A. Open Election Campaign

First guns in the current Alberta political campaign were fired by the Hon. D. B. McMillan, minister of public works, Robt. Fair, M.P., and W. R. Cornish, at a meeting held in the Legion hall Wednesday evening, last week. The audience was small but showed considerable interest in the remarks of the various speakers.

Robt. Fair spoke briefly. He paid personal tribute to Mr. Cornish the Vermilion candidate and asked for a continuance of the support of the last election.

Mr. Cornish, member for the past 4 years and Social Credit candidate in this election, reviewed the record of the government since 1935 and claimed that much of the legislation enacted was first in Canada. The following [illegible] remarks:

Reduced provincial debt [illegible] million dollars. Fuel tax [illegible] Dominion [illegible] tax abolished. Taxation is necessary as long as we [illegible] and we operate under the present financial system. Refunding public debt at the lowest interest rate [illegible] in Canada.

EDUCATION

Grants increased from total of $2,116,000 in 1935-36 to $5,923,000 in 1948. Teaching standards had been raised. Teacher pension plan introduced this year best in Canada. This is to induce more people to make teaching a life work.

HEALTH SERVICES

Alberta has many firsts in health services including free diagnostic services for T.B. and Cancer. Free medical, surgical and hospital fee for polio sufferers. First in free maternity hospitalization.

MOTHERS' ALLOWANCES

In 1936 50% of mothers allowances had been charged to the municipalities, now only 25% was charged to the M.D.'s but the average allowance had been increased from $28.25 in 1936 to $38.94 in 1947. Health nurses increased 15 to 24, health units 2 to 17.

OLD AGE PENSIONS

Old age pensions had been raised from $20 to $37 with free medical services, hospitalization, all forms of dental care with 50% of cost of new dentures. Alberta has during the past 3 years paid $6,106,601 to its old age pensioners as its share.

OIL DEVELOPMENT

Mr. Cornish stated that it was beyond the financial limitations of the province to take over the oil development. Imperial oil alone are spending 25 million in Alberta this year 10 million more than the entire Alberta budget. It should be noted that the Saskatchewan C.C.F. government has made no move in regard to the oil development in their province.

ELK POINT HIGHWAY

The speaker stated that the Vermilion to Elk Point continuation of the Wainwright highway was on the 5-year road plan, now underway for 2½ years. It was possible that the cement piers for the bridge would be put on this winter. Steel for bridges was very difficult to obtain.

MARKETING BOARDS UNPOPULAR

The government marketing boards introduced into many of the rural constituencies in Saskatchewan by the C.C.F. were not popular according to the speaker and it was noted that in [illegible] where these were set up the government candidate was either defeated or had his majority greatly reduced.

The C.C.F., the speaker claimed, believe in nationalization of industry which [illegible] complete dictatorship. Alberta labor laws were the most advanced in the Dominion.

In closing Mr. Cornish stated that many people were taking the election [illegible] lightly when in reality they [illegible] very serious situation. He urged every voter to really consider the issues very closely and if [illegible] he was confident they would [illegible]

Minister of Public Works Speaks

[illegible] McMillan, now minister of public works and former minister of agriculture gave a very dynamic address in an exceedingly interesting manner. He contrasted the record of the Liberal regime from 1905 to 1921 and of the U.F.A. from then to 1935, with what has been accomplished since that time under the Social Credit government. His remarks regarding the two previous regimes can best be summed up by his quotation from the Bank of Canada report on the financial [illegible] provinces [illegible] 1922 after the [illegible] the province's debt was approx[imately] [illegible] over twice as large as Saskatchewan's and 50% larger than Manitoba's, a much older province. After making full allowance for rapid economic development of the new province, and the legitimate cost of facilities provided by the government to aid and stimulate this development, it remains the case in our opinion that the 1905-22 period was characterized by waste, loose administration and incurrence of debt to an extent which could not be justified even when allowance is made for the optimistic spirit of the times. The period from 1922 to 1935 was little better.

HORTICULTURAL SHOW CANCELLED

Due to the continued dry weather it was felt advisable to cancel the horticultural show which was to have been held on Aug. 19th.

This is the second year in succession that the show has been called off, but the president of the society, W. R. Evans, states that the water lines should assure good shows in the future.

CCF Leader to Address Meeting Here

Elmer E. Roper, Alberta C.C.F. leader, will address a public meeting in the Legion hall this Thursday evening. He will be accompanied by the C.C.F. candidate for this constituency Mr. Roy Hay who will also speak.

Crew at Work on Prov. Government Building

A [illegible] crew was hard at work [illegible] block this week apparently preparing the building for extensive renovations planned by the Dept. of Public Works before it can be occupied. The block was purchased by the provincial government a few months ago and will be used to [illegible] offices here.

Swim Lessons

Commencing next Monday classes will be open to all ages. Unless the attendance improves the Swimming Club will be compelled to discontinue the lessons. Everyone is eligible regardless of having taken the first series or not.

Fined for Not Complying with Weed Act

A prominent farmer of the Mannville district was fined $15 and costs for not complying with notices to destroy noxious weeds on his farm. It is the intention of municipalities to enforce weed regulations very strictly and co-operation of all farmers should be forthcoming.

Urges More Use of Hudson's Bay Railway and Route

OF GREAT BENEFIT TO THE WEST SAYS OFFICIAL VISITOR TO VERMILION

Mr. F. T. Appleby, ex-president of the United Farmers of Canada, Saskatchewan section, now representing the Hudson Bay Route Assoc., with head office at Saskatoon was in Vermilion on July 31st soliciting help for the full use of the railway to Hudson's Bay. The Association is gathering data, printing pamphlets etc. in an endeavour to show that the route is a feasible one.

Mr. Appleby declared that the line had been built out of the money raised by selling western pre-emption and purchased homestead lands and stood without debt, owned by the Dominion of Canada, paid for by Western Canada, but not being used in a manner which could possibly prove the possibilities of the road. He stated that the wheat in this district was as close to Churchill as to Port Arthur, but that after it arrived at Port Arthur it had to be hauled over 1100 miles by rail or boat system to Montreal having to be loaded and unloaded twice and still when at Montreal after paying the higher inland freight rate for all these miles, it was still further away from Liverpool than though it was at Churchill.

The Hudson's Bay Route association was founded in 1946, and last year 5,000,000 bushels of wheat were shipped via Churchill at a saving of about 8c per bushel over wheat going by the southern route. This extra saving was placed in the wheat board reserves and spread over all western sales. This saving was made after paying approximately double the insurance rate of the southern route, but they had it from Lloyd's insurance agents of London, that if sufficient trade was put over the route to prove it then equal rates would be given. Mr. Appleby stated that the port officials claim they can handle between 20 to 50 million bushels in a season, but that 15,000,000 would be sufficient to turn the route from a loss into a profit.

The speaker stated that he had visited the governments of Saskatchewan, Manitoba and the Dominion and found them all favorable to the route but that there seemed to be some interests still stronger than they who were in a position to negate the efforts so far put forward by western individuals in their efforts to use the road and appealed for assistance to the business men of the town, both physically and financially to help put it over, stating that others were also working in Saskatchewan and Manitoba towards that end, where already considerable work had been done, but that to date little publicity of the route had been extended to Alberta.

Mr. Appleby stated that as the road was owned by the Dominion but under the power of the Construction Company of the C.N.R., the situation presents an anomaly of an agent operating a business which is in competition with the main business of that agent. The first remedy to this is it must be taken out of the Construction Department and handled the same as other mileage. He believed the Port storage capacity of 2,500,000 bushels sufficient for the present by using the 5,000,000 storage space in Saskatoon. He also believed that by the use of the latest inventions in radar that the route's shipping season could be considerably extended, probably to longer than the Great Lakes season, as the straits never freeze and the bay seldom more than 12 miles from shore, as it is ocean tide water. A small job for an ice breaker. The safety of the route may be computed somewhat from the fact that since 1670 the Hudson Bay Co. has record of 750 ships traversing the route with but two sinkings. We also find some of the general freight traffic rates to the prairies to be double that of through freight because of no competitive routes as our prairies are too vast for truck service.

The Bay route, if used should remedy this as well as to provide a quicker, cheaper outlet for our grains even to the Maritimes and when carried to completion would make a third transcontinental railway [illegible] the [illegible] Churchill to Prince Rupert shortening the distance between London and Hong Kong by 1000 miles.

IMPORTANT ELECTION—

Pre-election interest seems to be particularly low in this area and judging from reports of attendances at public meetings the same is true all over Alberta. This lack of interest is surprising in view of the far reaching importance of the decision to be reached at the polls on Tuesday in Alberta. The paths of the parties veer sharply away from each other and the decision as to which road Alberta travels is up to the voter, that is you and I and every person over 19 years of age entitled to vote in this province. It is to be hoped that the vote on Tuesday, Aug. 17 is a particularly big one so that a true picture might be gained of the wishes of the people of Alberta.

Our New Partner

Canadian interest in Newfoundland has been greatly heightened by the prospect of it joining Canada as a tenth province. While many would like to have seen a larger majority for joining Canada than the 6,000 given it is difficult to see how the will of this majority can be disregarded.

325,000 people live in Newfoundland. It has 1,300 settlements with not more than 10 boasting 5,000 population. Generations of battling with the elements in tiny isolated villages have given to the Newfoundlander a capacity for hard work and ingenuity. The Newfoundlander generally is a jack of all trades and a master of fishing. As seamen they have always been classed among the best "small boat men in the world."

Second in importance in the industries of Newfoundland is Pulp and Paper. Over 10,000 people are employed by it. About half this number dig iron ore under the sea floor at Bell Island; the balance—the laborers of the St. John's waterfront, the civil servants and a very few farmers. Altogether a brave, happy breed whom Canadians will be glad to welcome as partners.

Lower Lane

In an effort to improve drainage the lane in the main business block of the town is being lowered by some two feet. Work of removing the dirt is being carried out this week by the town public works crew.

THE POWER PLEBISCITE

To the Alberta Electors:

On the 17th of this month you will be voting for or against the Province immediately taking over from the private companies the generating, transmission and distribution of power. Before coming to a decision you will be asking yourself whether in this instance public or private ownership is preferable. My purpose in writing this letter is not to influence you but only to draw to your attention certain facts which generally are not known or not remembered.

In deciding whether private ownership should now be replaced by government ownership and operation, our experience with the rural telephone system should not be forgotten. As the result of over-expansion, undercharging and general mismanagement, the rural telephone system had to be abandoned and a loss of approximately $[illegible] was added to the public debt.

To take over the existing power properties would involve the Government immediately raising somewhere in the order of $[illegible]. That will only be a start.

The private companies I think you will agree, have had a good record. They have over the years steadily increased their generating capacity, both steam and hydro. During the last twelve months this Company has doubled the capacity of its plant at Drumheller, is now building a [illegible] h.p. plant at Vermilion and has substantially enlarged the plant at Grande Prairie. The transmission lines of the private companies serve or are in the course of serving practically every urban community. The rates we charge are fixed by the Board of Public Utility Commissioners and are reasonable.

We have not been unmindful of rural electrification. We realize the great advantages to the farming communities of available cheap power. During the last few years, in spite of a very limited number of trained electricians and the world-wide shortage of the necessary plant and equipment, over [illegible] farms have been supplied with power. The number of electrified farms is steadily increasing. This record compares favourably with government ownership in Saskatchewan where there are only [illegible] such farms.

There are in the neighborhood of [illegible] more farms which can be reached eventually. It will be some years however before they can all be tied in. The cost to the distributing authority whether public or private is about $[illegible] per farm or an ultimate investment of nearly $[illegible] quite altogether from the construction of enlarged generating facilities.

It must not be forgotten that many of the farms and ranches in the Province are so isolated that serving them would involve such heavy capital and operating losses that the cost would be prohibitive.

If after realistic consideration of the situation you are in favour of immediate government ownership, you will so vote. If you believe in private ownership, you will vote for continuance of the present system. If you conclude that this very important problem has not received adequate consideration, you will be against taking any action at the present moment and again will vote for the continuance of the present system.

Your vote will be cast I know in what you believe will best advance the interests of the Province.

Yours faithfully,

H. R. MILNER,

CENTRIFUGE TESTS WITH HUMAN GUINEA PIGS REVEAL FACTORS TO SAVE JET PILOT LIVES

READY TO "FLY"—U.S.C. student in G-suit and new type helmet prepares for run in centrifuge.

By ANDREW R. BOONE
Central Press Canadian

LOS ANGELES. — Germans subjected monkeys to the centrifugal force of their merry-go-rounds.

Over here, men sit on the edges of whirling centrifuges to test anti-blackout suits, have X-ray pictures taken of vital organs at six Gs and higher, and otherwise pose as human guinea pigs that medical scientists may learn what takes place in the human organism during conditions of spins and sharp turns.

Largest of these machines is the electrical whirler at the University of Southern California. In two seconds—count 'em—its 47-foot long arm speeds up to 60 miles an hour. Human riders zip out the perimeter of the room something like living comets.

During the war these G-runs merited top secrecy, and also were classed as one of the number one priorities by the office of scientific research and development.

For about three years, the staff has worked closely with the aero-medical units at Wright Field, the Mayo clinic, the navy. In collaboration with the navy medical department of the aircraft carrier service of the Pacific fleet at San Diego, the project contributed importantly to developing the G-suit now in service.

Its effectiveness has been proved many times in pull-outs during combat manoeuvres and dog fights.

Now the U.S.C. researchers are plodding ahead along new paths. Their present studies relate closely to the G-suit development. Let's look first at the G-suits and their implications, then at the new horizons.

The G-suit, as most of us know, enables pilots to overcome the pull of increased gravity. In manoeuvres creating a force of more than about four times the earth's gravitational pull on the flyer's body (4-G), blood is drained from the head into the lower parts of the body.

Action And Results

The action might be compared to the effect of a cream separator with the centrifugal force forcing blood into the feet. This phenomenon may also be likened to a rock tied to a string and whirled around the head, the faster it whirls the heavier the rock feels.

At 10-Gs a 200-pound man weighs one ton. At 8-Gs his blood is heavier than molten iron. The heart cannot pump against this increased force or weight.

Without the suit, the pilot's vision becomes blurred and dim. His senses are dulled and he may "blackout" or lose all vision. He may even lose consciousness for a brief critical period during the pull-out or on the turn.

However, an ingenious valve automatically lets air into five bladders in the suit located at the flyer's abdomen, thighs and calves.

The higher the G becomes, the greater the air pressure in the bladders and the lower part of the body is squeezed to the extent that blood is not pooled in the lower extremities. This permits the heart to pump it into the head, thus maintaining a supply of oxygen to the brain and eye tissues.

The suit increases the pilot's blackout tolerance by one and one-half Gs and if he tenses and strains, three Gs or more are obtained. Where he may blackout at four or five Gs without the suit, he may withstand eight or nine Gs with it.

When level flight is resumed the valve lets the air out of the suit automatically. On long missions at level flight the pilot may inflate his suit by hand, which overcomes fatigue by a massaging effect.

In making the scientific tests the human centrifuge is used to obtain, under the controlled conditions of the laboratory, the high Gs produced by turns and pullouts of fighter planes. The subject to be tested is fitted with many types of apparatus, giving him the effect of a man from Mars.

Each device has ingeniously been devised for a specific purpose. A thermal apparatus on the nose records breathing. To one ear is clamped a gadget with light bulbs and a photoelectric cell to measure changes in blood content of the head.

Another similar device on the other ear records the oxygen content of his blood. Electrocardiograms record heart action during the test. Additional devices indicate visual and auditory response as well as changes in pressure in various body cavities.

Time, the magnitude of "G", and air pressure in the suit bladders are all simultaneously recorded on the same records. Most recent development is a device to record blood pressure in the arteries.

After the subject has been examined for physical fitness, he is strapped with a safety belt in a cab located at one end of the beam. The cab swings out, and the subject's head is directed toward the centre of rotation.

It is like lying down, feet out, on the edge of a huge merry-go-round travelling 40 to 60 miles an hour. Acceleration causes blackout similar to that in pulling out of a dive in combat.

What happens? The heart and diaphragm move out of place, the lungs crowd with blood. Without the G-suit's protection, the abdominal wall protrudes, heart and diaphragm drop about two inches.

Acute Problems

Inflate the suit, the pressure applied to the abdomen raises the diaphragm more than three inches. Even the heart is lifted a small amount.

Can a pilot handle the stick under G-influence as efficiently as in normal flight? The doctors found he actually exerts force more readily. Studies show that G acts as a [illegible] on the weight of the arm and facilitates movements, especially toward the body.

The pilot's judgment, however, is impaired when gravity pulls. In pulling the stick with a force of 20 pounds, experienced pilots repeatedly add the 20 to the 14 pounds already tugging at their arms—exerting a total force of 34 pounds.

In the air, such overcontrol might pull the wings off a plane. In nearly all cases, the centrifuge-flyers underestimate their pull on the stick by about the amount contributed by the arm weight under the influence of multiple-gravity.

With the advent of transonic aircraft and later supersonic machines, negative G and accurate estimates of forces applied to controls will pose acute problems. However, solutions to these, as well as physiological problems, will come through continuing rides on the centrifuge.

Japan Using Arsenal For New Industries

YOKOSUKA, Japan. Textiles instead of torpedoes, paper instead of planes, are coming off the production lines here where Japan once had her largest naval operating base.

Fifty-five new industries, many of them housed within the once walled and tightly guarded confines of the base area, are turning out a variety of goods, ranging from cloth to clocks.

The harbor, which once admitted only Japanese warships, is an anchorage for commercial vessels.

The walls which once hid Nipponese naval secrets have been bulldozed away.

The five-mile length of the establishment, from the naval air arsenal on the north to the surface base on the south, is open to the public except for a small area where the United States Navy operates.

The Japanese built midget submarines here, plus some planes and many torpedoes. At one time the base employed 70,000 persons.

American raiders hardly touched Yokosuka. The United States Navy found machine shops, cranes, derricks and docks practically intact after the surrender.

Now the machines are used for peaceful production or to keep in good shape the United States naval vessels on duty in Japanese waters.

BUFFALO WOMAN MAY HAVE LAST LAUGH

BUFFALO, N.Y. — Mrs. Karl A. McCormick paid $1.25 for a shabby painting at an auction seven years ago.

She took it home, washed it and found a name in the lower right corner—Goya.

"All I can remember now," she says, "is that everyone laughed and said it was a fake or possibly a painting by some obscure artist, also named Goya."

Three art experts examined it recently and pronounced it a genuine Goya, possibly worth $20,000.

SAFE SPEED FOR ALL CAR DRIVERS IS EXPLAINED

ST. CATHARINES. — What is a safe speed? Suppose, says the St. Catharines Standard, you are rolling along in your car, driving just under the speed limit, but [illegible] another driver hogs your right-of-way at an intersection, or a child darts into the street, or another car [illegible] to swing wide on a sharp turn, or some other kind of emergency confronts you. Could you bring your car under control or stop in time at the speed you are travelling? The Department of Highways urges that you ask yourself that question when you drive. And if your good judgment tells you the answer is "no" then you are driving at an UNSAFE SPEED whether you are under the legal limit or not.

Report to the People

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

Since writing my last report another session of parliament has been concluded and prorogued. At the close of the last sitting of the House on the evening of June 30th, the Prime Minister, Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, made his farewell speech as leader of the government and leader of the Liberal party positions he has held longer than any other man in Canada and at the conclusion of his speech left the Chamber waving goodbye to the members most of whom were vociferously pounding their desks in honor of a retiring leader.

While we waited for a summons to attend the Senate Chamber for the prorogation ceremonies many members expressed opinions as to the success or failure of the 73-year-old parliamentarian who had just bowed out. Some stated that he was the most brilliant statesman Canada ever had on account of his ability to keep his party together and remain in office as government leader while others pointed out the golden opportunity he missed to prove him a real statesman by failing to provide means by which the potential production of the country could be made available to our people. The depression, Man-Made which made its appearance late in 1929 and continued until the outbreak of war in 1939 was given as one instance of failure—failure that caused many of our citizens to become uprooted from their homes and join the hordes of unemployed that travelled from the Atlantic to the Pacific in search of employment that did not exist, [illegible] because of [illegible] policy that was formulated in the interests of the few rather than the many. A policy that prevented the [illegible] gaining access to an abundant supply of all the necessities of life which were bursting the walls of our warehouses, while those who produced the goods looked on helplessly and ultimately, in many cases faced starvation, started a career of crime and in some instances, in desperation, found themselves inmates of insane institutions. The records during those years prove this. At the time of writing this column, Liberal delegates from all provinces are in convention in Ottawa to choose a new leader and formulate a new platform. Let us hope the mistakes and failures in the past will enable them to guard against such in the future.

Excise Tax Levy Bitterly Attacked

On Nov 17 last, by order-in-council the Government levied an excise tax up to 25% on many articles in everyday use such as cars, radios, refrigerators washing machines, electrical appliances and many other articles we were importing from the United States and at the same time placed restrictions on the importation of many articles from that country. The reason given was that we were short of United States dollars, this caused partly by the fact that we were buying more from the U.S. than they were buying from us. Social Credit members in Ottawa in December last pointed out to the administration that they were beginning to reap the "benefit" of the Bretton Woods legislation which they passed three years ago with the assistance of all parties in the House except the Social Crediters and one Prog Con member from Toronto, Mr T. L. Church. Opposition members and many government supporters bitterly attacked the imposition of the tax on many occasions during the Session—on one occasion six Ontario members visited the Prime Minister in an effort to have the tax removed and on the 31st of July the Minister of Finance, Hon D. C. Abbott announced that they had made a mistake that the tax was not accomplishing what they had intended it should and that it would be cancelled as from Aug 1st. Despite the cancellation under the tax "mistake" has cost Canadians many millions of dollars unnecessarily and has added materially to the much discussed high cost of living.

Second Year of Wheat Agreement

On July 31st we completed the 2nd year of our agreement to supply the British Government with stated supplies of wheat at $1.55 per bushel during the first two years of the contract. The price for the 3rd year has been fixed by negotiation between the two contracting governments at $2 per bushel and the price for the 1949-50 crop will be arranged on the same basis. When the agreement was discussed in the House in 1946, I, as spokesman for the Social Credit members, agreed that we should supply Britain with wheat at a lower price than other purchasers. We recognized we had a moral obligation to fulfil on account of Britain's part in the war but I also pointed out very definitely that as this cheap wheat was a gift of all the people of Canada to Britain the Canadian Government should take from the consolidated revenue fund and place in the Wheat Board funds for distribution among farmers who delivered wheat to the Board, an amount equal to the difference between the $1.55 price to Britain and the average price obtained for sales to other purchasers. [illegible] J. A. MacKinnon then the Minister of Trade and Commerce told us that on the 1946-7 crop the loss sustained was 77 cents per bus., or $123 million. A recent newspaper report states that the loss on account of the 1947-48 crop will be about $1.29 per bus., or a total of approximately $206 million, making a total loss for the first two years of about $329. This will be continued next month and coarse grains also dealt with.

The grapevine telephone isn't working very well these days as everyone is too busy but the writer hopes that she hasn't missed any visitors. Anyone with interesting items may send them to the writer of this column or direct to the Vermilion Standard. Items of news from the country are really appreciated by the Editor.

The writer and family went over to Marwayne last Sunday for a picnic at the river. We envy you people over there your very good roads. They are the best we have travelled on in this part of the country. The crops are good around Marwayne and Greenlawn too. In fact crops are better in most places than was expected. Harvesting will be started here next week. The dry weather has at least been good for the corn. The writer started using hers Aug 2nd and enjoyed it every day since. Beans are good this year too but peas and carrots are scarce.

This is a little late but nevertheless sincere—Congratulations to Mr and Mrs Ronald Neal on the birth of a daughter on July 11th.

Life has Changed for the Family Man

Most men live longer than their grandfathers. Women have a better life expectancy, too. So have children—not only that, but children nowadays spend more of their years getting an education.

These facts have brought significant changes in the family man's financial obligations. They mean that he must be prepared to support everyone in his family longer—including himself!

Fortunately, there is an effective way of meeting financial obligations of this nature—a well-planned insurance programme. Life insurance is a sure means by which a man can provide protection for his family in the event of his death or an income for himself should he live to retirement age.

The family man is wise to review his insurance requirements in view of changing conditions. If you would like expert advice, a representative of the Manufacturers Life will be glad to give it to you.

CROP ROTATION REQUIRED

The preservation of Alberta soils requires crop rotation. The provincial supervisor of soil conservation says that fibre and fertility can be restored through the medium of grasses and legumes. A satisfactory rotation should include cereal or other cash crops. It should allow for control of undesirable plants or weeds, with a minimum of cultivation, spraying or [illegible].

Crop rotations vary from district to district, and from farm to farm. Your district agriculturist can outline a cropping program that will put your farming operations on a permanent basis.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

WELCOME INSULT

By KATHRYN [illegible] WILSON

JOE WOOD strutted across his neatly clipped lawn to his newly acquired coupe parked out front. He had reached the age of fifty still sensitive about his short body. But this morning was different. The world was his apple. In this shiny second-hand car, he could drive to his accounting job at Western Aircraft looking as well-heeled as anybody.

Molly, his plump little wife, called from the bungalow's porch, "Remember, Joe—don't pick up hitchhikers—it's dangerous!"

"I'll be careful," promised Joe, opening the car door.

He climbed in behind the wheel, thinking, "Molly needn't worry. Nothing but first-class passengers will ever ride in this bus!"

The car was taking Laurel Canyon's hairpin turns like a veteran when Joe abruptly pulled the emergency, squealing his tires to a halt. It was the innocent, travel-stained countenance of the young man with upheld thumb which had aroused Joe's compassion. The fellow's hatless head flaming red under the sun, pierced straight through Joe's susceptible heart. It reminded him of the son he should have had years ago.

Automatically, he smoothed back a lock of his own graying hair, his blue eyes eager. "Hop in, young man," he invited.

"Thanks, pal."

Joe flashed him a covert glance as the car began moving. Had he hunted for an unscoured down-and-outer he couldn't have found a better example.

"Going far?" hazarded Joe.

"That—depends."

"You sound a little discouraged."

"So'd you, mister, without a dime in your jeans to buy eats."

"You don't say! You'd better go to one of the missions. They'll feed you—get you a job."

"Yeah? Let things catch up with me? I ain't that dumb, mister!"

"Things catch up? What things?" Joe asked apprehensively.

"Confidentially, pal—I jus' broke outta clink. Hollywood it was. Nice burg—but too hot for yours truly."

"Jail? You—you don't look like a man outside the law."

"I'm a dip, mister—pickpocket to you. First class, too. I got careless an' they pinched me. Cherub-face Al's my handle."

"Pickpocket?" Joe shivered, beads of sweat stood on his forehead, his tongue froze to the roof of his mouth. Nice mess, this! Danger rode with him now like punishment for his stupidity. Pickpocket! He felt smaller than ever beside this tall youth so cocky over his evil profession. In this lonely canyon anything could happen. Probably the fellow had been waiting to steal the first good-looking car that came along. Maybe he'd go further. Murder? Desperation can drive a man to any lengths.

Joe's brain swirled madly. He had to get rid of the fellow—he had to before it was—too late!

Suddenly, he had a plan. Oblivious to danger on these hairpin turns, he shot the car swiftly forward. It pitched and swerved now as though it, too, were wild with fear. Cherub-face Al protested, "Where's the fire, mister?"

"Got—got an appointment—late," managed Joe.

He consulted the rear-vision mirror as the car swung into Ventura Boulevard. Ought to be a speed trap somewhere around here.

And presently, he was easing his car up to the curb in response to a motorcycle's siren.

The car had barely stopped when Joe leaped out, raced back to the dismounting officer. "There's an escaped criminal in my car!" he announced. "I drove as fast as possible—to attract your attention!"

"Well now, buddy—this is a new one!" the officer slammed out. "I didn't know there was any new ones left! So for inventing a pretty neat alibi, my fine-feathered friend, I'll give you five dollars' worth of ticket to remember rules of the road by." He whipped out a small black book and pencil, began writing.

"What's all the ruckus, copper?" smoothly inquired Cherub-face Al, now planting himself close to the officer.

"Humph!" grunted the officer, with a cursory glance at the youth. Then he handed Joe a ticket, saying, "Stop in the North Hollywood Police Station and get acquainted. Without you speed-hounds, I don't know how we'd meet expenses."

"It's—it's a mistake, I tell you!" insisted Joe.

"Sure—ninety miles an hour is always a darned bad mistake!"

Joe sighed the sigh of the defeated and dragged himself back to his car, the irrepressible crook close at heel.

"I'll fade outta the picture at the next corner mister," said the passenger nervously, as the car got under way again.

"My advice to you is to go straight," Joe was moved to say. "You're young—you can live down the past—you can—"

The remainder of Joe's sentence was drowned by the roar of a motorcycle gaining on them from behind. "Step on it, mister! That copper's on our tail!" cried Cherub-face Al.

But Joe allowed his car to come to a complete halt. The gun pointed through the open window on Cherub-face Al's side, commanded his immediate respect.

"Come on, kid!" said the officer, yanking open the car door. "Pick my pocket, will you?"

The flicker of a smile crossed the dip's face as his hands went up. Something small and black dropped from his dirty shirtsleeve. "Yeah, Copper—guess it's your deal," he drawled brazenly, as he stepped to the ground.

"Well, I never!" gasped Joe. How'd he ever manage to—"

"Okey, Wood! Forget the ticket! Get going!" gruffly ordered the officer. "Heck! This tin can of yours couldn't do ninety!"

Water Projects Have Made Change In The View On Western Prairies

OTTAWA.—Migrating birds, aeroplane pilots and any interested passengers get a different view these days as they look down in the prairie provinces. They now see a land generously spotted with man-made watering places, more than 36,000 all built in the last 13 years, in addition to the natural lakes and sloughs and the comparatively few home-made dugouts the farmers had built previous to 1935.

The big change came with the advent of the Prairie Farm Rehabilitation Act, with administration headquarters at McCallum Hill Building in Regina. The 36,000 watering places do not include the large irrigation projects, but do include a range of smaller works from the farm dugout to stock-watering dams and smaller irrigation projects now operating at various points.

On these smaller water projects the Dominion Government, under the authority of the PFRA had spent a grand total of $4,211,382 at the end of March of this year. On application, the farmer gets the benefit of free engineering advice as to location, construction and so forth, and equally as important, financial assistance that varies with the type of project desired. The financial assistance even applies to repairs (on application and recommendation) in cases where damage has been caused by floods or other natural causes within one year after the project has been completed.

But as extremely rapid year-by-year increase in the number of water projects in Saskatchewan, Manitoba, and Alberta, if interesting from the bird's eye view, is vitally important to the farmer below because of the great change for the better it has made in his every day life. Some farmers even use the large dugout for small, but important, individual irrigation tracts. All have the benefit of additional water for the home, for livestock, some even use the larger and modern dugouts for swimming pools.

The average life of a dugout has for some reason been set at 10 years. That period was set before the Dominion Government stepped in with experts to supervise. It is now known that a properly constructed dugout should last far more than 20 years.

MERCHANT MARINE WILL GROW WITH DOMINION TRADE

OTTAWA. — The growth of Canada's merchant shipping fleet will keep pace with any expansion of dominion trade with the nations of the world, J. V. Clyne, chairman of the Canadian Maritime commission, said in an interview here.

Clyne added that, in the event of war, Canada today was in a "far better position" with respect to her merchant marine than she was in 1939. At that time, this country was faced with a dangerous shortage of cargo and other ships.

"With all other national fleets operating strictly in the interests of their own countries," he said, "the maritime commission intends to guarantee steady development of Canada's fleet to meet competition from any nation."

How It Feels To Be Struck By Lightning

ESTEVAN, Sask. — What happens to a man when he is struck by lightning?

Ben Kinart, 56, of Bryant, Sask., has the answer. [illegible] struck him while he was closing the barn loft door at the farm of Ernie Penstock, eight miles north of here.

Said Kinart, "I saw a big ball of fire beside me. There was a deafening crash. I remember falling slowly into the ball of fire. [illegible] to, my clothes were blazing, but I did not move my hands, nor could I roll over to put out the fire.

"It was the closest thing to the atomic bomb I care to see."

The bolt, which struck Kinart on the left side and passed through his foot, tore away his left shoe, which was found several feet away. A concrete counterweight on the barn door was shattered.

[illegible] who had been helping Kinart in the barn, extinguished the flaming clothing and summoned aid. Kinart was taken to hospital.

Ancient Law Governs Horseback Riders

NELSON, B.C. Police Chief Robert Harshaw has dusted off the book and come up with an ancient law limiting [illegible] riders to eight miles an [illegible].

There were complaints of horses galloping along [illegible] streets here.

Now the hayburners will be limited to a sedate eight miles per hour and the chief's men have orders to [illegible] it.

THIEF TOOK MONEY AND POCKET TOO

He boarded a street car bound for home with $1,200 in his hip pocket. At his destination he was minus the roll and the pocket of his trousers, which was clipped off neatly.

HONEY TEST BEING MADE AT CHURCHILL

FORT WILLIAM.—The busy bee, his activities normally associated with southern summers, is working far in the north this year.

An idea borne here has led to an experiment which may show that honey, one of the richest of food products, can be extracted from shrubs and wild flowers blossoming in the short Arctic summer.

A colony of honey bees based at Churchill, Man., is ranging for the first time over Arctic plant life. It is hoped the end result of their labors will be honey which is both edible and marketable.

FREEDOM ENDS FOR MINNIE THE MONKEY

VANCOUVER Minnie the circus monkey, who roamed Vancouver streets for three days knocking off policemen's hats and pelting elderly women with apples, was captured when a posse of policemen, poundkeepers, three newspaper men, three photographers and several citizens dislodged her from the rafter of a basement in an east end home.

Health Grants To Provinces Are Announced

OTTAWA. — The federal government's new health grants to the provinces, from the $30,000,000 voted by parliament at the last session, have been announced by Health Minister Paul Martin.

The grants, which Prime Minister Mackenzie King said in announcing the move are intended as a step towards a national health service, were worked out mainly on the basis of estimated 1947 populations.

They are topped by the $8,867,970 which Ontario will receive with Quebec next at $8,860,035. British Columbia will get $2,529,153; Saskatchewan, $3,091,742, Alberta, $1,966,726; Manitoba, $1,805,863; Nova Scotia, $1,841,779, New Brunswick, $1,230,052, and Prince Edward Island, $398,857.

The largest single type of grant is for hospital construction. Divided on a population basis, it makes $4,336,430 available to Ontario. Quebec will have $3,842,650, British Columbia, $1,080,745, Saskatchewan, $871,636; Alberta, $860,932; Manitoba, $769,151; Nova Scotia, $642,857; New Brunswick, $508,262, and Prince Edward Island, $97,306.

This is a "matching grant", available if the provinces put up at least as much money as the federal government. It will be paid for specific projects, not in a lump sum. To qualify for it hospital construction must have begun on or after April 1, 1948. The cancer grants also must be matched.

The restriction—that new projects must be undertaken—applies to the other grants.

The hospital grant will be paid on the basis of $1,000 for each [illegible] bed for acute cases and $1,500 [illegible] bed for chronic cases. The amount paid from federal funds is not to exceed one-third of the total cost.

In the case of hospitals or additions to them started before April 1, the grant can be obtained for construction done after that date.

The second largest grant is for mental health $4,000,000 rising to $7,000,000 a year over a period of years. There will be a flat $25,000 grant to each province and the rest divided on basis of populations.

The government has allocated $3,500,000 for cancer control, again to be distributed for specific projects.

In the case of the $100,000 public health research grant, which the announcement said will not be divided provincially, individual projects will be submitted to the dominion council of health which will recommend whether they should be accepted or not.

With contributions from rural municipalities, the total bill will be more than $500,000, heaviest road repair in Manitoba's history.

MEN SPEND MORE THAN WOMEN —ON HATS!

The job of persuading Canadian men to keep their heads covered made considerable progress in 1946, reports The Financial Post, but the ladies apparently decided to wear their hats a little longer in the face of rising prices.

Dominion Bureau of Statistics has just come up with the news that, while the value of hat and cap production in Canada jumped 27% in 1946 the increase was more noticeable at the men's counters than at the ladies.

Peanut butter is a very good source of protein and also supplies a good quantity of riboflavin or vitamin B_2.

CREAM SEPARATOR OIL

Your separator, running at extremely high speed, needs a special oil to maintain steady lubrication and prevent wear and the resulting bowl vibration. Imperial Cream Separator Oil is scientifically made to protect the close-fitting bearings of your separator in summer heat and especially in winter cold when ordinary oils tend to congeal.

PENETRATING OIL

Imperial Penetrating Oil is especially useful in overhaul jobs for loosening rusty nuts and bolts. It is also valuable for curing squeaks and stiffness in automobile, wagon and carriage springs. It works its way between tightly fitting metal surfaces, dissolves gummy substances and gives real lubrication.

ELECTRIFYING ALBERTA
THERE ARE TWO ALTERNATIVES!
YOURS IS THE CHOICE
How Will You Vote Election Day?

You are asked, as a voter, to cast your ballot either for or against the Provincial Government going into the power business. The plebiscite you mark does not say anything about "Farm Electrification." It is a question of your Government buying out all the existing power companies and all municipal power plants to generate and distribute electrical energy itself.

What does this mean? The facts are simple. Without the existing power plants in the cities, the government could not generate and sell electrical power to rural Alberta at the low price these consumers are paying. To buy out the already existing plants and distribution systems, it is estimated that the provincial debt would be doubled and our taxes greatly increased.

Private industry has the ability to look ahead. Alberta did not suffer during the war through a power shortage, as other Provinces did, notably Ontario where industry and the homes even today are rationed. Governments don't move so fast. Politics does not influence private business. The need is foreseen and provision made to meet the [illegible]

The Electrical industry in Alberta has approximately $128,000,000 invested in generating plants and distribution systems. Preparations have been completed for large extensions of generating plants amounting to over $25,000,000, and already orders have been placed for some of this equipment. The prevailing shortage of material, the lack of qualified linemen and skilled workmen in the field of Electrical Engineering cause the delays in rural extensions. No change of ownership can remedy this situation.

Private business pays taxes to the Government in order to do business. Power company rates are already controlled by the Government. If there is a financial loss, the Company shareholders are the losers—not the consumers. If the Government suffers a loss up go taxes again.

The farmers that have electrical energy are satisfied. Many of them have paid for this service. So have the users in all the cities. A scheme as suggested is of tremendous interest to all as the costs will be distributed over both the urban and rural users and any deficit paid as a tax. Think this over!

Under the Dominion Provincial tax agreement, half of the taxes paid by the Power Companies to Ottawa, amounting to approximately $675,000 in 1947, is given back to Alberta, thus assisting our own taxation. If the province took over it would not pay taxes 'tis true, but the Province would lose this income and what is lost would have to be regained by additional taxes in other directions.

Industry has been attracted to Alberta by reason of low power cost and continues to look favorably in this direction. Would private capital be so attracted under government ownership?

Industry, and citizens in villages, towns and cities, already enjoy dependable twenty four hour service, and power to farming communities is being extended as rapidly as manufacturers of equipment can supply the goods. The experience in a neighboring province, where the Government has taken over many private businesses including the power companies, has stopped to a large extent the investment of outside capital. [illegible] has been fortunate in the manner in which outside private capital has come here. We should not divert such money from this province. We need industry for more payrolls — more employment means more purchasing of farmers' products — everyone benefits.

We suggest you mark the top half of the plebiscite with the figure 1 (one) and leave well enough alone. It will be cheaper for you in the long run. Remember this: no government can operate a business as cheaply and efficiently as private enterprise.

Salvation Army Delegates Attend Home League Camp

The Salvation Army at this point sent two delegates to attend the Home League local officers' camp held at Seba Beach from July 27 to 29. The delegates were Mrs. Ken Isley, Vermilion Home League secretary for the Salvation Army and Mrs. Horace Bellingham. This particular camp is a short course specially designed to entertain all Home Leagues from every Salvation Army citadel in Alberta.

The program is planned to provide lectures and demonstrations on subjects directly related to the interests of all Home Makers and Home Leagues, with provision for discussion and relaxation. The beautiful camp grounds makes an ideal setting for an occasion such as this. Mrs. Isley and Mrs. Bellingham renewed old acquaintances and made new friends.

On Wednesday evening at the local meeting of the Home League, Mrs. Bellingham gave the ladies an interesting outline of all that took place. The demonstration of laying tables, shell brooch making, making of flowers and Xmas decorations, and several other demonstrations too numerous to mention at this time.

Mrs. Isley representing the League of Vermilion, read a very interesting paper entitled "The family altar in League homes". The demonstration on chocolate making was quite interesting to the ladies, it sounded so good that one could fairly taste the chocolate, it is hard to say just what would have happened if Adjutant Stewart had been present. He probably would have promptly tried his hand at making chocolates.

Adj. Stewart is away on furlough, taking a well-earned vacation. He will be back about Aug 16th when he will again take his stand at the services and open air meetings. His return will be very welcome.

Our Home League meeting was ended in the usual way by the serving of a very nice lunch by our hostess Mrs. Scruggins.

RIVERTON

Mr. and Mrs. P. Hansen have as guests at their home their daughter Mrs. Bruce Leason and two grandsons.

Mr and Mrs. B. Hansen, Freda, Bruce and Mrs Wilson, Mrs. Hansen's sister, have motored to Banff for a ten-day holiday.

Mrs. A. Parr has as a guest at her home her brother Fred Ives from England. This gentleman is 81 years old, a one time owner of the O.B. ranch. He has a daughter living near Staplehurst and they plan on going to Vancouver together.

The Ladies Aid will be at the home of Mrs. A. R. Wood on Thursday afternoon.

Everyone is busy canning these days.

A good rain would still be a wonderful help in these parts.

After the show on Saturday evening attend the dance at the Elks hall. An enjoyable hour or two for only 25c.

Harvest Wage Scale Is Recommended

The Alberta Federation of Agriculture recommends that the going wage for harvesting and threshing for 1948 be $6 per day for harvesting and $7 per day for threshing based on a ten hour day, including board.

For the past two years the locals of the A.F.A. have recommended [illegible] wage. At a recent meeting of the board of directors the above recommendation for 1948 was endorsed.

The purpose of such action is to give farmers a guide as to what can be considered a fair wage and thus remove unnecessary competition and misunderstanding. The Federation has been in consultation with the governments of this province, Saskatchewan and Manitoba and finds that this recommendation is in line with those made in other provinces.

WILDMERE WINKS

Here we are back with a few news items. The writer's uncle and aunt Mr and Mrs. Sam Graham from Echo Bay Ont. have been visiting her. They are at present visiting at Dawson Creek and Bella, B.C. where another uncle, John Graham resides. It is [illegible] since the two brothers last saw each other. In the spring of 1904 John left the east to farm in Alberta on the farm where the writer and family now live. Mr and Mrs Graham are greatly impressed with the prairies but feel they are too old to start life anew. Mr Graham is now 73 and they are retired farmers themselves. They take quite an interest in the vast scale of farming in the west. They have had a family of 11 [illegible] two sons in the armed forces one, their youngest son, paying the supreme sacrifice on the Italian battlefield. The other one received honorable mention for bravery on the field of action. On their return trip from B.C. Mr and Mrs. Graham will stop for a short time with the writer before returning to their home in the east.

We wish to extend, along with the community, our heartfelt sympathy to Mr and Mrs John (Dud) Bathe of Lloydminster who suffered the loss of their infant son on Aug. 4th.

To any who may be interested please note. Wildmere W.I. are again sending old woollens to be made into blankets. Anyone wanting to send kindly leave their bundle with Mrs. Guy Whitlock or Mrs. Bob Martin. All are welcome to send. Closing day is Aug. 31st so bear this in mind folks.

August W.W.I. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Steele [illegible] with only 7 members present. Roll call was answered by "What public school attended". Mrs. Wilson's topic, Education, was greatly enjoyed. Another food parcel for overseas was donated [illegible] Mrs. Whitlock [illegible] a spelling match. Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs. Whitlock. After the meeting Mrs. Steele served a tasty lunch. Next meeting at Mrs. [illegible] home on Sept. 1st.

We were [illegible] sorry that Mr. [illegible] had suffered a [illegible] but were pleased to hear he was greatly improved at the last report. He is in the [illegible] hospital at Edmonton.

[illegible] Mr. and Mrs. J. Bathe of [illegible] spent a few days with their son at Lloydminster [illegible] Alex Smith and family of Edmonton are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith. Mr. and Mrs. S. Mack and two children from Kansas have been visiting Mrs. Mack's parents in Mannville and last week were spent with Mrs. Mack's [illegible] Mr. John Wilson of Wildmere. George Haines had the misfortune to get the tendons of his right [illegible] while stacking hay last week making it necessary for him to spend a few days in hospital. [illegible] Unterberg of Wildmere [illegible] next week the writer and family are going to [illegible] Sunday [illegible] would like to see you here.

MOTHPROOF WOOLENS

British discoveries guarantee permanent mothproof woolen clothes according to The Financial Post by making special treated wool indigestible to moth grubs. Wool is soaked in new solution before manufacturing the cloth. Housewives won't be able to treat the household [illegible] however because the process can't be used to protect [illegible] goods already manufactured.

If you wash gloves with [illegible] and then [illegible] the dirt comes out quicker.

Salvation Army Finds Separated Friends

SEARCH EXTENDS OVER FOUR COUNTRIES

Four countries and two widely-separated friends were linked when The Salvation Army's Missing Persons' Bureau successfully closed the case of Miss 'C'.

In March, Army headquarters received an enquiry from a New Brunswick person concerning a friend, Miss C. who had left Russia with her parents some years ago, but was thought to be living in a Polish Camp near Lake Victoria, Uganda, Africa. Salvation Army authorities in Kenya were asked to investigate and eventually were successful in contacting the missing woman who was actually living in Uganda. She was delighted to hear of her friend in Canada.

Activity of the Missing Persons' Bureau extended far above the Arctic Circle to locate Hance P., a trapper who had come to Canada from Denmark several years ago. In 1939 the mother had asked The Salvation Army in Denmark to locate her son, but she died without having heard from him. This year relatives of the man again enquired as to his whereabouts. Again investigations were conducted in the far north, resulting in postal reunion of the family.

During the month of June, Toronto Headquarters reported 67 cases of missing persons opened and 66 closed, of which 31 were successful. Of all cases handled during this period 67% concerned men.

200,000 Car Drivers Will Get Licenses

Licensed motor car drivers in Alberta this year may reach a total of 200,000 according to information received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

Already the provincial secretary's department has issued 164,000, compared with 156,000 in the same period of last year. The total for the license year that ended March 31, was 191,492.

Car registrations for the current year are expected to reach the record total of 110,000. For the whole of last year the total was 104,250.

For some time the A.M.A. has been interested in measures to have a system of proper driving tests being adopted in Alberta. This is believed necessary in the interests of safety on highway.

No provincial government announcement has been made but it is believed that the matter is under consideration. In the U.S. practically all states require proper tests of applicants for drivers' licenses.

Apple Caravan Travels Trans-Canada Route

CIVIC RECEPTION AT VERMILION

Giving fresh impetus to the movement to develop and complete the Yellowhead Route of the Trans-Canada highway, an apple caravan will cover the 1500 miles from Vancouver to Winnipeg next September.

Plans for this ambitious project have just been announced by Mayor H. D. Ainlay, of Edmonton, president and F. T. Love, secretary of the Trans-Canada Highway System association (Yellowhead Route).

In endorsing the Apple Caravan the President and Secretary-Treasurer of the parent Association appealed to all members of the Association and their friends along the Yellowhead Route to get behind the Caravan and to give it their enthusiastic support.

Preliminary plans have been under discussion for some weeks. Various problems had to be studied in order that the project should be launched at the most convenient time, with the guarantee of maximum success.

Federal authorities have been consulted with the result that there will be no difficulty in moving the vehicles over park highways.

Reg Easton of Edmonton has been appointed organizer and already has much of the initial plans completed. He has discussed the proposal with various centres along the route and has [illegible] splendid [illegible] tion.

[illegible] with [illegible] of proving the feasibility of the route, the need for completion of this highway as a major traffic artery and the value of drawing national attention to its many advantages.

The caravan will start on its long journey with a group of motor trucks loaded with delicious apples gathered in the famous Okanagan Valley of the Coast province.

Probably 25 trucks will start out thoroughly equipped and in the hands of experienced drivers. Many firms have expressed the [illegible] ing a truck in the Caravan.

At different points along the route the Caravan will make stops and apples will be sold. As required the stocks will be replenished.

The Caravan will be brought from Kamloops over the still unfinished Blue River Road and then to Jasper. Stops will be made at various towns and villages on the way to Edmonton, then east to towns on the route to Lloydminster at the Saskatchewan border, then on to Saskatoon and continuing on the route to Winnipeg.

As the Caravan approaches a city or town, it will be met by civic authorities, tourist officials and others and escorted to the gathering point. Greetings will be tendered and at the completion of the program, the vehicles will move off to continue the journey.

During the next two months various centres will complete plans for the reception. Branches of the Trans-Canada Highway Association are expected to measure up to all expectations in making the visit to their respective districts a distinct success.

Right across the country there has been growing interest in the campaign to develop and complete the Yellowhead Route of the Trans-Canada highway. This interest has been keen in the East where efforts to promote the northern route, with its many scenic and other advantages have won high praise.

The proposed Caravan will intensify interest [illegible] undoubtedly will [illegible] which will be created along the route. Judging by the [illegible] of the idea [illegible] centres will [illegible] with each other [illegible] the day [illegible] travel over the [illegible] year.

Wider Medical Service

THE NEED FOR IMPROVED MEDICAL SERVICE for the people who live in remote districts of the prairie provinces and the North West Territories has been frequently pointed out in the press and by others who are interested in public health and welfare. Many of the people who live in settlements situated far from railway lines and good highways lack adequate medical care in cases of serious illness or accidents, in spite of the fact that frequent "mercy flights" are made by the R.C.A.F., and by chartered planes. In Saskatchewan, two government-owned air ambulances are operated from bases in Regina and Prince Albert, and they do excellent work in the areas which they serve. There are many people, however, who are of the opinion that there should be a service of this kind, organized by the government, for the benefit of all those living in isolated districts in the North West.

* * * * *

Units Operate In Australia In Australia, where there are also many remote settlements, seven [illegible] established. Each one of these bases has a well-equipped hospital, and a "flying doctor", who visits patients and can bring them by air to the hospital if that is necessary. This service, operated for the benefit of people living far from railways and highways, was considered necessary by the Australian government to encourage new settlers to enter sparsely-populated areas. Services of a similar nature would no doubt be an inducement to people contemplating settling in such districts here. There is still much productive land which it is in the interest of the country to settle and develop, and provision of assured medical service would undoubtedly encourage people who might otherwise hesitate to live there.

* * * * *

Splendid Work Has Been Done Rural doctors, the Red Cross and medical missionary workers do splendid work in caring for the sick in isolated districts, but there is still, no doubt, a need for "flying doctors", to bring help in cases requiring care which cannot be provided in such places, and to visit patients where there is no established medical service. Dr. Mary Johnstone, M.B.E., who was for some time a medical doctor in northern Alberta, has expressed the opinion that many lives could have been saved in the district which she served had there been facilities for bringing help by air in cases of critical illness. In addition to being an inducement to prospective settlers, the introduction of medical service by air would be a humanitarian measure which would benefit the many people now living in the northern parts of the western provinces. This is one of the questions deserving the consideration of those interested in the welfare of our people.

Import Ban On Vegetables Will Not Be Lifted

OTTAWA.—Forecasts made by a number of eastern newspapers that the import ban on all U.S. fruits and vegetables would be removed simultaneously with the lifting of the 15 to 25 per cent. excise tax proved unfounded. Nevertheless, it is well known in price board circles that this barricade against fruit and vegetable imports is due to be lifted at the [illegible] when the Canadian crops are [illegible] of.

There is strong pressure [illegible] being exerted by vegetable and fruit [illegible] to maintain the import ban in some modified degree. They are [illegible] the argument that, as the [illegible] of the fruit and vegetable ban, was a huge increase in Cana[illegible] market garden planting this [illegible]; that this encouragement of [illegible] production ought to con[illegible] next year, perhaps under some schedule of seasonal imposition and removal.

In a measure, this is already done by means of seasonal tariffs, none of which, however, operated so effectually as the total prohibition of the ban imposed last November. The fruit and vegetable growers contend that no unfavorable effects on Canadian health developed as the result of the fruit and vegetable ban, as had been predicted by some experts. The chief effect, of course, was on prices which soared until W.P.T.B. imposed ceilings on the sky rocketing markets.

Hope Subsidy Will Stabilize Bread Prices

OTTAWA.—A prices board official has informed a press conference here that the 46-cent subsidy or drawback to be paid to millers of domestic flour to stabilize bread prices at their present level will be based on domestic annual consumption of about 65,000,000 bushels of wheat. On that basis, the cost to the Canadian taxpayers would be about $29,-250,000 a year.

The same source of information said it was estimated the removal of the subsidy on fats and oils would mean the saving to the government of from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000 a month — in other words, it would largely balance the payment of the flour milling subsidy.

But while the payment of the 46-cent subsidy to millers of flour for domestic consumption is calculated to meet the increased cost of wheat —raised from $1.55 to $2.00 a bushel to the level of the British contract Aug. 1—it does not take into consideration the increased cost of shortenings used in bread due to the removal of the fats and oils subsidy.

The government, it is said unofficially, is hoping that the shortening costs will be absorbed by the baking industry and not passed on to consumers in higher bread prices. It is pointed out that the government still has authority to impose ceilings on retail bread prices (which it does not want to do unless forced).

[illegible] PROVING [illegible] SIGHTED POLICY

The Winnipeg Free Press says Canada cannot now afford this [illegible] about young employees. There are already signs that it is being abandoned in farming, industries and businesses. The proposition cannot be justified even on the most selfish grounds. Our need to increase total production is too great to turn away skilled experienced workers at any rate who happen to have passed their middle forties.

Happy with the 44-hour week, and the usual routine starting out on a "graveyard shift" from 11 p.m. to 7 a.m., he says all he sees in his sleep are doors and more doors.

Story Of Royal Canadian Mounted Police Bands Is Most Interesting

WINNIPEG. — Few things set the pulse racing or stir the heart more than the swing of a martial air played by a good band. The people of Manitoba had this aptly demonstrated as they heard at various points concerts by the R.C.M.P. band which recently completed the Manitoba leg of a dominion-wide tour.

The scarlet-clad aggregation is the seventh band possessed by the force. Official records covering earlier musical groups were destroyed in a fire in 1897. But what is known of the earlier bands forms an adventurous and sometimes rollicking history.

The R.C.M.P. Quarterly, official publication of the force, relates the experiences of one such band formed at Swan river barracks in 1876. It tells of the band's debut on Queen Victoria's birthday in 1876.

"The Indians had never heard such a band before and showed intense surprise, especially the squaws and youngsters, who ran to their tepees in terror. The men liked the big drum and offered to trade a good horse for it."

Later bands were used to impress the Indians at treaty signings [illegible] other functions. In 1877 when a chieftain of shady reputation marched to the government [illegible] his procession headed by the Mounted Police band, the brass was [illegible] playing "Hold the Fort for I am Coming".

When asked why he chose such an inappropriate tune, the bandmaster, aware of the chieftain's bad reputation, said, "Isn't there a verse commencing, 'See the mighty host advancing, Satan leading on'?"

The Quarterly let the cat out of the bag in describing the sudden and rather disastrous end of the Fort Walsh band in 1881. Those used to the courteous efficiency of the Mounties may find it hard to believe, but the Quarterly says it's so.

In celebration of the news of a smashing victory by Lord Roberts in Africa, the colonel ordered a special issue of grog to the men who were giving a concert in the officers' mess. Stimulated by this the band decided to turn out on the parade ground and give vent to patriotic airs.

"Apparently they had obtained some liquor in addition to the official issue," the sad story goes, "and whether the first trombone player objected to having a clarinet wailing in his face or whether they couldn't agree on what piece to play is not known.

"Shortly a free-for-all ensued. The instruments became weapons in the fight and most were destroyed. As a result the band was disorganized."

How Grain Can Be Stored Safely

OTTAWA. — Now is the time to prepare grain storage for the new crop. Moisture and insects are the greatest threats to farm stored grain. The most important factor in good storage is keeping the grain dry. Uniformly dry grain will escape insect attack and spoilage.

By observing the following precautions grain can be stored safely.

Repair leaky roofs to exclude rain and snow.

Brush down walls thoroughly. Clean all cracks and remove all grain debris. Sweep the floor with damp sawdust and destroy sweepings. Spray the clean empty bin with 5 per cent. DDT, spray at the rate of one gallon per thousand square feet of wall and floor surface area and allow to dry thoroughly before binning the grain.

Do not fill the granary to the roof but provide all possible ventilation without allowing moisture to enter.

Examine the bins of grain frequently to determine whether insects are present or the grain is heating. If the samples are shaken over a 9 or 10 mesh screen, the grain is retained while the insects will pass through to a sheet of paper where they can be seen readily.

If insects are found, the grain should be fumigated.

Details as to fumigation may be obtained from Stored Product Insect Investigations, Division of Entomology, Dominion Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, or 734 Dominion Public Building, Winnipeg, Man.

THAT'S ANOTHER THING

A Canadian law clerk suggested that shorter speeches would result in parliament if members were allowed to talk only while standing on one leg. What if the speech doesn't give them a leg to stand on asks the London Free Press?

MAKING MORE STEEL AVAILABLE FOR NAILS

OTTAWA. — The government has moved to aid Canadian builders of residential homes stalled by a critical shortage in the supply of steel wire nails.

Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation said the government's steel controller will take steps to increase the production of nails by diverting certain quantities of steel rod into the nail manufacturing industry.

The small production increase expected will be distributed by C.M.H.C. branch offices when non-priority residential builders show proof of inability to obtain nails through usual sources.

C.M.H.C. said the government's move was "an emergency measure" and was not intended to meet total requirements of any individual.

Output For Flour Mills Decreased

OTTAWA. — Output of Canadian flour mills in June showed a decrease from June, 1947. The bureau of statistics reported a 22-per cent. decrease in wheat flour produced—1,911,800 barrels compared with 2,-448,800.

Cumulative output for first 11 months of the current crop year was 22,429,600 barrels, a 14-per cent. decline.

Wheat used in flour production totalled 8,747,400 bushels in June against 10,981,600 last year. Amount milled for flour in the 11 months of this crop year was 101,860,000 bushels compared with 117,865,000.

Clandonald News

On Monday evening Aug. 2nd a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. G. Turner and family was held in the Columbus hall. Quite a large crowd turned out and a very enjoyable time was spent by all. The first part of the evening was devoted to playing whist by part of the crowd while the remainder just visited. After the cards a very tasty lunch was served. Mr. Souder then spoke for a few minutes and on behalf of the community presented the Turners with a sum of money. Mr. and Mrs. Turner then thanked the gathering for their gift and warned all present to be sure and call and see them anytime that they were in the neighborhood of Tofield. The evening wound up with an hour or more of dancing.

Thursday seemed to be moving day in Clandonald. Pat Convey and family moved into the Turner house as soon as it was vacated. Mr. and Mrs. Campbell moved into the Convey house immediately. Mr. Campbell is the new U.G.G. agent and comes from the Westlock district while Mrs. Campbell is a British war bride.

Mrs. Bob Michael has her mother and brother Joe from the coast on a visit.

To the accompaniment of cheers and groans the high school results arrived last week. Although we have not heard of anyone making any outstanding marks apparently there have been no failures.

We understand that Jim Brodbin of the Landonville district is at present on a visit to the old country.

Mr. and Mrs. Stonehouse and family are up from Saskatchewan spending most of their holidays visiting in the Derwent and Clandonald districts. "Stoney" reports good crops in the Glenavon district where he is at present, and seems well satisfied with his new location.

Crops and gardens here are rather below average this year although there are some exceptions. Most farmers are complaining that the tame hay is a very light crop.

The new coffee shop operated by Mr. and Mrs. Tucchuk opened its doors for business on Friday.

BOOM RADIO INDUSTRY?

Will removal of part of the excise tax open the way for a new boom in Canada's radio industry?

The order is [illegible] at $14,000,000. It is a "tremendous compliment" to the Canadian aircraft industry, one authority said. Forty passengers and a crew of six can be carried by the big Canadair North Star planes whose pressurized cabins enable them to fly at 20,000 feet. FLAMES RAZE COVERED BRIDGE—A landmark to tourists and one of the few covered bridges in Canada was destroyed by fire. The bridge, 130 feet in length, stretched between Gracefield, Que., 50 miles north of Ottawa, Ont., and Northfield, Que., spanning the Gatineau river. No one was injured, but several persons were forced to jump 25 feet into the Gatineau river as flames swept quickly through the old timbers. No autos were on it at the time. Above is a photo of the covered bridge which is now gone.

TO HEAD WORLD HEALTH ORGANIZATION — The new World Health Organization completed the main features of its machinery at Geneva, Switzerland, with the election of Dr Brock Chisholm of Canada as director-general. HUNT VANDALS AS TOMBSTONES SMASHED — A reward for information leading to the capture of beer-drinking vandals who upset six tombstones in the Dundalk, Ont., cemetery will be offered by the cemetery board. The damage was discovered by the caretaker, Ben Smitten, who reported that a car had driven into the grounds and had knocked over several monuments weighing around 800 pounds. SIX DIE AS BRIDGE FALLS IN RAPIDS—Six employees of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power commission who plummetted 120 feet into the Ottawa river rapids at Des Joachims were drowned. The collapse of a 170-foot section of a Bailey bridge sent the men to their death. The men drowned near the spot where four workmen died when a catwalk crashed last November. A three-inch-deep hole eight feet long in the concrete marks the spot where Robert Mandel is standing on the Bailey bridge structure which threw the men to their death in the Ottawa river when it collapsed. An hour before it gave way he was standing there.

LOOKING TO CANADA FOR HOMES IF U.S. TURNS THEM DOWN—Safely across the Atlantic in their tiny boat which brought them to Boston, Mass., these Latvians look to Canada and the U.S. for a home after fleeing from the Russians. Unless Canada or the U.S. admits them, they could be sent back to Russia. Here the voyagers wave from their hatch as they arrive. Their first act was to hold a thanksgiving service.

Mrs. N. M. Coombe has recently returned from a three weeks visit in Edmonton at the home of her son Raymond. During her stay Raymond and Evelyn motored westward on a two weeks vacation and Mrs. Coombe took charge of the family. On their return Raymond and Evelyn reported a wonderful trip. Points of interest on their journey were Jasper, Lake Louise, Banff, Calgary and Drumheller.

Recent visitors at the home of Mrs. N. M. Coombe were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Powers of Edmonton, Lloyd and Mrs. Bert Gould, Mr. and Mrs. P. Golby and Babe, also Percy's sister Mrs. Ismills of Vancouver. A few days ago Mrs. Wyndham Gould mother of the writer spent Saturday at her daughter's [illegible].

Garden flowers are lovely now and recent showers have increased the beauty of the blossoms. Vine fruits are coming along fine. Field crops are very backward and light in many districts. Berries have been plentiful and large quantities have been picked and canned for winter's use, along with beans, peas, carrots and beets.

Holidays will soon be over and plans are already under way for the return to school. One girl was overheard telling another to wipe the smile off her face because the report cards were in the mail, so far they have not come to hand—lets' hope there are no disappointments.

Fire Chief Conboy at Lethbridge Convention

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Conboy and daughter Mildred recently returned from a very enjoyable trip to Lethbridge where they attended the 40th annual convention of the Dominion Association of Fire Chiefs. About 200 official delegates were in attendance, practically all of whom were accompanied by members of their families. The city was thrown wide open to the firemen for the five-day convention and the visitors were treated right royally. Following the convention Mr. and Mrs. Conboy and Mildred motored to Banff, Lake Louise and Field where they spent several days. On the return journey they visited friends at Sylvan Lake, Rocky Mountain House and Bentley. The whole trip proved very enjoyable and interesting.

Saskatoon Man Is New Principal of Vermilion High School

TEACHING STAFFS ARE NOW COMPLETE.

Teaching staffs for the Vermilion high, intermediate and elementary schools are now complete, the seven vacancies being filled. The local board found in this connection that while teachers for the high and intermediate schools appear to be a little more numerous than any time since the war, the supply of elementary teachers seems to be less than ever. Reports from school divisions indicate that this condition is general. Consequently just as many rural schools as ever will probably be without teachers when the term opens on Sept. 1st.

HIGH SCHOOL STAFF

Choice of the school board for the principalship of the Vermilion high school was Mr. Morrison F. Smeltzer, B.A., B. Ed., a young man from Saskatoon. Several applicants for the position were interviewed in Edmonton while Mr. Smeltzer was asked to meet the local board in Vermilion. Following this meeting the board was unanimous in offering the position to Mr. Smeltzer.

Mr. Smeltzer is of Irish-Canadian descent, has nine years teaching experience, served with the Canadian army during the war. He is a graduate of the University of Saskatchewan, already having his B.A. with honors and his B. Ed. degrees. This fall, upon completion of a thesis upon which he is now working, he will receive his M.A. degree.

He is a married man with two children and has purchased the house occupied by the former principal Mr. Gordon Hay. They plan to arrive in Vermilion early next week. It is interesting to note that Mrs. Smeltzer holds a Bachelor of Music degree from the University of Saskatchewan, as well as her A.T.C.M.

To replace Mrs. Day on the high school staff, the board has engaged Mr. Clarence E. Killeen of Edmonton. He holds his interim senior High School teaching diploma and is just one course short of his B. Ed. degree. He spent 5½ years in the R.C. A.F., the last two as an instructor. Mr. Killeen is qualified to teach physical education as well as the academic subjects required. He is sports-minded, also musically inclined. He is a young married man with two children under school age.

THE STAFF

The high school staff will now be comprised of Mr. M. F. Smeltzer, principal; Miss Marjorie Knapp; Miss Marion Rogers; Mr. Clarence E. Killeen; Mr. John Tarangle, commercial room.

This will mean that the assembly hall, for the past two years used as classrooms, will again revert to its original purpose. Wants Nice Vermilion Cowboy for Pen Pal

The following inquiry came to the Edmonton city council and was forwarded to Vermilion for prompt action. An English lady, Mrs. L. Wood of 1 High street, Ramsey, Hunts, England wants a nice cowboy for a pen pal. This is what she says about it in her letter:

"Just a line to find out if you can help me find a nice cowby for a pen pal. I come from a place in Alberta called Vermilion and have been in England for 13 years. Fed up of it, I like dear old Canada. My husband is dead and I have one son 12 years old. I can do all kinds of work on the land, can milk cows and am a good cook. If you could put me in touch with some of the boys I would be very much obliged."

Mrs. L. Wood, 1 High St., Ramsey, Hunts, England.

Anyone interested may write direct to Mrs. Wood at the address given.

Mrs. Frank Gould and baby Sandra of Vermilion were week end visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waterfield at Islay.

Death of R. L. Burns Is Shock to People of the Town and District

R. L. "Bobbie" Burns, well known and highly respected farmer of the Claysmore district, passed away at the hospital here on Wednesday morning shortly before noon. His death came as a great shock to people of the town and district. He was 64 years of age.

Mr. Burns had been a patient in the hospital since Tuesday of last week suffering from poisoning which had spread from a bee sting on his nose. He seemed to be recovering from the infection but in his weakened condition fell a victim to pneumonia.

Mr. Burns came to this district from southern Alberta in 1921. His farm in the Claysmore district was among the prize winners in the Better Farming contest last year, and his farm was cited as an example of almost perfect farming practices. His home surroundings were one of the show places of the district.

Funeral services will be held on Sunday August 22nd at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon at the Vermilion United church. Interment will be at the Vermilion cemetery. No flowers by request.

The sympathy of a wide circle of friends is extended to the sorrowing widow and family in their sudden bereavement.

Pres. H. B. Evans Plans Horticultural Show

THURSDAY, AUG 26 AT ELKS HALL — EVERYONE MAY EXHIBIT.

The president of the Horticultural Society, H. B. Evans, wishes to announce that a bench show is being arranged for Thursday Aug. 26th.

This is an annual show but was previously cancelled on account of continued dry weather. The recent rains however, have brought on the flowers and vegetables and it is felt that gardeners in Vermilion should have a chance to show what they can do in raising good garden produce.

Prize lists have been mailed to all members of the Society but anyone, whether a member or not, is welcome to bring in whatever they have. In throwing the entries open it is felt that many farmers as well as towns people will wish to show something and thus make it an exhibition of garden stuff that will be long remembered in Vermilion.

Anyone interested can get a prize list from any of the directors, R. Anderson, John Brimacombe, Bill Harris, Hugh Evans or E. H. Buckingham, district agriculturist.

It is asked that entries would be all handed in to secretary Harris or E. H. Buckingham before 6 o'clock Wednesday Aug. 25th in order to give the officials a chance to make out the entry tags. The exhibits must be in place in the Elks hall before 10 a.m. on Thursday.

The people of the Vermilion district are asked to cooperate in getting out lot of exhibits. There is no entry fee.

There is no charge for admission to the show and everyone is welcome to come to the Elks hall on Thursday afternoon and evening to see what is there.

Social Credit Scores Sweeping Victory

RETURNS 52 MEMBERS — W. R. CORNISH WINS VERMILION, AALBORG ALEXANDRA

Premier Manning and his Social Credit party scored another sweeping victory at the Alberta polls Tuesday. Present results indicate that at least 52 Social Credit members will be returned to the legislature when counting is completed, this is one more than at the dissolution. Premier Manning scored a great personal victory and all nine of his cabinet ministers were easy winners. Recounts are necessary in only 14 of the 47 single-member constituencies.

The big surprise of the election was the strength behind Social Credit and the failure of the C.C.F. to win more than 2 seats. Liberal polled more votes than was generally expected.

VERMILION CONSTITUENCY

W. R. Cornish was easily re-elected in the Vermilion constituency with 1955 first choice votes. The race between Hay C.C.F. and Chorney Liberal provided considerable interest, the two running neck and neck for the second place. Hay finally ending up two votes [illegible]

POWER PLEBISCITE

There were [illegible] votes cast in favor of continuance of private ownership of power lines with 2160 for the government to take over.

VERMILION BALLOTING

Voters in the town of Vermilion polls gave Cornish 442 votes, Chorney Liberal 129 and Hay C.C.F. 94. Private ownership of power was favored by 464 with 222 votes cast for the government to take over.

There was a total of 794 votes cast at town polls as compared with 578 in 1944. Social Credit gained from 413 to 442 while the C.C.F. vote slipped from 133 to 94.

AALBORG IN ALEXANDRA

Anders Aalborg, well known school principal at Riverscourse and vice-president of the Alberta Teachers Alliance, was elected in the constituency immediately to the east. The count there was:

Aalborg, S.C. 1860; Davies, C.C.F. 1066; Miller, Liberal 569. This was the vote with [illegible] polls [illegible].

The result of the voting by polls for the Vermilion constituency will appear in the next issue of the Vermilion Standard.

Local Ball Tossers Hold Touring Beavers to A Low Score

The local baseball team and the touring colored Beavers from Oakland gave a very good exhibition of baseball before a large crowd of fans here last Saturday evening. The visitors finally won out 2-0. Stan and Ray Jones formed the local battery. Stan gave a remarkable exhibition of control cutting the outside edges of the plate with a fast break that kept failing on the part of the visitors to a minimum. The tourists did very little clowning, settling down right away to play serious baseball. They caught our boys on a good day and a real exhibition was the result. Gordon Parks hot two-bagger was the big hit for the locals.

Our line up included Ray and Stan Jones, Gordon Parks, Les Williams, Beryl Swanson, Neil Webb, Doug. Primacombe, Jim Panter, Jim Fisk, Rowe Boake manager.

Bill Sutherland umpired while Brent Macnab called them at the bases.

Chatsworth Chatter

Rain showers fell over most of the district almost every day during the past week, halting haying and harvesting operations. This immediate locality had a fairly heavy rain on Tuesday and on Thursday yards and gardens were really wet for the first time this summer.

The roads were not improved by the last week's rain. The Indian Lake road has been gravelled and is now quite passable even after heavy showers. The Ottawa road (past Steve Jacula's the former Herb Eckford farm west to Branham's and north to the church) has also been gravelled this summer.

Harvesting is well begun hereabouts, and there are some nice looking crops already in the stook, one of these being the field of wheat on 25, belonging to Steve Jacula.

Robert Fowler, who has spent the summer months at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. Good, left on Saturday the 14th for his home at Edson.

Our congratulations to the Misses Jean Malek and Alberta Hutchinson, who received the results of their departmental exams last week and were successful in passing into Gr. X.

School holidays will soon be over—how quickly the summer has passed!

It is reported that Mrs. Klashinsky is to teach at the Ottawa school again this year, while Chatsworth is to have Miss Fulton of Minburn, as teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cameron and family are visiting Frank's folks in the Indian Lake district this week. They come from New Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Good were visitors to Edmonton from Sunday to Thursday of last week.

An enthusiastic crowd gathered at the Poplar Heights ball grounds last Sunday afternoon, to watch the younger folks play a practise game. The team from St. Andrews was expected to play that day but failed to arrive.

There is to be an A.F.U. meeting at the Chatsworth school this Friday evening Aug. 20th.

Little Miss June Klashinsky of town is visiting at her aunt's Mrs Pat McCann's this week.

Miss Barbara Howie, daughter of Mr and Mrs Frank Howie, of Calgary, has been spending her holidays at Mrs. Glen Hutchinson's and at Mr and Mrs. Morton Tovell's.

Mrs. Myrtle East, of Edmonton, who was a recent visitor at Mr. and Mrs Ed East's, returned to her home in the city last week.

The next service at Ottawa United church is to be held on Sunday, Aug 29th at 11 a.m. when Mr Leonard Musto the student from the South Vermilion field, will be in charge of the service. Mr. Gough takes Mr Musto's [illegible].

An Unjust Subsidy
For two years prairie farmers have been obligated to subsidize all the people of Canada with cheap bread and flour, losing over $1.00 a bushel on approximately 70 million bushels each year. Farmers, we suggest, should protest to their Members of Parliament against the continuance of this unjust subsidy.

IMPROVE BARB WIRE QUALITY

The Canadian Federation of Agriculture reports that barbed wire to be put on the market in the next few days will have a greater tensile strength by 78% than the wartime grade.

This will be good news to farmers and ranchers who have been complaining bitterly about the wire presently being sold. As a result of these complaints the Alberta Federation of Agriculture, through its national office, urged that the manufacturers of wire return to pre-war standards even if it meant a reduction in volume as the wartime wire was so very unsatisfactory.

Early in the war years the Wartime Prices and Trade Board ordered a lighter weight wire to be manufactured in order to save steel for other purposes. This Order has been rescinded for some time but as steel remained in short supply the manufacturers did not return to pre-war standards.

"LOCAL BEAT"

By C. GOUGH

I sat one afternoon in the office of a business man who had been a soldier in the first world war, and whose son paid the supreme sacrifice in the second great conflict. As we talked about the sacrifices that had willingly been made in the name of freedom and peace he said to me from a heart that knew — "Since human nature has not changed some experiences in life are too costly".

Experience is often a most admirable school, but its fees are at times exceedingly high. We pay dearly for what we learn, and not seldom we might have had the same lesson at little or no cost—if only we had been wise enough to listen to others who had passed the same way before.

The history of man has been a succession of wars. Through the black forest of the past we can trace man, wounded falling; dying, by his wars, just as one traces an animal that has been wounded to its den, by the drops of blood on the snow. Still it is doubtful if man has learned anything beneficial from the errors of his predecessors.

Every man now as in the past, is born, grows up, falls in love and marries, he has children and tends them; he labors on their behalf and in his personal search for satisfactions. His marriage problems are as old as man, and his various answers to the question of what constitutes the good life change not from generation to generation. He covets fame, as his father did, the while he knows in his heart of hearts that soon he will be as unremembered on earth as though he had never lived. All his jokes, and especially the good ones, were jokes when Adam was a boy. Yes, the man of today has not changed from the man of a hundred or five hundred years ago. Until we accept this fact and come to realize that if the refusal to apply the principles of Christianity sent our forefathers into war, it will most likely send us there too, then the world is blindly refusing to learn by experience.

That man is less than wise who insists upon finding out everything for himself, and refuses to avail himself of the dearly bought experience of his fellows. He is not a wise man who steadily refuses to heed the signs of danger ahead. It is a poor plan to insist on seeing for ourselves just how poisonous hydro-cyanic gas may be if inhaled. Experience in many things may cost too dearly.

One way of keeping a large wedge of cheese is to wrap it in a cloth wrung out of diluted vinegar and store it in a cool place.

What To Do For FAINTING

FAINTING is a condition due to sudden failure of the action of the heart, which may be caused by hemorrhage or by fatigue, want of food, or a close or crowded room, or by fright, dread, sudden bad news, or by the sudden relief from fear or anxiety after prolonged suspense.

The signs are: The patient turns giddy and falls; the face is pale; the pulse is rapid and weak or almost imperceptible; the breathing is quick, sighing and irregular, and the skin becomes cold and clammy.

TREATMENT:—
1. Undo all clothing about the neck, chest and waist.
2. Ensure an abundance of fresh air: open windows and doors, keep back a crowd, remove from harmful gases or impure atmosphere.
3. Sprinkle the face with hot and cold water alternately, and apply warmth to the pit of the stomach and over the heart; vigorous friction of the limbs upwards has a stimulating effect. Smelling salts may be held to the nose.
4. If bleeding has been the cause of the condition guard against its recurrence. The wound will not bleed to any marked extent while the action of the heart is feeble. The wound must be carefully watched to be sure that bleeding does not recur when the patient begins to regain consciousness and the heart's action improves, or, if there is no wound look for signs of hemorrhage from an internal organ.
5. If want of nourishment has been the cause of the condition give food sparingly at first.
6. Give no food or fluids whatever by the mouth while the patient is insensible.

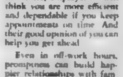
EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS
by



Do you feel that being prompt requires too much effort? If so, you are overlooking the fact that promptness pays worthwhile dividends in terms of success and popularity.

All the people with whom you may have relationships in your job — co-workers, customers, employer — will think you are more efficient and dependable if you keep appointments on time. And their good opinion of you can help you get ahead.

Even in off-work hours, promptness can build happier relationships with family and friends. For when you are on time it shows that you are considerate of other people and that you value their time.

How can you become prompt? It's easy! All you have to do is to say to yourself: From now on I'm going to be on time all the time with everybody!

Why not resolve today that you will see how much good will you can build in this simple way?

Life Insurance Companies are justly proud of their record in making prompt payments to beneficiaries and policyholders. It may surprise you to know that such payments in Canada approximate a half million dollars every day.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Pierman who have a new baby girl at the hospital, also to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Payne on the birth of a daughter Wednesday last week.

The School children are the latest victims of chicken pox.

Sorry to learn that Marion McGinnis is in Edmonton for medical treatment, being sent there by Dr. Stephens.

Dennis Maggs was a recent patient in the hospital having his tonsils out.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones visited Saturday at the Knutson home.

Thirteen ladies attended the August meeting of the Busy Bees. A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. Dixon. A box of cigarettes is to be sent to Ken Kay in the soldiers' wing of the hospital at Edmonton. The ladies decided to have a supper at the Brunswick hotel on Aug. 20th, the club to pay for same. They will also attend the theatre which cost the ladies will meet themselves, unless they have some friends. (eh, Mrs. Carroll?) Tea money amounted to $1.10 and Mrs. Jones kindly donated $1 to our club. Mrs. Carroll extended a vote of thanks to the hostess and Mrs. Moens for the grand afternoon and lovely lunch.

The B.B. club will hold their next meeting at the home of Mrs. F. Robinson, lunch to be served by Mrs. Hardie and Mrs. M. Robinson.

Mr. Gow motored to Calgary to bring Mrs. Gow home. It is pleasing to learn that the latter's mother Mrs. Gagnon is doing nicely after her operation.

Noticed Around: Mrs. Morrison on her way to Edmonton to see her new grandchild; Miss Patsy McGinnis also a city visitor; Charlie Pierman with a nice new truck; A bold coyote fighting with Mr. DeDelly's dog close to the house; The writer visiting with Mrs. McClellan Saturday afternoon; The Repp family and Miss Earle supper guests Sunday at the Robinson home.

Funeral of Mrs. Hattie Hadley

The funeral of the late Hattie ?mora Hadley was held at 2 p.m. Wednesday, Aug. 11th from the First United church, Vermilion. The services were conducted by Rev. McLeod of Mannville, the Britannia Rebekah Lodge, Vermilion and Fern Rebekah Lodge, Minburn. Rev. McLeod spoke in a very comforting way and the Rebekah service at the graveside was most impressive.

The hymns sung were the ones she had chosen nine years before to be sung at the funeral of her late husband and were "Abide With Me" and "Safe in the Arms of Jesus". Mr. Elford presided at the organ.

The pall-bearers were James Cameron, James Powell, Basil Hawley, W. D. Williams, Clifford Hawley and John Maxwell. The first four were also her husband's pall bearers.

Mrs. Hadley had been in failing health since returning from a trip east four years ago and learned on her return of the loss in Italy of her eldest grandchild George Davis. She never fully recovered from that blow and gradually failed until in January 1947 she suffered a slight stroke. She improved somewhat and was able to be up and around her room until three months ago when she went to the hospital where she passed peacefully away early Monday morning Aug. 9th, a month before her 79th birthday.

She leaves to mourn her loss one daughter Mrs. T. H. Davis, two grand children Louise and Donald, and one great granddaughter Marva Davis.

The deceased was born in Danville, Que. At the age of 17 she went to Concord, N.H. where she was nursing in a hospital for the insane. When she was 22 she married Everett Ladd Hadley. They lived in Laconia, N.H. until coming west in 1910 to homestead in the Turkey Hill district, later living in Vermilion. In 1920 she moved to Vancouver where she lived for 12 years, then to Lethbridge for five years, returning to Vermilion in 1937 and residing in the Imperial block until her death.

She was the youngest of a family of eleven children all of whom predeceased her.

Mrs. Hadley had been a member of the Rebekah Lodge for 57 years and was one of five members in all of Canada to have a 57 year jewel. This jewel was presented to her by the Grandview Lodge, Vancouver, two years ago through the Britannia Lodge of Vermilion. This was the first 55 year jewel ever to go through the B.C. Assembly of the Rebekah Lodge.

Beautiful floral tributes were received from:

Daughter Marion and family, Mrs. Norman McLellan, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McEachern, Mr. and Mrs. Oakley and family, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. P. Air Lines to Fly Pacific

—C P A TO FLY PACIFIC —Canadian Pacific Air Lines has been granted permission for regular passenger and cargo flights on the two trans-Pacific routes shown in the above map, adding a total of 14,400 route miles to Canada's international air services. Now on order for the routes are pressurized 4-engined Canadair planes with a capacity of 40 passengers and three tons of cargo, mail or express. They will be manned by experienced trans-ocean C.P.A. pilots — Canadian Pacific inaugurated wartime trans-Atlantic bomber delivery flights in 1940 and many of its pilots later flew [illegible] with the Ferry Command and have since returned to the company. Operational and servicing headquarters will be at Vancouver with the C.P.A.'s domestic overhaul work now being carried out there being transferred to Edmonton. Canadian Pacific, experienced in trans-Pacific travel since 1886, already has an extensive traffic organization in the countries the new flights will serve which places it in a position to start operations with a minimum of delay and with no material expenditure of Canadian dollars abroad. Regular flights will probably start by next summer. It is felt that an early start is essential if the Dominion's position in the field of Oriental trade, as well as international air transport, is to be developed and maintained. From Vancouver to Sydney, by way of Honolulu, Canton Island and Fiji is [illegible] miles, and the Great Circle route Vancouver - Kodiak - Shemya Island - Tokyo - Shanghai - Hong Kong is [illegible] miles. New Zealand will be served with a branch service joining the through Vancouver-Sydney route at Fiji.

If the public continues to buy its current quantity of milk and ice cream, there will be less cheese and butter made in Canada this year.

The Children's Emergency Fund Organization which has been established by the United Nations has agreed to allocate $750,000 to India for promoting health measures among mothers and children, particularly refugees. It is also expected that further substantial financial help may be forthcoming for the development of vaccination and anti-tuberculosis work in India.

REFRIGERATOR WASTE . . .

The saying that an electric refrigerator pays for itself in no time is all too true in most cases. However there are many ways that food dollars are lost in both electric and ice refrigerators. Foods high in Vitamin C as orange juice, tomatoes, etc. lose it on contact with the air and should be covered. If too tightly covered they putrify. Watch that the money you save in good buying is not lost in this expensive waste. Store and check carefully.

WOODVALE

Now let us see if we can unscramble some of our news-notes! They are rather old, having gone fishing for a few days north of Lindbergh we have not been able to gather much news — the fish were not biting much either but we brought some home of fair size, the largest being 29 inches long with quite a girth!

All the way home we met showers and found mud puddles on the road until we came west of Clarence Lewis where the roads were once again dry. However, later in the week some of the showers fell in these parts too. Some farmers claim they have had enough moisture now, while others still would like to see a good rain for filling and the growing of greenfeed.

Mr Hills conducted a summer school and on Friday it was closed with the annual Sunday school picnic.

The U.F.A. held a meeting on the 9th to settle their coal accounts and had quite a discussion on how to play baseball besides!

The ladies of the Red Cross met at Mrs. Gordon Portsmith's. Jack Lysons came with a real car full: six ladies and a baby. Ten members worked on and finished the quilt. The next meeting will be held on Oct. 13 at Ruby Thomson's. We'll remind you of it later on or tell about a possible change in date if harvest is not as early as expected at present. There did not seem to be enough wool to send away for blankets, so maybe members could ship them with the Wildmere W.I. as mentioned in the Winks last week.

Last month Mable Lysons and Florent Van Wagoningen attended the Y.S.A. reunion for the full three days while Ruby Thomson and Walter Lysons attended the 2nd day and the dance. Doris Thomson has been working at the Y.S.A. through the summer sessions there.

Bill McGrath, one of the Kitscoty air cadets who flew to Patricia Bay got a send off from his family, friends and relatives. The one most excited about the trip was little sister Eleanor and everyone else enjoyed seeing the big planes arrive and leave from the Vermilion air field.

Mrs Edith Lettinger and son Jimmy of Edmonton, formerly of Vermilion, spent ten days on the Van Wagoningen farm and was kind enough to cook for the boys while we were away fishing.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs Clifford Oldenburg on the birth of a son; also to Mr and Mrs. Hugh Pierman and to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierman, the latter to whom a daughter was born.

Britain Is World's Biggest Car Exporter

United Kingdom automobile manufacturers last June exported more than 20,000 units, only 1,000 less than the combined car shipments of the U.S.A., Canada and France in the previous month, the latest period for which comparable figures are available. Exports of commercial vehicles in the same month numbered nearly 6,000 units, less than 50 short of the all-time record of April last. The value of overseas sales of United Kingdom agricultural tractors and parts in the same month exceeded $[illegible]. More than $272,000,000 worth of motor vehicles, cars, commercial vehicles and agricultural tractors and their parts and accessories left Britain for overseas in the first six months of this year.

MORRISON NEWS

Our district has been lively this past few weeks with afternoon teas and visitors coming and going.

Sorry to report that Mr Gillies is not so well and was taken to hospital for a few treatments.

The Colton family were guests at the Gillies' home a week ago Sunday. Mrs Tillie Gould and family are visiting at her father's home.

Mr Dupruit is busy building a new kitchen and bathroom. Albert believes in bathing for beauty.

Vacation Bible School At Ganton

The boys and girls of the Tolland district gathered in Ganton school each week day morning from Aug. 3 to 12, as Mr. Hills, student minister, conducted Vacation Bible school for them. The children seemed to enjoy above all the 'Flannelgraph' lessons which Mr. Hills presented daily. The children colored pictures each day representing some part of the 23rd Psalm memorizing the Scripture verses as they did so. Faithful attendance was rewarded by a year's subscription to the Junior Notes of Scripture Union.

Missionary slides of the Presbyterian work in India are to be shown on Aug. 24th and 25th at Ganton and Watson schools respectively. These slides were prepared by Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Meehan, missionaries to India and will prove interesting and informative to all who attend their showing.

RETURNS FROM ENJOYABLE TRIP

Mrs. Thos. Bothwell of Islay returned home last Wednesday evening from a six weeks' holiday spent at Edmonton, Victoria and Nakusp, B.C. The first few days of the holiday were spent in Edmonton the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Maire. Calls were made on Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. D. Houston, Misses Lily and Lizzie Gilchrist and Mrs. H. Stone and Mr. and Mrs. A. Beecroft. On arriving in Vancouver Mrs. Bothwell was met at the train by Mrs. Jas. Lane and was a guest at their home, but some time was spent with Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Jamieson, former Islay district residents of the early days who live but a block from the Lane's. Both families were anxious to show Mrs. Bothwell all the points of interest and many enjoyable motor trips were taken. Mrs. Bothwell visited her niece Mrs. Duncan Miller (nee Edith Bothwell of Mannville) at her beautiful home in West Vancouver and here she met Mrs. Harry Hamilton of Mannville who was visiting her sister at the coast. Mrs. Bothwell and Mrs. Jamieson made the trip over to Victoria together and were met when the boat docked by Mr. and Mrs. Bill Barnes, were taken to their home and were treated to a sight-seeing tour of the city. An evening was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morrison, old timers of Islay and a wonderful time enjoyed recalling past days in Islay. A good many miles were travelled in Victoria and many points of interest visited.

Starting back towards home Mrs. Bothwell spent over three weeks visiting her daughter Mrs. Sidney Millward, Mr. Millward and son Donald at Nakusp, B.C., located on the Upper Arrow Lakes. The Millwards have a lovely fully modern home in a beautiful setting, are surrounded by kind and generous neighbors and have many friends in this B.C. town. The cherries, raspberries, strawberries, currants were there in abundance and presented a pretty sight. Trees were loaded with apples, pears and grapes. Sid has developed into quite a gardener and his tomatoes were the envy of the neighbors, excelling everything else in size and yield. After nearly a month there Mrs. Bothwell returned by way of Robson West and Nelson. Mr. and Mrs. Millward and Donald accompanied her as far as Nelson, this part of the journey constituting a holiday boat trip.

Is Steam Heat Plant Slated for Discard?

MEETING OF STEAM USERS DISCUSS PROSPECTS

Possibility of the steam heating plant and system operated by the town as a municipal utility since 192? going into the discard was discussed at a meeting of steam users held on Monday evening of last week.

A committee of the town council, Messrs. L. S. Dawson and Thos. Stack, had been appointed to inquire into the various matters pertaining to steam heat and this they had done very carefully. A meeting of the steam-users was called and the facts placed before them.

According to advice received the feasibility of operating the plant to supply live steam was very much in doubt as this meant the full cost of the operation of the plant must be met by the sale of steam heat. Hitherto exhaust steam has been used except in severe weather. Furthermore some $3000 is necessary for repairs to the return line in the steam system and apparently a new vacuum pump to ensure the return of the condensation. The steam line will be operated at 15 lbs. pressure.

An obstacle to operating the steam plant at a profit could be the price of gas. However this is now being regulated and confidence is felt that the gas company will co-operate and continue the gas price schedule prevailing when the plant was sold by the town. The 10-year gas franchise is now due for renewal.

The decision reached at the meeting was that the steam system would be put into workable condition and operated by the town this winter with the costs of operation being pro-rated among the steam users.

If it is found that the plant can be operated at a profit and still keep the steam heat rates within reach, the plant may be continued as a town utility. If the whole experiment proves too costly to the steam users, the plant will probably be scrapped and those on the steam line turn to other means of heating.

FINE HARVEST WEATHER

Exceptionally fine harvest weather is prevailing with the result that good progress is being made with all stages of cutting and threshing. It is estimated that 60% of the wheat is cut, 30% of oats, 50% of the barley. About 10% of the threshing is done, mostly by combine to date, but by this week end many separators will be in action.

Estimated yields for this district are wheat 15 bus. per acre, oats 28, barley 20, rye 15, flax 8.

There will be sufficient hay and fodder for a normal winter.

A very good sample of wheat is being threshed, hard and dry with no indication of frost. Farmers claim that the wheat samples are the best for years in this district.

The crops suffered from the early drought but were absolutely free of hail, insect and frost damage.

Extra labor required is being taken care of by the steady arrival of eastern harvesters who have been coming to Vermilion at the rate of about five every day.

Heavy Rains Compel Cancellation of the Apple Caravan

The month-long rains in the mountains, which are causing flood conditions in the valleys, washing out bridges and roads, have caused the cancellation for this fall of the 'Apple Caravan'. The apple caravan was scheduled to leave Vancouver this week, travel over the Yellowhead route, and to reach Vermilion about Sept. 13th or 15th.

This section of the highway was fully organized to really greet the caravan. A meeting was held at George's last week with representatives Geo. K. Ross and Bob Chapman of Lloydminster, A. Mandruk and P. A. Howe of Vegreville, M. Wasyliw of Innisfree and the local delegation of K. G. Urquhart, Melvin Hill, C. Karjoy, E. M. Stewart, Billie Pilkie and Ashley Cooper.

Word of the cancellation was received Wednesday morning this week and naturally caused some disappointment. The Blue River district on the mountainous portion of the route has received 9½ inches of rainfall during the first 26 days of August. Old timers in the mountains have never seen anything like it. If the weather conditions had remained normal everything would have been carried out as planned.

Brown at the family home north of Vermilion. Ken now works at Woodward's store in Vancouver while Lloyd is employed at a pulp factory. They made the trip by car and left on their return journey August 26th.

Recounts Completed; Election Returns Finalized

All recounts have been completed and final election returns show the party standings in the legislature as Social Credit 51, C.C.F. 2, Liberals 2; Independent 1, Independent Social Credit 1.

Final Count in Vermilion Constituency

Final results in the Vermilion constituency gave Cornish, Social Credit 1909 votes; Chorney, Liberal 1179, Hay, C.C.F. 1158.

In the second count Hay's votes were divided as to the second choices expressed with 107 going to Cornish and 144 to Chorney, the remainder being plumpers.

According to the Canadian Press compilation Social Credit increased its popular votes percentage from 51.9 of 1944 to 56%. Contrary to expectations the C.C.F. vote declined sharply from 24.9% in 1944 when 70,307 were polled to 19.5% or 49,155 at this election.

August 4th Sports Day Proves Losing Proposition

DEFICIT OF $88.76 — SPORTS MAY 24th AS USUAL IN 1949

The August 4th sports day cost the Vermilion amateur athletic association the sum of $88.76 according to the financial statement presented to the executive at a meeting on Monday evening.

The expenses for the day amounted to $750.64 with receipts being $661.88. On the credit side the gate was just about half that of a normal 24th of May sports being $375.75, the dance netted $89.86 and is frequently over the $200 mark. Fortunately for the first time in years the Association operated their own booths and a neat profit of $196.23 accrued from this. If it hadn't been for the profit from the booths the venture would have been disastrous indeed from a financial viewpoint, although the actual day itself was very enjoyable.

Chief expenses incurred were ball prizes $420, $60 for umpires, $15 for racing prizes, $56 for advertising posters with preparation of the ground and supplies accounting for the remainder of the expense account.

Present at the executive meeting were president Reg Mitchell, secretary Jim Part, Bill Sutherland, Russell Carroll, Ross Boake, Ken Urquhart, Tom Stack and Ashley Cooper.

As a result of considerable discussion the following recommendations were made for the consideration of the annual meeting which is held in the spring:

That the Sports be held on May 24th as formerly;

That operation of the refreshment booth by the Association be continued;

That the Golf club be asked to make a payment on the $250 loan as the V.A.A.A. is in urgent need of funds for development of the new athletic park.

That the rural baseball league be continued next summer;

That the swimming pool club be continued along the same lines as this year.

PLAN CANVASS THIS FALL

Considerable discussion took place regarding to holding of the annual drive for funds to carry on athletic activities in Vermilion, this fall instead of in the spring. Arguments favoring this were that ordinarily there are a very large number of canvasses in the spring of the year. The donations to athletics in Vermilion dropped sharply in 1948 despite the fact that the Association is more active than it has ever been.

Support Many Athletic Activities

During the past year the Athletic Association has organized or supported much worthwhile activity, a few of these projects occurring to the writer's mind at the moment are reorganization of the Pee-Wee hockey league last winter, organization of the three-team hockey league, sponsored the rural one-day hockey tournament, operated the three-team baseball league this summer, organized the swimming pool club and engaged a swimming instructor and pool supervisor besides effecting many worthwhile improvements at the pool, loaned the golf club $250 in order to help make the course playable and enable it to carry on until it becomes self-supporting.

To support all this people of the town are asked to contribute once a year and this donation should be a large one. In neighboring towns separate canvasses are made by all the various organizations. Business men are called on for donations to sport a half dozen or more times a year. Having one central organization does away with wholesale canvassing and means much stricter supervision of funds with more actual use made of the amounts collected. When asked to make your donation to sport in Vermilion make your contribution a big one and don't take too much time in making it; the men doing the canvassing are just as busy as you are.

Board of Trade Luncheon Meetings Commence Wednesday

EVERY CITIZEN INVITED

The regular weekly luncheon meetings and business sessions of the Vermilion Board of Trade will be resumed on Wednesday, Sept. 8, commencing at 12 to noon sharp. This is the opening meeting following the regular summer recess.

An invitation is extended to every citizen to attend these luncheon get-togethers. They serve a many-fold purpose: the luncheon promotes sociability and fosters a good neighbor policy; to really know your fellow business men usually means to like them; parties, cliques and suspicion due to unfamiliarity and detrimental to any community are thus eliminated. No progress can be made in any community divided in itself. The business sessions are round table discussions based on the sole purpose of being of service to the community, of promoting the welfare, development and advancement of our Vermilion and district. Problems are brought up, discussed, and the majority opinion on the matter rules. A continuous promotional campaign is carried on to obtain interest in the town by outside industries and business. It is work in which every man in Vermilion and district could well interest himself and take part.

Mannville Drops 9-1 Game To Olds

Olds Millers, southern champs in intermediate Ladies Fastball, Sunday defeated Mannville Bluebirds 9-1 to take a one-game lead in the best-of-three provincial finals.

An exhibition tussle following the play-off tilt saw the visitors edge the Bluebirds 10-9 by making good a 9-7 deficit in the last frame. The Bluebirds are northern Alberta champions by virtue of their victory over Edmonton S.S. Athletics.

Bluebird manager Williams indicated he would probably file a protest on the delivery of Olds Hurler Marg Olson, said to be illegal. The series will continue on Sept. 5th with a two-game fixture at Olds.

STEAM HEAT—

A few facts on the steam heating system might be of interest to newcomers to Vermilion. The system was installed in 1935 as an additional means of revenue to the town, engineers having given assurance that such a system, operating on the waste or exhaust steam from the power plant, could be operated at very little expense so that practically all of the receipts could be regarded as profit. Engineers at that time too stated that it was deemed that extensions to the lines as planned would not be good policy, but that all places within the extremities of the lines could be handled.

The rates charged for the first ten years were high, designed to take care of all the debenture indebtedness incurred by the installation of the system as well as revenue for the town. This was done so that original installation of the steam system was entirely at the expense of the steam users. When the debentures were all retired at the end of 1937 the rates were set on a new basis, the flat rate was discarded and a charge of so much per square foot of radiation was made. This was 30c for a few years subsequently raised to 35c per square foot.

To those who claim without any basis that the steam system has always lost money, it is interesting to note that receipts from the steam have been above $4,000 at least since 1937. In 1937 for instance steam receipts were $4229. The entire coal bill in that year was $11,901.49. Electrical current sold was $27,196.52. Now if the steam was losing money in 1937 it is logical to assume that the entire output of electrical energy, amounting in value to $27,196.52, was generated at a fuel cost of $5671. 1946 steam receipts even under the lower rates were $6467.78, the fuel bill now gas was $12,272.11 but the current sold amounted to $46,400. To be logical if the steam system was losing money then the $46,400 worth of electrical current was generated by less than $6000 worth of fuel. The cost of thus generating electrical current would have been reduced to a new low point, on the basis of fuel consumed!

A perusal of financial statements reveals little spent on repairs for the steam system, some return line has been renewed from time to time, hit and miss. There apparently have been 3 extensions made to the original line, and a drain excavated.

According to all of the figures at anyone's command the steam heating system, operated chiefly on exhaust steam, was a paying proposition what the story will be when steam is generated solely for heating purposes with long lines of communication to heat and maintain we will be better able to tell this time next year.

Workman uses file in effort to free Miss Fowler whose hand was caught by the grinder while at work. Dr Lawson, back to camera, gave the anaesthetic. Miss Fowler was accompanied to steel plant from Toronto hospital by Dr J. W. Dales who holds her arm. She received numerous fractures to her hand and the ends of three fingers were cut off. Doctors report that Miss Fowler is in "good" condition.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

ANOTHER CHANCE

By R. R. CLARKE

NINETEEN-YEAR-OLD Chuck Brewster gloomily watched his beloved grandmother, Widow Brewster, as she weeded the petunias beside the white picket fence that enclosed her gay little yard. She was an energetic little lady for all her gray hair and her years, and her flowers were her hobby.

"You see, Sabra," said Chuck disconsolately, "Ronny's grandfather's going to take the car away from him, and Ronny wasn't to blame at all. I was driving!"

"Oh Chuck," she exclaimed, "Whatever got into you? You never speed!" She paused and tried to look sternly at him. It wasn't a success because her face was never built for sternness.

"I know," he answered forlornly. "It was all because I was late for the Scout meeting. Mother had our [illegible] his. I was speeding a bit but—well, gosh! Just the fender was smashed and of course I'll pay to have that fixed. If only the old buzzard would give us another chance, or at least give Ronny one. But no! He says he believes in discipline and he holds Ronny responsible. I feel like a perfect heel! Golly, Ronny's my best pal!"

"Another chance!" His grandmother's shining dark eyes regarded him thoughtfully. "That's it," she said slowly. "I'll never forget. Another chance!" She dropped her little trowel and straightened up. "Chuck," she announced with determination, "I've never set eyes on him, but I'm going to talk to that old gent. Ronny isn't to blame at all. It just isn't fair. When can I get a bus for Waterdale?"

A few hours later Mrs. Brewster faced the handsome gray-haired grandfather of Chuck's pal, Ronny, in his stately home in the little adjacent town of Waterdale, where he lived all alone with two servants. But all her pleadings for Ronny and Chuck seemed to leave him cold. He was courteous but determined. "The old — the old curmudgeon!" thought Mrs. Brewster, "He's as stubborn as —as I am!"

"Listen here," she said desperately, "I want to tell you something—something I've never told to a living soul before. When I was about eleven years old . . ." she hesitated and caught her breath. "When I was about eleven years old," she began again bravely, "I stole a diamond pin from a classmate. It was a little ship. The portholes were tiny diamonds and the whole affair fascinated me beyond endurance. And I stole it, right out of his muffler!" Her voice shook with emotion. "Hiram was his name—I remember so well. And do you know what he did when, of course, I was caught wearing it? He lied—he lied to protect me! He said he'd given it to me!" Shame and pride wrestled for mastery in Mrs. Brewster's face.

Then she looked the old man firmly in the eyes. "I never forgot it," she went on, "and all my life I've tried to give everybody another chance at everything—in honor of that old schoolmate whom I never could repay for the second chance he gave me. Also — I never stole again!"

Mrs. Brewster's eyes shone and her face was a beautiful pink. "Didn't anyone ever do you a big service—one that you could never repay?" she demanded. "If ever they did, don't you see that here's a chance to pass it on—and be generous to someone else?"

She paused and looked hopefully at the old gentleman. "Oh," she thought with alarm, "whatever's the matter with him? He looks stunned. I must have shocked him dreadfully! I hope he doesn't think now that Chuck came from a family of thieves. It would be just like [illegible]!"

But the old gentleman recovered himself quickly. "All right," he said smiling as though it didn't really matter much after all, "I'll forgive Ronny and Chuck. I won't take the car away from Ronny. Is that what you want?" He looked at her so searchingly that Mrs. Brewster thought the man must be off his head, even though it was such a handsome old head. However, she smiled and thanked him warmly, as she edged rather hastily but triumphantly toward the door.

Mrs. Brewster's brain was still harping on the diamond pin the next morning as she stood by the gate, cutting roses for the big blue bowl. Somehow the old episode seemed inexplicably vivid in her mind.

"It just goes to show," she said to herself, "that there's no end to a good deed. It goes on and on making ripples in life, like a stone thrown into a pool."

Her lofty thoughts, however, were interrupted rudely as a big sedan came tearing down the street at what appeared to Mrs. Brewster to be an excessive rate of speed. She stepped back, as her gate was near the street and the car gave the impression that it might careen off the pavement. But no—it whirled to a dramatic stop in front of her own gate. To her surprise, Ronny's grandfather disembarked! He wore [illegible] hat and his silver [illegible] in the morning sun. "The [illegible] insane," she thought, as he stopped outside the gate and looked at her with a quizzical smile.

"Hello, Sabra," he grinned at her.

Mrs. Brewster stared. She stared again and slowly she began to tremble unaccountably. "Oh!" she [illegible], "Oh, my aching back! You're—you're Hiram!"

The handsome old gentleman made her a deep bow.

"That I am," he replied chuckling, "that I am, and I've come, Sabra, to ask you to give me another chance. You said yourself that one good turn deserved another — you can't refuse!"

Mrs. Brewster turned in a daze as Chuck drove slowly and sedately up to the gate. "Well—I'll be!" she exclaimed almost hysterically. "I'll surely be—if life don't beat all!"

Then she turned to Hiram with both hands outstretched. "Oh Hiram, come in," she cried, "come in."

HONORING THOSE WHO MADE THE SUPREME SACRIFICE

Many communities across the prairies hold memorial services in memory of gallant young men and women who made the supreme sacrifice that we may enjoy the freedom that is ours in Canada today. These communities are to be commended for their spirit and effort in holding these services annually. The above scene was where several hundred people joined with the Craik branch of the Canadian Legion holding a memorial service at Craik, Sask. The service was preceded by a parade of ex-servicemen and several organizations led by the Moose Jaw Legion band. The cenotaph was banked to overflowing with beautiful wreaths placed by the different organizations of the district.

The cenotaph, erected after World War I, is located at an intersection on the main street, and names of men of Craik and district of both wars are inscribed. At night it is illuminated by lights on each corner of the decorative fence that surround the memorial, and makes a very impressive scene from the platform of the station at the head of the street.

COLLECTION OF TOTEM POLES IS FOR SALE

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C.—A valuable collection of slate totem poles in the museum of Northern British Columbia here is to be sold by the owner, 82-year-old George Cunningham.

The exquisitely carved figures have been on loan to the museum for many years. Announcement that they would be sold, probably to the highest bidder, surprised museum officials.

There are 30 pieces in the collection which Mr. Cunningham started gathering in the Queen Charlotte Islands 60 years ago. He had previously rejected several offers, preferring to have the figures exhibited in Prince Rupert.

"I promised the two native artists that I would never commercialize on it," he said in an interview. "But they are dead now so I think the promise has been fulfilled. I could use the money, too."

Art Now Extinct

The pieces are fine examples of an art that once flourished in the Queen Charlottes and now is virtually extinct.

"The Haida Indians used to spend their winters carving nephritic slate into totem poles and other figures," he said. "There are some fine artists among them, but two were outstanding.

"These were Chief Charlie Edenshaw of Massett who died in 1919 and Lo Chapman, a lame slave boy captured by the Haidas from a tribe around Bella Bella.

"At times at our store at Port Essington we had literally tons of nephritic poles which we had taken in trade. I kept only the best. I have always considered it interesting that the finest work came from a high chief and a humble slave boy.

"The chief held himself above recognizing the poor slave lad and was never known to speak to him. Great as their kinship as artists should have been, it was not great enough to overcome the Haida chief's pride."

Tourists To B.C. Shows Drop

VANCOUVER. B.C. is the only province in Canada attracting fewer tourists this season than last year.

From the Atlantic to the foothills of the Rockies tourist travel in Canada is reaching an all time high. But in B.C. tourist officials report a 17 per cent. drop from 1947 figures.

They blame floods which devastated the province early in June.

Prairie Oil Production Up Over 1947

CALGARY. — Alberta-Saskatchewan oil production climbed to new high of almost 40,000 barrels daily in the week ended Aug. 9. Indicated daily average was 39,873 barrels, or more than 2,300 barrels higher than former peak of previous two weeks. This is 7,100 barrels higher than officially recorded yield for June.

Leduc-Woodbend for first time in its 18-month history passed the 20,000-barrel level. Conservation board reports deliveries of 20,964 barrels daily including 9,101 barrels from Wild Atlantic well and 11,863 barrels from 100 other wells operating at restricted rates. Turner Valley oil ran 10,796 barrels plus an additional [illegible] barrels of natural gasoline.

Lloydminster Up

Lloydminster production was estimated at 2,184 barrels daily from Alberta wells and 2,753 barrels from Saskatchewan. Smaller Alberta pools were estimated at 2,162 barrels daily.

Prairies rolled up an oil production gain of 1,444,054 barrels with the six month total at 4,843,962 barrels, Alberta produced 4,469,897 barrels, Saskatchewan 374,065 barrels. With continued growth expected the final half-year production should exceed six million barrels and the 1948 total over 11 million barrels for a new record compared to 7,344,173 barrels for 1947.

Advice For Canada's Fire Prevention Week

OTTAWA.—Fire Prevention Week will be October 3-9, the Government has announced.

A proclamation in the Canada Gazette recommends these measures:

1. Inspection of all buildings and removal of conditions likely to spread fire.
2. Inspection of theatres, hospitals and other institutional buildings with a view to making changes necessary to protect occupants in case of fire.
3. Fire drills for all school children, inmates of institutions and factory employees.
4. Special instruction on fire prevention in schools by teachers and municipal officials.
5. Campaigns by all governments to emphasize the national importance of protecting life and property from fire loss.

1950 Games Awarded To N.Z.

LONDON.—The 1950 British Empire games were awarded to New Zealand.

The committee to decide the venue of the commonwealth sports meet voted down Canada's bid, 12-2, to hold the games at Toronto.

Bermuda was Canada's only supporter.

Prof. Nelson Hart of London, Ont., general manager of the Canadian Olympic team, represented Canada at the meeting.

He detailed the Toronto offer with a $80,000 guarantee but the committee thought it preferable the games go to the southern hemisphere.

After the meeting Prof. Hart said: "The delegates wanted to spread the games around. We had it before—in 1930 at Hamilton, Ont. — and this will be New Zealand's first time."

The games will be held in January, 1950.

Thirty-two Years Ago Today

Aug. 28th, 1916

The North Mail and Stage for Elk Point left town Tuesday by automobile. This establishes a record in mail delivery to outlying rural post offices. H. A. Monkman is the progressive and courteous mail man on the route.

The last of the departmental exam results have finally been issued, namely those of Grade 9. There seems to have been a wholesale slaughter of Vermilion students, only 4 passing of the 10 who wrote, viz: Cooper, Vernon H.; Edwards Cecil Allan; Ryan, Janet Esther; Stockwell, Alex.

The Standard is issuing this week from the new building on Main street east. The entire plant was transported without a mishap or a single case of "pi".

George Field, a young farmer northeast of Vermilion established a record when he shipped a carload of wheat which netted him $1.41 per bushel. The car contained 1016 bushels and graded No. 1. It sold in store at Port Arthur for $1.50¾ per bushel.

Sixteen Years Ago Today

Sept. 1st, 1932

Art Wiebe signed a professional hockey contract and will play with Chicago Black Hawks this coming season. Art received all of his training with the exception of last winter right in Vermilion. Last winter he was with the Edmonton Poolers.

Perfect harvest weather prevails and wheat cutting is completed with oats well under way. Grain is in perfect condition.

Clandonald football team turned in two victories, defeating Lloydminster 3-0 and Islay 5-0.

Schools re-opened for the fall term today (Sept. 1st) with only one change in the teaching staff. Miss Lipsey resuming her position after a year's leave of absence, in place of Miss Maxwell resigned.

GAME BIRD SHOOTING SEASON OPENS SEPT. 25th

VIOLATION OF RULES AND REGULATIONS PUNISHABLE BY HEAVY FINE

The Minister of Mines and Resources (Ottawa) has just issued the Regulations regarding migratory birds for the current year.

A summary of the Regulations as they apply to the Edmonton district, which includes this area, follows:

OPEN SEASONS

Wilson's Snipe, Ducks, Geese (other than Ross's Goose), Rails, Coots — Sept. 25th to November 13th (both dates inclusive).

There is a closed season throughout the year on Eider Ducks, Wood Ducks, Swans, Ross's Goose, Cranes, all above birds except Wilson's Snipe, and all migratory non game and insectiverous birds.

Migratory game birds killed during the open season may be possessed in Alberta at any time, but the onus of proof that birds possessed were lawfully killed shall be on the person having the birds in possession.

BAG LIMITS

In any day: Ducks, 8; Geese, 5; Coots and Rails 10; Wilson's Snipe, 5.

In any open season: Ducks, 80; Geese 15; Rails and Coots, 80; Wilson's Snipe, 50.

No one shall have in his possession at any time more than 16 Ducks, or 10 Geese, or 10 Wilson's Snipe, or 20 Coots and Rails.

GUNS, APPLIANCES AND HUNTING METHODS

FORBIDDEN—The use of an automatic (auto-loading) gun or a pump gun with a magazine that can carry MORE THAN TWO CARTRIDGES, a swivel or machine gun, or battery or rifle, or shotgun loaded with a single bullet, or any gun larger than number 10 gauge, or any weapon other than a gun or a bow and arrow, and the use of live birds as decoys, or of any aeroplane, power-boat, sail-boat, or night-light, and shooting from any motor or wheeled vehicle, or a vehicle to which a draught animal is attached. The hunting of migratory game birds by the use or aid of baiting with grain or other artificial food is prohibited.

The shooting of migratory game birds earlier than one-half hour before sunrise or later than one-half hour after sunset is prohibited.

The hunting, killing or attempting to kill any Geese within one hundred yards of the edge of the waters of the North Saskatchewan, Red Deer, Bow, South Saskatchewan or Oldman Rivers is prohibited.

$300 FINE

The penalty for violation of the migratory bird laws is a fine of not more than $300 and not less than $10, or imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or both fine and imprisonment.

WOODVALE

Wheat cutting has been general since last week and outside of a few late fields should be completed this week. Barley and oats are ripening fast and some will be cut by the time these news items are printed. Frost damaged some gardens and potato plots quite severely and left others untouched. Let's hope the predicted warm spell will last a long time. It felt like snow Thursday night so everyone was surprised to be awakened in the middle of the night by lightning and distant thunder.

Chester Rankin was home for a week earlier in August and helped with the haying. He has since returned first to the Lacombe district and then on to the country south of Calgary. Ruth Rankin with her friend Irene McLeod of Mannville made a trip to B.C. and will be back this week. They visited Vancouver and Victoria going by boat to the latter city and returning to Vancouver by plane.

Mr and Mrs Arnet Brown with the two eldest boys and the twins visited his parents and other relatives at Beaver Crossing over Cold Lake. Little Art is still staying with his grandparents Mr and Mrs Tom Hobbs.

Gordon Trevithick and Jack Mealy were seen driving 70 head of cattle to town once in awhile blocking the traffic on the old Wainwright highway.

This week we have some congratulations for proud parents: A baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gibson of [illegible] and Mr and Mrs. John King of Thorncliff also have a baby girl.

Joy King was home for a two weeks' vacation and has mastered the art of car driving during her stay.

Bees have done well on several farms despite the rather dry summer. Jim Ross took 130 lbs. out of one hive several weeks ago and they are still working hard.

After the showing of lantern slides at Ganton schoolhouse there was a surprise party in honor of Mr. Hills 21st birthday. After a few songs Mrs. Teasdale who was at the piano played "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow" and Mr. Hills then became suspicious that there was a reason for everyone staying on after the show. In appreciation of his work in the community Mrs. Gladys Walters presented Mr Hills with a purse. Afterwards there was coffee and lots and lots of good cake.

After staying for over a year with the Van Wageningen family, Bud Heidebrecht has left for Edmonton where he will live just outside the city limits with his parents Mr and Mrs. Percy McKeen and 3 sisters. Good luck to you Bud and we hope you'll visit us again in the future.

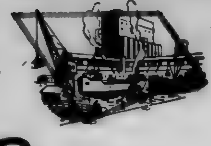
The Gautier girls Marie and Cecille each won an extra prize of $3 for their posters in the Vermilion exhibition, donated by the Northern and the Nelson-Hill hardwares.

Camille Gautier had a narrow escape when his horses ran away while he was on the rack. They went through the fence and galloped down the road. When the lines broke Camille could do nothing more and was flung into the ditch when the pole and neck-yoke broke and the rack upset. He was dazed and scratched but not hurt otherwise. The horses after two miles turned into Mr. Monger's yard where they were caught.

All the Gautier children are returning to their schools in Vegreville and Edmonton except for 6 year old Robert.

Artie Friedland who has been staying with his parents since spring made a two months excursion visit back East to see his wife and daughters and returned last week again to the Woodvale district. We sincerely hope that his health will improve in our western climate.

The Tolland baseball team gave a dance at the Ganton school where a small crowd had a very enjoyable time.



The Best banking system

CANADA has a banking system which, for efficiency and dependability, is unsurpassed in the world. Competitive, flexible, adaptable to the changing needs of the country, it serves Canada's producers, her industries, her traders—and it serves your personal needs, too.

No customer has to fear for the privacy of his regular banking transactions. This privacy is completely free of political pressures or considerations—it is rooted in Canadian banking practice and tradition.

Contrast this Canadian way with conditions in lands where freedom is denied—where every bank is a political tool, every banker a State official! State monopoly of banking, proposed by Socialists here, would fasten the Marxist foreign pattern on you.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS by Don Graham

When we speak of men as being "successful" it is generally assumed that we are referring to large incomes and prominent positions. But, while these are signs of success, they are by no means its only yardsticks.

Actually, I believe any man is successful who uses his energies and talents to the best of his ability. His earnings may be modest. But if he tries to improve himself and his environment, if he is dependable, agreeable and helpful, if he cares for his family and their needs, he is truly important.

Show me a man with these qualities and I will be proud to claim his acquaintance.

The best objective, surely, is to strive for success in the broader sense of helping to make this a better world?

Summer Weddings

WATT—MARTIN

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the rectory of the Holy Name church, Vermilion, on Wednesday August 18th when Miss Tyddi (Teddy) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin became the bride of Willie Woodrow Watt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Watt, all of Vermilion.

Rev. Father MacDonald officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an afternoon dress of white lace over crepe. Her shoulder length veil fell from a net coronet. Her corsage was of red roses and gladioli.

Miss Gladys Martin, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a light blue dress with accessories of white and a corsage of red roses and sweet peas.

Lawrence Watt, cousin of the groom acted as best man.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The mothers of the bride and groom received the guests. Mrs. Martin chose for the occasion a navy crepe dress with accessories of grey. A corsage of white and pink carnations completed her ensemble. Mrs. Watt chose a dress of brown with a hat to match, a corsage of white and red carnations was pinned to her shoulder.

The bride's table, decorated with sweet peas and gladioli was centred with a three tier wedding cake. About eighty guests called during the evening.

The Kitscoty hall was the scene of a wedding dance at night and a very large crowd was in attendance.

Later the young couple left by car to travel to points west on a short honeymoon trip. On their return they will make their home near Kitscoty.

DREDGE—CLARK

The First United church of Vermilion was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday afternoon August 18th when Miss (Patsy) Lilly Ann Clark of Mannville became the bride of Mr. Kenneth Dredge of Edmonton.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Ida Clark and the late Mr. Alex Clark of Mannville; the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dredge of Edmonton.

The church was beautifully decorated with various colored gladioli. The Rev. K. C. McLeod of Mannville performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother Mr. Douglas Clark, the bride wore a beautiful floor-length white satin petticoat gown with a nylon yoke trimmed with gathered lace and pearls. Her embroidered veil was full-length, with a sparkling halo crown. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and she wore her gift from the groom, a string of pearls.

As matron of honor Mrs. Irwin Finlay of Mannville chose a gown of pale mauve brocaded satin trimmed with deeper shaded ribbons and flowers with a matching head veil and gloves. Her bouquet was pink carnations and white asters tied with matching tuelle. She wore a cameo necklace, a gift of the bride.

Miss Vivian Croft of Mannville as bridesmaid chose a gown of pink sheer with a gathered waistline. Her chapel veil was held in place with a halo of pink sweetpeas. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and mauve asters, tied with pink tuelle. She wore a gold choker, a gift of the bride.

Miss Bunnie Rose was flower girl. She wore a pale yellow petticoat dress with a matching halo. Her nosegay was yellow roses and mixed flowers. She wore a tiny gold locket a gift of the bride.

Best man was the groom's brother, Mr. William Dredge Jr. of Edmonton.

Mr. Donald Dredge of Edmonton and Mr. Arnold of Vermilion were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Clark wore a figured dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother, Mrs. Dredge, wore a dress of flowered jersey with matching accessories.

Wedding music was played by Mrs. Albert West of Vermilion and during the signing of the register Miss Dorothy Vickery of North Battleford sang "Because".

Eighty guests and relatives extended congratulations to the bride and groom at a reception held in the Masonic hall. Miss Vickery sang "Always".

Vases of mixed gladioli flanked the tiered wedding cake which centered the bride's table.

Mr. Bert Vickery of North Battleford proposed the toast to the bride to which the groom fittingly responded.

After a wedding trip to Banff, the U.S. and Vancouver the couple will reside in Victoria.

For going away the bride wore a medium brown gabardine suit with yellow and brown accessories and wore a beautiful corsage. Her travelling cases were lovely, a gift of the groom.

Many out-of-town guests attended the wedding.

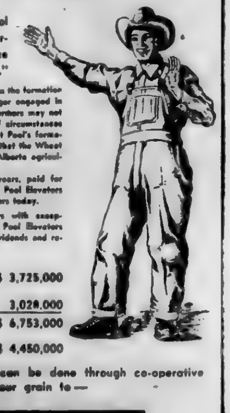
"It's Pool Elevators This Year"



The Alberta Wheat Pool is celebrating its 25th anniversary. The rallying cry is "Make this year a Pool Elevator Year."

Many of the men who participated in the formation of the Alberta Wheat Pool are no longer engaged in farming. The younger generation of farmers may not be so keenly aware of the pressure of circumstances which brought about the Alberta Wheat Pool's formation. Nevertheless, they should realize that the Wheat Pool has been a tower of strength to Alberta agriculture.

Alberta farmers have, over the years, paid for many an elevator system. But Alberta Pool Elevators is the only one owned by Alberta farmers today.

Besides providing grain producers with exceptional service and protection, Alberta Pool Elevators has, over the years, paid patronage dividends and redeemed reserves as follows:

Patronage dividends paid in cash	$ 3,725,000
Patronage dividends paid in reserves	3,028,000
	$ 6,753,000
Purchases of reserves from members	$ 4,450,000

Rising Living Costs

FOR SOME TIME THERE HAS BEEN widespread concern over the steady increase in the cost of living in Canada. It is true that prices have risen alarmingly, and that in spite of general increases in incomes, it has become very difficult for many citizens to meet the present costs of food and other necessities. It was expected that prices would rise after the war and Canadians have suffered considerably less in this respect than have the people of most other countries. Where no economic controls were enforced during the war or in the years following it, prices and wages rose to fantastic levels, but even in those countries where these factors were regulated, it has not been possible to avoid the trend to inflation, as controls were gradually removed.

Dollar Is Worth More In Canada

Recently figures were issued comparing the cost of living in Canada to that of the United States, our nearest neighbor, and a country whose economy is, in many ways, closely related to our own. These figures were calculated as nearly as possible on the same items and they show that on the basis of their value in 1939, the Canadian dollar is today worth more than the American dollar, and that Canadian consumers are paying less for most commodities than the Americans at this time. Based on values in the United States on May 15 of this year, it was shown that the American dollar is, in general, worth 60 cents, compared to its value in 1939 while the food dollar is worth only 47 cents and the clothing dollar 51 cents.

Greater Rise Is Indicated

On June 1st of this year, the Canadian dollar was worth 65 cents in general, as compared to its value in 1939, while the food dollar was worth 61 cents and the clothing dollar 57 cents. It was also shown that on May 15th, the cost of living index in the United States was 172.9 while in Canada on June 1st it was 153.1. Prices have risen to some extent in both countries since these figures were compiled, but economists agree that the rise has been more rapid in the United States than in Canada. While it does not help us to know that the American people are facing more difficulties than ourselves in the matter of living costs, it does bring to our attention the fact that the trend is general, and that while the situation here is far from encouraging, it could be much more serious.

Uranium, Rare Metal, Discovered In British Columbia

VANCOUVER. — Uranium, rare metal used in making atomic bombs, has been found in British Columbia, near Gun Lake in the Bridge River district about 15 miles north of the gold mine town of Pralorne.

The find was reported in Vancouver by the young prospector who discovered it, Ernest Johnson, 25.

It was confirmed officially in Victoria by Dr. J. F. Walker, B.C.'s deputy minister of mines.

"It's uranium, all right," Dr. Walker told The Vancouver Daily Province. "It's the first authentic discovery in B.C. of which we have definite information.

"Our tests of ore samples sent us by Johnson are not finished yet. We don't know how much uranium exists there and we haven't yet identified the mineral in the samples. We do know however that the mineral is radio-active, and that it contains uranium."

U.S. POPULATION TAKES JUMP TO 145 MILLION

WASHINGTON. Boom growth on the Pacific coast led the United States to an estimated population total of 145,414,000 in 1948, a rise of 9.9 per cent since the 1940 census. The Census Bureau figured the combined population of California, Oregon and Washington rose by 3,961,000 or 40.9 per cent to a total of 13,714,000.

Pineapples weighing 20 pounds are common in the New Hebrides.

NEW INDUSTRY

Make Cellulose Sponges In B.C.

VANCOUVER. — A new Canadian industry — manufacture of cellulose sponges — recently went into operation in Vancouver.

The sponges, previously manufactured only in the United States and Scandinavia, are being made from high grade white pulp supplied by local forest companies, under special patents.

Located on Granville Island in Vancouver, the new $100,000 plant, employs 30 persons and is making commercial and domestic sponges. Officials expect to supply them to the Canadian market and also to export them to the U.S.

[illegible] of the new industry is Frank Parker of Qualicum, a well-known lumber operator and vice-president of the B.C. Truck Loggers' Association. Vice-president is Camillo Caftow, who arrived recently from Denmark and who has been connected with cellulose sponge production in Scandinavia.

U.S. COTTON CROP TO EXCEED 1947 YIELD

WASHINGTON. — The U.S. Agriculture Department estimated this year's cotton crop at 15,169,000 bales. It estimated the average yield per acre at 312½ pounds.

The Department said indications are the 1948 cotton crop, part of which is being harvested now, will be larger than any year since 1937.

This was the department's first estimate of this year's crop. It placed total cotton production for 1948 [illegible] 1947 crop.

CAN PRAIRIE FARMERS GET ALONG WITHOUT HORSES?

By T. R. MELVILLE-NESS
Central Press Canadian

The greatest spectacle of all, the rodeo, was, if anything, better than ever before at Western exhibitions. While mechanization spreads through the farming and ranching community, there are still plenty of tough cowpokes to ride the meanest horse that ever left the chutes.

FOR quite a few years now they've been saying that the horse is finished in the west. Especially since the war ended, farms have been mechanized at a tremendous rate, and the trend continues. Thousands of farms that used to use horses for all field work have switched to power farming, and big barns that used to be filled with horses are either falling apart, or else they are being used to house expensive power machinery.

[illegible] supporters [illegible] horse say that most farmers cannot get along without at least one general purpose team, especially in winter. A team of horses, they say, will do chores on mixed farms at far less cost than any other method. They also point out that a horse will get to town when the roads are snowed in, at a time when a car or truck couldn't budge.

Last winter was a case in point. Any farmer who still had a few horses during the months of heavy snowfall early in 1948 had plenty of reason to be glad he had them.

And this year's Class "A" western fair circuit proved that there's still a lively interest in the horse. There were five exhibitions, at Brandon, Calgary, Edmonton, Saskatoon and Regina, and at each one there were good displays of heavy horses. There was also a fair interest in [illegible] displays on the part of farmers who had long since switched to power farming.

Classes for heavy horse teams were specially popular at the fairs. In all cases, ringsides were crowded when heavy four and six-horse outfits were scheduled to appear.

In spite of a lapse in interest on the part of horse breeders, a few ardent horse-lovers have stayed in the business, and they managed to put on a good show. Judged by any standard, the heavy horse classes were good, and some outstanding individuals were shown.

If the public thought the ranching business had abandoned the horse in favor of the airplane or the jeep, they had an eye-opener at the two major rodeos of the west this year, the Calgary Stampede and the Regina Exhibition. Rodeo events were, if anything, better than ever this year. There were more chuck wagon outfits competing in the most exciting western event of all, chuck wagon racing. Bronk riding, with and without saddle, had more entries than ever, indicating that there are still plenty of cowboys on the ranches capable of rounding up the dogies astride a cayuse rather than behind the wheel of a jeep.

Some heavy horse breeders predict a ready demand for their product a few years hence, when farmers in general realize the usefulness of a team, even on a highly mechanized farm. The thousands of westerners who attend the summer exhibitions hope they are right, for they want to keep the horse in the show picture. He is the basis of all the most spectacular exhibition events, and without him there wouldn't be much of a show.

While the work horse has become something of a rarity on many Saskatchewan farms, thousands of people flock to see the heavy horse classes at Western exhibitions. Experts predict that eventually farmers will decide that a team of general purpose horses on the farm is a grand asset, and there will be a return to horses in a few years' time. Here is the Clydesdale team, owned by J. F. Bunham of Fairlight, Sask., winner of four championships on the Western Class A circuit.

A few breeders of heavy horses still manage to stage a show that is watched by thousands of people at fairs in the prairie provinces. Here is an unbeaten champion of the western circuit, Riverbend [illegible], Percheron stallion owned by Jonathan Fox of Lloydminster, Sask. This great horse was reserve grand champion stallion of the breed at the Toronto Royal show last year.

Helicopters Used In Fight Against Pests

CALGARY.—Helicopters have been used to spray the area between Banff, Alta., and Field, B.C., with DDT and Diesel oil, in an effort to kill lodgepole pine needle miner. Three plots of 20 acres each were treated, [illegible] different spray deliveries in [illegible] section.

The pests have been in outbreak in the Banff Park area since 1942 and first injury to the trees was noted at that time. They are tiny moths about a quarter of an inch in length and very narrow, with silver-grey wings. Larvae, when hatched, begin to mine the needles of pine trees during July and August. During the winter they remain dormant inside the needle, resuming feeding in the spring.

Although the pests will not kill the trees in one year, the present outbreak has reached a serious stage. In 1946 it was hoped that natural factors might stop some of the damage but this year, larvae mortality dropped to about 20 per cent.; and permanent injury is reported to trees in the Lake Louise area.

Summer Weddings

DOULL—MacKENZIE

Pink and white streamers decorated the church while sweet peas, baby's breath and ferns provided the setting for a very pretty wedding at the Marwayne United church. On Tuesday afternoon, August 17th at five o'clock Miss Janet Margaret Jean, only daughter of Mrs. MacKenzie and the late Murdo MacKenzie of Vermilion was united in holy matrimony with George, second son of Mr. and Mrs. John Doull of Marwayne. The Reverend Driver of Kitscoty performed the ceremony.

Entering the church on the arm of Mr. Kreller, the bride was lovely in a floor length gown of brocaded nylon over taffeta. It was styled with a sheer nylon yoke above the bertha collar which was gathered with beads of pearl. The sleeves were long and tapered to lily points over the wrists. Tiny self-covered buttons closed the bodice down the back from neckline to waist. Lover's knots caught up the bouffant skirt to show tiers of lace. Her three-quarter length veil was gathered to a crown of orange blossoms and seed pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of peach gladioli. Pearls, a gift of the groom, was her only ornament.

Miss Jeannette Doull, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. She was becomingly dressed in a floor-length gown of dusty rose taffeta styled with bustle skirt and short sleeves. Matching mittens and a chapel veil gathered to a bandeau of flowers completed her ensemble. Her bouquet was of rose and white gladioli.

The groom was attended by his brother, Alex. The ushers were the groom's brothers John and Norman. Mrs. J. Lowrie played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Miss Ruth Quist sang "I Love You Truly".

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. MacKenzie wore a powder blue dress with grey accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother chose a dress in pearl-grey with brown accessories and a corsage of American Beauty roses.

Following the ceremony a delicious dinner was held at the groom's home for some thirty guests. A lovely three tiered wedding cake set in a bed of white tulle centred the bride's lace-covered table. The bride used a knife which was a wedding gift to her mother to cut the cake baked by Mrs. Burt Parker. The toast to the bride was ably proposed by Mr. O. H. Quist and suitably replied to by the groom. During the evening the many useful and beautiful gifts presented to the bride and groom were displayed to the guests.

Later in the evening the bridal couple entertained their friends at a dance in the Marwayne hall.

The best wishes of their many friends went with the happy couple as they left by train for a honeymoon in Edmonton and Seba Beach. For travelling the bride chose a top coat in Alice-blue with white accessories and a corsage of peach gladioli. On their return they will make their home on the groom's farm south of Marwayne.

Visiting guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Kreller, Miss Jeannette Doull, Miss Ruth Quist and Mr. Alex Doull all of Edmonton, Miss Vivienne Doull of Fairview, Peace River, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Cunningham of Lloydminster.

WILDMERE WINKS

Glad the Editor and staff were able to take a few holidays too. The Writer and family had only a short holiday also, but enjoyed every minute of it. We visited the children's mother at the San and found her looking and feeling much better. While in Calgary we spent a short while at St. George's Island Park, saw the new animal, Emu, and some hedge hogs. They also have some different feathered fowl. It rained every day while we were there. We saw Mrs. Bill Gow and family but Bill was away at his store. We also saw the results of the bad hail storm that struck between Airdrie and Crossfield where wonderful crops were pounded badly. They have good crops in the south this year, some were ripe and others a rank green yet. We stopped at Innisfail, saw Leo McGinnis there, and at Ponoka had a short chat with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Doyle who wished to be remembered to all their friends [illegible].

Our sympathy and that of the community goes out to Mrs. R. L. Burn and family on the loss of a loving [illegible].

Mr. Haines arm is coming along very well. Billie Smith who was very very sick with the flu is now improving slowly. Adam Smith returned home from the States yesterday (Monday) to help out on the farm.

Laurence Graham came over so reminiscences of Holland were recalled as Laurence was billeted during the war in a town in Holland where Mrs. Van Wagenigen [illegible] lived unfortunately he did not know about her. We enjoyed their visit very much and hope they [illegible] soon again. Maybe we'll have an angel food cake for you.

Chatsworth Chatter

Harvesting is in full swing throughout the district, and if the weather holds good, should be completed quickly. The methods are varied — swathing, cutting with the binder and straight combining. There is some fear that last week's frosts will have lowered grades, as many fields were so green. Most fields are patchy and [illegible] although there are fairly heavy looking crops in the Ottawa district, where the rainfall was more plentiful in the spring months.

Many gardens were finished by the frost, excepting those which were well sheltered.

Drilling for oil is under way on the R. Hayward place, 2½ miles west of the Chatsworth school.

Miss Violet Tovell is holidaying in the east visiting relatives at Toronto, Galt and Lindsay.

On Thursday, Aug. 19th the Chatsworth Country club met at Mrs. Arnold Magee with 13 in attendance. After the business of the meeting was over a "Know Your Spices" contest arranged by Mrs. Arthur Tovell almost proved the undoing of some of the members. (What could have caused all that sneezing?) Mrs. Bob Cameron was the winner of this contest; the name of the recipient of the [illegible] was submitted by Mrs. Albert Tovell; the [illegible] went to Mrs. Joe Fickash Jr. A very pleasant afternoon was spent in visiting after which lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Helen Annay and Myrtle. The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. Jim Pantes on Sept. 16th.

RECIPES

FISH — BAKED, WITH STUFFING

Select a fish weighing from 2½ to 4 pounds. Bake with the following stuffing:

- 1 cup crumbs (bread or crackers, or half and half)
- ¼ cup melted fat
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ½ teaspoon celery salt
- ⅛ teaspoon pepper
- Few drops onion juice, if liked
- ¼ cup water

Mix ingredients in order given. If a dry filling is desired, the water may be omitted. Three tablespoons onions, chopped parsley, capers, pickles or oysters may be added. Clean and wipe the fish. Rub the inside with salt. Fill with stuffing and sew together. Cut diagonal gashes 1½ inches apart on both sides of the fish and place a strip of bacon or salt pork fat in each gash. Brush with melted fat, sprinkle with salt and pepper. Dredge with flour, tie in the shape of a letter "S" and bake in a dripping pan. When the flour is browned, baste the fish once in 10 minutes. Cook until the flesh is firm and separates easily from the bone.

University Men Say Egg Grading Easy

ST. PAUL.—University of Minnesota farm school men say a housewife can tell whether high-priced eggs really are grade A.

If the egg has a round, high yolk and if the cover of the yolk is strong and has plainly-seen white knots on its sides, the egg is grade A.

If the egg flattens out and runs all over the dish, or has barely-visible white knots on the yolks, farm school experts suggest buying elsewhere.

The latter, they said, may be perfectly all right but they're considerably less than grade A.

One of the earliest ways of measuring time was by burning a candle.

KITCHEN MEDITATIONS
BEST OF ALL
By JANE DALE

I like the treats that mother makes
To please a little miss.
I like the stories that she tells
And I love her goodnight kiss.

I like her greeting every morn
When the sun is climbing high,
It seems to set the day aright
When it could be all awry.

I like to see her in the house
When I come in from play;
And I love the welcome in her face
When I have been away.

But of the many things she does
I love by far the best
To feel the comfort of her arms
And the softness of her breast.

After a naughty girl I've been
And mother's had to scold,
I'll cherish those forgiving hugs
Until I am ages old!

OTTAWA.—United States tourists are coming to Canada in greater numbers.

The Bureau of Statistics reported that American traffic entering Canada during June was six per cent. higher than in June, 1947, while Canadian traffic returning from the United States was eight per cent. lower.

The total number of border crossings was 881,000, consisting of 689,200 foreign entries and 192,000 returning Canadian vehicles. Of the foreign inflow, 192,000 entered on traveller's vehicle permits, 479,700 were non-permit of local entries and 17,000 were commercial vehicles.

The Canadian traffic comprised 16,800 units remaining abroad more than 24 hours, 160,100 staying for shorter periods and 16,000 commercial vehicles.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

POLITENESS

True politeness is perfect ease and freedom. It simply consists in treating others just as you love to be treated yourself.—Chesterfield.

Good manners and soft words have brought many a difficult thing to pass.—Vanbrugh.

True politeness requires humility, good sense, and benevolence. To think more highly of ourselves than we ought to think, destroys its quickening principle.—Lydia H. Sigourney.

Self-denial is practical, and is not only polite to all but is pleasant to those who practise it.—Mary Baker Eddy.

There is no policy like politeness, since a good manner often succeeds where the best tongue has failed.—Elias L. Magoon.

PLENTY OF LEGS

PICTON, Ont.—There's no shortage of chicken legs at the Reg. Neuroe hatchery here. One four-legged and one three-legged chick have been hatched recently and both are reported doing well.

Health League of Canada presents TOPICS of VITAL INTEREST

TRAGIC BUT TRUE

Dr. Alan Brown, Physician-in-Chief of Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children and Professor of Pediatrics at the University of Toronto, once opened a radio broadcast by telling a little story. We'll quote from Dr. Brown's script—

"As a rule most speakers open their remarks by telling a story. Well, I'm going to open my remarks this evening by telling a story—but it isn't the type of story which will make you laugh and put you in a good humor to listen to the rest of my talk. It is the story of a little girl who spent many months in Toronto's Hospital for Sick Children.

"The little girl's name was Mary. She was the only child of a father who didn't believe in the then new fangled idea of pasteurization—the heating of milk to destroy disease germs. He was so convinced in his own mind that he was right—that pasteurization was a useless and harmful process—that every day he drove out of the town where he lived to get raw milk from a special herd he had picked out as safe.

Develops TB

"This went on for some time, but one day Mary developed a condition which necessitated a trip to Toronto—to the Hospital for Sick Children. She had bovine tuberculosis — contracted from the herd which her father thought so healthy and safe.

"Yes, Mary was just another victim of unpasteurized milk—a victim of parental neglect, through ignorance. And, her case was not an isolated one. Many little Marys and Johnnies have gone through the same thing—and many of them today are crippled from the effects of bovine tuberculosis contracted from infected milk."

Dr. Brown also stated that "we who know the disease possibilities of raw milk and who have watched the beneficial effect of pasteurization laws, firmly believe that no sound argument can be advanced against pasteurization."

Russians Willing To Take Part In Next Olympics

LONDON.—A Russian sports official said Russia intends to participate in the 1952 Olympics "if we are invited."

Evan Nikolajewics Pietuchow, head of the three-man [illegible] delegation to the International [illegible] Federation, said the Russians thought their invitation to [illegible] Olympic committee and participate in the 1948 games came "rather late".

MANITOBA INDIANS GO MODERN

NORWAY HOUSE, Man.—Indians at this Northern Manitoba outpost have decided that civilization is not only grand—it's health-building.

They've taken to sleeping on air mattresses and are finding it much healthier than lying in a blanket on the hard ground.

Another reason: They've discarded the [illegible] to inflate the mattresses and every night, have a family ritual of blowing up the mattresses by lung power.

Medical officers are pleased with the resultant chest expansion.

ONION TEARS

When peeling onions, place a partially burned match between your teeth — charcoal end out — to prevent your eyes from watering. A crust of bread will also do the trick.

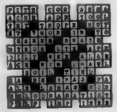
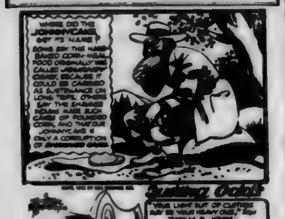
Answer To Last Week's Puzzle



THIS CURIOUS WORLD
By WILLIAM FERGUSON



WHERE DID THE JOHNNYCAKE GET ITS NAME?
SOME SAY THE HARD BAKED CORN-MEAL FOOD ORIGINALLY WAS CALLED JOURNEYCAKE, BECAUSE IT COULD BE CARRIED AS SUSTENANCE ON LONG TRIPS. OTHERS SAY THE SHAWNEE INDIANS MADE SUCH CAKES OF POUNDED CORN, AND THAT OUR JOHNNYCAKE IS ONLY A CORRUPTION OF SHAWNEE CAKE.

Ethelwyn News

Mr and Mrs Mulgrew John and Pat motored to visit Mr Mulgrew's brother and family 30 miles north of Prince Albert. They reported miles and miles of dried out crops where not even gardens were seen. Crop prospects in the immediate district of Prince Albert were good. Crops are light here but after a trip like that this district looked good indeed.

We must have some optimistic farmers in our district. Mrs. Moorcroft is the proud owner of a new power washer. Harold Cooper or rather his daughter Joyce is cutting grain with a new Case tractor; Jack Grant Jr. is sporting a new Reo truck. Even though crops are light, many others are worse off, having lost their homes and all property in the spring time floods so we still have much to be thankful for.

Rumor has it that Goldsmith Bros. have bought a new combine. Louis

Her jewelry was a strand of pearls with matching earrings, a gift of the groom.

Miss Marjorie Payment was maid of honor, wearing pink, styled similarly to the bride's gown, but made with short sleeves. She wore lace mittens and a picture hat to tone and carried a muff of carnations and sweet peas.

Miss Patricia Greenwich was bridesmaid, gowned in blue, with picture hat and carrying a muff of carnations and sweet peas.

Little Muriel Smith was flower girl. She was in white taffeta, studded with blue bows, a poke bonnet to match, and carried a nosegay.

Best man was Mr Edmund Hamula and usher was Dr. Van Christie.

Mrs Imelda Olson played the wedding music and Rev I Green sang "Ave Maria" during the ceremony.

A reception took place at the Embassy room, where Mrs. Johnson, receiving, was in a pink turquoise crepe dress with pink roses en corsage.

White candles and clusters of white peonies flanked the four-tiered wedding cake.

Dr George Clarke proposed the toast to the bride.

Later the bride changed to a gray gabardine suit with a turquoise topcoat, white accessories and gardenia corsage, and the newlyweds left for a motor trip to Banff.

Out-of-town guests included Dr. and Mrs. G Robertson of Westlock.

The young couple will reside in Vermilion where Dr Payment is commencing a dental practice.

Frank Crawshaw, Distinguished Actor, to Appear in Vermilion

TWO PERFORMANCES—SPONSORED BY CANADIAN LEGION

The Vermilion Branch of the Canadian Legion will present Frank Crawshaw, the distinguished British actor of stage, screen and radio, and internationally famous "One-Man Theatre" for two nights only, on Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 15 and 16 at the Legion hall. The performance will commence each evening at 8:30.

Mr. Crawshaw landed in Halifax in January last, where his performances were enthusiastically welcomed by capacity audiences, and from that time he has never looked back.

HAILED AS GENIUS

From Halifax, through most of the principal towns and cities to Vancouver, and as far north as Whitehorse and Dawson City in the Yukon, Mr. Crawshaw's progress has been nothing short of triumphant, and he has been hailed by Canadian critics everywhere as a genius—one of the few artists in the world who can successfully entertain and electrify an audience, single handed, for two hours. Twelve fifteen-minute 'Frank Crawshaw' programs have been broadcast by the CBC during the summer, further enhancing his prestige with the people of Canada, as well as radio talks on various subjects.

WEDNESDAY'S PROGRAM

On Wednesday evening Mr. Crawshaw will present "Character Cavalcade", a series of monologues, character studies, comedy skits and stories from the works of Shakespeare, Charles Dickens, Kipling, Robert Service and modern authors. In this program by means of his uncanny control of the muscles of facial expression, change of voice and body, and the technique of 'hand miming', he will demonstrate his amazing ability of portraying dozens of entirely different characters without the aid of make-up, wigs or costumes.

He holds firmly to the opinion that in these hard days all the world needs a laugh, and accordingly the structure of all his offerings are [illegible] bound with a ready and highly infectious wit.

THURSDAY'S PROGRAM

On the second evening, Thursday, Mr. Crawshaw will present "Theatrical Journey", the 'laughter and tears of an Actors' life'. This is a highly unique form of entertainment with a great appeal to all lovers of the theatre and cinema. Mr. Crawshaw will give a short but very interesting description of the history of public entertainment from the Stone Age to a modern Drury Lane theatre production. He will lift the curtain, not only on theatre 'back-stage' but on the 'back-stage' of the actor's life itself, with its triumphs and disappointments, laughter and tears.

Mannville Bluebirds Win 7th Provincial Fastball Title

SCORE TWIN VICTORY AT OLDS TO TAKE SERIES

OLDS.—A double victory for the Mannville Bluebirds over Olds Combine here Sunday gave the 'Birds their seventh provincial intermediate ladies' fastball title.

Working under a one-game deficit after the 9-1 Olds' triumph a week ago, the Mannville squad evened it up with a 7-5 decision in the opener and breezed to an 8-1 victory in the deciding tilt.

Tied up at 5-5 in the 9th the initial contest went two more frames before [illegible]. It was in the 11th that Marion Emmott, Mabel Wilson and Marg Wilson notched singles to bring in a pair of runs. An attempted recovery by Olds in the bottom of that frame was cut off when left fielder Jackie Antrim made a shoe string catch for the third out.

The visitors clipped Combine hurler Marg Olson for ten safeties to win easily in the sequel. Mickey Emmott, Joy Manz, and Pitcher 'Flo Seal' headed the Mannville sluggers each chalking up three safeties.

In the absence of A.F.A. prexy Clare Hollingsworth, North Organizer Bert Barlow presented the intermediate trophy to Bluebird Captain Manz at the conclusion of the second game.

On Friday August 27th the action of Aldous R. Kent of Vermilion against Kallal Motors of Edmonton for recovery of possession of a Chevrolet car was tried before His Honor Mr Justice Parlee of the Supreme Court at Edmonton. At the trial Mr. F J Richardson represented Mr Kent and Mr H. [illegible] Howe, K.C. of Edmonton appeared for Kallal Motors. Several witnesses from Vermilion testified at the trial.

After reserving judgment His Lordship found Voss had no authority and gave judgment in favor of Kent directing that he have possession of the car with costs against the defendant Kallal Motors.

Mayor Morrison Visits Old Home After 28 Years' Absence

Mayor J. W. G. Morrison, K.C., arrived home on Saturday last after spending a three weeks' holiday in Nova Scotia. Mr. Morrison flew both ways via T.C.A. North Star liner, 24 hours after he left [illegible] he was at his brother's home in Sydney, arriving there Monday evening at 9 o'clock. He found conditions on the whole in his native province very good. There appeared little or no unemployment. There are 5000 men employed in the steel works at Sydney alone, the plant of which extends over two miles.

Anent Mr. Morrison's visit the Post Record said

"RECEIVING WARM WELCOME— Former news editor of the old Sydney Post and now a prominent Alberta barrister J. W. G. Morrison K.C., arrived here this week from Vermilion Alta. for a short visit after an absence of 28 years.

He was news editor of the Sydney [illegible].

Hardware Scarcity Delays Completion New Primary School

OCCUPANCY IN SIX WEEKS — PROBABLE OPENING NOV. 1

Lack of a hardware feature in connection with the window sash for the new primary school will delay the completion of that building by at least two weeks. The contractors estimate that six weeks will be required to finish the building so that the probable opening date of the school will be Nov. 1st. In the meantime the four rooms of grade 1 and 2 pupils will be accommodated at the high school and in the little cottage school.

The window sash contain a built in hardware feature for opening and closing and could not be manufactured until the hardware was available. Construction in turn reached a point where nothing more could be done until the window sash were installed.

This was the information given to a special meeting of the local school board held last Friday morning. Present at the meeting were P. Campbell Hope the architect, Mr Johnson representing the contractors, H J Payne building supervisor for the school board, E C Miller school division superintendent and the members of the local board, chairman Don Taylor, Jas. Adam, Ashley Cooper, Carman Long and Reg Mitchel.

It is thought that Vermilion is the first town in rural Alberta to have a school especially constructed for use of the primary grades, the many features being designed exclusively for use by or in aid of the little people.

Complete water and sewer installation has already been made, and wiring is completed as far as possible.

Delay in Water and Sewer At the Public School

Some delay has been experienced in the installation of water and sewage at the public school, due partially as to the advisability of the type of toilet to instal. The tank type appears to be the only workable kind on the one-inch line allowed, according to the best advice, and the securing of these was put squarely in the lap of the local board. In spite of the scarcity the Board came through in quick time and were able to secure the necessary ten toilets at $44 each from Simpson's at Regina. However, all of the actual work of installation remains to be done.

Mr Wheeler came to Vermilion in the early years of the town when he followed his vocation of an accountant. He then farmed for many years north of Dewberry. On retiring from farming a few years ago he returned to live in Vermilion. He had planned a return trip to the Old Country and arrangements to that end were practically completed when he was confined to the hospital by the illness which resulted in his death.

Funeral service was held at St Saviour's Anglican church Vermilion on Wednesday afternoon Sept. 8th with interment taking place at the Dewberry cemetery. The Rev T. W. Teape officiated.

FORTUNATE ENJOY WATER AND SEWER SERVICES

A few of those fortunate enough to have their facilities complete and to be on the water and sewer lines, are now enjoying these services. The water has been turned into the mains for some time now and they seem to be sound and tight, no leaks having yet appeared. The sewer is also in use. The taps run water, the toilets flush and those already connected up are enthusiastic about the quality of the water. Meanwhile Vermilion's lone plumbing firm is being pestered to death to do about three years' work in the next few months.

Millers Favor 100-lb. Basis Wheat Purchase

At the annual convention of the Western Millers Association held in Saskatoon recently a resolution was passed favoring the purchase of wheat on a hundred pound basis, and that flour be sold on the same basis instead of 96 pounds as at present. This change, it was contended, would greatly simplify matters for the precision in calculating costs.

It may be noted that in the U.S.A. flour has been sold on a decimal basis for a number of years.

WEATHER . . .

Fine harvest weather with nothing in the way of a break continues. Marked progress is being made with cutting and threshing. Five degrees of frost was registered Tuesday night but a return to warmer weather is now indicated. Leaves are turning and the whole countryside has a decided autumn tint.

Frank Doucette, young swimming instructor and pool supervisor, left Vermilion on August 21st to return to his home in Edmonton. The swimming committee of the V.A.A.A. feel that the venture was quite successful, the pool was the centre of popularity during the summer months and it is quite likely that the effort will be repeated next summer.

Young Man, Don't Go West!

If you're thinking of going West, young man better take heed of Ottawa's warning and think again, says The Financial Post. According to Dep. Minister of Labor MacNamara, there are four job-seekers for every job on the Pacific coast.

Blame for the current unemployment in B.C. is laid to the exodus which has been going on from the Prairies and Eastern Canada since the war. Last week's warning was especially directed to residents of the Prairies.

The latest report of the Unemployment Insurance Commission shows that on Aug. 12 there were 117,183 jobless and only 34,237 jobs. By comparison, jobs and jobless just about balance in Ontario and the Prairies.

SCREW LOOSE ? . .

New screws can be made tighter, extra tight ones can be loosened easily, with newly-developed tool, reports The Financial Post. Top of screwdriver is hit with a hammer, forcing a cam to turn the blades either clockwise or counterclockwise as desired.

Death and Funeral of Hugh Carey, Islay

On Sunday August 29th at St. Joseph's hospital, Edmonton, there passed away Hugh Carey to his eternal rest.

The deceased was the son of the late John Carey and Ann MacDonald and was born at Lot 18 2 Lochiel, Glengarry County Ont., on August 20th, 1876.

He is survived by his five brothers and four sisters, Mary of Glen Robertson, Ont.; Julia, Mrs. L.J.C. Chartrand of Portage La Prairie; Agnes of Vancouver; and Anne Mrs. Dale Davis of Sherman Oaks, Calif. A brother Thomas resides at the old farm R.R. 1 Alexandria and four brothers, Jim, Jack, Duncan and Lawrence are at Islay. A brother Roderick predeceased him in 1937.

The late Hugh Carey was of a quiet and kindly disposition and a devout Catholic. During his long illness he bore his sufferings with true Christian fortitude and resignation. He was possessed of a keen retentive memory and had an intense interest in people and their ventures in life.

In the late 90s he left his home in Ontario to come west to the Edmonton district. Later in 1905 he saw the first rail laid by the C.N.R. on the [illegible] line. The same year he took up homesteading rights 1½ miles south of Islay.

Like other homesteaders at the time he suffered much hardship and many disappointments which the early settlers endured. Like them he too saw big promise of future happiness in the yet unbroken sod. The prairie way of life he enjoyed until illness forced him to give up farming in 1940.

Funeral service in charge of the Moyer Parlors was held in the Holy Name church on Wednesday Sept. 1 at 10 a.m. with Fr Andrew MacDonell officiating at the Requiem Mass.

The pall bearers were J. T. Fyfe, Neil McEachern, T A. Torrance, Bernard Bowe, Charles Young and Patrick McQuiggan, all old friends and neighbors of the deceased.

Interment was at the Catholic cemetery at Vermilion.

Hugh will be greatly missed, not only by his family but by his old friends and neighbors who mourn his passing as another old timer gone to his Heavenly home.

CARD OF THANKS

Members of the family of the late Hugh Carey wish to express their sincere gratitude and appreciation to their neighbors and friends, Dr. Sweet, nurses and attendants of the Islay Municipal hospital, also the Sisters of St. Joseph's hospital Edmonton, for their numerous acts of kindness and sympathetic understanding shown him during his long illness. Also for all the spiritual and floral offerings received.

ALLANDALE

Operation of School Uncertain

There seems to be some doubt at the time of writing as to the fate of the Allandale school for the session of 1948-49. It may be definite in official circles, but among the rank and file there is as yet no word as to whether the school shall be re-opened this year or not. Naturally this is a matter of concern especially where schools of other areas are so far distant from Allandale.

Student Ministers Exchange Fields

The last Sunday of August was field exchange Sunday between students of the Auburndale and North Vermilion Mission fields. Both students enjoyed the day and particularly the warm hospitality of the people.

Concluding Church Service

The concluding United church services for the appointments of Ottawa and Rosylvia will be held on Sept. 12th. The final services for the season will be held on Sunday Sept. 19, North Vermilion at 3 p.m. and Clandonald at 7 30 p.m. This latter service will be a joint one and people are invited from all the other points.

The United church Sunday school at Clandonald under the superintendency of Mrs. F Goddard, has been temporarily suspended owing to the polio threat. It will reopen again as soon as the ban is lifted on the congregating of children. Other members of the S.S. staff are Misses Isabel Shaw and Katherine Poonstra. The attention of parents and children outside of C[illegible] is drawn to these Sunday school meetings which take place Sunday mornings at 11 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Walsh and baby Adel have been spending their vacation with the Ommanney, parents of Mrs. Walsh. Mr. Walsh is an employee of the C.N. (N.A.R.) [illegible] at Waterways.

SCOUTS [illegible] VISITS . . .

Across Canada this summer Boy [illegible] from this country are visiting [illegible] Scouts in the U.S. and vice versa, while in Great Britain more than 1700 Scouts are camping with Scouts in 12 countries including Holland, France, Norway, Belgium, Luxembourg, Austria and Iceland.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

NO FORTUNE WANTED

By [illegible]

The long, sleek red roadster turned into the gas station and stopped at the nearest pump. Don Nichols, his face begrimed with grease and his hands black from using oily rags, strolled over to the car and leaned easily on the door.

"You back, Miss Anderson?" he said, "I just filled your tank yesterday."

"I thought I'd better have the oil checked," she replied primly.

He grinned and proceeded to check the oil—found it adequate. He returned to the door where she was sitting and said, "I'm afraid there's nothing I can do for you today."

"Thank you, Mr. Nichols."

She was about to step on the starter, hesitated, then turned to him and said softly, "Don, must we go on like this forever?" She placed a hand on his arm.

He grinned again, but with something of an effort. "You know how I feel about you, Elaine. But it won't work, and you know it."

"But why?" she cried, "Why won't it work? It's been done before."

"Certainly. Someone else has done it before. But I'm not built that way. When I make my pile it'll be my own—not something I've been donated."

She was on the verge of tears, "I can't help it if I've got money. It wasn't something I ordered. There's nothing I can do about it."

He softened suddenly. "I know, Elaine, and I'm not blaming you. I'm crazy about you but I can't see my way clear to doing anything about it. There'd always be that money between us. It's just one of those things, not your fault and not mine. I'd give anything if only you were penniless. But you've got more money—you've got millions. I'd always have the feeling that people were referring to me as the man who married wealth, not as the man who mar[illegible] Elaine Anderson."

"Must our lives be ruined by your pride." Elaine restrained her tears, tossed her head back—she had some pride, too.

"I make enough out of this gas station," he continued, "to support a wife—you, and a family. When I get married it'll be on that basis—and that basis only."

Her lips set stubbornly, "Goodbye, Mr. Nichols." She stepped on the starter, steered the flashy car out into the road, where it soon streaked out of sight.

Don went back into the station, kicked an empty oil can and sent it clattering against the wall. Before he had time to do more damage the bell rang, indicating a car was pulling up. He went back to the pumps.

He was unable to sleep that night. Tossing and turning he could think only of Elaine's lovely face and how much he wanted her. Old Moneybags Anderson, he thought, why did he had to have such a beautiful daughter. Life would have been pleasant in the extreme except that there was no life for him without Elaine—and he could not have Elaine because she was an heiress. Someone else could marry an heiress, but not Don Nichols. He would make his own way in life, Elaine or no Elaine. Finally, when it was nearing dawn, he fell asleep.

He felt, not good, but better in the morning. It was an unhappy decision but he had made up his mind. He could not have Elaine and that was all there was to it.

It was after shaving, while he was examining his clean, shining face in the mirror, that the idea came to him. Of course, why hadn't he thought of it before? Suddenly life took on a rosy hue. It might not work but there was no harm in trying. He rode to the [illegible] with a song on his lips.

It was almost a week before Elaine showed up at the station. She had gotten over her anger and could not stay away. Don advanced to the car with a cheery smile. "How are you, Elaine?"

She said nothing, looked at him questioningly. "Elaine," he said, "Will you marry me?"

Her jaws dropped. For a moment she could not find words. Then she leaned over and felt his forehead, "Are you sure you feel all right, Don?"

"Oh, I feel just fine, just fine."

She closed her eyes and counted to ten, then opened them and asked, "Now would you mind repeating what you just said?"

"I said, will you marry me?"

And all she could say was, "Oh, [illegible]"

After the ceremony was over, they [illegible] the country in Don's car. It was evening and Elaine [illegible] on Don's shoulder. A justice of the peace had performed the ceremony, and no one, as yet, knew about it.

They parked by a little, curving stream, and Elaine whispered, "I'm so glad your pride didn't keep you from me."

"Yes, it would have been awful."

"Marriage," she declared, "is a partnership. We're partners, aren't we?"

"You bet." His eyes were closed; he was drunk in the nearness of her.

"Well," she persisted, "Since we're partners, what you've got is mine, and what I've got is yours."

"Certainly."

"In that case," Elaine said, "We can open a string of gasoline stations—from here to the coast."

"No, we can't."

Elaine looked up at him. "Why [illegible]"

"Because we haven't enough [illegible]."

"I—"

"You," he interrupted, "Have nothing."

"What do you mean?"

He took a deep breath. This was it. "I knew," he said, "That if I went to your father looking like a gentleman, he might consent to our marriage. So I went to see him immediately after a tough day at the station. My face was dirty, my hands were filthy, my denims were torn, I looked a mess. I told him I was going to [illegible]

"You do, he said, and I'll cut her off without a cent. So there you are—you're cut off without a cent."

For a long time she said nothing. Then she snuggled close to him. "Good old dad," she breathed, "I guess we'll have to get a string of gasoline stations the hard way."

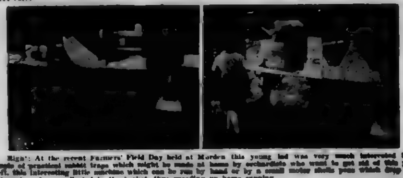
Manitoba's Sunflower Crop

Part of Southern Manitoba's 35,000 acres of sunflowers; at midsummer growth was good.

Sunflower acreage in Manitoba is on the increase and incidentally, corn acreage has decreased, which may be due to better spacing in the southwestern part of the province where the sunflowers and corn are chiefly grown. Corn can stand more drought than sunflowers. Increase in sunflowers is also influenced by general propaganda and good prices for oil, and the operation of an oil extraction plant at Altona. Moreover, better varieties are available. Last surveys on the Southern Manitoba crop indicate there are approximately 35,000 acres in sunflowers as compared to 23,000 in 1947.

Above, right: Close up in the sunflower experimental plots at the Dominion Experimental Station, Morden, Manitoba. These bagged heads may mean a new variety of sunflowers in the offing. Above, left, further evidence of the value of practical experimentation is shown on this table. Here are a couple of dozen new hybrid tomatoes which have been developed at the Experimental Station, Morden; in the foreground is some new hybrid sweet corn.



Right: At the recent Farmers' Field Day held at Morden this young lad was very much interested in a couple of practical rabbit traps which might be made at home by orchardists who want to get rid of this pest. Left, this interesting little machine which can be run by hand or by a small motor shells peas which drop into a trough and are collected in the basket, thus speeding up home canning.

No Shortage Of Butter In Northland

CHURCHILL, Man. — While the rest of Canada wonders which—if either [illegible]—ed on, Eskimos at far northern Salisbury Island have butter to barter.

The reason: they're diligent beachcombers.

Eskimo families numbering 40 souls, who wintered on Salisbury Island salvaged large supplies of both butter and coffee which drifted ashore from the Hudson's Bay company ship Nascopie, wrecked last summer off Cape Dorset.

Employees of the department of transport, stationed at Nottingham, were short of the two commodities and gladly entered into trade with the Eskimos.

They had plenty of tea and that was fine with the Eskimos.

Rush In Alaska For Uranium

$10,000 Bonus Offered To Prospector Locating A Sizeable Deposit

ANCHORAGE, Alaska.—A $10,000 bonus offered by the Atomic Energy Commission to any prospector locating a sizeable deposit of uranium has started Alaska's biggest "stampede" since the gold rush days of '98.

Prospectors roaming Alaska's wilderness have discarded their gold pans and sluice boxes. They're hunting the hills for signs of pitch-blende, gumite, carnotite and other uranium-bearing minerals.

B. D. Stewart, territorial commissioner of mines, said his offices have been besieged by prospectors seeking information on uranium. He said pamphlets prepared by the AEC giving methods of locating and recognizing minerals containing uranium are being distributed.

"The prospectors are hitting for the hills in great numbers, but they aren't looking for gold," he said. "With the price fixed and production costs soaring, you can't make gold mining pay.

"But a uranium strike would certainly pay. In addition to the bonus the government is guaranteeing minimum prices and even paying transportation costs of the mineral in some cases."

Stewart said he expected the rush to hit [illegible] swing next summer when all prospectors will have assembled the necessary gear and studied up on methods of locating uranium.

"We know there are uranium bearing minerals in the territory but we don't know how large the deposits are," he said.

If uranium is found in large quantities, future generations of Alaskans may reminisce on the "uranium rush days of '49."

WILDMERE WINKS

On Wednesday, Sept. 1st the Wildmere W.I. met at the home of Mrs. Wallington with 9 members and 10 visitors present. We were pleased to have a few of the Vermilion W. I. ladies present, namely Mrs. Jensen, Mrs. Holte, Mrs. Cruthers, Mrs. Fisk and Mrs. Frissell. Mrs. Howard who is visiting her son Lloyd, Mrs. A. Smith and Mrs. Cliff Cruthers of Wildmere and Mrs. Bud Bathe who is visiting at the J. Bathe home, all were visitors also; we must not forget to say that Mr Jensen was the lone man, having brought the ladies out from town. Mrs. Frank Gibson had her little ten-day-old daughter with her. Mrs. Gibson said she wasn't going to miss a meeting and she surely kept her promise and was in the secretary's chair as per usual. Not much business was on hand. Roll call was answered by a "new medical discovery". Items of food were donated for another overseas parcel. Mrs. Gibson thanked the W.I. for the nice fruit parcel sent her at the hospital. Mrs. Martin gave a very interesting talk on the care, waving and style of hair for different shapes of faces, also how to make pin curls etc. Mrs. Weisenberger was to have given a talk on her trip to B.C. but her little boy wasn't well so she could not attend. Social was a musical interlude by Mrs. W. J. Garnett enjoyed by all. Johnny Jump Up was won by Mrs. Holte. After the meeting Mrs. Wallington and many helpers served lunch. Next meeting at Mrs. Weisenberger's in October. Mrs. Jensen on behalf of V.W.I. thanked the members for such a pleasant afternoon.

Little Arthur Weisenberger of Wildmere was operated on last Thursday at the Vermilion hospital and at last reports was doing nicely. Speedy recovery Arthur.

Mrs. N. May and family of Cummings spent Sunday at the Wallington home. Mrs May and Jimmie had their annual birthday dinner celebration. May they both see a good many more such happy days.

Noticed around: Not many children in town Saturday. Writer and family spent a short pleasant visit at the Rogan home in Willoughby Monday evening. Mr. Musto intends holding a Thanksgiving service at the school next Sunday and anyone having vegetables etc. to decorate please bring them.

A clever mind sees the problem — an understanding heart supplies the answer.

1200-mile Canoe Trip on Saskatchewan River

WILD LIFE PLENTIFUL—MOSQUITOES BIG NUISANCE — SHOOT 18 RAPIDS.

Harold Bushell 19 years of age and Steve Strocher, 20, made a 1200-mile canoe trip down the Saskatchewan river which was highly reminiscent of the days of the voyageur, hunter and explorer of Western Canada. Their trip was made in a 16-foot Sportsman type canoe of molded plywood which was capable of carrying 1200 pounds. The journey commenced at the Elk Point ferry in the Saskatchewan river and ended at The Pas, Manitoba, just 12 days later, a distance by river of approximately 1200 miles. The supplies taken included 60 pounds of canned food and about 75 pounds of equipment including rifles, sleeping bags and clothing.

The first day out not very good time was made, the boys not being hardened into the paddling but from then on, with the help of the current, mileage averaged per day just about 100 miles. The day began at sunrise and ended at sunset, although usually the sun proved too hot on the water to paddle much from 12 noon to about 3 p.m. During that time the canoe just drifted along with the current with a little guidance. Lunch was usually eaten right in the canoe at midday, with a big dinner each night when the camp was set up.

The North Saskatchewan for the most part proved wide and full of sand bars. The sand bars were quite a nuisance and sometimes meant extra paddling of a half or more miles to circumvent them. Sometimes too the bars would fool them and the boys would find that they had paddled the wrong channel to get round the open end and would have to retrace their course. The river has a number of rapids. Following the junction of the North and South Saskatchewan rivers at Prince Albert the river becomes faster and narrows down and from there to The Pas there are 18 sets of rapids. These rapids provided plenty of fun and thrills, the two worst being the Caddette and the Squaw, both more than four miles long with choppy waves 4 and 5 feet in height. Going through them in a high wind, which was the fortune (?) of Harold and Steve wasn't so much fun as there was real risk involved. They didn't tip over but considerable water was shipped at one point in the Squaw rapids when their canoe struck a rock.

Plenty of wild life was seen along the way, including rabbits, ducks, wolves, coyotes, elk and deer. The boys tried fishing but weren't very lucky. Friends were made all along way with ferry men, rangers and trappers. Right along the whole route they made stops at many of the same places as picked by the Vancouver canoeist who travelled all the way to New York from the west coast clad only in a pair of pants and carrying only a hunting knife.

The big nuisance on the trip was the number of mosquitoes they were thicker than pine needles in a pine forest. During the last 48 hours of their journey at which time they had reached flooded and marshy land the boys were forced to travel steadily without sleep because they just could not cope with the hordes of the bloodthirsty mosquitoes. The insects would just not let them camp, and camp sites were at a premium too, as all that area was fairly well under water due to the floods of the spring.

Reaching The Pas the boys went north to Flin Flon where they worked in a pulp camp for a couple of weeks. Steve remained in the woods and intends to spend the winter in a lumber camp. Harold is back at work in the Vermilion dairy.

The boys enjoyed the trip, are glad that they made it, but they advise anyone else contemplating the same sort of holiday to make it in an outboard motor boat and to take along lots of mosquito netting.

MORRISON NEWS

We hope that the Editor and staff enjoyed their well-earned holiday but we did miss the Standard for that one issue.

Church service commenced one day with a goodly congregation on hand. It did ones eyes a lot of good to see the little cemetery cleaned up so nicely, with a lot of the underbrush and smaller trees cleared away. The work was done by Doris Gilles and the boys. Mrs Tom Sherwood [illegible] cleaned and scrubbed the church resulting in that nice inviting look. Harvest festival services will be held soon before flowers and leaves disappear.

Everyone is busy these days harvesting and canning.

Some from hereabouts attended the dance sponsored by the [illegible] club. Gordon Gould plays the [illegible] to the tune of honor your [illegible].

A few ladies from Morrison attended the rally service in the [illegible] at Islay. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent. The talks given were interesting and inspiring and provided hope and faith to carry on.

Mrs Gilles and family visited Mr Coward and family over the holiday week end at Entwistle.

The writer and Mrs Gillies went to Vermilion to see the flower show but were disappointed at the lack of interest that was taken in this work of beauty. The entries that were made were on display in Craig's window and were surely lovely. The writer thinks that the ladies [illegible] take more interest in the flower shows it might encourage the [illegible] too.

Vermilion Trustees Association Holds Lively Convention

The Trustee Association of the Vermilion School Division held their annual convention at Kitscoty recently.

Mr. J. H. Drew, the president, was unable to be present due to ill health so Mr. McQuid, the vice-president was the chairman for the meeting. Mr. C. Cuthbert was acting secretary.

Minutes of the last annual meeting were read, also financial statement for the year. These were both adopted as read.

Mr. Drew had prepared a president's report, also a report of the annual convention of the Alberta School Trustees Association held in November 1947. Through an oversight these were not read. Anyone wishing to read them may get same from the president.

LOCAL INTEREST NEEDED

Mr. A. G. Andrew, secretary of the Alberta School Trustees Association stressed the need of local interest in every division to help local children and to bring the standard of education in rural areas up to that of town and city. Increased grants are a help but more money is needed to carry on the work. The province needs to take over greater financial responsibility. More instruction needed in vocational work. Health nurses should be in every division. He encouraged Home and School Association in each division.

Mr. Frame, representing the Department of Education said they were doing all they could with the help from the government. He spoke of the good work Mr. H. E. Spencer has been doing as president of the Trustees Association and Educational Council. He spoke on need for guidance in maladjusted children, causes for this can often be found and their lives be directed into useful channels. A director of Guidance is now employed to assist in this work. He felt that we should teach children to do better those desirable things that they are going to do anyway. We should introduce to boys and girls the better things in life. He also stressed health units.

Henry Spencer to Leave

Mr. H. E. Spencer, president of the Association was the next speaker. He expressed regret for the illness of Mr. Drew. He said he had done much in the association and suggested that he be made an honorary president. He spoke in favor of composite high schools. Also the advantages of the larger school divisions which is being copied all over Canada. Local boards are eyes and ears of the Division, keeping close contact with the people. In Canada we should be [illegible] [illegible] education of all our [illegible] [illegible] the [illegible] [illegible] educational system [illegible] Canada [illegible] something should be done to [illegible] about a system [illegible] able to all.

A Successful Program

THREE YEARS AFTER THE END of the war it is possible to consider what progress has been made in solving the post-war problems, some of which appeared formidable as we approached the transition period from war to peace. One of these problems was that of rehabilitating the 1,000,000 Canadians who served in the armed forces, and helping them to become established in civilian life. It is now believed that sufficient time has passed to survey the results of the rehabilitation program, and according to Walter S. Woods, Deputy Minister of Veterans Affairs, the veteran has been "no problem child, but normal, and a little above the average because of his war experience."

* * * * *

Many Veterans Were Assisted

In a recent interview, Mr. Woods pointed out that great foresight was required, together with "legislation and action" to achieve the satisfactory results from Canada's rehabilitation program which are evident today. The cost of the program has been $1,000,000,000, and this money has been used to establish veterans on the land and in business, and to assist them to take vocational training or university courses. During the past three years, 34,000 men have been established on the land, at a cost of $174,000,000. These include 19,000 full-time farmers who are now working 3,300,000 acres of land. In addition 78,000 veterans have received vocational training, 53,000 have gone to universities and more than 60,000 have been set up in business with benefits or loans.

* * * * *

Housing Has Been Problem

The chief difficulty in the rehabilitation program has been the housing problem. While all sections of the population has been affected by the acute shortage of homes in Canada since the war, many veterans have been seriously handicapped in successfully re-establishing themselves because of this problem. Otherwise, Canada's re-establishment program is considered to be singularly satisfactory and successful. While credit is due to the planning and administration of the program, and to the fact that large expenditures were made, the greatest credit should be given to the veterans themselves, for having taken advantage of the opportunities which were offered to them, and for successfully readjusting themselves to civilian life. It is a hopeful sign for the future of our country that this great post-war problem, which might have presented many serious difficulties, has progressed so satisfactorily.

"Did you cut these, Mrs. Brown?" he asked.

"Yes, I cut them," came the sharp reply.

Beaver Moved To New Ground By Plane

Fifty beaver were flown 430 miles from Saskatchewan's Prince Albert National Park in a recent carefully timed transfer to Wood Buffalo Park, astride the Alberta-Northwest Territories border.

A plane carried the beaver in two trips and distributed them among seven lakes throughout Wood Buffalo.

Beaver had become too numerous in Prince Albert Park, the resources department said in a statement. In Wood Buffalo Park their numbers had been reduced by trapping.

"The transfer of beaver has to be carried out swiftly and must be made in the month of August," the department said. "If an earlier attempt is made the beaver kits might be separated from their parents while still dependent upon them. If it is left until later, the beaver would not have sufficient time to get ready for winter."

Mothers-in-Laws May Visit Canada

OTTAWA.—A Dutch treat is in store for 1,000 young women.

They are Netherlands war brides of Canadian servicemen, and the treat is a mass visit by their parents—perhaps in 1950.

Mrs. Annette Brunton of nearby Wrightville, who married a Canadian airman in The Netherlands, said the Canadian Holland Club in the Netherlands is sponsoring the idea.

Club members are contributing regular amounts, with which they hope in a couple of years to be able to charter a ship to take the parents to Canada.

Paper Publishing Costs Soar

TORONTO — Costs of publishing Canadian newspapers have increased more than 60 per cent since 1941, the Canadian Daily Newspaper Association reports.

The CDNA was commenting on a New York report which said rising United States publishing costs were causing three-cent daily papers to disappear from newsstands.

Sixty per cent. of Canadian daily newspapers now charge five cents a copy, 27.7 charge four cents and 12.3 three cents, the association said.

Canada's Advance Lies Northward

Resources Minister Deeply Impressed With Development Of The Territories

OTTAWA.—A 7,000-mile air journey has convinced Resources Minister MacKinnon that the route of Canada's advance lies north.

The resources minister returned from a three-week tour of Alberta and the Northwest Territories "deeply impressed" with the tremendous strides the Dominion has made in the development of mineral resources.

"The first time I went to Yellowknife," he said in an interview, "it was just a prospecting area. Nothing was developed and that is only 10 years ago.

"Today, the face of the Northwest Territories has changed. There are three gold mines in Yellowknife. Soon, I believe, the Northwest Territories will equal Ontario and Quebec in the amount of mineral production."

In Yellowknife, where there had been nothing but bare ground in 1938, Mr. MacKinnon saw strawberries and tomatoes.

"The agricultural season is short but intense," he added. "The climate also is severe, but it still hasn't kept some 4,000 persons from Yellowknife and the surrounding area."

At one of the three gold mines (Giant-Yellowknife), Mr. MacKinnon helped pour the first gold brick the company has produced.

"Within a matter of months, two other significant events will take place," he continued. "One will be the flow of hydro-electric power from the Snare river power project in the N.W.T. and the other will be the completion of the Grimshaw-Hay river road on the border of Alberta and the Territories.

"On these two projects alone the government is spending more than $7,000,000."

FISH BOWL NEARLY CAUSES A FIRE

SPY HILL, Sask.—Mrs. Addie Carter recently smelled something burning and noticing wisps of smoke coming from the table in the living room, she found that the sunlight pouring into the room, focused through the glass of a goldfish bowl on the centre of the table, had caused the doily underneath it to smolder in two or three places.

CHAIR LIFT NEARING COMPLETION IN ROCKIES

The first chair lift in the Canadian Rockies is nearing completion in Banff National Park. It is being installed at Mount Norquay to convey both skiers in winter and sightseers in summer 1,200 feet up the slope of the mountain from the site of the main ski lodge.

There will be a chalet at the top of the lift at which light refreshments will be served during the summer months. It is expected the lift will be ready for use in September.

Cloudy summers are relatively cool, while cloudy winters are relatively warm.

EVERYBODY'S BUSINESS

by

Don Graham

How often you hear people tell about someone getting "a lucky break"! It does not seem to occur to them that often what we call good fortune is the result of intelligent planning.

Astute men do not just sit back and wait for opportunities. They improve their skills, and learn more and more about their field of work, thus paving the way for opportunities.

Some years ago a certain cellist in a noted symphony orchestra paved the way for his great opportunity by memorizing the complete score of an opera. When the orchestra's regular conductor was suddenly stricken with illness, the cellist led the performance with brilliant success. Today he is world famous!

Thousands of cases could be quoted to illustrate how men have improved their fortunes by being prepared when opportunity knocked.

So why not plan now to put a knocker on your door?

* * *

No one should rely on lucky breaks to provide a retirement income and financial protection for their family. These things can be planned now on the basis of your present income, through life insurance. Then you will be sure of your future.

No Shortage Of Turkeys

OTTAWA. — Canada's supplies of turkeys are normal, officials of the agriculture department said.

They were commenting on a Washington report that turkey supplies in the United States will be scarcer and prices higher during the November Thanksgiving season.

Canada now has about 3,200,000 pounds in storage, officials said, with new supplies expected to come on the market in quantity in late fall.

Canadians do not lean heavily to turkeys as the Thanksgiving dish, as in the U.S. Here the big market is at Christmas.

Harvest Thanks

By JANE DALE

My grateful heart sends forth to Thee
In words of deep humility,
A song of thanks for garnered store
From field and tree safely care more
May I abundant blessings share
With Thy poor people everywhere
My grateful heart sends forth to Thee
A prayer for all humanity,
Regardless of their race or creed,
May they from hunger soon be freed.
Upon them, Lord, Thy blessings pour
And give them too, abundant store

Metal Discovery Means Considerable Development In Peace River Area

EDMONTON — Discovery of substantial deposits of lead, zinc or other base metals in the Great Slave Lake area would mean considerable development to the Yellowknife and Peace River districts and northern British Columbia, Resources Minister Mackinnon said.

Interviewed on his return from a visit to Yellowknife, Mr. Mackinnon said much would depend on the success of a recently-announced exploration program in the area by the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada and Ventures Ltd.

The two firms have reserved a large area on the south shore of Great Slave Lake near Hay River, on which they propose to spend a large sum in the next three years.

Success of the program would mean the construction of a large smelter and extension of railway facilities Mr Mackinnon said. It would also lead to power development and would provide a market for coal deposits in the Peace River area and northern British Columbia.

Canada Second In Providing Haven For Displaced Persons

GENEVA. Britain absorbed nearly three times more refugees and displaced persons during the last 12 months than any other country, the International Refugee Organization reported.

Of some 300,000 refugees resettled in new homes, Britain admitted 69,786. Canada was second with 25,244 persons admitted in the same period.

The refugees were mostly Poles, Rumanians, Yugoslavs, Balts and Germans. The resettled Germans were nearly all Jews or victims of Nazi persecution.

Refugees were resettled in 72 countries on five continents, but 77 per cent went to only six countries. The total number cared for by I.R.O. dropped during the year from 704,000 to 506,000.

Belgium admitted 19,147, the United States 16,836, France 16,216, Argentina 12,183, Palestine 6,741, Venezuela 5,095, Australia 5,032, Brazil 3,401, The Netherlands 3,488, Paraguay 2,002, Sweden 1,943, Chile 1,473 and Peru 1,283.

More than 51,000 displaced persons were returned to their former homes, mostly in Eastern Europe, with nearly three-fifths going to Poland.

DAWSON, Y.T. — This rich gold-producing area faces a serious dearth of food and fuel this winter unless supplies can be brought in before ice halts river transport in about 40 days.

B.C.-Yukon Chamber of Mines has appealed to Transport Minister Chevrier to help relieve a situation regarded as a serious threat to continued development of this part of the territory.

No coal has reached here this year from the stock of thousands of tons at the federally-financed Tantalus Butte mine at Carmacks. Woodpiles are dangerously low.

Stocks of gasoline and Diesel oil are reduced to rationing point at the peak of mining companies' operating season.

Three Times Normal Number Of Graduates

About 1,000 men and women will graduate from the Agricultural Colleges of Canada in 1949. The Dominion Department of Labour points out that this number is more than three times as large as that which has been considered a normal graduation.

Employment authorities do not consider this too large a reinforcement in view of the expressed opinion regarding the various trends in employment of agricultural graduates.

A proportion of the students will take up farming, others will specialize in the sciences directly associated with agriculture, or will adopt teaching as a career. But industries such as those concerned with handling and processing foods — meat packers, milk distributors, canners, cold storage plants—farm equipment manufacturers, seed merchants, and other industries allied with agriculture, are now making an increasing bid for the services of those with agricultural training.

They returned home by boat from Sarnia to Port Arthur and the remainder of the trip by rail.

Miss Connie Loveridge of Forest Hill, London S.E. 13, has arrived in Vermilion and is visiting for a month at the home of her sister Mrs. Victor Tillet. This is the first time that Miss Loveridge has been in Canada. The entire trip is being made via Trans-Canada Air Lines.

Art Muckleston, manager of the Atlas Lumber Co. at Lougheed, is in Vermilion on holiday. Art made the 'mistake' of going around to say hello to the boys at Revelstoke and Cliff Isley promptly inveigled him into going to work, holidays or not!

W. R. Wiebe returned last week end from a combined holiday and business trip of three weeks' duration during which time he visited at Winnipeg, Toronto and Ottawa. At Ottawa he visited his sister. In Toronto he ran into the hottest day ever recorded there when it was 101 in the shade, and just as hot at night. According to Bill you have to experience heat like that to really know what it's like. You don't eat and can't sleep. He lost 12 pounds during his sojourn in [illegible].

Miss Jean Brennan of Edmonton visited her parents Mr and Mrs. R. R. Brennan over the Labor Day week end.

Mrs. W. H. Douglas of Vancouver is spending a week in town visiting her parents Mr and Mrs. James Cavil and her sisters Mrs. Geo. Capatos and Mrs. Jack Grant Sr.

Gordon Allen of Oilfield Motors staff returned Wednesday from several weeks' holiday spent at Powell River, B.C. The round trip was made by air.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Linsdell and son Gordon, and Mrs. Jim Howlett all of Edmonton, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Linsdell over the week end. Other visitors at the Linsdell home on Labor day were Mrs. Linsdell's father Mr. John Brown and brother Mr. Charlie Brown of Kitscoty, and her sister and family Mr and Mrs Spencer Pidcock and daughters Sheila and Ella and Mrs. Newman Brown all of Kitscoty.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Krause and daughter Thelma returned last week from a motor trip and holiday during which time they travelled nearly [illegible] miles by car. They left here early in August with Los Angeles as their destination making side trips to points of interest along the way. They went right to the Mexican border but not having the necessary passports for their return did not venture into that land. The trip was a very interesting, enjoyable and enlightening one.

Mr and Mrs Stewart Muir of Dundalk, Ont., are visiting the former's brother Will Muir near Islay. The trip from Ontario was made by car over the all-Canadian route. The road through northern Ontario is reported in good shape with considerable mileage blacktopped. Mr and Mrs. Muir intend to continue their trip to the west coast where they will visit Mr Muir's sisters and possibly reside in the future.

After an enjoyable three months' visit with relatives and friends at and around West Monkton, Ont., Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thompson and Mr. Jack Robinson have returned to their home at Clandonald. Mr. W. J. Parsons who accompanied them east is at present in Quebec and intends to spend the winter in Ontario. The trip to and from the east was made by car. The journey to Ontario was through the States but coming back the All-Canadian route was travelled. This road is now in good condition with considerable mileage hard-surfaced. It presents no travelling hazards at all with service stations, auto camps and cabins sprinkled along the road through northern Ontario at regular intervals.

Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Clarke returned home this week from a month's holiday spent in the Maritimes. From here they went straight through to Charlottetown and Cavendish where the Doctor enjoyed some golf on the course there, reputed to be the world's finest. A tour of the whole of P.E.I. was made by car and a visit made to Dr. Clarke's old home at Mt. Stewart. Good trout fishing was enjoyed in the north of the island. After leaving there a tour of Nova Scotia was made with the Land of Evangeline and Bay of Minas being particularly enjoyed. At Halifax Dr. and Mrs. Clarke were joined by Mrs. Carl Heckbert who has been down east for some time and the party made the return journey together. A stop was made at Lachine, Que., to spend some time with Mr and Mrs. Robt. Clarke and the Clarke's grandson—their first glimpse of their first grandchild. A brief stop was made at Saskatoon before the final leg of their journey was made by car, Mr. Heckbert motoring there to meet them.

Wm. C. Hamilton who is now a member of the staff of Lavick's Photo studio in Nanaimo, is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hamilton at Mannville. Bill is taking the opportunity to renew old acquaintances in Vermilion.

THE VERMILION STANDARD

Vol. XL. No. 16. Vermilion, Alberta, Thursday, September 16th, 1948. $2.00 A Year

Cost of Water and Sewer System $315,305.58

ESTIMATED $230,000 IN 1945

Total cost of the installation of the water and sewer system in Vermilion will be in the neighborhood of $315,305.58 according to latest figures compiled at the [illegible] to the council on Monday evening. The amount included the sum of $249,114.92 already paid and $66,190.56 owing.

Total receipts whereby to meet the costs from sale of debentures, interest, premiums, sale of water to date, government and hospital payments, and $50,000 from the proceeds of sale of the power plant, total $263,577.44. Further amount of $17,000 is due from the provincial government, Dept. of Public Works and Hospital District. There is a balance of $62,500 in the Utilities Trust fund from the sale of the plant, making available total receipts of $343,077.44.

To simplify matters, total receipts including the $130,000 from the sale of the plant are . . . $343,077.44

*Cost of Water & Sewer . . . 315,305.58

BALANCE . . . $27,771.86

(*probable)

Estimated in 1945 to cost $230,000 and provision made for this amount, cost of installation due to spiralling prices of materials and extra rose to $315,305.58, an increase of $85,305.58. This balance will apparently have to be met from the power plant sale proceeds.

FINED FOR SHOOTING DEER

A young farmer of the Auburndale district was fined $50, and costs amounting to $20.00 in Police Magistrate Kaiser's court on Aug. 30 for unlawfully shooting big game.

The case arose out of the shooting and killing early this spring of a year old pet deer which had been raised from a tiny fawn, on the Martin Kenzie farm south of Claysmore, by Mr. Kenzie and his family. On the day it was shot down and killed the deer [illegible] followed Mr. Kenzie from his home, a distance of some five miles, over to the Vermilion-Wainwright highway. Here Mr. Kenzie had a ride into Vermilion waiting for him, the [illegible] at that time. He expected his pet deer would return home as it had often done before. The deer never had a chance, being shot to death despite the fact that it was protected by law, before it even left the highway. Knowing only kindness at the hands of man, the gentle creature was an easy prey for the hunter.

The accused when hailed into court, pleaded guilty and professed great regret that he had yielded on impulse and shot the deer. He had come over a hill to the south and suddenly saw the animal standing on the roadside. He had a .22 rifle with him and on sudden impulse shot the deer three times. He claimed it was the only deer he had ever shot and until reading about it later, had not known that the animal was a tame pet deer. He was sorry immediately he killed the deer [illegible] claimed and much more so when he learned that it was tamed and a pet.

Tracing and conviction of the culprit was by means of the three .22 shell jackets found on the road by the game guardian and the R.C.M.P., subsequently proved by ballistic experts to have been fired by a rifle in possession of the accused, and by tire tread tracks.

Letters to the Editor

Sept. 15th, 1948

Editor, Vermilion Standard
Dear Sir:

We would like to offer our regrets to the many friends who waited to hear the announced broadcast of the Christian Fellowship Hour, and to explain why the disappointment came about.

After your paper had gone to press we received word that the broadcast would be recorded on Sept. 19th, instead of the 12th, and broadcast at a later date during the following week, providing of course that the actuality recording was good.

The technicians will be in town this coming Sunday evening to record the broadcast of the Fellowship which is being held at the Alliance chapel.

The Fellowship starts at 9 p.m.

Thank you for space you have allowed us in your very worthwhile and acceptable paper.

Yours sincerely,
"The Christian Fellowship Hour"

Vermilion Cattle Purchased by U.S. Breeders

10 HEAD FROM THE ROBINSON AND WILLIAMS HERDS ARE SHIPPED THIS WEEK

Purebred livestock raised in the Vermilion district is now being sought by breeders in the United States and early this week ten head of Shorthorns were shipped to the States of Washington and Nevada.

The buyers from the two States contacted Calgary stating their desire for top breeding Shorthorn stock and were referred to W. L. Robinson and W. D. Williams & Sons as having the type of cattle desired. The stock selected were comprised of 6 head of cows and calves from the Robinson herd which went to Walla Walla, Washington, and 3 bulls and 1 cow from W. D. Williams & Sons. The bulls went to Nevada while the cow accompanied the Robinson [illegible] to Walla Walla.

The cattle purchased will form the breeding stock for purebred herds of similar strain in the States. The selection of the Vermilion stock is a distinct tribute to and widespread recognition of the type and breeding of the purebred stock raised in this district and in particular to W. L. [illegible] and W. D. Williams & Sons.

Drilling Active In Vermilion District

4 NEW WELLS UNDERWAY

Vermilion is at present headquarters for more drilling companies than it has harbored for the past three years, active drilling being done at four locations in the district by four different drilling companies. Three of the wells are for the huge Amerada interests and one for Franco. The latter is for use as an auxiliary supply of gas.

The Commonwealth rig is drilling just 10 miles northwest of town in the Chatsworth district. [illegible] Drilling is working half way between Mannville and Myrnam having moved to a new location on Tuesday, after completing a well 6 miles south of Myrnam. The Medhurst drilling rig is working north of Innisfree. These three are all Amerada wells.

[illegible] spudded in Vermilion Consolidated well No. 16 in the immediate Vermilion gas field. This well is in search of a gasser [illegible] auxiliary town supply.

C. H. Withers has also spudded in a well at Elk Point in an effort to supply that village with natural gas for domestic use.

In addition the town has been the headquarters for a very large geophysical party, the Mountain States Exploration Company of Cody, Wyoming. Many of the [illegible] of the party brought their families with them and have been here since early in the spring. They expect to be here for another 6 to 8 weeks yet.

46 Attend Board of Trade Luncheon Meet

Forty-six men of the town and district attended the regular board of trade luncheon meeting on Wednesday and heard an intensely interesting and enlightening address entitled "The Story of Britain" by [illegible] Crawshaw, distinguished British actor of stage, screen and radio. Mr. Crawshaw dealt with the mentality and general attitude of the British people and general conditions there since the outbreak of the war in 1939.

A regular business session of the Board of Trade will be held next Wednesday to which everyone is invited. With industrial conditions developing rapidly to the east and north of our district, it is [illegible] essential that ever that Vermilion maintain a large and active board of trade. Every business man of the town and district should attend the Board meetings.

Schools Commence - Enrollment Up

Following a postponement of a week and a half due to the polio epidemic, Vermilion town schools commenced Monday Sept. 13th and other schools in the division on Sept. 15th.

Enrollment in town showed an increase over the opening day of one year ago. This year 506 are in attendance as compared to 494 in 1947.

In the four primary rooms of grades 1 and 2 there are 104, grades 3 to 8, 279, grades 9 to 12 and commercial 119. A few more pupils are expected at the high school.

Enrollment by rooms and teachers in charge will be given in the next issue of the Standard.

FEES ARE SET FOR AIRPORT

NOW ON SELF-SUPPORTING BASIS

The town council, through the airport committee of T. A. Stack and J. R. Boake, acting with the approval of the Dept. of Transport, have set a nominal parking and storage fee for all aircraft staying over 6 hours, with the exception of all government aircraft and aircraft in distress.

The airport committee feel that the time has come whereby the airport should become as self-sustaining as possible and it is hoped that with the collection of the fees set and certain [illegible], there will be sufficient funds to maintain the airport all the year round at its present standard without any aid at all from the coffers of the town.

The following schedule of rates is now in effect as from Aug. 1st until [illegible].

Parking and Storage — Planes 30 to 40 foot wing span 55c per day; $3.30 per week; $11 per month.

Planes 40 to 50 foot wing span 90c per day; $5.40 per week; $18 per month.

Baden R. Anderson has been appointed airport manager [illegible] Aug. 1st.

MANY PLANES USE FIELD

That greatly increased use is being made of the Vermilion airport is shown by the following record of arrivals and departures:

1946 — 186; 1947, 190; 1948 for first 8 months only to Aug. 31 — 289.

Canadian Legion Holds Regular Meeting

Some 60 members attended the regular monthly meeting of [illegible] Legion in the Memorial hall on Monday evening.

The treasurer's report showed about $[illegible] still owing on the new Memorial hall.

Wm. Sutherland was elected 2nd vice president to fill the vacancy caused by Fred Ilfracombe's departure to Edmonton.

Rev. Father A. MacDonell was elected to life membership in Post 11. Jas. MacGregor, [illegible] years of age, a former member of the Scots Guards, was introduced by Ken MacDonald. New members to town, [illegible] and [illegible] were also introduced.

Comrade Frank Crawshaw was present and brought greetings from his Post and from England [illegible]. He also gave a very interesting recitation.

"GREEN ACRES"

RED BOBS WHEAT

Announcement has been made that Red Bobs (222) wheat will not be graded higher than No. 3 Northern after Aug. 1st 1951. The reason for this de-grading is the low protein content of Red Bobs wheat. Farmers would be well advised to get a start in Thatcher, Redman or [illegible] wheat in order to be ready for a switch-over in 1951.

FARM LABOR

The supply of farm labor is expected to meet all [illegible] though quite a few men are coming in from Ontario and Saskatchewan. Reserve Army Parades To Commence Soon

ARMY WEEK SEPT. 20 TO 25

After a lapse of several weeks A Coy, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment will commence fall parades shortly. Col. Cromb, C.O. of the regiment will announce the date of the first regular Wednesday parade within a few days.

A Coy. is looking forward to another year's successful training. Lt. L. M. Donnelly will again be in charge of parades and training. He will be assisted by Company Sgt.-Major Bert Moore. CQMS Hunter will have charge of the Q.M. stores.

The usual training in drills, rifles, Bren machine guns, Sten gun and pistols will be in effect again.

Many new features will be added to the winter's program. One of the most interesting will be the ski and snowshoe instruction by Sgt. Martinson. This NCO was ski instructor for Lovatt's Scouts when they trained at Jasper during the war. Also, Sgt. Martinson will teach jiu-jitsu to the personnel.

Plans are also under way to have an army hockey team in Vermilion, there are quite a few hockey players [illegible] the strength of A Coy. and others [illegible] to join up.

A canvass of young men in Vermilion and district will be held during Army Week Sept. 20-25. Everyone between the ages of 17 and 30 should be interested in obtaining this training and what is more you are paid while getting it. It's only two hours each Wednesday night and in the years to come you will never regret the time wearing the King's uniform.

Anyone interested can get full particulars at the Armory on any Wednesday evening.

Addresses Rotary Club At Lloydminster

Adj. Charles Stewart

Adjutant Charles Stewart of the Salvation Army, Vermilion, was the guest speaker at the Rotary club at Lloydminster on Monday. Speaking on the subject of "The Canadian Nor[illegible] and Missionary Work" the Adjutant closed his address of Herb Lake in the far north country by saying:

"In closing I would like you to pause with me on the rocky shore of Herb Lake and share with me the beauty of the scenery.

There is something in the tug of the wind at one's hair as we seat ourselves on a convenient rock beside the water and enjoy the scenic beauty which is before us. There is a stiff wind blowing and as we look across the lake, white-capped waves begin to appear. They increase in number until they seem like galloping white horses which toss their manes high as they charge toward us. Just a few feet away from us the waves dash against the rough rocks, sending a fine spray into the air. Once in a while a particularly large wave causes us to draw back to avoid the splash of water.

This is a beautiful part of the country with its lakes, rocks, trees, animals and birds, and one cannot help but feel an inward response to the majesty of God's creation. The more one meditates upon it, the more wonderful it seems.

Out a little way from the shore there is a lone fresh-water gull. Let us watch it as it circles and glides against the wind. Suddenly it is out hunting for its evening meal, for it hovers high over the water, and then, like a flash, it makes a dive into the lake. It appears almost immediately upon the surface of the water, shakes its feathers, spreads its wings and soars into the air again, to repeat the thrilling performance.

Into our line of vision from the left [illegible].

There seems to be an urgency about his flight, for his stream-lined body, propelled by powerful wings, cleaves the air at a rapid rate. Without the slightest deviation he speeds on his way. No doubt hurrying home to Mrs. Hawk and their voracious offspring, and he knows that if he is late bringing home the supper, his impatient mate will give him a scolding. Our friend the gull has been joined by more of his kind, and seeming to sense the situation, they give vent to shrill cries of encouragement as the hawk passes from view.

The sun is setting rapidly, and the lake becomes even more beautiful in the colors of the sunset. The white fluffy clouds that have been sailing across the blue sky have taken on a rosy tinted lining which deepens as the sun sinks below the horizon.

The wind dies down with the setting of the sun and night with its velvet shadows embraces this part of God's glorious world.

We sit a little longer and listen to the lapping of the water against the rocks. Somewhere near at hand we can hear a solitary bird at his evening vespers. A silvery moon grows and glows, showing a molten path of glory over the lake. As we drink in its beauty, we cannot and help but agree with the Psalmist David when he wrote: "The heavens declare the [illegible]. And the firmament showeth His handiwork." (Psalm 19:1)

Whither Food Costs?

The question: "In August 1939, Canadian food price index was 75. Now it has reached peak of 201. What do you think index will be year hence and why?"

[illegible] answering a Financial Post questionnaire show a wide range of opinion as to the future trend of the food price index. The head of one prominent chain of grocery stores, [illegible] a careful detailed analysis of various commodities predicted a 10-point drop within a year; but stipulated "this is apart from government action, which can only be guessed."

A charge of 50c is made for announcement [illegible] in memoriam notices and cards of thanks. When sent in by mail remittance should be made with order to ensure [illegible]

WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU?—

What does 25c dropped into a tag box for The Canadian National Institute for the Blind mean to you? It might mean the relinquishment of small pleasure or the postponing of some trivial purchase. To the CNIB however, and to the blind people it serves, your 25c means a great deal because it is the accumulation of all the coins dropped into its tag boxes that enables essential services to the blind to be continued and expanded.

During September The Canadian National Institute for the Blind will be conducting its annual campaign for funds throughout Northern Alberta and a tag day will be held in this community. Don't fail to buy a tag. You might never miss the coin but you can be sure that it will result in greater service and happiness to those whose hands must take the place of eyes.

This 1948 campaign has special significance. Funds are required to help maintain existing services to the blind and prevention of blindness and, as well, support is urgently needed to help complete the Northern Alberta service centre and residence for the blind now under construction in Edmonton. The facilities of this building will help brighten the lives of all to help complete the Northern Alberta cause they will make possible greater service. This is your opportunity to share your light with those who live in darkness. Be generous!

RAIN HALTS HARVEST . . .

Rain which commenced last Friday evening and fell heavily on Saturday, halted threshing and harvesting operations. Bright warm weather is still needed to properly condition the grain.

About 2,500 persons have been brought to Alberta under the province's immigration scheme, according to Economic Affairs Minister A. J. Hooke. About 650 families, averaging four persons, have arrived. Many more would have come but were unable due to restrictions on taking money out of the U. K.

Chatsworth Chatter

Several threshing outfits got away to a good start last week, only to be stopped by the rain of Friday night and Saturday. In some spots the Saturday rain amounted to a veritable downpour, while only light showers fell in other places. However, if the weather keeps dry, it is expected that threshing will be completed [illegible].

Most of the combining and grain cutting is being rapidly completed, harvest being quite light this fall.

Schools are opening throughout the country this week with the children (and incidentally the mothers too) glad to see the long holiday come to an end.

Miss Violet Tovell has returned home from an enjoyable visit to relatives in Lindsay, Galt and Toronto. A particular point of interest was a visit to Niagara Falls.

The Misses Marie, Edna and Isa Hutchinson converged on the family home here on Sept. 1st to spend their holidays. Marie from Edmonton, Isa from Calgary and Edna from Vancouver. Lois was also expected home from New Westminster at the same time but her husband's ship was ordered into dry-dock for repairs and he was home on leave, so Lois postponed [illegible].

The meeting of the Chatsworth Country club, to have been held at Mrs. Jim Pastor's on Thursday is being cancelled, due to the busy season upon us.

Mr and Mrs East were visitors to Derwent last Sunday, 12th.

There were 24 in attendance at the United church service at Ottawa last Sunday and it was with regret we said farewell to Mr Gough, it being his last service at this point. His services have provided interest and inspiration throughout the summer months and we wish him every success in his chosen profession.

Claymore Clippings

Mr Dougall McCall of Medicine Hat who has been visiting relatives near Minburn spent a few days at the home of Mr and Mrs R MacMillan and family recently.

Mr and Mrs H Williamson and Junior were Sunday visitors at the home of their daughter and family, Mr and Mrs H Seymour.

[illegible] returned to his home at Lethbridge last Friday after spending part of his holidays visiting Mr and Mrs R MacMillan and family.

Mr Maste, student minister in charge of the Auburndale field, conducted the service at Claymore on Sunday, Sept 5th in Mr Reibie's absence.

School opened Monday, Sept 13th and all the children seem to be glad to be back at school after the long [illegible]. Three new pupils started, Betty Willes, Raymond Lynch and Douglas Eaton. The new school van will be ready sometime this week. In the meantime private cars are calling for the children.

The heavy rain during the week end put a stop to threshing. A few sunny days and everyone will be busy again.

The Social club met at the school on the 8th with nine ladies present. Following the reading of the minutes by the secretary Mrs. H. Williamson, several subjects of interest were discussed. It was decided the next would be a work meeting and everyone is to bring a mop, duster etc. for cleaning up the school. Mrs D. Williams and Mrs R. Williams acted as hostesses and all enjoyed a social hour.

"LOCAL BEAT"

By C. GOUGH

We often hear the question "What's in a name anyway?". Some people say it is not the name that counts, but the person who bears that name. This is a partial self-evident truth. We all have names. Our particular names stand as the uniquely identifying mark of our individuality. A man's name is one thing that singles him out as distinct from all other people now alive, or that have ever lived. At the same time my name is not my own alone. My first name I bear in honor of a distant cousin who lived for years at Devonshire, Eng. My middle name came to me from one of my grandfathers who long before I was born had gone the way of all flesh, from which no traveller has ever returned. My last name is the one my father bears and links me to a family that has borne that name a long time.

Did you ever hear the story of the boy who was invited home to preach in the old town church after being away for a number of years? He was identified as Joe's boy. During all the years that his father had lived there, he had so conducted himself that his name had come to stand for certain things. It stood for integrity. It stood for simple honesty and genuineness. It stood for kindness and neighborliness. The boy said that when he went back, the people who had known his father were all curious to see whether they could discover in his son any of the characteristics they remembered in the father. He had become the custodian of his fathers good name.

In a somewhat similar fashion we hold in our keeping the good name of the community in which we make home. Whenever we have an opportunity to travel one of the things that always invites our interest is the opportunity to visit places that have been made memorable because of the men and women who lived there. A short while ago through the courtesy of some good friends of mine I had the opportunity to visit the scene of the Frog Lake Massacre where 63 years ago, Fathers Fafard and Marchand, together with 7 others met an untimely and tragic death. "Their names liveth forevermore." So we think of other places associated with great names. The "Old Manse" in Concord, Mass., where the bride of Nathaniel Hawthorne one time scratched a straggling bit of verse with the sharp corner of a diamond in her ring. We think of John Bunyan and his immortal "Pilgrim's Progress" written while serving a jail [illegible]ce in Bedford. Epworth, Eng., was the boyhood home of John and Charles Wesley.

It does not matter whether we rise to great stature or whether the chronicle of our days is just another of those "short and simple annals of the poor", our name is nevertheless identified in some sense with the name of the community where we make our [illegible].

Anywhere we go we hold in our keeping the good name of our home town. We cannot turn the pages of any issue of our local paper without finding in its columns odd bits of news about some people who are our fellow countrymen, or men and women who once lived in our community and are now living somewhere else. Whenever we read of some former neighbour of ours who has distinguished himself, we stand up a little straighter. And perchance we read of one who hails from our community who has disgraced himself in some way or another, and we hang our heads in shame and pity. It is as though we ourselves were part of the infamy. Whether we choose to assume the obligation or not, in spite of anything that we can do, wherever we go, we hold in our hands the good name of our own family and our home town. "What's in a name anyway?" There's a lot in a name, and it is our sacred trust to be[illegible] and exemplify that for wh[illegible], long as grass grows and water flows".

Wedding At Red Deer Of Interest Here

GOINGS—DOYLE

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized at the Gaetz Memorial United church in Red Deer on Sept. 4th at 12:30 o'clock when Miss Audrey Lea Doyle youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Doyle of Rocky Mountain House and formerly of Vermilion became the bride of Chester Huston Goings youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Huston Goings of Red Deer.

The Rev. J. C. Gardner performed the ceremony against a background of summer blossoms. Mauve and white sweet peas tied with satin bows marked the guest pews.

Entering the church on the arm of her father the bride was charming in a dress of white brocaded satin. The dress was styled with a scroll yoke, lily point sleeves and full skirt. Her floor-length headdress was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only jewelry was a gold locket, a keepsake of the bride and gold earrings to match. She carried a bouquet of pink and white gladioli.

Miss Mary Goings, niece of the groom, was bridesmaid. She chose a floor-length dress of aqua blue satin with puff sleeves, full skirt and shoulder-length veiling. Her bouquet was identical to the bride's.

The wee flower girl, Vera Christensen of Kimberley, B.C., niece of the bride was flower girl, and wore a floor-length dress of pink net over satin and carried a bouquet of mixed sweet peas.

Mr. Ornst Manchake of Cardston was best man. Mr. E. Withers of Red Deer and Mr. Glen Goings of Rimbey were the ushers.

Miss Lois Goings, niece of the groom was soloist and sang "Because" during the signing of the register accompanied by Mr. Thatcher on the organ.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Doyle chose a black crepe dress with mauve trim. Her accessories were grey and black. She wore a corsage of red carnations and fern.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church for some 35 intimate friends and relatives, the United church ladies acting as hostesses.

A three-tiered wedding cake embedded in sweet peas centered the lace-covered bride's table. Mr. Tom Doyle, brother of the bride, proposed the toast to the bride and groom, to which the groom responded in a very appropriate manner.

The bride and groom, bridesmaid and best man, visited the groom's mother in the Red Deer General hospital following the reception.

At the reception the gifts were opened and in the lovely display of china, linen, etc. there was a beautiful silver tea set.

Later the young couple amidst a shower of confetti and good wishes, left for a honeymoon trip to Cranbrook, B.C., and Montana where they will visit relatives of both the bride and groom. Upon their return they will make their home in Red Deer. It is interesting to note that the bride was chosen the Red Deer Queen of the May 24th celebration this year.

OUR COMPLETE SHORT STORY—

THIS IS LOVE

By ANNA E. WILSON

SWALLOWS, Andy said, reminded him of some humans, the way they built their nests of mud and hair and straw, high up in the eaves, trusting that the rain wouldn't wash them away or the wind blow through the rafters and send their pretty nestlings tumbling down to the barnyard floor among the ruins of the insecure home their careless parents had provided.

And yet, Andy reminded himself, watching the birds dip and circle and dart about, some swallows must have built well, else there would be no swallows. He sighed, thinking of Chris and Cluny.

Cluny was tall, [illegible], his face [illegible] and brown, and a kind, if slightly baffled smile. He had built his home up there on the cliff, storm proof and wind proof, and then he had married Chris and taken her to live in it. It was Chris who reminded Andy of the swallows—there was something homey about her, and trusting, too trusting. Chris skimmed through life just as the swallows skimmed the earth; never quite touching it, never quite a solid, human part of it.

"But Chris," he could hear Cluny explain patiently, "I know you love to look pretty and that ruffled dress makes you look like a five-year-old in her first pinafore, but we can't [illegible] it."

But Chris hadn't [illegible]. "Look at the way the skirt flares out Cluny."

"Chris, honey," Cluny's voice was roughened with love and worry. "It isn't the beauty I see on the outside for which I love you. Looking at you in your ruffled dress is something I share with everyone—like a pretty picture. But," Cluny frowned, trying to explain himself, "honesty and self-sacrifice and loyalty to one other person—that's something within yourself and it doesn't depend on fine clothes or cost money. Oh, Chris," the boy's voice was husky, "I love you in those old overalls you wear when you are weeding."

Chris was already turning up the hem of the ruffled dress and paying no attention to Cluny, so he went out to the clover patch and sat down to think it all over. He and Chris were just getting started. He couldn't afford new dresses and all the pretty things that had been a part of Chris' life when she worked for Mr. Macalroyd and lived with her father. He couldn't make Chris see it his way and he feared now that Chris' home might come tumbling down about her like the mud nests of the swallows.

But in spite of his discouragement, Cluny loved Chris so that his voice had a boyish tremor as he tried to explain things again the day she bought the ruffled curtains.

"They're pretty, Cluny," she displayed them proudly, "and Mr. Dunlop was in for the milk this morning and said it was all so nice that if you decided to move into town anytime, he'd rent it," and then her voice was small with disappointment. "Cluny, don't you like it?"

"They're pretty, Chris, and no one could keep the house prettier and cleaner than you but the old curtains were good yet and I was saving the money from the calves to pay the taxes. I know," he said gently noting her incomprehension, "that you can see the curtains, Chris, and the taxes are just something you hear about. But Chris, darling, if you could only get the real values of things straightened out in your head—the surface things that are just for today, like the curtains, and the real deep things, like a home that's all our own—and a—a family. Things we've earned by our own planning and working. Oh, I know, Chris, that you couldn't do a mean or ungentle thing, but that makes it all the harder."

"It'll take something more than just talking, Cluny," Jim, Chris' brother, had been lounging on the veranda. "Chris just doesn't understand that anything terrible could happen to her. Chris isn't a great spender but she can't realize that you love her for what she is and not just for looking pretty."

Cluny's young face was tense and lined with worry. "If we lose the money for the fall wheat we won't be able to make our payments and may be forced to give up the farm and Chris' loves it."

"I can't help out with the payments or with the taxes, Cluny, and if I could it wouldn't matter for there would be something else tomorrow. It'll have to be something that cut deep into life that will reach Chris and make her see things your way."

And then Chris bought the porch swing and Cluny flung out of the house crying out at last in bitterness and frustration. "I love you, Chris, but you'll ruin us with your senseless extravagance."

Cluny had known for a long time that the old hayloader wasn't safe but he loaded it recklessly until it jammed and then [illegible] up to examine the machinery. Jim found him on the barnyard floor where he had been thrown by the sudden crashing of the loader. He carried him in to Chris. Then raced his old car into town for the doctor.

The doctor was blunt. "A compound fracture of the hip. He'll have to spend a year in the hospital. I'm sorry, Jim, but I can see no other way in which he can be cured without crippling. It'll cost a lot. Can Cluny afford it?"

"Cluny will go to the hospital," Chris cried wildly, seeing Cluny's fine strong body crippled and bent. "Won't he, Jim?"

Jim [illegible] gently about the money for the calves that had gone into curtains, the money for the wheat that had bought the porch [illegible]. "And, he finished, "Cluny doesn't own the farm so he can't mortgage it. He's still making payments."

Chris didn't cry for all she looked so soft. There was a vein of iron in her. She went out quietly and looked at the pretty dresses in her cupboard, the fine curtains on the windows and at the new porch swing, and then she went in to Cluny and sat beside him, holding fast to his hand.

"Cluny," she told Dr. Meyers steadily, "is going to the hospital for a year. He's going to have massage and X-rays and everything else he needs. Mr. Dunlop likes this house and he'll pay a good rent for it. I can get my old job back with Mr. Macalroyd. It pays well. The rent and what I earn will keep Cluny in the hospital." Suddenly she clung close to Cluny. "Cluny," she cried brokenly, "I've been like one of those swallows, building a nest carelessly and when the wind blew, it came tumbling down on me; but the swallows don't give up just because they've failed once, they build again." She slipped to her knees, sobbing wildly, her arms tight about Cluny, his tight about her. "Cluny, Cluny, marriage isn't just skimming life. It's welded in pain and terror and misery. Oh, Cluny, Cluny—this is love!"

Memorial Gates Dedicated At Consort

An event of lasting importance to people of Consort, Alta., and district was the recent opening and dedication of the Memorial Gateway at Lake Road Cemetery, at which a large crowd from the surrounding country attended. The picture above gives one an idea of the size and shape of the gateway, but it does not do justice to its fine workmanship and artistic beauty. The plaque, can be seen—one on the right hand pillar and one on the left. The plaque on the right side reads: "Erected to the memory of the men of Consort and district who gave their lives for freedom, 1939-1945".

[illegible]

"We are met before a beautiful memorial, built of stone on a solid foundation, lasting we pray, as the memory of the names they bear. We are come to dedicate that memorial to the memory of those gallant sons of Consort who gave their lives that we might live. We, therefore, dedicate this Gateway to the Glory of God in memory of those who died on the Field of Honour, and in honour of those who served and came back to us. May the memory of their magnificent services be kept green and may the cause of freedom in which they fought be upheld in our hearts and minds and in those of succeeding generations.

In days to come let this Gateway be both a memorial and a symbol; a symbol of the days of Freedom which shall arise out of the sacrificial efforts of those whose giving of themselves we commemorate today. Of those who made the supreme sacrifice we say:

"They are not dead, they shall not die while still Affection lives and memory fulfils
Its tasks of gratitude.
Not theirs alone
The sculptured monument, the graven stone
The commonwealth of freedom that shall rise
Worldwide shall tell their noble sacrifice."

Canadians Again Warned To Go Easy On Coal, Fuel Oil

OTTAWA.—A government authority said Trade Minister Howe shortly will issue an official warning that Canadians must go easy on coal and fuel oil supplies this Winter.

The spokesman said that although Canada's fuel picture looked brighter this year than a year ago, storage difficulties still persisted.

The Dominion, he said, still was unable to transport sufficient fuel oil and coal from United States points in the short navigation season to cover the entire Winter season.

Steeper prices also appeared to be in store for Canadian consumers, the spokesman said. Anthracite coal likely will climb $1.50 to $1.75 a ton. He would not give an estimate of what the fuel-oil increase might be.

"That is up to the industry", he said. "There is a marked improvement in the oil situation, both for heating purposes and for gasoline, but you must remember that the industry is paying out more money for wages this year and for higher production costs."

However, the fuel authority believed the fuel oil increase will be moderate.

The official gave three reasons for the profitable increase in the price of coal:

1. Two freight-rate increases announced by the railways this year, one granted by the Board of Transport Commissioners last spring and other announced by the railways recently to cover competitive areas only.

2. Coal miners' demands for higher wages.

3. Union trouble earlier this year in the Alberta mining fields.

But there was a bright side to the fuel picture. The official said that production increases in the Maritimes have been noted and that the eastern provinces will benefit by greater delivery to the central provinces. A slight increase also is noted in the Alberta area.

These increases, said the official, coupled with uninterrupted deliveries from the Pennsylvania fields will make for warmer homes in Canada this Winter.

Seek To Rid Lignite Coal Of Water Content

SASKATOON.—Experiments conducted at the University of Saskatchewan [illegible] seeking to rid lignite coal of its 30 per cent water content.

Dr. W. Graham, assistant professor in chemical engineering, is conducting the experiments in view of the fact Saskatchewan's coal fields at Estevan in the southern half of the province produce only lignite.

In transportation excess weight of the water adds to cost. Drying by hot air causes coal to crumble.

BEAVER PELT TEN SQUARE FEET SETS A RECORD

WINNIPEG.—Hilmer Hanson who has a registered trap line on the Hudson Bay Railway, has trapped what he believes is a record beaver pelt.

Game guardians call it an 82-inch pelt but their method of computation means that this is the combined length and breadth. It covers about 10 square feet, which is more beaver in one piece than the Natural Resources Department ever saw before.

Police Refuse Actor's Request

SASKATOON.—[illegible] Michell, Hollywood actor, was fined $13.30 here for speeding. He asked police to send the bill to the American Automobile Association.

Officers said Mitchell explained: "We don't bother with such trivial things in Hollywood." Police declined to accede to his suggestion and said they were not conducting a collection agency.

SAYS WOMEN BETTER AT JUDGING HORSES

TORONTO.—Take it from pretty Joan Pickard of Winnipeg, women are better than men at judging horses.

"Since girls [illegible] than boys take riding lessons it seems logical they should be more competent to judge the classes [illegible] were competing," said Miss Pickard, [illegible] to represent Manitoba [illegible] judging competition.

South Saskatchewan Irrigation Project Proving Successful

(By Ken Liddell, in Regina Leader-Post)

SWIFT CURRENT.—The Swift Current-Herbert irrigation project is trying out its first suit of long pants. Farmers who live along the 40-mile ditch are beginning to find that as the growing pains wear off they have quite a husky baby on their doorstep. Apart from irrigation on hay flats at Rush Lake, last year saw first use of water on private farms at Herbert, extreme eastern end of the project, and this year there was gratifying increase in acreage under the ditch and also in interest among farmers.

This situation was gratifying because while governments can put the scheme in operation they can't make people use it. To use an expression, it is difficult to teach old dogs new tricks, but oldtimers along the line are at least willing to sit up and take notice.

As Neil Jahnke, Herbert farmer and rancher since 1904 who was this year interested in 45 irrigated acres of flax, said "we put the water on a little too late this year, but when we did put it on, boy, she sure come up. There are a few ragged edges to the whole thing, but it is chiefly a matter of getting the older farmers interested."

And the interest is growing at Herbert where last year's 400 irrigated acres of barley, oats, flax, this year jumped to 600 acres.

But a great deal of promotion that is now going on will probably have a payoff next year. Interest in small irrigated plots is particularly evident around Waldeck and Rush Lake. The Rural Municipality of Excelsior at Rush Lake this year offered 13 lots of nine to 15 acres, most irrigable, for $300 each, and D. Campbell, secretary-treasurer, reported that seven lots had been sold with inquiries about two others.

Building Restrictions

Mr. Campbell reported the council was pleased with this reception because it had been anticipated that the building restrictions would be a drawback to quick sales.

The lots are selling for $200 cash, balance in 10 years when title will be given, but the purchaser must agree to erect a $2,400 dwelling in five years and a windbreak of 300 trees.

Mr. Campbell said the restrictions were a bit stiff but as the surveyed area would eventually become a virtual village adjacent to Rush Lake they were considered necessary to prevent speculation.

In addition, at Rush Lake, about 1,500 acres has been surveyed into irrigable parcels of 40 acres each. These will be offered to dry-land farmers for growing feed. Preference will be given to veterans, then to farmers within the Rural Municipality of Excelsior, then to farmers outside the municipality.

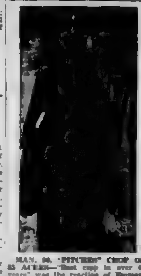
Interest In Feed

Mr. Campbell said that interest in his municipality centred chiefly around larger irrigated plots for feed crops. As it grows, he said, the whole scheme will mean that the general economy of the municipality will be more assured as in dry years farmers will be "on their own" so far as stock is concerned.

At Waldeck, however, between Rush Lake and Swift Current and about 10 miles east of the latter point, the interest takes another trend. Probably because Waldeck is closer to a larger centre, the interest is in both field crops and garden produce.

And what was done with garden produce this year is a pretty fair indication of what can be accomplished on a larger scale in the future.

Idaho's Challis National Forest has a mountain called Red mountain, known for its brilliant red coloring.



MAN, 90, "PITCHES" CROP OF 35 ACRES—"Best crop in over 60 years" was the reaction of Emmanual Dobson, 90-year-old resident of the Honeywood district, near Shelburne, Ont., after he had "pitched on" the entire crop from 35 acres with nephew Clarence Cowling. Mr. Dobson, in perfect health, does chores every day.—S.N.S. photo.

CANADIAN BACON POPULAR IN U.K.

Canadian bacon is well liked in the United Kingdom states the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

R. Logan Layton, of the Department who is stationed in London to report on the quality of Canadian meat arriving in the United Kingdom, recently paid a visit to Manchester. This city is the distributing centre of foodstuffs for that densely populated part of England renowned the world over for its cotton spinning and weaving industries, and for its engineering machinery and chemical factories.

Mr. Logan talked with butchers and meat dealers, wholesalers and retailers, and as a result of his enquiries reports that Canadian bacon is most popular. He states that representatives of the bacon trade drew his attention to the fact that retailers are more enthusiastic over Canadian bacon than ever before.

HAPPENINGS IN ALBERTA TOWNS . .

AS GLEANED FROM WEEKLY NEWSPAPER EXCHANGES

LLOYDMINSTER

Lloydminster ratepayers endorsed the recent plebiscite presented by the town council whereby that body enters into an agreement to have 50 houses erected under the national housing act. Considerable acreage on the south-east corner of the town has been secured for the purpose. In the agreement the town agrees to service the houses fully with electricity, water and sewer, and pavement. The Lloydminster council considers that this will solve the housing shortage in the border town. The houses to be built are of 2 types, a 4-roomed house with bath and full basement costing $6250; a 5-roomed storey and a half house with full basement and bath at $6750. The houses are for rental purposes and rent for $34 and $37 per month.

WAINWRIGHT

A new 30-bed wing to the Wainwright municipal hospital was opened officially on Sept 9th. The first baby to be born in the new wing will be loaded with gifts, every store in the town promising something for the fortunate infant.

GRANDE PRAIRIE

Councillor C. Graham of Grande Prairie at a recent council meeting berated the public works department of that town for inefficiency, waste and general lack of accomplishment, ditches, sidewalks, drainage and culverts are a disgrace to the town he claimed. The equipment purchased on the advice of the chairman of public works was absolutely no good. Cr. Graham also lit out at the Parks committee for its lack of attention to trees, parks and boulevards.

VIKING

Viking embarked on a sidewalk paving program this year with the result that a person can now reach any part of the town on fine cement sidewalks.

GAS FOR ELK POINT

A syndicate has been formed at Elk Point for the drilling of a well to supply natural gas for use in that village. Charlie Withers will do the drilling.

PONOKA

At Ponoka the ticket which was to decide the owner of a brand new car, failed to contain the name of the purchaser. It did have his address however and it wasn't long before the lucky winner produced the corresponding ticket to the stub. He came from Red Deer.

Thanks Morrison scribe for kind remarks about cleaning our little Pleasant Valley church but we must also extend thanks to Mrs. Robinson who also helped considerably.

Quite a number of threshing rigs got started last week only to be stopped again by the rain of Friday and Saturday.

Do not forget the service at Pleasant Valley church this Sunday Sept. 19th. See the church notice for full particulars.

The writer enjoyed a visit from Mr. and Mrs. P. Playne Friday evening, also a short visit with Mr. A. Van den Bolder on Friday. Last but not least Mr. and Mrs. A. Gillies visited us Monday. Come again soon all you folks.

Services Close in Presbyterian Mission Field South of Vermilion

Services on the Presbyterian mission field south of Vermilion were brought to a close on Sunday Sept. 12th when Mr. Hills conducted Harvest Thanksgiving services at the three points. Attendance was good and at each point special music and readings were enjoyed in the beautifully decorated buildings.

Mr. Hills titled his closing message "The Pause that Refreshes" pointing out that to take time to be sincerely and humbly thankful to the Lord for His many blessings is to be ensured of refreshing blessings in the future. "The Pause that Refreshes." Think of the added blessing the one leper received who returned to thank Christ for healing his disease, and which was lost to the nine!

Tuesday night Mr. Hills returned to Saskatoon to take up studies at the University of Saskatchewan.

Security For The Farmer

DURING THE PAST FEW YEARS Canada has enjoyed a period of unprecedented prosperity. Industrial expansion has taken place on a very large scale and incomes have risen rapidly in that field. It is interesting to know that agriculture has likewise prospered during this period and that farm incomes have also risen, enabling many farmers to substantially improve their financial positions. It has been an accepted fact, in the past that as a whole farmers did not receive a large share of the national income, and it is gratifying to learn that this is no longer the case. That increased farm income is being wisely used is demonstrated by figures which have been made public by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, showing the reductions which have been made in farm debts in the past few years.

* * * * *

Debt Reduced On Prairies The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has reported that in 1946 the number of farms on which there were mortgages or debts on lands or buildings was reduced by 42 per cent. Mortgage debts on buildings and lands in the prairie provinces in 1941 amounted to $173,102,500. In 1946 this figure had dropped to $80,444,000 which was 53.5 per cent below the total for 1941. The report showed that the greatest drop had taken place in Saskatchewan. In the same period, agreements for sale debts in the prairie provinces dropped from $123,383,500 to $80,043,300 or by 34.9 per cent. In this case the reduction in Alberta was greater than in either Saskatchewan or Manitoba.

* * * * *

Living Costs Have Risen While debts on lands and buildings have been substantially reduced, the farmer like all other citizens has had to contend with rising operating and living costs. In April of this year the index covering the farmer's operating and living costs had risen to the record level of 183.2 with costs in the years 1935 to 1939 as a basis of 100. Farm machinery was one of the first articles from which price controls were lifted and there have been rises also in taxes, wages for farm help, clothing and many other things. Farm income in the first quarter of 1948 was $64,562,000 more than in the same period in 1947 and $105,617,000 more than in the first three months of 1946. While they have had to meet rising costs, it is gratifying to know that farmers have taken advantage of the present period of prosperity to substantially decrease their debts and thus increase their present and future security.

URGE AFTER HARVEST WEED CONTROL

Get a head start on next year's weeds, Herbert A. Pass, Director of Research, Green Cross Insecticides, advised in a statement to grain farmers. "Spray stubble grain with 2,4-D. It's your chance to give the stubbornest perennials a strong dose of 2,4-D with perfect safety."

In early summer sprayings, said Mr. Pass, there is a safe limit to the amount of 2,4-D which may be applied. As a result hard-to-kill weeds like thistle and bindweed cannot be treated with as high a dosage as after harvest. There is an additional advantage in that stubble spraying this fall will make next year's perennials easier to treat.

STYLE IN WRITING

What is called style in writing or speaking is formed very early in life, while the imagination is warm and impressions are permanent. —Thomas Jefferson.

With a sure taste and care in weaving words together you will express yourself most happily, if a skilful setting makes a familiar word new. —Horace.

FRIENDS TOOK FARMER UP ON INVITATION

WINDOM, Kas. — The next time Adiff Neel may think twice before telling flying farmer friends to "fly up and see us any time."

After he had voiced that invitation at a flying farmer meeting, 24 small planes glided in for unexpected landings at Neel's farmlanding strip.

Up to the occasion, Mrs. Neel whipped up a breakfast for the visitors and the day was spent visiting and flying.

CERTAINLY THIS STORY MIGHT SOUND FISHY

The Fort William Times-Journal tells this one. A New York couple went fishing near Peterborough, Ont., on their 25th wedding anniversary. After fishing for 25 minutes, they hooked a muskie, fought him for exactly 25 minutes and gaffed him. When weighed, the fish was exactly 25 pounds. If anyone thinks the story is fishy he certainly is entitled to his opinion.

WILKES-BARRE. — If farmer Henry Bobbin ever has any more surplus cabbages, he's going to turn them over to the rabbits.

Bobbin recently found himself with 40,000 cabbages he couldn't move to market, so he offered them to the public.

No one showed up, however, and Bobbin issued another appeal for takers, saying that the cabbages were going to go to waste.

Then the crowds came.

Yesterday, Bobbin reported that cabbage-seekers had not only picked up the 40,000 surplus cabbages, but had disappeared with an additional 1,000 he had planned to send to market as well.

Sees Canada As World Leader In Uranium Ore

OTTAWA. — Canadian scientists generally agree Canada is gradually overtaking the Belgian Congo as the world's greatest producer of uranium ore.

One of these scientists is 47-year-old Arvid Thunaes, who is in a unique position to know. As chief of the radio-activity division of the government's mine bureau, he commutes between Ottawa and Eldorado—the government's vast uranium enterprise in the Northwest Territories.

Returning from his fifth trip to Great Bear Lake, the uranium expert said he is fully satisfied Canada is "on the right road to a bright atomic future."

Thunaes agrees with atomic energy control board scientists in Ottawa it is quite possible that Canada already has exceeded the Congo's known uranium production.

He is certain too, that Canada is ahead of Russia in production of uranium ore.

Canadian Pay Rolls Set Record

OTTAWA. — The pay envelope of Canada's industrial worker is at its fattest in seven years—perhaps an all-time record size.

Average weekly earnings of workers in eight leading industries were $40.49 on July 1, and the bureau of statistics reported that is a peak for the seven years in which the bureau has been recording payrolls.

The new figure represented an increase from $40.02 at June 1 and from $36.15 a year previously.

The payroll average was computed from "advance" tabulation of figures in eight leading industries—manufacturing, logging, communications, transportation, construction, trade, mining and services such as hotels and laundries.

In manufacturing, the weekly average payroll at July 1 was $41.20, compared with $40.63 at June 1 and $36.47 a year previously.

A BIG EAGLE

In a recent issue on the "World News in Pictures" page there was a picture of an eagle with the caption under it "Biggest Eagle Shot in Southern Ontario". The wing span of the bird was six feet four inches. This has brought a response from Demaine, Sask., and the above picture shows an eagle that measured seven feet one inch from wing tip to wing tip. It is held by two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Pauls of that district. Mrs. Pauls killed the eagle with the stick shown in the picture after it had eaten one of the chickens, and then got caught in the fence.

PEACE RIVER SETS NEW GRAIN RECORD

EDMONTON. — Records were broken for grain shipments from the Peace River district in the crop year ended July 31, with an aggregate movement of 23,850,000 bushels, an increase of 800,000 bushels over the record of the previous year.

Half of the shipments during the past year were made up of wheat, the remainder comprising oats, barley, rye and flax. In store in country elevators at the end of the crop year were 650,000 bushels of various grains, against one million bushels a year before.

With an ever-increasing amount of grain from this rich northern Alberta district, elevator companies launched an expansion program last year. New elevators were opened at High Prairie, Woking, Grimshaw and two at Dawson Creek, in the B.C. Block.

Report to the People

BY ROBERT FAIR, M.P.
BATTLE RIVER

In my last Report to the People, I commenced to deal with the losses that are being borne by farmers of the Prairie provinces on account of the agricultural policy that has been forced upon us by the Liberal government at Ottawa since they assumed office back in 1935. I had commenced to deal specifically with the loss suffered by prairie farmers to date on account of the British Wheat Agreement and had given official figures to show that a loss of 77 cents per bushel or 123 million dollars had been taken on the 1946-47 crop and unofficial figures to show that there was a probable loss of $1.29 per bushel or 2?6 million dollars on the 1947-48 crop. I should like to quote here 2 sections from the British Wheat Agreement that are of particular interest. Sec. 2 (b)

"The actual prices to be paid for wheat to be bought and sold within the crop year 1948-49 shall be negotiated and settled between the United Kingdom Government and the Canadian Government not later than the 31st December, 1947, and prices for wheat to be bought and sold within the crop year 1949-50 shall be negotiated and settled not later than the 31st December, 1948. In determining the prices for these two crops 1948-49 and 1949-50, the United Kingdom government will have regard to any difference between the prices paid under this agreement in the 1946-47 and 1947-48 crop years and the world prices for wheat in the 1946-47 and 1947-48 crop years."

Sec. 3. "It is agreed that the United Kingdom government may sell or dispose of the wheat and flour purchased under this Agreement in whatsoever manner the United Kingdom government may deem expedient both in regard to destination and price."

Careful reading of the above will make it unnecessary for me to comment thereon. It is well known that the United Kingdom government has agreed to pay $2 per bushel for the 1948-49 deliveries of 140 million bushels but this is still below the price of Class 2 wheat. Next December will likely complete the sellout of our prairie farmers as the price for the final year of the Agreement will be negotiated at that time. What right did the Liberal government at Ottawa have to give away our wheat at a price below the world price and the average price on the world market or the so-called "class 2 price"? Did the Liberal government at Ottawa confiscate the production of any other industry at fire-sale price and give it away to other countries? The answer is No. Let me continue with the Government's program of confiscation of the farmers products. Since the early years of the war ALL the people of Canada have eaten bread baked from wheat supplied to the millers by The Canadian Wheat Board on government instructions at a price far below world price. This was done mainly at the expense of the Prairie farmers. The price first was 77½ per bushel, then $1.25 per bushel and later increased to $1. [illegible] per bushel. Farmers are [illegible] bushel for wheat [illegible] millers for Canadian consumption [illegible] the government pays the millers a subsidy of 45 cents per bushel [illegible] of which is paid by the farmers' taxes in addition to his loss on the actual sale of the wheat.

About 5 years ago the government offered our wheat to all purchasers at a price not to exceed $1.[illegible] bushel although U.S. wheat [illegible] to ours was selling at a [illegible] price.

Then what about our coarse grains? For many months the price was set at a level far below its real value without any compensating benefits. This was done for the benefit of other parts of Canada and while the farmers were taking a direct loss the price received for the [illegible] were also paying the [illegible] freight benefits given to the Maritimes, Ontario, Quebec [illegible]. Did we get in return for those [illegible] Class 1 [illegible]? We were given the compulsory privilege of selling our [illegible] and hogs at prices based on the price of wheat under the British Wheat Agreement. We were also refused the right of access to the [illegible] market.

[illegible] and ranchers hundreds of [illegible] dollars. During the war [illegible] until very recently the government guaranteed a minimum price for beef at seaboard but this guarantee was [illegible] fixed to the producers who were at the mercy of the packing houses who lost millions of dollars [illegible] breaks in the stock market. The same guarantee [illegible] far as pork is concerned the farmer is again compelled [illegible] along on what the packers [illegible] prepared to give him. During the [illegible] years of the war we were [illegible]

Clandonald Girl Married at Victoria

MANDRYK—STANLEY

Classic simplicity marked the white satin gown worn by Edith Pearl Stanley when she repeated nuptial vows with Victor Mandryk before immediate relatives Saturday afternoon in the chapel at Christ Church cathedral.

Dean Spencer H. Elliott read the wedding service in which the bride was given in marriage by her uncle Maurice Stanley.

A reception followed at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. A. Semple where toast to the couple was given by the groom's brother, William Mandryk.

The groom's parents Mr. and Mrs. N. Mandryk travelled from Regina to attend the ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Stanley of Clandonald, Alta., wore soft white feathered coronet to hold her full-length veil which cascaded over her gown made with sweetheart neckline, lily point sleeves and full skirt gathered to the fitted bodice. She carried a white prayer book mounted with a mauve orchid and wore a single strand pearl necklace.

Miss Jessie Stanley was her sister's attendant. With her mauve taffeta gown she wore a shoulder length veil held by a bandeau of matching flowers, and carried a colonial bouquet of mauve toned flowers.

[illegible] Welsh attended the groom [illegible].

Later as the couple left on their upisland honeymoon the bride wore her mauve orchid corsage with her smoke blue tailored suit, small black felt hat and matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Mandryk will make their home at 74 Burdett Ave., Victoria.

Tank for Cooling Milk

PROPER means of cooling milk are essential to the production of a first class product. It is desirable that milk be cooled quickly for best results, then kept cool until shipment. The health inspection services of most cities ask for the storage of 2½ to 3 tons of ice per cow where ordinary methods of milk cooling are used. It should be of particular interest to dairy farmers therefore that with a properly insulated cooling tank a little more than a ton of ice is sufficient to cool 30 lbs. of milk per day during the six warm months of the year all the cooling to be [illegible] the ice. This takes care of 5000 lbs. of milk during the six months mentioned, which is considerably more than the average dairy cow will give during this period of time.

It would seem logical to ask, therefore, why put up 2½ tons of ice per cow when 1¼ tons will do? In an ordinary concrete tank about half of the ice put into it is wasted cooling the soil and air around the tank. If a tank is properly insulated however this loss is reduced to a comparatively small amount.

Freshly drawn milk has a temperature of about 95 degrees Fahrenheit, and for best results it should be cooled to 50 degrees or less, within two hours after milking. To extract the heat from a given quantity of warm milk it requires a definite amount of refrigeration or stored cold, to absorb the heat. This refrigeration is supplied either by melting ice or by a refrigeration machine, usually driven by electricity. Recent studies of this problem have shown that to cool 100 lbs. of milk to a temperature of 40 degrees in two hours takes 1.2 kilowatt hours of electricity or 40 lbs. of ice. Insulated tanks, of course, are essential not only for economical cooling but also to secure the degree of cooling necessary for a first-class product.

The size of the tank needed will depend on the number of 8-gallon cans to be cooled at one time, plus the necessary cooling water and ice. To obtain the necessary capacity of refrigeration storage in the form of ice water there should be three times as much water in the tank as there is milk in the cans.

The tank should not be deeper than necessary to permit the cover to close over the tops of standard cans, as excessive depths only add to the labor of lifting the cans out, and the depth of water need not be greater than sufficient to reach the necks of the cans. The accompanying table gives the dimensions of several convenient sizes of tanks for different sizes of dairy units. It should be noted that a standard inside width of 3 ft. and a depth of 27 ins. is used in all sizes, the variation being in the length only.

The important thing in the construction of an insulated tank of this kind is, of course, the insulating material. A great deal of research work has gone into the development of the best forms of prepared insulation for this kind of milk-cooling tank. Not less than 3 inches of the material is advisable and it should be made up either of compressed cork sheeting such as is used in the construction of refrigerators, or of any of the wood pulp insulating boards now on the market. Several firms interested in the insulating material trade are preparing hermetically sealed sheets or cakes of this insulating material in shapes and sizes which fit the standard tanks with a minimum of cutting. It should be remembered that it is extremely important that these insulating packages remain permanently dry because any insulating material loses considerable of its insulating value when it becomes impregnated with moisture.

In building one of these insulated tanks the best procedure is to lay the floor of the tank first, placing in position the drain pipe together with the fittings for the overflow pipe. When this is completed the insulating material is put in position both on the floor and in the side walls, then outside and inside forms for the walls of the tank are put in place and both walls poured at the same time.

As the concrete walls approach completion, anchor bolts for the wooden frame around the top of the tank and for the angle iron corner protectors for the front of the tank are placed in the concrete while it is still soft. The cover for the tank is made of a wooden frame filled with insulating material and the under side of it at least should be covered with galvanized iron to keep the insulating material dry.

Yellowknife Mine Pouring 240 Tons A Day

EDMONTON.—The pouring of the first gold brick from the Giant Yellowknife Mine at Yellowknife brought to fruition 12 years of staking, financing and development that has run into millions of dollars.

Dr Charles Camsell, former Canadian deputy minister of mines and resources, officiated at the pouring ceremony before some 60 federal and Alberta officials, mining, oil and aviation executives, service representatives and Edmonton and Yellowknife businessmen.

A. Ken Muir, Giant general manager, presented the gold brick to [illegible] Kinnon, who in turn presented it to W. C. Ronson, Ottawa, master of the mint.

At present, Giant Yellowknife is milling 240 tons a day. It is pouring bricks currently by means of milling, crushing and mercury amalgamation. Snare River power is coming in at the end of September. A roasting plant will begin operating in November.

The whole plant will be operating by Christmas and operating rate stepped up to 300 tons a day by early 1949. Later it will go up to 500 tons.

The mill is designed for eventual expansion of 1,000 tons daily capacity.

Manitoba Bull Won High Honors At Argentine Show

BRANDON, Man.—Facing some of the keenest competition the livestock world can produce, Otto Leader, a polled Hereford bull bred by Sheriff Malcolm M. McGregor, of Brandon, placed first in its class and won a reserve championship at the Great Palermo cattle show in the Argentine.

The bull was bred at the Sheriff's farm in Brandon and sold at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto last year for $5,000 to Pereyra Iraola, of Buenos Aires, one of the largest breeders of Hereford cattle in the Argentine. It was flown to the South American ranch last January.

At the Palermo show as many as 150 bulls are shown in one class and they represent the finest breeding stock in the world, making the local win an outstanding achievement for the Manitoba pure-bred cattle industry.

Adding to the achievement was the fact that the bull was the first polled Hereford to be taken into the Argentine and it won in competition with horned entries.

Sheriff McGregor, one of the most enthusiastic promoters of the polled Hereford breed in Manitoba, was informed of the win by cable. "I have always maintained that the breeding quality and individuality of the Hereford cattle right here in Manitoba is as good as you'll find any place in the world," he [illegible].

The Iraola family was the first to import Hereford cattle into the Argentine in 1862 and have built up a tremendous herd in the intervening years. During his visit to the Royal Show last year Pereyra Iraola also bought a half sister of Otto Leader, and it was flown to the Argentine in the same plane.

Sheriff McGregor previously exported a polled Hereford bull to Australia and has received very favorable reports of its progress as well.

BIG RYE, FLAX CROPS

The combined output of fall and spring rye for Canada from the 1948 crop is estimated by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics at mid-August to be 26.3 million bushels, nearly double that of 1947. The Canadian rye crop as currently estimated is exceeded only by the 1922 crop which reached 32.4 million bushels.

A near-record 1948 Canadian flaxseed crop of 16 million bushels from 1.9 million seeded acres is also forecast. Last year the outturn was 12.2 million bushels, while the largest flaxseed crop previously harvested in Canada was one of 24.1 million bushels in 1912.

KITCHEN MEDITATIONS

A Little Window

By JANE DALE

From a little window at the bend of the stair
I see a part of the world out there;
Some twinkling stars and a neighbor's light,
Some shining water when the moon is bright,
Some tall dark trees against the sky,
And miles of fields with harvest high.

I gaze out there when I go to bed.
It gives me a vision and fills my head
With broader views than my petty cares,
And gives me hope as I climb the stairs.
It shows me life will never be
Just four small walls if I can see
The broader way; the higher light
With one step closer every night.

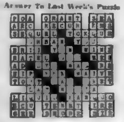
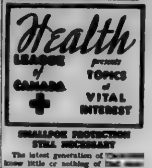
Answer To Last Week's Puzzle





SMALLPOX PROTECTION STILL NECESSARY

The latest generation of [illegible] know little or nothing of [illegible] dreaded disease, smallpox. There have been very few cases in recent years, and it is doubtful if many of the nation's physicians have actually seen an active case of what once was a [illegible].

The reason for the disappearance of smallpox, of course, is vaccination —a proven immunizing process discovered and perfected by England's Dr. Edward Jenner in 1796.

However, while smallpox is now an almost forgotten disease, care should be taken that it does not break out again.

In a "National Immunization Week" message to the nation the Health League of Canada states this once dread scourge can again become a menace if vaccination is neglected. Vaccination and re-vaccination procedures should be maintained because there is no natural immunity to smallpox.

Anyone who has not been vaccinated can contract the disease—vaccination is the only protection.

Britain Buys Canadian Jersey Cattle

"Bringing coals to Newcastle" was paralleled recently when 4 Canadian bred Jersey cattle, one bull and three in-calf heifers were sold to England. The United Kingdom Ministry of Agriculture recognizes the high quality of Canadian Jersey cattle, and allocated $224,000 for the shipment, which included a consignment of Holstein cattle for the British market.

One of the largest Canadian jewelry-chinaware firms with outlets across Canada estimates sale to U.S. tourists ahead of last year by 20-25%. A high-grade woolen goods official told The Post turnover was away ahead of last year.

Party in Honor of Newlyweds

Forty-six guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mix on Wednesday evening, Sept. 15th to honor Mr. and Mrs. John Lupul who were married recently.

Rev. Eric Berg piloted the social activities, and read an amusing paper. A quiz provided an occasion for some quick thinking.

After a period of chorus singing little Isabel Mix came into the room with an umbrella and standing before the couple opened up the umbrella and shouted "showers". Whereupon some of the young people brought in the many shower gifts and placed them before the delighted bride and groom. Much interest was shown as the gifts were opened and the words of good wishes read.

Rev. Eric Berg asked Grace, and a tasty, well prepared buffet luncheon was served by the Mix sisters.

The evening was brought to a close with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie That Binds our Hearts in Christian Love".

Adjutant Chas. Stewart pronounced the Benediction.

Percy Nixey of Kitscoty was in Vermilion the other day driving a brand new Austin five-passenger sedan. He likes the car fine which has just as neat and modern fixtures as any on this continent. In fact it has four forward speeds and Percy says that so far it has proved very economical to drive.

22 Prosecuted Under The Weed Act

Twenty-four farmers between Vermilion and Lloydminster were summoned for violation of the Noxious Weed Act by Magistrates Kaiser of Vermilion and Noyes of Lloydminster.

The information was laid by Weed Inspectors Olds, Shedler and Jensen. Twenty-two convictions were obtained and in the other two cases notices were not served on the people who had a right to occupy the land so the actions were dismissed as not being in order.

Field Inspector W. A. Dixon of Vermilion River M.D. reports that the cases were a result of poor co-operation by the farmers concerned in destroying thistle which was going to [illegible]. Notices under the Weed Act were issued to over 100 farmers to destroy Canada and Sow Thistle before the seeds ripened and blew onto clean land in the district. Those farmers who failed to comply were brought into court.

Mr. Dixon also states that the Weed Act provides that weed inspectors have power to enter on to any land where noxious weeds are found and destroy them, as well as any crop which may have to be cut in so doing. It was not felt advisable to go to that extent this year but land owners and renters will understand from these actions that the Agricultural Services Board of Vermilion River M.D. intends to obtain results in the Weed Control campaign.

According to Mr. Dixon there is a lot of clean land in this district and it is the responsibility of the Board to see that these farmers have protection from weeds blowing in from polluted farms.

Demand Grows For Elk Point Bridge

ELK POINT.—At a special meeting of the Elk Point Chamber of Commerce held here this week, developments regarding the proposed bridge across the Saskatchewan River at Elk Point were discussed. The delegation to the meeting of Alberta Boards of Trade and Agriculture headed by Frank Lambright, reported that the resolution regarding this important project had been passed unanimously and that soon a delegation from that body and from this Chamber would interview Government officials. A delegation headed by R. E. Beattie reported on an interview with Hon. D. B. MacMillan, that they were received very favorably and that assurances had been given by the Hon. Minister that a survey would be made this fall or winter at Elk Point for the proposed bridge. Assurance was also given that the bridge would be built as soon as steel was made available. Steps are being taken by the Chamber through representatives in Eastern Canada to help expedite delivery of steel. Traffic at the present ferry at Elk Point has trebled in the past year or so, and increased need for hospital and other facilities has made the construction of the bridge immediately imperative.

Rapid Changes in the Brimacombe Block

Rapid changes are being effected in the former Brimacombe block, now owned by the Province of Alberta. The block for the past month has been in the hands of Russell Knight and a crew of carpenters. When they are finished, about the only semblance of the old building left will be the foundation put in a year ago. The carpenters did a lot of tearing down before they could really commence making the changes desired.

The ground floor will be occupied by the Treasury Branch and the Liquor Vendors' store. At the present time all efforts are being made to fit the west half of the building for the Treasury Branch. This business will occupy the premises formerly used as the book store and the Harris barber shop. The Vendors will use the portion in which the Treasury Branch is at present located.

The stairway has been removed entirely from inside the block and the upstairs will be reached by outside stairs, [illegible]

Plans for the second storey call for a fairly large courtroom with two antechambers for the judge and a magistrate's office.

Accommodation [illegible] three other [illegible] various government [illegible] views is also planned in this second storey [illegible] it is unlikely that the renovations will be completed this [illegible].

The Treasury Branch move will naturally [illegible] first and this is expected in the near future.

Exterior finish will be quite modern [illegible] and officials claim that the block will be a decided credit to the appearance of the town when the work is finished.

FRANK CRAWSHAW ENTERTAINS

For two successive evenings this past week, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept 15 and 16 the celebrated British actor Frank Crawshaw, film star and world traveller, provided the people of Vermilion and district with entertainment such as few people in Western Canada have been privileged to see for many years past. As a matter of fact it is extremely doubtful if such an opportunity will occur again outside the larger cities, to have brought before us such characters as Dickens as Scrooge (we actually saw him appear before us [illegible]) and the Shakespeare's characters came up before our very eyes and we were thus able to appreciate both Shakespeare and Dickens as never before. From those ageless but old [illegible] characters we both heard and saw the Cremation of Sam McGee on the Shores of Lac Laberge which in itself was the most wonderful [illegible] and could not fail to satisfy even the [illegible] as the voice that recited was not English but that of a Texan who had come North in the rush for gold. In the twinkling of an eye we were laughing at Little Albert and the Lion. Good clean entertainment [illegible] sprung from a cultural background which enabled the most discriminative person to enjoy themselves to the full and provide memories that will last many a day.

On the second evening some encores were given at special request but his main theme was the history of the stage, the life of an actor and his very interesting experiences in the flop houses of the larger cities of Britain. To travel with him through the slums of such places and share his experiences was both joy and sorrow and very interesting.

On the afternoon of Sept 15 the Legion hall was packed by pupils of both the high and public schools and their appreciation of Frank Crawshaw was very evident and loudly expressed. These youngsters both wholeheartedly enjoyed themselves and learned too at the same time and their delight left a thought that [illegible] the adults of Vermilion might learn from the young ones.

Post No. 1 of the Canadian Legion [illegible] Vermilion brought Mr Crawshaw [illegible] and they have every reason to be proud of having [illegible] [illegible] with the hope that [illegible] [illegible] remember Vermilion [illegible] Alberta [illegible] the Old Land at [illegible] future.

Army Week Observed by Board of Trade

E. H. Buckingham, Captain of "A" Company, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, and E. Sweatman, president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, were the guest speakers at the Vermilion Board of Trade luncheon on Wednesday when that organization observed Army Week in Canada. The speakers explained the purposes of Army Week one of which is to get recruits for the reserve and active army, [illegible] in this area particularly for The Loyal Edmonton Regiment. 'A' Company is not up to strength although it is the only unit in a large territory. The co-operation of the Board of Trade members was asked in interesting young men to join the unit. That the situation in the world today is grave is borne out by the newspaper reports. Capt Buckingham in his closing remarks traced the history of The Loyal Edmonton Regiment and invited all interested to a free show and dance being held by 'A' Coy in the armouries on Friday evening. Mr Sweatman further stressed the need for prepared [illegible] all the support and encouragement possible on behalf of the Legion.

Thirty members attended the meeting including a number of visitors. Dr R. A. Payment, our new dentist was introduced by Wally Guy. Harry Kossow n and John Tarangle of the teaching staff were welcomed. Charlie Thompson was welcomed back from three months spent in Ontario. Norm Williams of Edmonton and Bud Armstrong from Calgary, officials of the Greyhound Bus Co were introduced by Ronnie Barwick. Mr J Bridges deputy fire commissioner of the Province of Alberta, was introduced by the local fire chief, Tom Coxboy.

Likes Vermilion Fire Brigade

Mr. Bridges addressed the meeting on Fire Prevention Week which is being observed in October, and asked the Board to appoint an active committee of business men to help the Fire Brigade emphasize the week in Vermilion and district. Mr Bridges also informed the gathering that Vermilion was fortunate in having a volunteer fire brigade who were intensely interested in their work.

A. M. Watt, vice-president of the board, acted as chairman.

Mrs. McNamara will also visit other members of the family and plans to be away six weeks. Mrs. McNamara's great grandson baby Gary Donnelly makes a fifth generation on his mother's side of the family. Mrs. Lloyd Donnelly the mother, Mrs. Bert Taylor the grand mother, Mrs. McNamara the great grandmother and Mr Kildow the great great grandfather.

Nature's Oddities

(From Morrison News)

The other day while cleaning a rooster the writer found 9 screw nails and 3 nuts in his gizzard. If you are a Doubting Thomas we are keeping them for souvenirs. We are wondering if Sammy the rooster on the ALC show has anything like that to crow about.

(From Wildmere Winks)

Watching a flock of geese flying south one evening last [illegible] attention of the writer was suddenly arrested by the odd sight of several smaller birds in the V shaped formation. Whether they were young geese or ducks travelling with the geese we could not tell but in all the years that we have seen geese flying over in their V formation never before have we noticed smaller birds with them. Mrs. Wm. Gannett Jr. observed [illegible] as well.

Increased Facilities At Boston Cafe

The advent of the water and sewer [illegible] made possible increased facilities at the Boston Cafe. The changes in the [illegible] have also allowed him to increase his kitchen space greatly tending to give even better service in that important department.

The changes are already nearing completion and there is little doubt [illegible] Mr. Karpov will receive the [illegible] of his many patrons for the [illegible] installed at considerable expense.

[illegible] a start has been made on the butcher shop and cold storage locker plant being erected by Pete Haventhal. The three principals reported that for the first time in the history of the school text books had been ordered direct from the school book branch, Dept. of Education. They had collected slightly more than $500 in the high school, $1067 in grades 3 to 8 inclusive and $100 in grades 1 and 2 for a total of nearly $1700. On this there will be a discount of 15%. This had entailed considerable extra work and the teachers were unanimous in hoping that one of the retail stores in town would undertake to handle text books before next September.

A great many matters in regard to the schools were discussed with the principals.

Board members present at the meeting were the chairman, Don Taylor and J. D. Adam, D. R. Mitchell and Ashley H. Cooper.

TOWN TAKES OVER —

At a special meeting of the town council held last Thursday evening, the town of Vermilion officially took over the water and sewer system from the Dominion Construction Company. The Company is still responsible for repairs and maintenance for a period of six months.

RAIN STOPS HARVEST . . .

Harvesting and threshing operations were nicely underway this week when rain on Wednesday night and Thursday morning again put a stop to the garnering of the year's crop.

Grows Concord Grapes

Edmonton has nothing on Vermilion when it comes to growing grapes. Mrs. H. J. Payne had three lovely bunches ripen about ten days ago, and they were really delicious, all the flavor of the fruit straight from the vine. While on this subject, it was noted in the Journal recently that a cluster of 5 tomatoes picked from a vine in the city weighed 3½ pounds—Doug Cooper of ye Standard staff picked a nice ripe tomato of the Bounty variety on Sept. 3rd which weighed exactly one pound.

Three Fire Calls in Forty-eight Hours

The Vermilion fire brigade was kept on its toes this week when it was called out to three fires in a 48-hour period, thereby just about setting a record for calls in a given space of time. Fortunately all the fires were quenched before much damage had been done.

The new electric fire siren at the town hall was used to summon the firemen on all three occasions, but it still can't be compared to the old steam siren at the plant for getting the crowd out.

The first call on Sunday evening around 7 o'clock was to a grass fire which blazed merrily on the east side of town. Wet sacks and prompt response by firemen soon put this out. Second call was to the W.B. Mix residence Monday at noon. Here a pile of packing case boards placed too close to the garbage container had taken fire and fanned by a high wind the sparks and embers were blowing everywhere, endangering surrounding buildings. This was quickly doused.

The last call of the three was just around midnight to the residence of P. Harouther. Fire from an unknown cause had broken out in a summer kitchen. It was discovered by Mrs. Harouther just in time and a possible bad fire averted by the quick response of the brigade.

Vermilion Is A Big Girl Now

With installation of fire hydrants in every part of the town, motorists must remember that they are not to park within 20 feet of the hydrants at any time. The fire brigade lost several valuable seconds on Tuesday night when they had to move a car parked right in front of the hydrant which was to be used.
